A TRAITOR FLED

The Chief Magistrate of a Chinese District, Who Supplied Japanese With News, Has Skipped.

Since Then the Japanese Army Has Been Steadily Marching Upon the Town of Moukden.

Report That the Japanese Have Effected a Landing to the Northward of Chee Foo.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A dispatch from Chee Foo to the Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon says that Japanese cruisers are sighted daily off that port. It is added that the nature of their operations is unknown, but coupled with the fact that it has already been reported that the Japanese have effected a landing to the northward of Chee Foo, these movements are regarded as significant and as tending to confirm the story of the Japanese landing.

The British squadron in Northern Chinese waters is cruising in the Gulf of PeChili. An insurrection is said to have broken out in the province of Shanghai Tung. The result of the uprising or its nature is not known.

Dispatches received at Shanghai from Tien Tsin say that private advices reached the latter city from Pekin, warning all foreigners from proceeding to the capital. The road and waterways from Tung Chow to Pekin are alive with soldiers who are hostile to all Europeans. Several British residents of Pekin have been assaulted including Mr. Tours, interpreter of the British legation, Dr. Dudgeon and others who were journeying south.

It is rumored that the British steamer Irene, which arrived at Tien Tsin on Sept. 25 from Shanghai, having on board a number of Maxim rapid-firing guns and a quantity of ammunition for the Chinese, has infringed on the neutrality laws. The representative of the British government is understood to be taking action in the matter.

It is reported that the Taotai Shung (chief magistrate of the district) has left Tien Tsin. As it has been stated that Shung was implicated, with others, in furnishing information to Japan of the movements of the Chinese forces on land and sea, it is now believed that the fugitive taotai will be unable to render additional assistance to the enemy.

Taotai Shung is believed to have been the person who has kept the Japanese so well informed of the movements of Chinese ships in the past and it is said that it was he that notified the agents of Japan of the Kow Shing expedition, which resulted in the sinking of the transport and the drowning of over 1000 Chinese soldiers.

Official advices received here from Tokio say that the Japanese government has declared lead to be contraband of war. The docks at Nagasaki, Japan, are full of cruisers, warships and other vessels undergoing repairs.

The Japanese troops, it is stated in Japanese advices received today, are rapidly approaching Moukden, the capital of the Chinese province of Manchuria. The Japanese army, which has been marching upon Moukden ever since the battle of Ping Yang (where the Chinese were completely defeated, losing over 16,000 men, the majority of whom were taken prisoners) recently occupied Heichou on the frontier of Manchuria, without opposition.

Later advices from Tien Tsin say that nothing is actually known of the destination of the taotai of Tien Tsin, but it is believed that his Japanese friends have succeeded in smuggling him to some place of safety from which he will shortly escape to Japanese territory. It is said that the taotai is not the only Chinese official implicated in furnishing important war news to Japan.

FIRE IN NEW YORK.

A Large Factory Burned and Firemen Had a Narrow Escape.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The factory of Jonas Neuenberg, cutters of hatters' fur, in the 6-story double brick building Nos 510 and 512 West Thirty-fourth street, was destroyed by five early this morning. It was the largest factory of its kind in America. The loss will be about $74,000. The flames broke out suddenly and were beyond control after the first alarm was turned.

Twenty minutes after the fire broke out, a number of firemen had a narrow escape from death by the building practically breaking in two, the walls falling in front and on the sides. Fortunately no one was injured. The cause of the fire is not known.

WITH A TINGE OF ROMANCE.

The Coming Marriage of State Geologist Mills, of California.

ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 1.—Miss Jane B. Dearborn, who for twenty-five years has been principal of the Dearborn-Morgan school, one of the largest private schools in the state, and James Ellison Mills, state geologist of California, are to be married.

About thirty-five years ago Miss Dearborn and Mr. Mills were schoolmates in Brooklyn. After she graduated she came to Orange and started her school. Mr. Mills studied geology and afterward he studied for the ministry and was ordained. He was married in California, where a few years ago he was made state geologist. His wife died several years ago.

Last September at a convention of the new Swedenborgian church in Chicago Miss Dearborn read a paper on "An Application of Woman's Formative Power to Church Work," which was printed in the New Church Messenger. Mr. Mills was much interested in the article and wrote to the editor of the Messenger, the Rev. Charles Holbrook Mann, of this city, regarding the author.

Thereupon a correspondence between Miss Dearborn and Mr. Mills was begun which has resulted in the engagement. They will be married in San Francisco next month.

FOR FIGHTING A DUEL.

Two Germans Sentenced to Four Months Imprisonment in a Fortress.

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—Herr von Kidderlin-Wachter, Prussian minister to Hamburg, and Herr Potsdorf, editor of the Kladderadatsch, have been condemned to four months, imprisonment in a fortress for fighting a duel.

The duel between Herr von Kiderlin-Wachter and Herr Potsdorf was fought with pistols near Berlin on April 18. Five shots were fired and Herr Potsdorf was wounded in the arm.

The cause of the encounter was an alledged libel upon Herr von Kidderlin, then chief of the press department of the foreign office, which Herr Potsdorf allowed to be published in the Kladderadatsch, a comic paper which became notorious for its attacks upon certain employes of the government.

The duel ruined the political prospects of von Kiderlin, as his action in this matter was only justified by a military clique on the ground that the attacks of the Kladderadatsch could not be endured by a man of honor. Emperor William, however, did not take this view of the case, although von Kiderlin was for a long time one of his majesty's close friends.

The Kladderadatsch alleged, but never proved conclusively, that Herr von Kiderlin and Herr von Holstein fostered the ill-feeling between the emperor and Prince Bismarck. Von Kiderlin especially is said to have used his position as chief of the press department of the foreign office to further his own interests to the extent of trying to bully Chancellor von Caprivi and it was reported at the time that a person closely acquainted with the workings of the foreign office became so disgusted with von Kiderlin's dictatorship that he divulged all he knew to the proprietors of the Kladderadatsch. But the sensation recoiled upon the newspaper mentioned, for when its editors were asked to furnish proof of their accusations, their informant, fearing to compromise himself, remained silent and Herr Potsdorf was made to suffer the consequences.

Since the fall from power of Gen. Count von Waldersee there has been no such collapse as the tumble of von Kiderlin from the emperor's favor to the position in which he found himself after the duel—frowned upon by his majesty and former friend, who soon after the news of the encounter became public, allowed it stated that the fallen favorite would have to suffer the full penalty for breaking the laws. This was admitted to be a fact in April last, but the sentences were only announced today.

Accepts Bryan's Challenge.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 1.—John M. Thurston has accepted the challenge of Congressman W. J. Bryan to a joint debate in Nebraska. Bryan is for silver and Thurston opposed, and the debate will be along this line.

All Rescued Alive.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 1.—A special to the Times from Carbon, Pa., says: John J. Fanning, William B. Mitchell, George Barnie and Andrew Clakesky, the four miners who were entombed in the slope of the Northwest Coal company on Thursday were rescued at a late hour Saturday night. All are alive and well and do not seem much the worse for their long imprisonment.

Was in a Hurricane.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The Cromwell line steamer, Knickerbocker, concerning which some anxiety has been felt, has reached New Orleans in a crippled condition. She encountered a hurricane en route and her second mate and one seaman were lost overboard. She had her mainmast carried away and her bulwarks stove. The Knickerbocker carried thirty first cabin and thirty steerage passengers.

Summer Hotel Burned.

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The Mirror Lake house, on Lake Placid, was burned to the ground during the night. It closed for the season a week ago, and only the manager, C. E. Martin, his family and a few servants occupied the building. All escaped. The loss will be about $150,000, the insurance being one-half that sum. Last season's business was the most profitable in the hotel's history.

Willard has sent the following dispatch to a White Ribbon leader in Canada: "Concerning total abstinence, prohibition and woman's ballot my opinions are as fixed as the law of gravitation. Politicians try to make it seem otherwise for their own purposes."

VERY POOR AIM

Adolph Reese, Employed as Messenger by Gen. Merritt at the Armory Building, Tried Suicide.

A Barber Went Sailing on the Mississippi, Struck a Rock and Was Nearly Drowned.

Three Young Men and a Young Girl Perished in a Burning House at Wilmot, Wis.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 1.—Adolph Reese, a general service man employed as messenger by Gen. Merritt, made a desperate attempt at suicide in Room 10 on the third floor of the army building at 7:20 this morning. He used one of the heavy Colt's revolvers, 38-caliber, and only a very poor aim prevented instant death. As it was, he made a very bungling job of it. He sat in a chair facing the window and held the muzzle of the revolver in his mouth, pointed upwards. When he fired the bullet knocked out two of his teeth, went straight upwards, cutting out the left eye, and coming out under the bone above the eye, struck the ceiling overhead and fell down on the floor again beside the eye.

When the employes about the building reached the room, a moment latter, Reese was mopping his face and endeavoring to wash away the blood with a cloth, which he dipped in a pail of water sitting by his side. The patrol wagon was called and he was taken to the city hospital where he will probably recover in due time.

His attempt is said to have been due to despondency over the recent act of congress classing general service men as civilians and thus barring them from the retired list after thirty years' service. Reese had been in the service for twenty-four years, a large portion of which he had been employed in the army building here, and the thought that he could not go on the retired list at the expiration of the thirty years constantly preyed on his mind, some of his companions said.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Barber Nearly Drowned in the Mississippi at St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 1.—George J. Hoffmann, a barber living at 160 West Third street, yesterday afternoon started down the river in a rowboat and when near Dayton's bluff he raised a sail. The craft went bang against a rock and upset, dropping him into the water.

He grabbed hold of the upset outfit and began kicking in the water to effect a landing on the nearest shore. But the current was swift, the boat unwieldy and he was unable to make any headway except down stream. For two miles the craft paid no heed to the struggling man and persisted in its downward course.

Hoffmann at last became exhausted, caught a cramp and dropped from the boat to the bottom of the river. This was near South Park. Some men on shore caught sight of the drowning man, jumped into a skiff near at hand and hastened to the rescue. They fished Hoffmann from the bottom, resuscitated and conveyed him to the west side store, from which point the Ducas street patrol wagon conveyed him to his home.

A BATTLE OF WORDS.

Corbett's Manager Refuses to Make a Match With Fitzsimmons.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Capt. Glori, with Bob Fitzsimmons, Arthur Lumley and Charlie White, met William Brady, James J. Corbett's manager, today noon. Capt. Glori posted a $1000 forfeit for Fitzsimmons to fight Corbett to a finish for the world's championship.

Brady posted another $1000 and entered a counter challenge to Fitzsimmons on behalf of Steve O'Donnell, the Australian fighter, traveling with Corbett.

"Will you cover Fitzsimmons' money?" Brady was asked after a long and heated argument.

"No," he shouted.

"Will cover O'Donnell's money?" Fitzsimmons was asked, and he shouted "No," so loud that every one in the building heard him.

"If you, Fitzsimmons, get the championship by default, will you stand ready to defend it against all comers?" "I will," he replied, "meet any man in the world, bar Peter Jackson, and he is objectionable to me on the ground of color."

Brady wanted to know what right Fitzsimmons had to sign with the Olympic club of New Orleans to fight for a $25,000 purse and the reply was: "I am an American citizen and I have a right to sign anywhere."

After some more words which nearly resulted in a fight between Brady and Lumley, the men separated.

The Figaro adds: "Our relations with Great Britain for some time past have been of a difficult nature. The truth is the discussion of the Egyptian question is no longer ventured upon between Paris and London."

The Paris Temps as already cabled, announced today that de Crais has resigned and that he will be succeeded by Baron de Courcel, who was president of the Bering sea tribunal of arbitration.

Rain in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Oct. 1.—A general rain has been falling throughout Nebraska for the past ten hours, with prospects of continuing all day. This was much needed to put the ground in proper condition for fall plowing, farmers having been able to do little in this line on account of the great drought.

JENKINS' ORDER

The Famous Strike Injunction of Judge Jenkins Severely Handled in a Decision Made Today.

The United States Court of Appeals Does Not Agree With the Milwaukee Judge's Views.

Justice Harlan Dissented by Saying There is Such a Thing as a Legal Strike.

The Court's Decision in Part Reverses the Anti-Strike Order and in Part Sustains It.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—In the United States court of appeals today Judge Harlan, of the United States supreme court, reading the opinion, the famous strike injunction of Judge Jenkins was rather severely handled.

Judge Harlan held that a body of men had a right to quit irrespective of the discomfort which might result. They had, however, no right to conspire to do damage or to embarrass. He did not agree with Judge Jenkins' famous definition of a strike "that it was necessarily illegal." Judge Harlan said there was such a thing as a legal strike. Judge Jenkins' injunction was modified.

The opinion was rendered by Justice of the Supreme Court Harlan, and Judges Wood and Bunn. The bench was occupied today by Justice Harlan and Judges Wood, Bunn, Jenkins and Grosscup. Judge Jenkins appeared undisturbed by the decision.

The decision in part reverses the famous anti-strike order of Judge Jenkins and in part sustains it.

That part of the Jenkins injunction which restrained the employes of the road from striking, or in the language of the injunction, "from so quitting the service of the said receivers, with or without notice as to cripple the property or prevent or hinder the operation of the road," the court of appeals declares was a violation of the rights of the employes, who could not legally be restrained from leaving the employ of the receivers and the company when they thought fit to do so, whether they quit in a body or individually.

That right of the injunction which restrained the employes from entering into a combination or conspiracy to quit with the intention of crippling the property and preventing the operation of the road is sustained.

On the whole the decision, which was read by Justice Harlan, who presided over the court, is a clear recognition of the right of the employes to strike.

WAS A COMPLETE FIZZLE.

Charge That a Grand Jury Was Corrupted Not Proven.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 1.—The sensational charge of Attorney A. H. Rowand, that the grand jury had been corrupted to secure the throwing out of an indictment against John Murphy, director of public safety of Allegheny City, proved a complete fizzle.

Murphy was charged with receiving money from keepers of disorderly and gambling houses. The indictment was ignored by a tie vote. Rowand then alleged that he had affidavits showing that members of the grand jury had been influenced by offers of money and position. The court and grand jury insisted upon an investigation.

Today Rowand produced the men who made the affidavits, but each one declared that his statement was made on information received and that he had no personal knowledge of the alleged corruption.

TRAIN HELD UP BY THREE MEN.

The Express Car Robbed and One Report Says $20,000 Was Secured.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 1.—At 12:20 a. m. the eastbound Southern Pacific train was held up 1½ miles east of Maricopa by three men. One of the robbers rode on the blind baggage out of Maricopa, while the other two flagged the train.

As it slacked up the fellow aboard passed quickly into the engine and at the point of two revolvers forced Engineer Holiday and Fireman Martin to descend, uncouple the engine and proceed ahead of the train for half or three-quarters of a mile.

In the meantime, one masked robber had entered the express car, while the other stood guard outside. No shots were fired nor were the passengers alarmed while the robbery was in progress. The amount which Wells-Fargo messenger reports as having been captured is $160, but there is a current report that the robbers got away with $20,000 in gold. Their trail was struck early this morning by officers.

Emperor William Says He Will Visit the Exhibition in 1900.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—The Gauloise today says that Emperor William recently received a Frenchman who was passing through Berlin and said to the latter: "I shall meet you again at the Paris exhibition of 1900."

The Frenchman expressed surprise and the emperor thereupon said: "I know the French character. Once I say, I shall go to their exhibition, I know what I have to do in order to carry out my intention."

ONE LESSON TAUGHT

The Japanese-Chinese Naval Fights Show the Necessity of Navy Yards Ready for Service.

Upon the Efficient Equipment of the Dock Yards Much Depends in the Present Case.

Few American Yards Well Equipped With Modern Plants for Shipbuilding and for Extensive Repairs.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—One valuable lesson, which officials of the navy department think has been taught by the great naval engagement between the Japanese and Chinese fleets at the mouth of the Yalu river, is the absolute necessity of maintaining the navy yards, repair shops and store rooms in readiness for instant service. According to the cable reports both of the fleets engaged at Yalu sustained great damage. True the Chinese lost many vessels entirely, but they still had a formidable force afloat, while scarcely a vessel of the Japanese fleet escaped without severe damage, mainly from the murderous fire of the machine guns.

At the conclusion of the fight each side withdrew to their nearest respective dock yards for repairs. Upon the efficient equipment and management of these dock yards very much depends in just such a case as the present. Each fleet is well nigh disabled for further operations. If the Chinese yards, which are notoriously ill-equipped and mismanaged, are unable to complete the repair of their fleet for six weeks, which is about the time allowed here by naval experts, while the Japanese put their vessels in shape for service in two weeks, as they count on doing, the latter will be masters of the Yellow sea and can inflict enormous damage on China, landing troops from transports at the very door of Pekin, the Chinese capital, and ravaging the coast, all of which demonstrates the great value of a good dock yard system.

Naturally this has turned the attention of naval officers to a consideration of our own resources in that line, and there is seen to be a pressing need for a radical reform in the system at some points. A few of our yards are well equipped with modern plants for shipbuilding and for extensive repairs, New York and Norfolk for instance, but in almost every other place the yards are filled with antiquated tools and lumber and ship houses, all very useful in the old days of wooden ships, but now a positive incumbrance to work.

It has been urged that the navy could have recourse to private shipbuilding firms for repair and construction work in time of need. But on the other hand these establishments may be crowded with private orders, necessitating their absolute confiscation by the government in order to control their works, and besides there are only a very few private plants able to undertake the heavy work of overhauling one of our great battleships. They cannot be provided in an emergency as was done in our civil war, for the complex and expensive plant needed for modern naval works requires years instead of days for its construction.

These facts have strongly impressed thoughtful naval officers with the belief that something must be done to put all of our navy yards and stations in good condition, to modernize them and equip them so that they shall be available at short notice, for in these days war comes like lightning from a summer sky, the actual declaration following instead of preceding hostilities, as witness the sinking of the Kow Shing, and the nation in the superior readiness taking quick advantage of that fact. Probably the Boston navy yard will be the first to feel the effects of this policy of rehabilitation of the yards, and others will follow as fast as congress can be induced by urgent representations to appropriate the necessary funds.

Another subject germane to that first mentioned, which has already been pressed upon the attention of the navy department by some of the brightest lights in the service—men who are not ashamed to adopt a new idea if a good one, because it is of foreign origin—is an entire change in the system of supplying and commissioning our ships. The idea comes from Germany where it has been practically applied with most promising results. There would be no difficulty in its application to our own navy, though some slight change in detail might be necessary in order to give it sufficient elasticity for a country with two widely separated coast lines.

It contemplates the division of the vessels of the navy into four classes. The first would include vessels in actual service; the second those lying in port and ready for sea at a day's notice; the third those vessels in need of limited repairs, say a month's, and the fourth vessels needing extensive repairs. On each station, North Atlantic, Pacific, European, Asiatic and South Atlantic, a fixed number of vessels must be maintained, and of this number not less than a fixed percentage must be in Classes 1 and 2, thus ensuring an absolutely reliable force at any given point at any time.

In pursuance of this plan at one of the home docks, each vessel would have set apart a store house. In this would be kept supplies when not in Class 1. Everything must be provided and set apart in its proper place. When there should be need for a ship immediately, a draft would be made on Class 2, and a proper vessel selected. The crew would march to the storehouse, each man pick up his load, appointed in advance, and carry it aboard ship, coal would be taken and, everything moving like clockwork, the ship should be able to sail at a day's notice.

This would be in refreshing contrast to the present system where coal is taken at one place, boats at another, ammunition somewhere else, tubes and supplies telegraphed for from another yard or obtained from a contractor and the ship detained a week or a month as the case may be, and all too, after much hurry and worry and friction.

CAPTURE OF A SWINDLER.

Used the Mails in Conducting a Scheme to Defraud.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—United States Postoffice Inspector J. W. Irwin has captured a man who is believed to be a swindler with a national reputation. He was arrested on the charge of using the United States mails in conducting a scheme to defraud and was booked under the name of Henry Smith. Evidence has been accumulated which, it is believed, will prove beyond a doubt this Henry Smith is the man who recently in Chicago impersonated Joseph Jaeger, a reputable merchant of Macon, Mo., Joseph Bawn, of Kirksville, in the same state, and Mitchell Brothers, in Cadillac, Minn.

In July and August last several prominent Chicago business houses reported to the mercantile agencies and United States postoffice inspectors that they had received orders for goods from Macon, Mo., signed by Joseph Jaeger, a reputable dealer in stoves, hardware, etc. They scanned the mercantile agency lists, and discovered that Jaeger was rated as a first class business man and consequently they had no hesitation in filling the orders and shipping the goods.

C. M. Livingston, of Chicago, was one of the victims, for it subsequently developed the real Joseph Jaeger had never ordered goods from Livingston and did not receive those which the latter shipped to Macon.

Upon investigation it was learned that some clever swindler had signed the order for the goods with a rubber stamp which printed Joseph Jaeger's name in red ink and in large capital letters, while the body of the order was written with a pen and ink. The rogue had anticipated the arrival of the way bills, received the goods and disposed of them.

A succession of swindles conducted on the same plane were reported from various cities in different parts of the country. For the past month he has been practicing his profession in California.

STEAMERS TO AUSTRALIA.

Scheme to Promote the Trade From This Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Joseph Howard Whitford, representing the New Zealand government, is here en route to Washington to urge upon the president and the secretary of state the desirability of stimulating trade between the United States and the Australia colonies. The foreign trade of the colonies last year amounted to $500,000,000. To secure a share of this, France and Germany are supporting lines of steamers.

Whitford is confident that if American capital will put on a line of five steamers to the colonies the venture would prove lucrative. He states that his countrymen would prefer to import from the United States in preference to European nations, transportation facilities being equal.

FOUR PRISONERS ESCAPED.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 1.—Attempted wholesale murder and a partially successful jail delivery have occasioned no little excitement at the United States penitentiary on McNeil's island. Warden Palmer of the prison and four guards had a remarkable escape from a sudden death.

The prisoners, led by John Wade, a notorious smuggler, who once before made a successful escape, secured poison and placed it in the food of Warden Palmer and his assistants. But for the fact that the desperate prisoners used too much of the stuff, not one of the intended victims would have escaped alive. As it was all of them were made deathly sick.

During the excitement which followed, four of the prisoners, with Wade at their head, made their escape from the island and despite the most vigorous search, the quartet has been at large ever since.

The island is separated from all other land by a mile of salt water. It is believed that the four men escaped on a rude raft and are headed for British Columbia, if they have not already arrived through. The prisoners intended to kill the guards and then set all the men in the prison, fifty in number, at liberty.

WEARY OF REVOLUTIONS.

Ezeta Will Not Return to San Salvador at Present.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Maron Marrouquin, father-in-law of Carlos Ezeta, the fugitive ex-president of the San Salvador republic, has arrived from Central America.

"Carlos Ezeta will never go back to Salvador under any circumstances," he said in an interview. "I have it from his own lips. He is weary of revolutions and political strife. I do not believe that Antonio Ezeta will ever accomplish much in an attempt to restore his authority in San Salvador. President Diaz is too wise and shrewd to permit a revolutionary scheme to be hatched within the borders of Mexico. As to the proposed union of the Central American republics, such a result will never be accomplished from any movement inspired by Ezeta."

Timothy Kelly was arrested about 11 o'clock last evening for getting drunk and causing a disturbance in J. J. Stewart's restaurant. Mr. Stewart says a party of young fellows came into his place of business, Kelly among the number, and commenced throwing the dishes around with a little too much familiarity. He consequently grabbed Kelly with the intention of putting him out when the young fellow struck him over the head with a counter chair and knocked him down. Stewart then picked himself up and a blood-thirsty looking cleaver at the same time and started after Kelly in a true Indian style of warfare. The latter made a rush for the sidewalk and fell into the arms of a policeman, who put an end to the scuffle by lugging him to the station. This morning Kelly paid $10 into the public exchequer for his penalty for breaking up the public peace.

BASEBALL SEASON ENDED.

Close of a Prosperous Season for the National League.

The national league season for 1894 ended with the games yesterday afternoon. It has been a profitable year, every one of the twelve clubs having made money. The Baltimore club, winner of the pennant, is nearly $50,000 in pocket, and New York, second in the list, has made at least $100,000. The people of the Oriole metropolis have gone baseball crazy, and on Tuesday night, when it was known that Baltimore could not by any combination be beaten, "My Maryland" let itself loose, and with bonfires, "fire water," drums and well-trained voices woke the echoes in the quiet old town. The work of the season demonstrated that the Western clubs were no match for those of the East, and of the half-dozen clubs in the first division at the wind-up, only one, Cleveland, is from the West. In fact, the only Eastern club failing to get into the first division was Washington. The clubs stand as follows:

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Per cent
Baltimore	128	89	39	.695
New York	134	89	45	.664
Boston	132	83	49	.628

WHEAT SLIGHTLY STRONGER.

Various Bullish Factors Combined to Make a Firm Market.

Cables came stronger, the domestic markets were all somewhat higher, the Northwestern receipts were smaller and the amount of wheat and flour on ocean passage decreased 1,423,000 bus last week. All this gave the wheat market a firmer start today, and the opening prices here were ½c higher than Saturday for December at 56c and ½c higher for May at 59¾c. Both sold ¾c above Saturday's close, May touching 60c and December 56¾c. The market was firm and dull all day, there being very little trading at the top figures, and closed firm and steady at ½@¾c above Saturday's last figures. There was a pretty good business in cash stuff, the mills taking a fair amount and the shippers being active buyers. Following were the closing prices:

No. 1 hard, cash, 57¼; October, 57¼c. No. 1 northern, cash, 55¾c; October, 55¾c; December, 55¾c; May, 59¾c. No. 2 northern cash, 52¾c; No. 3, 50¼c; rejected, 49¾c. To arrive—No. 1 northern, old and new, 55¾c; rye, 45c; barley, 45@51c; flax, cash, $1.41; October, $1.42. No. 2 oats, 32c; No. 3 oats, 31½c.

Car inspection today—Wheat 391, barley 43, flax 14, oats 3, rye 1. Receipts—Wheat 199,350 bus, oats 10,679 bus, rye 763 bus, barley 21,532 bus, flax 13,281 bus. Shipments—Wheat, 153,011 bus.

Gossip.

The wheat market opened strong and higher today on continued covering of shorts. There was also good buying for long account. December opened at 54c sold up to 54¾c, down to 53¾c, and closed about the bottom figures. Cables were strong ¼d higher. Clearances today aggregated 470,000 bus. The amount on ocean passage decreased 1,432,000 bus. The visible supply increased 1,221,000 bus. Duluth and Minneapolis received 1056 cars today. It is estimated that there are 5000 cars of wheat on the side tracks about Chicago, the elevators there being too full to take care of it. The stocks of wheat in the public and private elevators there amount to over 35,000,000 bus. Covering by oversold shorts may cause a reduction, but wheat is a sale on any hard spot.

Corn and oats opened strong and higher on covering of shorts. The offerings from country holders still continue heavy. Telegrams from Nebraska and Kansas today offer corn in 50 or 100 carload lots. Late reports as to the corn yield are so favorable that the yield is now estimated at 1,500,000,000 bus. Provisions lower.

The Restaurant.

It is a distinguishing characteristic of living languages to grow, not only by internal development, but by the adoption of words from other tongues. This is especially true of the English language, and sometimes it seems to prefer strangers to its own children. "Eating-house" is certainly English, and clear enough in meaning, yet "restaurant" has almost crowded it out. A meal in a restaurant is no more apt to be satisfying than one in an eating-house, but if we study the words, the former seems to have more meaning. The French word means a place where "restoration" is accomplished; restoration is the act of restoring; "restore" means to bring back or replace that which was lost or spent. It is, then peculiarly appropriate to speak of the place where, by means of a plentiful and well-served meal, we "restore" our strength, impaired by fatigue, or our temper, irritated by hunger—as a place of "restoration." Another peculiarity of the restaurant is that the guest selects what suits both his taste and his purse, and pays only for what he orders. The Burlington Route dining-cars, restaurants on wheels, always celebrated for their cuisine, have adopted the plan of ordering from the card, and the traveler may have the choice of a light lunch or the most sumptuous meal, paying accordingly. For information in regard to tickets, rates, etc., on this great line, call on your home agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

EXCITEMENT OVER A LEASE.

Indian Chief Causes Trouble by Giving Two Leases to the Same Land.

THIEF RIVER FALLS, Minn., Oct. 1.—This village has been in a state of excitement the past week over the lease by the Indian chief Mon Si Moh to Ray W. Jones of land adjoining the village for a sawmill site. Special Agent Murchison, of the Indian department, arrived Saturday to investigate.

Jones procured a 20-year lease of thirty-four acres at $200 a year, and got an act of congress authorizing the secretary of the interior to ratify it. Afterwards P. H. J. Mohan, a lumberman owning the sawmill there, got a second lease from Mon Si Meh of the same land for ten years at $250 a year and succeeded in hanging up the Jones lease in the Indian department.

The examination of the chief occupied three hours. He admitted signing Jones' lease and Congressman Boen stated that he would recommend its immediate approval by the department as it meant a second sawmill to buy pine and hire Indians in the woods and on the river.

A Remarkable Feat.

BUFFALO, Oct. 1.—The 200-mile road record over the course from Buffalo to Erie, Pa., and return was lowered again yesterday. For the brief space of three days T. T. Mack, a local attached road rider, had the honor of holding the record of 14 h 2 m 45 sec. Yesterday this was cut by W. L. Steimal to 13 h 21 m 30 sec. The first 100 miles were made in the face of a stiff wind, making the feat nothing short of remarkable.

Two Men Killed.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Three men were buried by a cave-in of a sewer leading from the state hospital through Goodman street today. Ferdinand Ritz, 44 years of age, and Charles Howland, 50 years of age, were killed. John Klick was rescued. The accident was caused by removing braces before it was safe to do so.

Closed Indefinitely.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1.—The Baackes Wire Nail company of this city, the largest concern of the kind in the world, has closed down for an indefinite period. It is said that the plant may be closed permanently, owing to a combination of Eastern manufacturers.

TOUTING LAWYERS.

The Terrible Struggles For Law Business in the Metropolis.

The struggle for life is fierce in all professions. Not the least so in the legal. A lawyer cannot advertise his ability and desire for business in the newspapers as a merchant does his wares. If he does, he is expelled from the ranks in disgrace. Neither is he supposed to seek business in any way. He must sit in his office and wait for it to seek him. Doubtless the great majority of lawyers do not seek business, except through family or club or political influence, but not so all of them. There are many lawyers who make it a regular business to seek accident cases, and it is safe to say that every man who is sufficiently injured to be taken in charge by a policeman and conveyed to a hospital is bewildered by the array of legal talent placed at his service for the purpose of recovering "damages" from somebody.

The son of a man recently killed by a street car informed the writer that he was besieged by no less than 100 lawyers who were anxious to begin an action against the railway before the breath had left his father's body. They came to him personally, they wrote him letters—stereotyped letters—of sympathy and condolence, and offering to relieve same by bringing action at once on a basis of 50 per cent or 33 1-3 per cent of amount recovered. Several followed him to the funeral and tried to claim the deceased as an old friend.

Some lawyers actually employ shrewd solicitors who do nothing but follow up all sorts of accidents and propose to the victims to pay all advances in court costs, etc. Two or three firms have organized themselves into so called "benevolent associations," and woe betide the wight who retains their services. The majority of these lawyers are miserable fellows, who would not hesitate to sell out their clients for a few dollars, though there are many young men of good parts—who are faithful to their trusts. Of course obtaining clients in this manner is nothing more or less than barratry and champerty, but it is difficult to prove the charge. Consequently the number of barrators and champertors increases yearly. It is said that the pioneer lawyer of this class in the city is now a millionaire and a member of one of the swellest law firms on William street —New York Advertiser.

MACMAHON AND MANTEUFFEL.

The Cologne Gazette has published several letters, which explain a curious incident of the Franco-Prussian war. That General von Manteuffel and Marshal MacMahon were very near fighting a duel is the fact of 1871 has been known generally for 20 years. The circumstances of their disagreement, which have now been explained, were these:

Manteuffel commanded the German army of occupation, which was holding certain parts of France until the war indemnity should be paid. MacMahon commanded the army of Versailles. "I called upon Marshal MacMahon on Sept. 9," Manteuffel reported to the old emperor, "and he refused to shake hands with me. I went the next day to General de Cissey, minister of war, and told him of the affair. I did not mention it to M. Thiers, because he, as a civilian in his high official position, would have complicated matters. I informed General de Cissey that I felt aggrieved by Marshal MacMahon's behavior and must have from him a declaration that in refusing the hand of a Prussian general he had not intended any reflection or insult. I thought it better to call upon General de Cissey, who was at hand, than to send two Prussian generals to the marshal."

The result of Manteuffel's demand for an apology was this letter, addressed to him from MacMahon's headquarters:

General de Cissey, the minister of war, has just informed me that you felt aggrieved by what passed between us yesterday. I regret this and can but lend the sentiments that you expressed. I declare that under the circumstances in question my intention was anything else rather than to be offensive to you. Please accept, general in chief, the assurance of my high consideration. M. DE MACMAHON,
Duke of Magenta.

This letter served to keep the peace, although it did not allay the enmity which MacMahon and Manteuffel ever felt toward each other.

CHAMPION OARSWOMEN.

A Rowing Race Between Young Ladies to Take Place at St. Louis.

Again shapely and muscular young women are going to invade the precincts of male athletes. They are already wearing his neckties, shirts and other apparel; they have beaten him at securing university degrees and a few weeks ago even rode a bicycle race in which the time made was by far better than the average road rider could do to save his life. Now they are going in for rowing. Two young ladies have been matched to scull over a regular course for a valuable trophy and the female championship of America. They will have the prescribed regulation racing shells, timekeepers and other accessories.

There has been considerable talk between the east and west for some time over such a match, and now the negotiations have reached that stage where all arrangements except the final details have been completed. The contestants will be Miss Rose Mosentheim of St. Louis and Miss Tillie Ashley of Hartford. The race will take place early in October on the river at St. Louis, and the course will be a mile and a half straight away from the Merchants' bridge. The trophy will probably be a diamond bracelet. Fred Koenig, the champion amateur oarsman of America, and the Western Rowing club have Miss Mosentheim in charge. Miss Ashley is a member of a ladies' rowing club of Hartford. She is being trained by local oarsmen.

Female boat races are certainly a novelty in this country, nothing of the kind ever having taken place except among boarders at seaside resorts. They of course were of a purely local character. Probably the lack of muscle is the reason. This defect, however, is easily overcome in the present match. Miss Mosentheim weighs 131 pounds, but will reduce to 125 for the race. She is 5 feet 5 inches in height, and her arm measures 11½ inches around the biceps and an inch less around the forearm. She rows 34 strokes to the minute.

Miss Ashley has an advantage of 16 pounds in weight. Moreover, she takes 36 strokes to the minute. She is a very pretty blond, while her competitor is a decided brunette. As in up to date bicycle riding, the conventional dress of the period will be discarded. Tights will replace the skirts, and a close fitting armless and decollete jersey, belted close at the waist, will answer in place of a blouse. A cap and canvas shoes will complete the outfit of each young lady.

King of Two-year-old Pacers.

Two years ago, when the speedy Online paced a mile in 2:11, it was considered a phenomenal achievement for a 2-year-old, but that performance has been eclipsed several times during the present season. The first to break the record, which had stood for 24 months, was Directly, who covered the distance at Chicago's handsome Washington park track on Aug. 25 in 2:10¾. A little later, at Terre Haute, Carbonate captured the crown for 2-year-old pacers with a mark of 2:09 to his credit. Directly was kept in active training, however, and during the past week, at Galesburg, Ills., he recaptured his briefly held championship, going the mile without a skip or a break in 2:07¾. There were very few among the many thousands present who doubted that the game son of Direct could have shown a second or two better time if it had been necessary. Altogether Directly is the sensational harness horse of the year, and if Robert J or Allx should not succeed in reaching the much coveted and greatly discussed two minute mark it is pretty certain that before he is many years older Directly will do the trick.

Directly comes by his speed honestly. His sire is the little black demon Direct, whose remarkable victories over Hal Pointer a few seasons ago created a sensation in turf circles. Direct, like the champion trotting stallion Directum, is by Director, a stallion taken to California by Monroe Salisbury. The dam of Directly is Mabel, by Nanbac. The latter horse was owned by Wilbur Smith and was a full brother to Tom Jefferson, who was known as the Black Whirlwind. Tom Jefferson won the first $10,000 stake at Hartford, beating such famous trotters as Mambrino Gift, Happy Medium and others.

Directly is a black colt and is a counterpart of his sire. He was bred at Pleasanton, Cal., by Monroe Salisbury.

Loie Fuller's European Successes.

Loie Fuller, who is now bewildering the crowned heads of Europe by her serpentine dance, cables from Scheveningen, Holland: "I danced at Antwerp under the patronage of the royal family. The khedive of Egypt and his brother, Prince Mohammed Alim, and suit were present. On Wednesday, in the Palace of Arts and Sciences, at The Hague, I danced before the Grand Duke and Duchess of Saxe-Weimar; Duchess Johan Albert, sister of the German emperor and granddaughter of Queen Victoria; Prince Max of Baden and the Princess Schaumburg-Lippe. I was invited to the royal box. The crowned heads examined my butterfly costume and were much surprised at its simplicity. They admired most, however, my new fire and angel dances. They said they had seen imitations of my dance in London, but had never seen anything comparable with my new dances. I am invited to dance for the little queen of Holland when she returns to The Hague from the country. I am also to dance for the queen of the Belgians."

The New York Campaign.

The report that Charles S. Fairchild intends to be the candidate for governor of bolting Democrats in New York seems strange in view of his statement on the day following Mr. Hill's nomination, that he and his followers would support the ticket. The arrival of William R. Grace from Europe on Saturday probably is the cause of the sudden decision to put another Democratic ticket in the field, headed by Mr. Fairchild. Mr. Grace has been a bitter enemy of Mr. Hill and was the leader of the "Anti-Snappers" who went to Chicago and claimed that the regular delegates from the Empire state did not voice the sentiment of the Democrats there. His hatred of Hill and his friends has been as intense as his worship of Cleveland. Mr. Fairchild has always been nursing a grievance of some sort, although no one has ever been able to discover what it really is, and he naturally has fallen in with Mr. Grace's movement.

Too great importance should not be attached to the Grace-Fairchild move, however. They represent but a small section of the people of New York state. In fact their strength is limited almost solely to the Mugwumps, and Mr. Hill never had their support in any campaign. He has carried the state by a large plurality over the Republicans and the Mugwumps combined, and his friends believe he can do it again. It must be remembered, however, that the conditions at that time were considerably different from what they are now.

The fight which has been made upon Tammany in New York city; the hard times which many men will ascribe to the Democratic administration, and the presence in the field of an exceptionally strong Republican candidate are factors which will not conduce to Mr. Hill's success. On the other hand, he has gained as staunch friends many who were his enemies in the past, owing to the course he pursued in the senate on the tariff question. In the opinion of many New York Democrats he is the only Democratic senator who came out of that contest with any credit. His fight against the income tax has given him great strength among the business men of New York.

Whether the strength he has thus gained will offset that which he has lost for the reasons mentioned above remains to be seen. If it will, his election is a certainty. If it will not, he will go down to defeat. But it will be the first defeat at the polls for David B. Hill.

In a Waiting Attitude.

The waiting and tentative attitude of the commercial world is discussed by Henry Clews in his financial review for the past week, and he sees nothing in the situation to dishearten any one, but on the contrary much to encourage and inspire the business men with confidence that the revival which has taken place in trade is permanent and lasting and not a mere temporary bulge. Business, especially the distributive department of it, says Mr. Clews, is just now entering a new transient phase. After a very active commercial movement, during which the depleted stocks of retailers have been pretty well replenished, there is a disposition to see what is the response from consumers. Of course, the trade croakers and the pessimist speculators seek to make the worst of this temporary phase of the merchandise markets; but it would be a mistake to construe these symptoms as implying any abatement of the late recovery of confidence. Prudent operators have foreseen this mood, and that has been one cause of the recent comparative inactivity of the "bull" element of the stock market. Politics, too, are beginning to have some retarding influence on speculation.

But whilst influences such as those above mentioned are calculated to produce a hesitating market for the next few weeks, there are important factors, says Mr. Clews, all the time preparing the way for an ultimate development of conditions favorable to greater activity and higher prices. The superabundance of money continues. The banks find it impossible to employ their loanable funds at anything approaching satisfactory rates. The interior banks hold unprecedentedly large cash reserves, and the New York banks consequently fear that the drain of currency to the crop-moving sections may soon cease; so that they see little prospect of call loans bringing more than the now current rate of interest. Herein lies a strong inducement for large operators to undertake speculative movements upon a broad scale so soon as the railroads fully reflect the improvement in trade and when the export movement in grain has developed to larger dimensions.

With the next few months, therefore, the earnings of the railroads may be expected to reach about their normal volume; the industries will have adapted themselves to the new tariff conditions; labor will be more generally employed, and the consumptive demand from the working population will have returned to its average volume. And it is not to be overlooked that the restoration of confidence in trade and manufactures is laying the basis for the employment of capital in new industrial and commercial undertakings, which will show its effects in a general stimulus to demand and in a fuller employment of labor. With this restoration to normal condition there will be no lack of employment for the now idle floating balances; long deferred enterprises will be launched; postponed railroad extensions, replenishments and repairs will be undertaken; and the business of the country at large will enter on a new period of expansion. This is the natural drift of things under existing circumstances; and it is not easy in Mr. Clews' opinion, to present any good reasons why the hope of this revival should be long postponed; the realization is probably much closer at hand than is now supposed; so near that it would be unwise to realize now upon good securities.

The output of gold in 1894, in a revised estimate of the director of the mint, is put at $174,000,000, or nearly $20,000,000 more than in 1893. Of this increase the United States supplies $7,000,000, Australia $2,000,000 and South Africa $12,000,000. The gold produced in 1894 will exceed in value the combined output of silver and gold in the years from 1861 to 1865. From 1865 to 1873 the average value of both the silver and gold produced annually was about $100,000,000, which will probably be equaled by the gold production of 1895. The probability of a gold famine is not very great.

At the November elections the people of New York, Brooklyn, Kings county, Long Island City, Richmond county, Westchester, Flushing, Newton, Jamaica and past of East Chester and Pelham will vote upon the point whether the whole of the great region so embraced shall not be consolidated under one city administration. This will make a greater New York, running from Glen Island to the Atlantic, and equal or even greater in size than London itself.

The Seattle and Tacoma Trade Review says: "Coffee, flour and wines form the principal traffic between the Pacific coast states and Central America. That country and Mexico, however, will yet be doing extensive business with this section of Uncle Sam's domain, and although the Pacific Mail Steamship line is not showing more than fair business for California, it is no reason why we should not make a move in that direction and find it as satisfactory as we will the venture with Hawaii."

Mayor Schieren, of Brooklyn, N. Y., attributes the general municipal corruption of the country to the fact that "what are called the better class of citizens pay no attention whatever to municipal affairs." It must be confessed that there is considerable truth in what he says on this point.

The New York constitutional convention adopted an amendment to the proposed new organic law extending the period of citizenship necessary for exercising the franchise from ten to ninety days preceding an election. It is believed that this extension of time would take away the occupation of the colonizer.

Ward McAllister's daughter recently appeared in public at Newport mounted on a bicycle. This no doubt settles the question of the propriety of bicycle riding by the members of the "400."

Now that the Princeton university students have decided to abolish the cruel habit of hazing, the other universities and colleges should follow their example.

There are indications that the wintry season is near at hand, but the month of October in Duluth is always one of the loveliest seasons of the year.

Baltimore is very happy over winning the national league baseball pennant. New York was a close second and Boston a good third.

The Minneapolis Tribune has reduced its price to 1 cent. This is close to free iron ore prices, which the Tribune advocated.

Tomorrow Senator Hill will announce whether he accepts or declines the nomination for governor.

The umpire's occupation has departed for the present year.

The Difficult Seed.

I.

A little seed lay in the ground,
And soon began to spread;
"Now which of all the flowers around,"
It mused, "shall I come out?

II.

"The lily's face is fair and proud.
But just a trifle cold:
The rose, I think, is rather loud,
And then, its fashion's old.

III.

"The violet is very well,
But not a flower I'd choose;
Nor yet the canterbury bell—
I never cared for blues.

IV.

"Petunias are by far too bright,
And vulgar flowers, beside;
The primrose only blooms at night,
And peonies spread too wide."

V.

And so it criticised each flower,
This superfluous seed:
Until it woke one summer hour
And found itself a weed.

Two Harbors Iron News: Mr. Towne's canvass has rendered him very sanguine of success. Everywhere he goes the desire for a change manifested two years ago has developed into an able-bodied demand for another change. This time the request is accompanied by a confession of the assinine peculiarities of the first desire.

Sad Mistake.

Indianapolis Journal: "If it were not so childish and out of date I could take a real good cry," said the woman with the short hair.

"What is the matter, dear?"

"I wore my husband's vest down town shopping yesterday, by mistake, and there were three great big cigars sticking out of the top pocket. I never noticed it till I got home."

Would Annihilate Him.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: Hon. C. A. Towne, the Republican candidate for congress, addressed a big meeting at Sauk Rapids last evening. Mr. Towne fully justified his excellent reputation as an able and logical orator. "No wonder," said a prominent Democrat, who attended the meeting, "that Maj. Baldwin has not accepted the Journal-Press challenge to meet Mr. Towne on the stump. It would be suicide for him to do this, as Mr. Towne would simply annihilate him."

A Democratic Admirer.

Sauk Center Avalanche (Dem.): The Republicans opened their campaign in this city Tuesday evening when Charles A. Towne, their candidate for congress, addressed a good-sized audience at Memorial hall. Mr. Towne is, undoubtedly, as polished and brilliant a speaker as has ever appeared in this city, and while we cannot agree with him in his political views, we admire his method of conducting his campaign free from abuse of his opponents or the opposing parties.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly made and delivered by Arthur C. Jamison, of St. Louis County, Minnesota, mortgagor, to Warren G. Strong, of Oneida County, New York, mortgagee, bearing date the 20th day of November, 1891, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 28th day of November, 1891, at 4 o'clock p. m., in Book 98 of mortgages on page 158.

And whereas said default consists in the nonpayment of the sum of two hundred dollars, one of the semi-annual installments of interest which became due and payable by the terms of said mortgage, and the notes secured thereby on June 1st, 1894, all of which is yet due and owing upon said mortgage.

And whereas insurance upon said premises amounting to the sum of one hundred forty-two and 70-100 dollars was paid by the mortgagee prior to the date of this notice, and by the terms and conditions of said mortgage became a part of the debt secured thereby and immediately due and payable with interest at 8 per cent per annum from date of such payment.

And whereas said default is a default in one of the conditions of said mortgage, it has become optional with the holder of said mortgage and the notes secured thereby by the terms thereof to declare the whole debt secured by said mortgage to be immediately due and payable, in the exercise of which option the whole amount secured by said mortgage, including insurance so paid as aforesaid, has been and is hereby declared and claimed to be due thereon, and is due, owing and unpaid, amounting at the date of this notice to the sum of fifty-four hundred forty and 78-100 dollars.

And whereas, said mortgage contains a power of sale which by reason of said default has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described and covered thereby, and situate in St. Louis County, Minnesota, to-wit: Lots number four, five and six (4, 5 and 6), in block number one hundred fifty-four (154), in West Duluth, Fifth Division, according to the recorded plat thereof, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which premises will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash to pay said debt and interest, and one hundred dollars attorneys' fee, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, which sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, Minnesota, at the front door of the court house of said county, in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on Tuesday, the 9th day of October, 1894, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as by law provided.

DEFENDS REGISTER TAYLOR.

Charles A. White Says the Land Office Register is Doing His Duty.

To the Editor of The Herald:

An article was published in the columns of your paper on Sept. 28, stating that the people in and around Tower, are very hostile towards the Hon. M. R. Baldwin, more so the men who hold homesteads, on account of his recommending the appointment of A. J. Taylor, as register of the United States land office here. Now this article does Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Taylor an injustice, as many of your readers are not informed as to how those people up at Tower, are trying to defraud our government of the valuable pine lands north of Tower.

Now, I am personally well acquainted with the actions of those people, and I can prove what I say is true. These fellows go out and pretend to be squatters. Their method is to squat on a valuable piece of pine land that is unsurveyed; they will build a small shanty, some of them will. Then they will write their name over the door in a much bolder hand than did ever Jay Gould write his. This is the last seen or heard of the faithful homesteader until the land is opened for settlement by the government, and when a timber and stone man beats them in filing they come forth with a contest.

Then a hearing is set, and they come into our land office and bring a lot of their pals to swear for them that they took this land for their homestead and intend to live on and cultivate it for their own special benefit. But what do we find those gentlemen do, who swore upon oath that they were living on this land and took it for their faithful home, when they are allowed to file proof in our land office? They begin to look up the lumbermen and want to sell out, some of them selling the very day that they prove up. This I can prove by the dates of the agreements of transfer to the lumber companies, and the receipt given them by the receiver of the land office.

Does not these men perjure themseves when they make such false statements, upon oath? I say yes, and Mr. Taylor is doing no more than his duty as an officer of the government, who took the oath to discharge the duties of his office without fear or favor to any man or set of men. What did the special government agent say on his return from investigating the townships 60 and 61 ranges 21? When asked about the homesteaders, did he not say that the world hates a liar? They do not last long, as they soon wear out, and become very dangerous to our government, to have such men as those in any community who do not fear the law, which provides a fine of $2000, and imprisonment at hard labor for a period of five years, and from the way his eyes flashed it looked as if some people would be made to jump in the near future.

And did not the Hon. M. R. Baldwin state two years ago that he would do his best and break up all pine land steals in this district? And this is one of them. He has done very nobly indeed in this matter of timber stealing and obtaining pine lands by false methods, and deserves the hearty support of all persons who believe in good, honest government. I hope you will allow me space for the above letter, and I promise not to trouble you again on the matter. Respectfully yours, CHARLES A. WHITE.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The Total Enrollment is One Hundred More Than Last Year.

The total enrollment is now 403. This is about 100 more than last year and is of course the largest enrollment in the history of the high school.

Programs for both literary societies have been made out for the entire semester. This move will enable the participants to be thoroughly prepared when their time arrives to appear before an audience.

The board of editors of the High School Annual hope to have a room, or part of one, for their special use, as it would enable them to arrange their work systematically and conduct their meetings without fear of interruption.

The following committees were elected by their respective classes, to confer with the board of editors in order that a permanent name may be selected for the High School Annual: Juniors, Henry Brearley, Jessie Coxe, Gertrude Longstreet; sophomores, Reuben Smith, Harry Carroll, Agnes Dole. The freshmen will select their committee this week.

The students are anxiously awaiting the opening of the high school library, and it is expected that everything will soon be in readiness for the distribution of the books.

The larger part of the students took advantage of the holiday on Friday and viewed the wonders produced in St. Louis county, exhibited at Glen Avon.

The meeting of the Adelphic society which was postponed on account of the holiday Friday, was held this afternoon.

The tennis and athletic grounds on the north side of the school have been nicely laid off, and before long will be put into practical use.

JOURNEYED TO DEATH

Last Friday evening a lady and a 1-year-old girl arrived in the city from the Great Northern road and registered at the St. [illegible] Mary K. [illegible] Pe[illegible] in[illegible] L[illegible] h[illegible] P[illegible] s[illegible] in[illegible] b[illegible] S[illegible] o[illegible] a[illegible] p[illegible] r[illegible] i[illegible] a[illegible] p[illegible] i[illegible] p[illegible] a[illegible] t[illegible] d[illegible] n[illegible] t[illegible] I[illegible] that she was [illegible] driven to the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic train, which was held five minutes for her and carefully taken on board, still accompanied by Miss Ralph who was going a short distance over the same line. After leaving Superior she sank into several drowsy periods and finally became unconscious.

She was too sick to be removed from the train at Soo Junction and was taken on to Sault Ste Marie and it was quite evident that she was a dying woman long before that point was reached. At that place the company had her and the little baby carefully taken from the train and competent medical aid summoned, but she died almost immediately.

The railroad company is taking steps to find out who her relatives are and has discovered that she has a husband W. D. Pearson in Montana, also some other relatives in Michigan. They have been communicated with and the body will be held to await their orders.

MISS WHITE'S DEATH.

This morning's press dispatches announce the death, in Chicago, under rather peculiar circumstances, of Miss Belle White, a former, and well-known resident of Duluth. All old timers will remember her father, Benjamin S. White, familiarly called "Ben" by his scores of friends. Mr. White used to live on Third street, close to George Rupley's and left here about seven years ago to engage in lumber business in Chicago. He was at one time the manager here of the old Little & Simonds sawmill which was afterwards destroyed by fire.

Miss White, who is a very pretty girl, 23 years old, was considerably troubled about a small blemish on her face and consulted Dr. Sophie Santa, a noted face blemish specialist, and an operation was decided upon, and it was commenced Saturday morning. Cocaine was administered to deaden the pain, but she never recovered and died during the operation. Dr. Santa and her partner, Elizabeth A. James, were locked up until the exact cause of death is determined. Miss White's brother is private secretary to Senator Davis.

AMUSEMENTS.

Potter and Bellew.

The engagement of Cora Urquhart Potter, better known as Mrs. James Brown Potter, and Kyrle Bellew at the Temple next Wednesday is one of the notable theatrical events of the season. They have never been seen in Duluth before, but are well known by reputation to theater goers. Their merit is unquestioned, and their engagement will probably be a successful one.

They will appear in "In Society," a version of Dumas' "Francillon."

"Peaceful Valley" at the Temple.

Sol South Russell and his company closed their brief engagement at the Temple Saturday night with "Peaceful Valley," which was written for him by Edward E. Kidder, and received its first presentation on any stage in the Lyceum in Duluth a couple of years ago. But few changes have been made in the presentation since then, although the cast is carried by entirely different people. The disagreeable weather, with its concomitants of cold rain and wind, did not deter theater-goers and the Temple was well filled. The close of each act ushered in an ovation for Mr. Russell and the entire company, and at the close of Act 2 he was called before the curtain and made one of his famous little speeches, which was brimful of witty sallies and kept the audience in a roar of laughter. The presentation of the play was characterized by the great care usually manifested in all of Mr. Russell's performances and every member of the company appeared to advantage.

Six drunks lined up before Judge Powell in police court this morning. One or two got suspended sentences and the rest went up. Frank White, up for vagrancy, was let go. Mike McDonough was arraigned for grand larceny in the second degree. Joseph Lepine charges that on Sept. 26 the accused stole from Gussee Lepine, at No. 1102 West First street, a $40 gold watch, a $20 diamond ring and a $2 breastpin. The examination was set for Oct. 4 at 10 a. m.

ALL IN SCHOOL AGAIN.

Now for Another Winter of Hard Brain Work.

School has been open nearly a month. The streets are crowded with "shining morning faces," full of eagerness and ambition.

Anxiety of parents begins. Will these young boys and girls stand the nervous strain?

Every year thousands of bright and interesting boys and girls are fatally injured by the indiscriminate and excessive school work.

Pale lips, languor, little eagerness for play, irritability, and loss of strength, show that the close application is making sad inroads upon their health. There should be no delay in building up the child's system, and feeding the worn-out nerves with Paine's celery compound. Parents find their children quickly gain strength and color and increased weight from this remarkable nerve food. It is peculiarly suited to the needs of their awakened powers of digestion and assimilation.

During the school year thousands of children pursuing studies with an amazious eagerness altogether out of keeping with their strength, have been enticed to keep in school and at work and recover health and nerve strength by careful use of Paine's celery compound, as it prescribed by Dartmouth's great professor, Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D.

Parents who have studied the problem of how to build up their children's health while at school have found that Paine's celery compound brought vigor and strength by keeping the blood pure and the nerves and tissues richly nourished.

Physicians in all parts of the country earnestly recommend Paine's celery compound to parents.

A Rise in Coal.

The retail price of coal was advanced today 25 cents a ton, making the price for anthracite $5.75 a ton. It is probable there will be another advance in the near future, but the dealers say it is not likely that the figures of last year will be reached during the coming winter.

HAVE NOT STRUCK YET.

The Coal Handlers at Superior Have Not Quit Work.

The threatened coal handlers' strike in Superior has not yet materialized, and no very great trouble is anticipated. The Duluth men have made no show of contemplating a strike so far as known, the threats being confined to the Superior coal handlers.

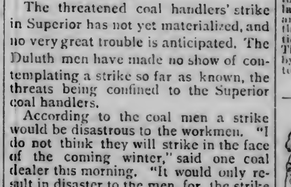

According to the coal men a strike would be disastrous to the workmen. "I do not think they will strike in the face of the coming winter," said one coal dealer this morning. "It would only result in disaster to the men, for the strike could not possibly be successful, while if they stay at the going rates they will have enough to keep them during the winter.

"In case of a strike, in my opinion shipments would cease, as we have coal enough to last during the winter. If things continue as before, shipments will continue up to the close of navigation."

Lake County Woods.

Engineer McGonagle, who is making the survey of the new lines of the Duluth & Iron Range, says that the forests of Lake county probably contain more varieties of wood than those of any other portion of the country. Up along the valley of the Stewart and the adjacent country, in addition to the large quantities of pine, there is both white and red oak of excellent quality and in great quantity, elm, maple, birch, basswood, ash and many other varieties, including cherry of good size.

COUNTY FAIR HAS ENDED.

Even Wet Weather Could Not Keep Away the Crowd.

The closing day of the fair was marred by the first foul weather, but in spite of that there was a large crowd, and the attraction of the day, the football game between the high school and ex-collegiates, went off swimmingly. The ex-collegiates were too much for the school boys and the score was 10 to 0 in favor of the former.

Sharply at 3 o'clock Referee E. P. Towne called play, and with the ball in the hands of the high school the game opened. Meining made a gain of 15 yards around the end, but was met and three hard scrimmages followed by a punt stopped by Thurman and a drop back down the held left the ball in the hands of the ex-collegiates with a large gain. The superior weight of the latter in a rush broke the high school line and carried Thurman with the ball over the line, scoring the first touch down.

There was no more scoring before the end of the half, for though the high schools boys played nobly, they were unable to get through the ex-collegiate forces. In the second half Johanson scored the second touch-down. Thurman kicked the second goal, making the score 10 to 0 in favor of the ex-collegiates.

Both teams did their best and the contest was an interesting one. The association game was started, but was broken up by rain.

THE DISTRICT COURT

All Evidence in on the Liability of Stockholders of the Duluth Driving Park Association.

The Other Creditors Wish to Enter and Get the Benefits of John G. Howard's Judgment.

The Case of Marcus F. Bates Against the Standard Ore Company on Before Judge Lewis.

The Duluth Driving Park association wrangle was taken up before Judge Ensign this morning. All the evidence regarding the liability of the stockholders for the debts of the corporation was in on both sides at noon, although Judge Ensign had reached no determination. Then a further complication came up. All the other creditors of the corporation wished to be allowed to enter and get the benefits of John G. Howard's judgment if there should happen to be any. This was objected to on the grounds that proper notice of such action had not been given, and the question was being argued at noon.

Judge Lewis was hearing the case of Marcus F. Bates against the Standard Ore company this morning. Bates is the former bookkeeper and secretary of the Standad Ore company, who was arrested and tried for larceny on complaint of F. A. Bates, the president of the company, and who was cleared. He is suing for salary for services rendered to the company and for money he alleges that he loaned it.

Judge Moer was trying the case of R. N. Marble and Allen & Parkhurst against Maragretha Lonstorf et al. The plaintiffs were employed by defendants, or rather by their father, to perfect title to some lands in sections 7 and 8-62 12. For this service they claim to have been promised a third interest in the land. Lonstorf failed to complete the contract, and the attorneys are suing his heirs for the land.

JOHN H. MOORE DEAD.

The Former Paying Teller of the Security Bank Died Today.

John H. Moore, formerly paying teller of the Security bank, died of consumption at 3 o'clock this morning at his home at 813 Park place. His death was wholly unexpected, and was a shock to all his many friends. He had been slightly ill ever since last summer, but no suspicion of the gravity of his case was entertained until a few weeks ago.

About three months ago he was forced to leave his work at the bank on account of his health. Up to six weeks ago he had been treated for erysipelas, but then the nature of his disease became unmistakable. For the past month only has he been seriously ill. Last Friday he was much better and was able to be up and about the house. Saturday, however, he began to sink, and he passed away quietly at 3 o'clock this morning.

He was 25 years old and was born in Superior, spending the most of his young life in Duluth. He lived with his brothers and his widowed mother. He was a quiet, unassuming young man of good parts, a favorite with all who knew him, and he made many friends who will mourn his death.

Shakesperean Readings.

A. F. Gammond is in the city arranging for the appearance here of George B. Williams in a Shakesperean reading. It will take place in one of the theaters about the middle of the month under the patronage of the clergy and of many others interested in a wholesome literary entertainment, and will undoubtedly be quite a social and literary event.

Mr. Williams comes well commended by the press and clergy of the country. Smith Thomas Ford, pastor of the Central Baptist church, of Syracuse, N. Y., says: "George B. Williams is a reader of rare merit. He infuses good cheer into his recitals. His transition from one character to another is well defined. At his recital in Syracuse he showed himself possessed of rare gifts of impersonation and a keen insight into Shakesperean thought.

An Aldermanic Nimrod.

Alderman Edward Patterson returned this morning from a trip to Everett, Wash., and other Puget sound points. He notes a little revival in business and took a leisurely sort of journey on the return trip. He saw E. P. Emerson, with a shot gun under his arm, hunting ducks at Butte City, Mont. When he reached Dawson, North Dakota, Edward took a day's hunting trip himself. It wasn't a very good day but Patterson bagged 4 geese, 51 chickens and 129 ducks and brought the most of them home with him.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

She Bade God Goodbye.

General Freight Agent Clark, of the Omaha road, who was in the city last week, tells the following story, which is rather tough on the Windy City:

A family living in Boston were about to move to Chicago and a little daughter was considerably worked up over the approaching journey. She told all her playmates "we're going to Chicago!" and the thought of the change was with her night and day. Some prudish friend told her that Chicago was a very wicked place, that God didn't love it, and the little girl was sorely troubled. At last the eve of departure came, the trunks were all packed and the little one knelt down for her final "Now I lay me" in the old home. She finished her devotions but before rising from her knees exclaimed with a sigh: "Well, goodbye, God; I'm going to Chicago!"

THE SLAUGHTER OF BIRDS.

Mayor Lewis Will Aid Humane Agent Haskins to Stop the Cruel Sport.

Large numbers of wild birds of all varieties have been especially noticeable about the city of late. That curious compound, the small boy, has not failed to notice them, and he has been out with his sling shot reducing the number of birds as rapidly as possible, apparently from mere wanton cruelty.

The attention of many citizens has been called to it, and efforts will be made to stop the slaughter. Henry Haskins, the Humane society's agent, has been doing all that he could in that direction, and will continue. The mayor has decided to come to the rescue with a long-dormant ordinance, which will be radically enforced. The police have been instructed to arrest any boy found killing birds or even with a slingshot in his possession.

He is also contemplating the appointment of 100 special policemen to be dressed in citizens clothes for the purpose of enforcing the ordinance. Parents should take the matter in hand and warn the children of the path that awaits them if they continue to slaughter the innocent songster.

Stante Tatryzykskiowsky, a Polish boy, was fined $1 and costs in police court today for killing wild birds within the city limits.

SPECIAL LAND AGENT DROPPED.

Hugh Young Let Out Owing to a Scarcity of Funds.

Owing to a lack of funds at Washington, Special Agent Hugh F. Young, who has been connected with the local United States land office, has been discharged. One agent has been allowed here and Special Agent A. L. Gray has been continued in that capacity.

There has been quite a kick made over the dismissal of Mr. Young and a determined effort will be made by settlers and land attorneys to persuade the department to retain him here. He has shown much ability, honesty and fairness and these qualities are much esteemed in a special agent. Mr. Young this morning turned over to the local officers his official papers.

Some Political Meetings.

Wednesday evening the Republican club has a regular meeting in The Herald building and T. W. Hugo, L. C. Harris, A. M. Wickwire and C. W. Dorsey will speak, the latter more particularly to the colored people. Mr. Dorsey will give them some plain unvarnished facts as to the exercise of their suffrages at the coming election.

Hon. Charles A. Towne has a busy week before him. Tonight at Hibbing, Tuesday at Mountain Iron, Wednesday at Grand Rapids, Thursday with Governor Nelson at Tower, Friday with the governor at Virginia, and Saturday at West Duluth.

The Republicans will make Rome howl Friday evening at Virginia on the occasion of the Nelson and Towne speech-making. Special trains will be run from all over the range and some 600 men will form in the line of march to receive the distinguished gentlemen.

The Republican marching club has a business meeting at headquarters this evening, followed by a street drill.

Endorsed by the Populists.

George N. LaVaque was endorsed for county auditor at a meeting of the Populist county committee on Saturday night, and his name will go on the Populist ticket. It will be remembered that John Cogan was nominated in the Populist convention for this office, but he subsequently declined to accept, owing to business reasons.

Knute Berven was selected for coroner and not for county attorney, as the morning paper stated. J. M. Martin is running for county attorney and will continue to do so until the polls are closed.

Relief From Norwich, Conn.

The Duluth relief committee for the Hinckley sufferers received this morning a very substantial donation from citizens of Norwich, Conn., collected by Rev. R. A. Nelson, of that city, consisting of $211.45 in cash and nine well filled barrels of clothing weighing considerably over 1000 pounds. The handsome contribution was acknowledged at once.

Cash paid for 160 acres of scrip. G 176 Herald.

THE MARINE SITUATION.

Cleveland Vesselmen Unable to Get Coal Cargoes at Fifty Cents.

It is reported that Cleveland vesselmen are unable to get Lake Superior coal cargoes at 50 cents, and that some of them are weakening. They wish the rate dropped 5 cents. Action on the matter has been postponed until today. Some owners fear that the whalebacks will break away from the agreement.

Duluth rates are unchanged, though there is a firmer feeling all around. Wheat is firm at 2¼ cents and an increase is likely to materialize in the near future. The receipts are on the increase and are much higher than they were last year at this time. The Northern Pacific is bringing in about six trains or 200 cars a day. The September receipts of the Northern Pacific were 3182 cars against 2106 cars for the same month last year. The Great Northern is bringing in about 400 cars per day, largely in excess of the receipts last year at this time.

The prospects for ore business for the remainder of the season are good, and the season's shipments will tout up a large amount. The rate is strong at 90 cents. Lumber business is a trifle less lively than it has been, but rates are firm with advancing tendencies.

NO BREAK IN THE RANKS.

Hon. C. B. Buckman Says Morrison County Republicans Are Strong and Steady.

Ex-Senator C. B. Buckman, of Little Falls, was in the city today for a short, strictly business trip. In reply to a Herald man's request for a little political gossip about the political situation down in Morrison county he said:

"I see no signs of the slightest break in the Republican ranks and a few of the candidates before the people will receive more than the party strength. Among that crowd are Judge Collins and C. A. Towne. The latter will run very strong in Morrison county and adjoining counties but perhaps the greatest effort will be put forward to give Judge Collins a big boom there. You know he is a great favorite, not as a politician but as an able and upright lawyer, among Morrison county people and there has been a fusion against him and on this account the people will work all the harder to elect him.

"The Republican party is much stronger down there than it was two years ago and the Democratic party is correspondingly weaker. Mr. Towne's record is clean and he will poll every vote of his own party and lots from other sources. Populists and Prohibitionists won't cut any figure in Morrison county this fall and its practically a clear field for the Republicans and Democrats. Morrison county people will greet Mr. Towne very cordially when he comes to Little Falls and he will show up strong when the ballots are counted. But here I am talking politics again just as if I was mixed up in the campaign; I suppose it's second nature, but first nature has the call now and is beckoning me to the elevator which leads to the dining room, so I must bid you good day."

The Emperor of China Very Likely to Be Dethroned in Favor of Prince Kung.

In That Case the Latter Would Treat With the Japanese for Terms of Peace.

The Dixision of China Into Three Powers Said to Be the End Japan Seeks.

Reports That Five Thousand Japanese Have Landed at Passiet Bay, Near the Russian Frontier.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says: The emperor of China will very likely be dethroned in favor of Prince Kung, who will treat with the Japanese. Li Hung Chang has been supplanted in the supreme command by Gen. Sang Yang, of the province of Huna, who has received full power. Li Hung Chang retires disgusted to Pao Ting Foo, the capital of the province of Chi Li. His alleged defection to the Japanese is only canvassed consequent to the recall of Prince Kung.

Twenty thousand Hulan soldiers are gathered around Shan Hai Kawn, the terminus of the great wall, where it forms a boundary between the provinces of Chi Li and Shung King. Li Hung Chang's army is distrusted.

Chong Tao Tai, a customs commissioner, and other high officials of Tien Tsin have been disgraced for malfeasance.

A Tien Tsin dispatch says: It is officially announced that 5000 Japanese troops have arrived close to Passiet bay, near the frontier. Previous to this announcement it was reported here that a Japanese fleet had been sighted on Sept. 28, 10 miles from Shan Hai Kwan, 200 miles from Pekin. Large bodies of Chinese troops have been drafted to that during the last few days in order to prevent the Japanese from landing.

Passiet bay is not far from Vladivostock, the great Russian stronghold and railroad terminus in the east. The latter opens upon the Gulf of Peter the Great, and the waters of Passiet bay adjoin it. It is difficult to conjecture the object of this move on the part of Japan unless it is to protect the right flank and rear of the Japanese army from the possible attack from the direction of the Russian frontier. Then again, the 5000 men referred to might simply be reinforcements for the Japanese army now marching upon Moukden.

As already cabled, a Times dispatch from Shanghai says that it is reported there that 35,000 Japanese troops have been landed on the Shan Tung coast between the Yellow river and Tien Tsin. If this is true the Japanese are within striking distance of Tien Tsin and may be preparing to push on to Pekin, leaving the formidable Taku forts on their right. Tien Tsin is the port of Pekin and is fully seventy miles distant from the capital of China.

DIVISION INTO THREE PARTS.

That Seems to be Japan's Plan in Regard to China.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—A prominent diplomat who was once stationed in China, and whose name would carry weight because of his acquaintance with Oriental affairs, if diplomatic usage would permit its use, believes that the division of China into three powers is the end Japan aims to achieve through the war.

"That plan was known to be cherished by Japan eight or nine years ago," he said. "Certainly the war can no longer be considered one to establish the independence of Corea, since that has been gained. It has apparently become a war of conquest, and it looks as though China would soon be driven to appeal to other nations to intercede in her behalf."

"The impression that the Chinese are lacking in personal courage is incorrect," he continued. "Chinese Gordon said that he never knew better soldiers than were the Chinamen when properly equipped and led. It is a question mainly of leadership and organization, although one factor to be taken into account is the low esteem in which the military profession is held in China. The romantic and chivalrous ideas generally associated with men of arms are wanting. The soldiers merely follow the calling to fill their stomachs.

"While the lesson of the war may lead China to adopt Western ideas so far as they concern the organization and equipment of her army and navy, there is little probability that it will have any effect in changing her complicated civilization, which has endured the test of many centuries satisfactorily to her."

THE FIGHTING WAS AWFUL.

Terrible Scenes at the Recent Fight on the Yalu River.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A British naval officer attached to the Chinese naval squadron which was engaged in the fight off the mouth of the Yalu river has written a letter to the Graphic in which he gives additional details of the fighting, and says:

"On board the warship Chen Yuen, the fighting was awful. The decks and the space around the guns were strewn with human fragments. Three of five men working a 4-ton gun were blown up by a shell from the Japanese warship Naniwa. The fourth gunner was shot while attempting to escape from the turret and the fifth stuck to his post.

"This man fired three rounds at the Naniwa, one shell entering the engine room of the Japanese ship and another smashing her fore bridge. The Naniwa then hauled off. The admiral rewarded the surviving gunner with a present of 1000 taels.

"A shell glanced from the steel deck of the Chen Yuen and went through her tower, shattering everything therein. A lieutenant, who was in the act of speaking through the tube leading to the engine room, was blown into atoms and his head left hanging to the speaking tube pipe. Huge fragments of armor teak backing were carried inboard by the shot, crushing a large number of sailors into a shapeless mass.

"An European engineer who was in the act of groping about in an endeavor to repair a steam pipe was drenched from head to foot with the blood of an assistant, who was disemboweled by his side with a shot from the enemy's ship.

"The Chen Yuen arrived at Wei Hai Wei the day after the fight in the same condition in which she left the battle. No attempt has been made to wash the blood from her or to remove the corpses which strewed her decks."

The writer expresses the opinion that if the European rulers could have seen the decks of the Chen Yuen, they would have foresworn war henceforth and forever.

A DAGGER IN HIS HEART.

Murder of a San Salvador Man to Prevent Publication of a History.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The steamer Colon brings news of a murder and assassination in San Salvador. Silveroa Lewis, a prominent literary man, had written a history of the country and was about to take passage on the Colon for San Francisco to have his history published.

Some parts of the history did not speak favorably of the Ezeta government, and on the day the steamer was to sail the historian was found with a dagger in his heart. No trace of the manuscript could be found and it is thought Lewis had been murdered to prevent the publication of the history.

Fernand Figaro, a wealthy planter, was found murdered in his country residence. The house had been ransacked as though the murder had been the work of robbers, but there are rumors that his death was for political reasons.

TRIED SUICIDE AT SEA.

A Guatemalan Tried to Drown Himself and His Wife.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—M. Tortola, a passenger on the steamer Apalcupo, which left for Southern ports a few days ago, attempted suicide at sea by jumping overboard with his wife in his arms.

Tortola was coachman for Gen. Barrillos when the latter was president of Guatemala, and when Barrillos was deposed Tortola lost his reason. He was sent here for treatment and was returning to Guatemala with his wife, apparently cured.

Soon after leaving San Francisco, however, he became insane, and on the seventh day out grasped his wife in his arms and jumped overboard. A boat was promptly lowered from the vessel, and soon the couple were on board again not much the worse for their plunge.

Nominated for Congress.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Oct. 2.—Rush Culver, who resigned the receivership of the land office a week ago, because Secretary Hoke Smith's orders dispossess settlers in favor of the Michigan Land and Iron company, was nominated for congress by the Democrats of Twelfth district today. The hopes for fusion between Democrats and Populists failed to materialize.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—The Democrats of the First district today nominated H. D. Peck for congress. In the second district M. W. Oliver was nominated.

Four Sailors Drowned.

FAYAL, Oct. 2.—The British ship Ainsdale, Capt. Owens, which sailed from Tacoma, Wash., on May 10, for Queenstown, has put into this port for medical assistance. The Ainsdale encountered heavy gales on the voyage, during which Seaman Thomas Dickey was badly injured and four other members of the crew named Glasson, Thomsen, Frenton and Kendall were washed overboard and drowned.

Floods in Oklahoma.

PERRY, Okla., Oct. 2.—This city was visited by a severe rainstorm last night. Many business houses were flooded and considerable damage was done. In the town of McKinney, ten miles north of here, business houses and residences in the lowlands were flooded. Much damage was done to goods in stores.

Model of the Texas.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The naval construction bureau has completed and placed on exhibition at the navy department a model in miniature—although the model is over 6 feet long of the battleship Texas, now nearing completion at the Norfolk navy yard. The model shows in marvelous fashion the complicated mechanism of the great battleship.

Died in a Hospital.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Thomas Morrissey, aged about 60 years, and supposed to have been a miner from the West, died in St. Mary's hospital, Hoboken, today. Last night he took a room at the Hansa hotel, saying he expected to sail for Europe today. During the evening he was taken ill and removed to the hospital. Nothing is known of his family or business connections.

Will be a Coach.

Will Carry the West.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 2.—James S. Clarkson, member of the national Republican committee, was in Des Moines yesterday on his way to New York. He said he thought the Republican party, with hard fighting, would carry all the Western states.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—[Special to The Herald.]—J. E. West, of St. Cloud, was today granted a patent for a press for finishing molded articles.

AS COADJUTOR.

A Report That Bishop McGolrick Will Leave Duluth to Become Coadjutor to Archbishop Ireland.

Father Kean, of Minneapolis, Said to Be Likely to Succeed McGolrick as Bishop of Duluth.

Bishop Marty, of Sioux Falls, is Slated to Take the Vacant Bishopric of St. Cloud.

Father Cleary, of Minneapolis, to Be Bishop of Sioux Falls—Reason of the Changes.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—The Journal today says that some important changes are contemplated in the Northwestern diocese of the Catholic church. A meeting is to be held Thursday at the residence of Archbishop Ireland at which these changes will be discussed, although it is understood they have been practically decided upon by the archbishop. Bishop McGolrick, of Duluth, is to be made coadjutor to Archbishop Ireland. Father Kean, of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, of this city, is to succeed McGolrick as bishop of Duluth. Bishop Marty, of Sioux Falls, is to take the vacant bishopric of St. Cloud and the Sioux Falls bishopric is to be given to Father Cleary, of St. Charles parish, Minneapolis.

This, the Journal says, is the slate, and will undoubtedly go through. Archbishop Ireland has been so much taken up with the international politics of the church in which he has become a strong figure that the detail of his diocese work has become burdensome. He desires, therefore, a coadjutor and must needs have one in sympathy with his liberal projects, and McGolrick is such a one, having always been an Ireland man and a favorite with the archbishop.

Marty's rule in South Dakota has not been a successful one and his removal to St. Cloud has been foreseen for some time. The two Minneapolis priests, who are to be given the mitre, have long stood in line of promotion and are well thought of.

The friends of Bishop Shanley of North Dakota are making some objection to the selection of McGolrick as coadjutor over the head of a senior bishop, but their objections are not expected to avail anything, once the archbishop has made up his mind.

THE SCHOOL FUND ENRICHED.

Thomas R. Foley Settles for Pine Cut on State Lands.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 2.—The labors of the pine land investigating committee continue to bear fruit, and the school fund of the state is richer by $7500, which will be paid by Thomas R. Foley, of Aitkin, in settlement of the suit brought against him by the state for pine timber said to have been unlawfully cut and removed.

Several months ago Warner, Richardson & Lawrence, the attorneys for the investigating committee, instituted a suit against Mr. Foley to recover $14,000 for timber cut and removed by him from state lands. In his answer Mr. Foley claimed that he had paid for all the timber that he had cut. Later he made a motion for a change of venue to Itasca county, but the motion was denied.

The case was set for trial today and yesterday was settled by stipulation, Foley paying for 1,000,000 feet of timber at the rate of $7.50 per thousand feet, amounting to $7500, also $170.63 witness fees, making the total amount of the judgment $7670.73. This makes $37,500 recovered by the legislative pine lands committee.

AID FOR LEROY SUFFERERS.

Thirty-five Families Are Reported in Destitute Circumstances.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 2.—Hon. John J. Furlong and Hon. John Frank, of Austin, Minn., were in the city yesterday for the purpose of stirring up the St. Paul people to afford aid to the sufferers by the cyclone at Leroy on Sept. 22.

There are thirty-five families in absolutely destitute circumstances, among them many aged and helpless persons, and they need clothing and money to keep them from suffering during the coming winter. At least seventy persons have lost everything they possess in the world and about 100 houses are completely destroyed.

Messrs. Furlong and Frank called on Governor Nelson, ex-Governor Merriam, P. H. Kelly, Channing Seabury and other business men, also the Commercial club, for the purpose of enlisting their sympathies, and today on the advice of Governor Nelson they will wait on the state relief commission.

APPROVED THE PROJECT.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—The board of trade yesterday formally approved the project of a general Northwestern board of trade. On suggestion of Congressman Fletcher a committee was appointed to secure from congress another appropriation for dams and locks at Meeker island.

A proposition by F. N. Stacey that water rates be so reduced that the consumer would not have to pay a profit to the city, but simply the actual cost of maintenance, was referred to a committee to report at the next meeting.

Quist, secretary; George L. Nevius, treasurer; executive committee, E. W. Murphy, D. B. Johnson, H. E. Fryberger, Howe Paige, Caleb Miller and Elijah Barton.

The report of the treasurer showed the finances to be in good condition and the club intends to take vigorous action in the campaign, and will probably hold a mass meeting in the Lyceum theater soon, having for speaker some man of national reputation.

LARGE REPUBLICAN GAINS.

The Town Elections in Connecticut Went Generally Republican.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 2.—Returns from 100 towns of Connecticut show unprecedented gains for the Republicans in the town elections yesterday. Towns that have not elected Republican town officers in years went Republican by good majorities.

In Waterbury the A. P. A. movement aroused the Catholics, who succeeded in electing an entire school board of Catholics. In New Britain the no-license vote of one year ago is reversed. The liquor question has been under constant discussion during the year. In almost all towns where the A. P. A. made a fight they met with defeat.

Meriden, Norwich, Middletown and New Milford, which have been Democratic for years, were captured by the Republicans but New London elected a Democratic mayor, displacing a Republican. The Republicans, however, captured all the other offices.

CLEARING THE MYSTERY.

Poisoning of Two Men Traced to a Discharged Colored Sexton.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—The mystery of the poisoning of Sexton Joseph Cunningham and Organist F. S. Beckett of St. Peter's Episcopal church is being rapidly cleared; and as rapidly is a noose being placed about the neck of George Thompson, the discharged colored sexton under arrest.

A threatening letter has been found which proves to be in Thompson's handwriting. The grocer and caterer from whom the constituents of the poisoned lunch was purchased have been found, and have identified the remains of the lunch and also Thompson as the purchaser.

A forged order for strychnine has also been found and in addition Thompson has admitted purchasing the lunch. The murder, it is now practically proven, was one of revenge upon a successor in the sextonship.

WAS CONFINED TO WICHITA.

The Kansas Tornado Did Not Cause Any Loss of Life.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 2.—The tornado which played leap-frog through the northern part of the city last night fortunately confined itself to damaging property, and left humanity alone.

Buildings of all kinds were demolished, twisted out of shape and removed from their foundations, yet the occupants suffered no harm outside of bruises and scratches. From here the twister lifted, and disappeared to the northwest.

From what can be learned from surrounding towns the tornado seems to have confined itself to Wichita.

A West Virginia Tragedy.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 2.—On Beach Fork, twelve miles south of this city, today, William Adkins and Tom Mays, two prominent young men, became involved in a difficulty when Adkins cut Mays' throat. Mays died instantly. Jealously was the cause of the trouble. Adkins is still at large.

Advance in Freight Rates.

OMAHA, Oct. 2.—Missouri river roads today announced that after Oct. 20 all freight rates to Portland and adjacent points will be advanced from 7 to 25 cents. This is a discrimination in favor of San Francisco, though the object is a mystery. Local railway circles are much disturbed over the situation.

JOINING HANDS.

A Close Traffic Arrangement Being Made by the Union Pacific and the Northern Pacific.

This Move Will Give the Union Pacific Another Line to the North Pacific Coast.

The Jurisdiction of the Terminal Dispatch Company Extended to Cover Minnesota and the Dakotas.

An Agreement Submitted by Chairman Scott Yesterday to the Various Lines That Are Interested.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 2.—Freight Traffic Manager J. A. Monroe and General Freight Agent Schumacker, of the Union Pacific, are in the city and today met Receiver Clark and General Passenger Agent Lomax. It is understood that the Union Pacific and the Northern Pacific are about to enter into a class traffic arrangement either at Butte or Garrison.

This will give the Northern Pacific another feeder, opening up another junction point and will give the Union Pacific another line to the North Pacific coast and a strong competitor for the Burlington, which has recently opened its line into Billings and entered into a close traffic arrangement with the Northern Pacific. Nothing would be given out today.

About three weeks ago these dispatches outlined in detail a scheme whereby the jurisdiction of the present Terminal Dispatch company would be extended to cover the entire states of Minnesota and North Dakota and South Dakota and stated that Chairman Scott, of the association, was working on an agreement to be submitted to lines in interest at their next meeting.

This agreement was submitted yesterday by the chairman at the regular meeting in the Union depot. The name of the association is the Minnesota and Dakota Car Service association.

The new organization will be conducted on the same plan as the present Terminal Dispatch association, the parties to agreement being held under a heavy fine of $500 to maintain it. All loaded cars held on track more than forty-eight hours, not including Sundays and legal holidays, after the delivery of such cars, shall be subject to trackage and car rental charges, $1 per day for the first day, $2 for the second and so on.

REDUCTION IN WAGES.

Claimed to Be the Result of the Reduced Tariff on Tin Plate.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—A reduction of the wages in the rolling department of the tin plate works of the St. Louis Stamping company is announced. When asked what necessitated the cut Thomas Niedringhaus stated that it was due to the reduced duty on tin plate in the Wilson bill. Said Mr. Niedringhaus:

"Under the McKinley bill the duty afforded us a protection estimated at 75 per cent. The Wilson bill affords protection of only 35 per cent. In order to meet this we were compelled to reduce the wages of the rollers, catchers, doublers and heaters, about 200 men."

Passenger Trains Collide.

MASSILLON, Ohio, Oct. 2.—Two passenger trains on the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling road collided at Pauls station today and several passengers were painfully but not seriously injured. Miller, residence unknown, were also slightly injured. A physician was fortunately aboard the train and attended the injured.

Fears at Pekin.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 2.—The anti-foreign feeling at Pekin is increasing hourly and the authorities find it difficult to repress outbreaks on the part of the Chinese, but leading Chinese representatives at Pekin fear that if the Japanese march upon Pekin the capital will be captured, as the Chinese soldiers gathered there to defend it are dissatisfied and unreliable. It is reported here that Li Hung Chang has received orders not to proceed to Corea.

Four in the Race.

MIDDLESBOROUGH, Ky., Oct. 2.—The famous primary election injunction suit of John D. White will be argued before Judge Jones, at Edmonton, Metcalf county, Oct. 4. It is thought by the ablest attorneys that the injunction will be sustained and that the Republican committee will declare that no election was held. Dr. Nell, of Adair county, has entered the race making four Republican candidates.

Franchise Irrevocable.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—The United States court of appeals today reversed the decision of the circuit court in the case of the city of Detroit against the Citizen's street railway, holding that the street railway franchise for thirty years was irrevocable notwithstanding the expiration of the corporation life of the company at the end of fourteen years.

THE CAPITAL GOSSIP.

The Agricultural Department Left Without a Head by the Departure of Assistant Secretary Dabney.

State Commissions Have Been on the Battlefield of Chickamauga Locating the Various Battle Monuments.

The Minnesota Monument Second to None Yet Erected in Beauty and Symmetry of Design.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The agricultural department was left without a head when Assistant Secretary Dabney, in response to a telegram announcing the serious illness of his wife in Kentucky, left the city today. Secretary Morton is in Europe and will not be back before Oct. 20. Owing to the anomalous form of the statutes under which the department of agriculture was elevated to the dignity of a ministerial portfolio, no provision was made for an acting secretary of agriculture during the absence of both the secretary and assistant secretary.

In case Assistant Secretary Dabney should be detained from his post beyond Oct. 9 it would become necessary for President Cleveland to designate some official to act temporarily as on Oct. 10 the statistician is, by law, compelled to submit his monthly report on crops to the head of the department, and it cannot go to the country under the law until approved by the secretary or acting secretary. The president, if compelled to nominate an acting secretary can only do so for ten days, and in doing so he is limited by law to the selection of an officer nominated by him and confirmed by the senate.

There is only one such officer in the agricultural department, Chief Harrington of the weather bureau, but the president could, if desired, designate some official from another department. The other departments have from two to four assistant secretaries and in some the secretary can by law designate to act, in his absence, other confirmed appointees in his department. It is considered probable that some legislation will be proposed at the next session of congress to remedy the defect in the laws applying to the agricultural department.

The Chickamauga battle field commissioners, Gen. Fullerton, Maj. Smith, Gen. Stewart and Gen. H. V. Boynton, historian of the commission, have returned to Washington from Chattanooga. They have been on the battlefield for the past two weeks engaged with the state commissions in locating the battle monuments. They were accompanied by the Louisiana state commission, Secretary Walthall and his staff from the Mississippi commission, Capt. C. Arns, of the Tennessee commission with the officers of the battery, some members of the Ohio commission and about twenty members of the Pennsylvania commission. Three members of the Gettysburg commission were also in attendance looking over the field.

The state commissions have been engaged in locating the positions of the various regiments of their respective states and with such a numerous representation of both sides they are able to establish a great many points of historical interest heretofore in doubt. The members of the national commission report that the work of marking and improving the battlefield is progressing with the greatest vigor and the road making has been nearly finished under the direction of Gen. Stewart, the resident commissioner. The formal dedication of the park is expected to take place next September.

The executive committee of the G. A. R. and those persons connected with the park project are already in correspondence with a view to fixing dates so that the encampment at Louisville and the dedication of Chattanooga shall follow each other so that the veterans can attend both. All of the information received here is to the effect that the veterans of both armies engaged at Chickamauga are arranging to be largely represented at the dedication. The New York delegation has been busily engaged in locating the positions of New York troops at Lookout mountain, Missionary ridge, Wachatchie and Ringgold, and as they have a large appropriation to draw upon, they expect to make New York's monuments the most imposing ever erected on a battlefield in this country.

The fifty-six Ohio monuments are nearly all in place and the remainder will be completed this month. The sites for the fifty-one Ohio granite works were located last week. The Pennsylvania delegation is also progressing rapidly in locating positions. Minnesota has been well cared for, and from the photographs brought back by the commission it would seem that in beauty and symmetry of design her battle monument is second to none yet erected.

AN EXCITING BULL FIGHT.

Four Persons Were Killed and Many Others Were Injured.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—A special dispatch from Zacacetas, Mex., says: Four persons were killed and many others injured at a bull fight in the little town of Mesquitie in the state of Jalisco yesterday. Two bulls, and both wild and vicious, were turned into the ring at once. To kill these was a task designed to bring all the fighters into action at once.

The bulls were soon apparently worn out in their efforts to elude or reach the bandilleros, who tortured them by forcing into their necks short pointed iron from which floated gay colored ribbons. At first they charged right and left but the agile bandilleros escaped and at last the bulls stood at bay.

The crowd cheered and again the torturers resumed their efforts. A bandelillo approached one of the bulls, waving a red cloth. The animal charged him but he jumped aside and drove the iron into the thick skin of his neck. The banderillo had forgotten the second bull, which was upon him before he knew it. The animal caught him on his horns, tossed him over his back and gored him through.

As others ran to the rescue the bull raised his head with the banderillo impaled on his horn and charged his tormenters. In the meantime the first bull had leaped over the barrier separating the ring from the spectators and dashed into the crowd.

Many persons were gored and a panic ensued. Men, women and children made a rush for the single entrance. In their efforts to escape four persons were trampled to death and many others injured.

BAD STORM IN KANSAS.

Many Houses and Barns Demolished and Several People Killed.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 2.—A rain cloud from the west came in contact with a storm cloud from the south last night, both at once fusing and proceeding to do business. The division headquarters and the Twelfth street depot of the Missouri Pacific were demolished.

The storm passed east about a mile. Thirty houses or barns were wrecked and probably 500 shade trees were pulled up by the roots.

Three children were hurt and two men were reported killed at police headquarters but their names could not be learned. Lightning struck a little boy named Gibbons and killed him. Lightning also struck the Fifteenth street depot and car stables of the electric railway and consumed them with all their contents.

BEARS AT LARGE IN SPOKANE.

Were Released from the Park and Have Attacked Several People.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 2.—Residents within the city limits have been in terror because of a cinnamon and the black bears that have been prowling about. Some mischievously disposed person released them from the pit at Twickenham park.

The bears entered a kitchen, frightened the women into a faint and attacked a man, whom they nearly killed before they were driven off. They attacked all would-be captors and are still at large despite the efforts of a platoon of police and fifty amateur hunters.

STRAIGHT TALK TO CORBETT.

Olympic Club Asks Him to Defend the Championship or Lose It.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The Evening World says: A telegram was sent yesterday to James J. Corbett, by President William A. Scholl, of the Olympic club of New Orleans. It defines the attitude of the club regarding Bob Fitzsimmons' right to challenge the champion. The full text of the telegram follows:

"To James J. Corbett: The excuse you are giving to not meet Fitzsimmons is not worth considering. It was in the Olympic club that both you and Fitzsimmons won your greatest honors, and it is now within the province and the duty of the Olympic club to award Fitzsimmons the heavyweight championship should you persist in refusing to accept his challenge, which is backed up with a side bet of $10,000.

"As far as the Olympic club is concerned it is immaterial to us with whom the side bet is posted. We don't want to hold it. We offer a $25,000 purse, the winner to take all. Fitzsimmons has complied with every requirement. If you will not defend the title, Fitzsimmons will and will meet the best man that can be found in the world in February, 1895. In the event you do not answer and accept the challenge of Robert Fitzsimmons by Thursday, Oct. 4, we will declare Fitzsimmons the champion heavyweight of the world.

WILLIAM A. SCHOLL,
President Olympic club."

Corbett is Obstinate.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 2.—James J. Corbett cannot be induced to waive his position in regard to the pugilistic championship. He said to an Associated Press reporter here today:

"I am disgusted with this whole business and tired of all the fuss, but I propose to hold to my decision not to meet Fitzsimmons until he has fought O'Donnell and demonstrated his ability to fight in my class."

When asked what he thought of the ultimatum issued by the Olympic club, he said: "That concern is trying to work me, but they can't do it. I have told them what I would do and I propose sticking to it. I will not be bulldozed, and, once for all, I say I will not meet Fitzsimmons and they nor no other concern nor indivinual can force me to alter my decision. O'Donnell is good enough for Fitzsimmons."

ROW IN A METHODIST CHURCH.

Centenary Church at Portland Refused to Receive the Appointed Pastor.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2.—Serious trouble has arisen in the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church, one of the largest and most prominent in the city, through the refusal of the official board to receive Rev. John N. Denison, D.D., just reappointed to the charge by Bishop I. W. Toye, at the annual conference at Eugene City.

The row presents phases of special significance, in that it brings to a head the question that has long disturbed the Methodist church in Oregon, as to whether Oregon talent or imported talent shall fill the pulpits of state churches.

Dr. Denison was born and educated in the Northwest. The church desires to secure as its pastor, Rev. A. C. Hirst, of San Francisco, or a Missouri preacher. Its action in refusing to accept the pastor appointed by the bishop is almost unprecedented in Methodist history. The official board asked Dr. Denison to retire from the pastorate, but he declined to do so. The feeling against him, it is claimed, is entirely personal.

MARTIN IRONS IN JAIL.

Charged With Trying to Criminally Assault a Child.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 2.—A cell in the county jail today contains a prisoner whose name is more familiar to the world than many of the names of the usual inmates of such places of confinement.

He is Martin Irons, whose name was made famous by the conspicuous part that its owner took in the great railroad strike of 1886, during which he occupied a place similar to that recently held by Eugene Debs, the labor agitator.

Opposite Irons' name, on the register, is the charge of having attempted to criminally assault little 7-year-old Rosalia Estrada. The child's mother is the complainant in the case.

VEST ON THE TARIFF.

The Mississippi Senator Opened the State Campaign in Missouri With an Address of Strength.

Said He Was Not There to Attack the President But to Attack the Enemy.

Claimed That the Democratic Party's Pledges Two Years Ago Have Been Carried Out Fully.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 2.—The state Democratic campaign was opened last night by a speech delivered by Senator Vest in the Auditorium which was crowded to the doors. The senator made one of the ablest and strongest speeches that he has ever delivered and was given an enthusiastic reception. He said: "If anyone is here with the expectation that I will attack the president of the United States or any other Democrat that expectation will not be realized. Whatever differences of opinion as to public policy may exist between the president and myself, they shall not interfere, so far as I am concerned with my duty in the hour of conflict and danger. My contest is now with the enemy not with Democrats. No word from me shall furnish an excuse for lukewarmness or hesitation by any Democrat or give any encouragement to our enemies.

"The Democratic party in 1892 pledged itself to certain reforms. First, the repeal of the federal elections law which authorized the use of United States marshals and soldiers at the polls; second, the repeal of the Sherman act; third, the reduction of tariff taxation to a revenue basis; fourth, the lessening of governmental expenses. Governor McKinley, in his recent speech at Bangor, Me., made the statement that not a single pledge of the Democratic party had been redeemed. When we reflect that his speech, carefully prepared and made as a bid for the presidency, contains no allusion to his views on the two great issues of silver coinage and the income tax, it is not surprising that he should add mendacity to cowardice.

"The Democratic party has, in fact, repealed both the federal election law and the Sherman act, while the oppressive provisions of the McKinley tariff have either been entirely eliminated or greatly modified and governmental expenses largely decreased. I shall not be so disingenuous as to evade the fact that the repeal of the Sherman act, which authorized the purchase of silver by the government, was accompanied by irritating diversity of opinion in both the Republican and Democratic parties. We believed then and believe now that no country can be prosperous with increasing population and decreasing money. We were told that the repeal of the Sherman act would bring immediate relief, but clouds have been darker and the business depression far greater since the repeal. The New York banks were still glutting with money when the continual fall in prices of all commodities caused fear of investment on account of further shrinkage.

"Free coinage in the United States will not flood the country with silver as is so often asserted. The European nations will not send the billions of silver, which they now use at a ratio of 15½ to 1 as standard money, to be coined here at the ratio of 16 to 1, which would involve an enormous loss in the ratio, besides the cost of transportation. I protest against the United States continuing a policy which increases the burdens of the debtor class in order to increase the incomes of the rich."

In referring to state and national banks, Mr. Vest said: "The legislation which taxed out of existence the circulation of state banks is a gross perversion of the taxing power and should be repealed."

Taking up the tariff the speaker repeated the history of the passage of the new tariff bill as told by him in the senate and declared there was never a moment when the Wilson bill could have passed the senate. He said: "If any differences of opinion on the subject exist between the president and myself it is that I am more extreme in my views, and have long since discarded the fallacy of tariff for even incidental protection. The statement that there is any issue between the president and myself as regards the tariff is false. The statement that I sympathized with Senator Gorman is equally false. If the president had contented himself with denouncing those who forced the amendments upon us, I would have said nothing, but when he attacked the whole senate indiscriminately for action to which he had given his approval as absolutely necessary, I could not remain silent.

"The new tariff law removes many of the oppressive provisions in the McKinley act and does not deserve the anathemas which ignorance and prejudice have poured upon it. If there were no reductions of duties in the new law, I should gladly support it because it provides for a tax upon all net incomes above $4000 a year."

Senator Vest referred to the comparative expenditures under Republican and Democratic administrations, asserting that the latter was by far the most economical. He closed his speech by assuring his hearers of a Democratic victory.

WHEAT WAS WEAK TODAY.

There Were Various Bearish Reports That Caused Weakness.

Weakness was the feature in wheat today. Cables were very disappointing, as they gave no response to the strength they developed yesterday, but on the contrary were weak and lower, some private dispatches quoting ½d decline. Domestic markets were also lower and the general situation had in it little that could be regarded as favorable. The primary receipts were light and outside of Minneapolis and Duluth, the deliveries were only 180 000 bus.

The movement from exporting countries last week was only about 6,000,000 bus in the aggregate, or 400,000 bus below the normal requirements of importing countries. But the apathy and indifference of European buyers gave proof that this was causing no uneasiness there and could not be construed as much of a bull factor here. Bradstreet's reported an increase of 3,000,000 bus in the visible.

So, despite the more or less favorable factors in the situation, the feeling was bearish. The market here opened ½c lower than yesterday at 55⅝c for December and 59⅝c for May, and ruled dull and fairly steady up to noon at about ⅛c below the opening. During the last hour it became very weak and slumped off to 59c for May and 55½c sellers for December. The close was weak at slightly above the low point, being ¾c lower than yesterday for spot stuff, ⅝c lower for December and ⅝c lower for May. Receipts were large, and cash wheat was in good demand by the shippers and mills, the latter taking over 100,000 bus to arrive at ½c premium over the price in store. Following were the closing prices:

No. 1 hard cash 57c, October, 57c. No. 1 northern cash, 55½c; October, 55½c; December, 53½c; May, 59½c. No. 2 northern cash, 52½c. No. 3, 50c. Rejected, 46½c. To arrive—No. 1 northern, old and new, 55½c Rye, 45c. Flax, cash, to arrive, $1.41. No. 2 oats, 32c. No. 3 oats, 3 ½c. Barley, 456 51c.

Gossip.

The course of today's market shows the uselessness of trying to bull wheat in the face of the existing bearish conditions. The crowd got oversold yesterday and bid the market up 1¾c, but as soon as this demand was satisfied the market was without support, December opened at 53¾c this morning, sold down to 52¾c, closing at the lowest point. Foreign markets refuse to respond to the firmer tone here. Duluth and Minneapolis had 1091 cars. Bradstreet said the world's visible increased 3,000,000 bus last week. Australian stocks are given as 5,500,000 bus against 2,500,000 last year. Clearances were light; 348,000 bus. There were fifteen loads taken for shipment at New York.

Corn and oats held up pretty well considering the weakness in wheat. There is no apparent reason why corn should be selling above 45c and we expect to see it touch that price soon. Provisions weak and lower.

MORAN WAS KNOCKED OUT.

"Black Frank" Defeats a New York Pugilist in Eight Rounds.

LYONS, N. Y., Oct. 2.—An 8-round prize fight with 5-ounce gloves, Marquis of Queensberry rules, for a purse of $200, was fought here between "Black Frank," a Canadian pugilist of local note, and Michael Murphy, alias "Mike" Moran, of New York.

Moran had the best of the fight up to the fifth round when Frank scored a terrific knock-down on his jugular. The succeeding two rounds were hot ones, with the honors in favor of the New Yorker. In the latter part of the seventh round "Black Frank's" ankle gave out, but he finished the round doubled in a heap.

M'KINLEY AT KANSAS CITY.

He Will Address the People at the Auditorium This Afternoon.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2.—Governor McKinley reached this city about 9 o'clock this morning from St. Louis. Mayor Barnes, of Kansas City, Kan., came from St. Louis with him, and a reception committee, composed of Charles Schattner, of the Republican state committee, Jarves Harkles, president of the Missouri League of Republican clubs; E. C. Edwards, managing editor of the Kansas City Journal, and ex-Congressman Warner met him a few miles out of the city.

The morning was spent in receiving callers at the hotel and in driving about the city. Speaking this afternoon will take place in the Auditorium in this city, after which a speech will be made on the Kansas side of the city. The governor remains here until tomorrow morning when he proceeds further west.

Thought to Be Baum.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2.—The police today arrested a man supposed to be Henry Baum, wanted in Chicago on a charge of murder. The local authorities received a telegram from Chicago a day or two ago giving a description of Baum and asking that he be arrested if he appeared here. The man taken into custody tallies with the description perfectly, is 25 years old and claims his name is Adler, but cannot give a satisfactory account of himself.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Harry Baum, who is under arrest in Cleveland, was a cab driver here. Katie Tossman, a cyprian, is alleged to have been pounded to death with a flat-iron by him, after he had robbed her of her diamonds.

LISTENED TO ALLISON.

The Iowa Senator's Presidential Boom Given a Push.

TIPTON, Iowa, Oct. 2.—At the county convention held here today a magnificent audience assembled to listen to United States Senator Allison. L. H. Brotherlin introduced the speaker, alluding to the long and highly honorable career of Mr. Allison and to the fact that Iowa would be proud to follow him as their presidential candidate two years hence.

The senator was in excellent voice and humor and responded happily. He paid Congressman Cousins, whose home is here, a glowing tribute, praising his ability and high character, and gave a masterly address.

Exhibits to be Returned.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The navy department has changed its plans relative to the transportation of the Columbian exhibits, and has decided to return them to Spain and Italy on the United States steamship Detroit. The government promised to return these exhibits on the first war vessel sailing for Europe.

THE MARINE SITUATION.

Lake Rates Not Likely to Advance Further.

The rate of 2¼ cents on grain to Buffalo seems to be firmly established. There is not any great amount of demand for tonnage, yet nearly all that offers itself is taken. Several charters were made yesterday and today at that rate.

Lake rates have probably got as far as they will right away, and no material advances are probable. The existing rates are fair and if they continue with good business vessel owners will finish a rather checkered season with as good a result as might have been expected.

Ore rates are unchanged, and while there has been some talk of 90-cent ore it is not received with much confidence by vessel agents, and an advance is not probable.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "The loss of eleven lives and three vessels has laid bare some weak spots in lake navigation. The William Home disaster has called attention in a marked way to the danger of having old-time schooners carry pig iron and other heavy freight."

The propellor Toledo and her consort Bessell, which left at 8 o'clock last night with lumber, were forced to return for shelter, the sea proving too heavy. They arrived in port at 7 o'clock this morning.

LETTER FROM LIEUT. PEARY.

Says He Has Ample Provisions for Next Year.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 2.—E. C. Reynolds, of Cape Elizabeth, who organized the relief expedition, has received a letter from Lieut. Peary, dated Anniversary Lodge, Greenland, Aug. 16.

In this letter Lieut. Peary writes that while he did not fully realize his plans the last year, he has still another year before him in which he is confident he will win. The main difficulty this year was the terribly antagonistic weather, rough and cold. He then goes on to say:

"Whatever you may see in the papers to the contrary, I have ample provisions for next year. My party, though small, is an effective one and we can remain here with the utmost safety. Every native in the tribe is a friend and willing assistant, and I shall take no risks. I am only working to carry out my plans and shall take no risk to accomplish them."

Howgate's Case.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Henry W. Howgate, arrested last week for the embezzlement of government funds, will be taken to Washington tomorrow for trial. His removal was delayed because of change of deputies in the United States marshal's office.

SADDLEROCK FARM.

Col. H. R. Yolten's Kitchen Garden Is a Bouncer.

The recent county fair was a convincing proof that the soil of St. Louis county was particularly well adapted to agricultural pursuits, and the record of the Saddlerock farm exhibits was sufficient to make Col. Yolton more than compensated for any trouble he was put to in securing them. The farm is located a little south of the fair grounds and is in a high state of cultivation. It is not exclusively a vegetable domain as the live stock branches are well looked after and will be greatly increased by next year. Col. Yolton has some fine registered Poland-China hogs which took a prize at the late fair; he has over 500 head of high grade poultry and will give some attention to turkeys, ducks and geese in the future. He has some fine dog kennels containing registered St. Bernards and Scotch terriers. His potatoes, and he raised nearly 1000 bushels this year, all of the early rose, early york and Burbank varieties. He has some mammoth squashes, pumpkins, beets, turnips, etc., of the varieties best suited for winter keepers, and an abundance of small garden truck. The colonel says that next year the Saddlerock farm will scoop in a premium on almost everything it exhibits and he will sell his popular restaurant in order that he may devote his whole attention to the development of his farm property which is very valuable.

The War in the Orient.

According to the latest news from the Orient, the Japanese troops are rapidly advancing through the Chinese province of Manchuria, while additional forces are being landed on the Chinese coast at various convenient points to effect a junction with the main body. The cry of the Japanese is: "On to Pekin." From defending Corea from the encroachments of the Chinese the Japanese have turned to a war of conquest of China. It is evidently their intention to follow up their first victories, which showed the Chinese to be illy prepared for war, by prompt action. They are now rapidly marching towards the Chinese capital, and the probability is that news will soon arrive of a great battle outside the walls of Pekin.

The Japanese have so far shown themselves vastly superior to the Chinese in the battles both on land and sea. The Japanese have shown a good knowledge of the art of war, and have been well officered and well equipped. The Chinese apparently have had miserable leadership and the equipment of the soldiers has been poor. The manner in which they handled their warships was very poor, in comparison with the Japanese. Of the early campaign in Corea, the Army and Navy Journal gives the following expert dissection of the various reports which have been received:

"The first serious movement of the Japanese was against the capital, Seoul, which they seized, together with the king, and have made both military and political use of their advantage. The Chinese occupied a city which the dispatches call Ping Yang and the maps Ping-an and Pjong-jang, an old capital of Corea, about 100 miles north of Seoul, and a point where several roads meet. The various operations of which we have been receiving confused accounts for two weeks were preparations for a battle in this chosen position, the Japanese taking the initiative. They moved from three points, landing troops at Gensan, on the northeast coast of Corea, and in Ta-tong river, on the northwest coast. These two bodies formed the right and left wings of the Japanese army. In their advance on Ping-an the Ta-tong force was obliged to reduce a place called Wang-chiu, which the Chinese had occupied, but the Gensan body seems to have advanced without opposition.

"The Japanese center was composed of a force that moved up from Seoul, though a part of it may have been landed at some point above Kai-seng, a port on the west coast between Seoul and Ping-an. At all events, it is certain that the Japanese took the bold step of advancing from three distant points, intending to unite their forces in front of the Chinese position. It cannot be said that the country was open to them. On the contrary, there have been many indications that it was hostile, and their bold division of forces, that do not seem to have excessively outnumbered their enemies, implies a remarkable confidence in themselves and depreciation of their enemy. The Chinese are supposed to have numbered about 20,000 to 24,000 men, and the Japanese 30,000 to 34,000. The Chinese position was well chosen, and they utilized the old defences at Ping Yang and threw up new works."

Thereafter the plan of campaign developed itself and the Japanese safely took the risk of operating on three lines against an enemy holding a position from which he might attack each division, or two out of three, in detail. The subsequent victories of the Japanese were gained by equally clever leadership. A report comes today that the Chinese emperor is to be deposed and succeeded by one of his uncles who has been recalled after living in disgrace and practical imprisonment for years. The Japanese are said to favor the division of China into three nations and this may be the result.

The Effect of Publicity.

Pugilism is a brutal and degrading sport, in the opinion of most people, and the laws of the country are directed against prize fights of every kind. There an element, however, that admires and encourages the sport, and with the aid of this element the laws are frequently evaded and fights of the most brutal character occur. There were several fights before the Olympic club at New Orleans last week, and as a result columns are being filled in the newspapers today with challenges from the victors.

There are some people who say that the newspapers should not publish such stuff and that it is demoralizing to their readers. While The Herald is opposed to prize-fighting and would like to see the pugilists and their satellites effectually suppressed, it does not believe that any good in that direction would be accomplished by the newspapers shutting such news out of their columns. It is by giving publicity to the challenges and counter-challenges of the pugilists and all the gossip incident thereto that public attention is drawn directly to the matter and a strong moral sentiment is created for the suppression of prize fighting.

Were the newspapers to keep silent and refuse to publish any pugilistic news, the public generally, outside of the sporting element, would know nothing about the evasions and open disregard of the law, and prize-fighting would be a common occurrence in many states from which it is now barred. Publicity is the greatest foe of evil. It is the enemy that lawlessness most fears, and the newspapers that fill columns with interviews with pugilists and gossip about them and their fights are steadily creating a sentiment against prize-fighting that will finally result in the complete banishment of the brutal sport from America.

The Chicago Tribune says the following good word in favor of ex-Speaker Reed's boom for the presidency: "Mr. Reed has behind him a group of states instead of a single state—New England rather than Maine. It has not been customary for the six Eastern states to have a New England candidate in whose support they were united. They were not solid for Blaine. * * * If New England should agree on a man he would not be without friends in other parts of the country. The sons of New England are to be found in every state west of the Hudson river, clear through to the Pacific. They have not forgotten the section whence they came. A New England candidate would appeal to their emotion, whether they were settled in Northern Illinois, in Iowa, in Nebraska or in California. The influence of New England is very great when it is united."

The Detroit News says very correctly that "one thing is certain, whatever the issue of the battle between Morton and Hill in New York. That certain thing is that, whatever political defenses the Democracy may have to make for its candidate, it will have no apologies to offer for the personal character of the nominee. He is personally clean. He can't be successfully attacked on the grounds of his public or private morals. He is no drunkard and no brawler. The Democracy of the Empire state has not always been so happy in its choice from this point of view." To what former candidate does the Detroit paper refer? Surely not the great and good Grover?

It is said of Anthony Hope Hawkins, the author of "The Prisoner of Zenda" and a "Change of Air" that he regards literature only as a diversion. This statement, says the Boston Transcript, is suggestive of the anecdote of Voltaire snubbing Congreve. Congreve affected indifference to his literary character and wished to be regarded simply as a gentleman, whereupon Voltaire remarked tartly that had Congreve been only a gentleman he would not have taken the trouble of visiting England to meet him.

In 1886, Martin Irons was one of the most noted men in the country. He was the leader and director of the great railroad strike, which resulted in such disaster to those who took part in it. He was a man of no particular ability, and when the strike was under way he knew not what to do. As he anticipated, the crash finally came and he was knocked out. Today, Martin Irons is in jail in a Texas town, charged with assaulting a little girl.

IF YOU HAVE CORNS

They need attention. If you are inclined to slight corns, they're sure to draw your attention. They're a regular mortgage on foot, and always insist on going with you. The quickest way to raise the mortgage is to have recourse to Boyce's Corn Cure. It's good-bye to corns when you do that, and it's a good-bye that's said quickly. The corn crop is sure to be a failure when our Corn Cure is made use of. Besides this invaluable remedy we also have everything in toilet articles. Boyce's Drug Store.

The Northwestern Merchant is the name of a trade paper, the first number of which was issued in Duluth on Saturday. It will be a bi-weekly journal devoted to the mercantile interests of the Northwest, and judging from the first number will be a successful publication. Norman Ellsworth, the publisher, has had large experience in trade journalism and knows what his constituency requires. Duluth has needed such a journal and will no doubt give it good support.

The New York Evening Post, the chief organ of the Mugwumps, opposes Mr. Hill's candidacy. A few days before Hill's nomination it referred to Mr. Morton as the nominee of Boss Platt and a candidate whose only recommendation was his barrel. Who will the Post support? Probably Mr. Hill does not care very much, because its opposition to him has never made much difference before.

Witt K. Cochran, of the local staff of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, has been nominated for the legislature by the Democrats in the Fourth ward of St. Paul. As the Fourth is usually a Democratic ward, Mr. Cochran's election is certain, as he is a popular young man and well equipped for the position to which he aspires.

Mr. Havemeyer and other sugar trust officials have been indicted at Washington for refusing to answer the questions of the senate investigating committee. Indictment and conviction, however, are two different things. They can afford to employ the ablest counsel and will probably escape punishment on some legal technicality.

Kansas was visited by a severe electrical storm last night, and considerable loss of life and property is reported. A dispatch says that the cyclone passed within ten feet of Governor Lewelling's home, but did not injure it. The cyclone evidently did not want to become entangled in the wheels.

After the Sackville West affair, which cost the Democrats many votes, Chairman Wilson should have known better than to make pleasing speeches to Englishmen a month previous to election. This is aside from the question whether his remarks were correct or not. It was bad politics.

There will be general regret at the report that Bourke Cockran, the great New York orator, is losing his voice. He has a bronchial trouble of a serious nature, but it is hoped that it will yield to treatment. Mr. Cockran will be unable to make any speeches in this year's campaign.

The Chicago Record reports that city's gambling houses are closed, but adds that policemen on beats, where the gambling houses stand, are rapidly learning to find their way by means of other landmarks.

Col. Cockerill, who has been editor of the New York Advertiser for the past three years, has severed his connection with that paper. Before resuming newspaper work he will take a much needed rest.

Judge Jenkins was turned down hard by the court of appeals. It is now decided that strikes are legal and employes have a right to quit work singly or in a body without restraint.

In another column will be found a communication from a Herald reader on the advance of woman. Its sarcasm is bright and sparkling.

The Chautauqua Salute.

Boston Watchman: It is not a pleasant topic but attendance at a good many conventions has convinced us that the Chautauqua salute is a most unclean and unwholesome custom. If everybody who waved a handkerchief waved a clean one it would do very well; but, as a matter of fact, every one does not and will not. In the interests of decency and sanitation the Chautauqua salute in promiscuous assemblies should be suppressed.

Household Economy.

Exchange: "Have you taken up your carpets this spring?" asked one neighbor of another.

"No. I don't take them up. I've reckoned it this way. Carpets will last ten years, anyhow, if you let 'em alone; but if I cleaned and beat them my back wouldn't last more than two years. I've decided to let the wear and tear come on the carpets."

An Unsettled Relationship.

Kate Field's Washington: Marie—Is that Chollie's sister?

Louise—No. He hasn't proposed yet

Don't Be Too Sure.

You know it isn't going to rain,
There's blue and sunshine in the sky,
And so you leave at home again
The only thing to keep you dry.
No need of an umbrella when
It doesn't rain—oh, logic poor;
There comes a sudden shower—then
Don't be too sure.

You've staked your earnings on a race,
That Roan Bess can beat the gray;
You hurry to the booking place
And bet, and raise your bets all day.
You'll go to Europe if you win,
Of racing this shall be the cure.
Alack, it is—the gray comes in—
Don't be too sure.

Don't be too sure it's safe to cross
Upon a locomotive's time;
Don't count your gains without a loss,
Although such faith may be sublime:
Don't those erratic theories tell—
Their fatal smartness may allure;
Don't preach there isn't any—well,
Don't be too sure.

The Strongest Possible Evidence.

New York Press: "Yes, they used to be enemies, bitter enemies, disparaging each other's bonnets and dresses, and, worst of all, speaking slightingly of each other's house furniture, but now they are genuine friends."

"An armed truce, perhaps."

"No, genuine friends. They have, in fact, given each other the strongest proof of their friendship that it is possible for a woman to give."

"Indeed, what is that?"

"Each has recommended her doctor to the other."

Just Think of It.

Think o' fall time drawin' nigh;
Sweet 'taters—punkin' pie!

Big, fat 'possums roostin' high!

Apple cider on the sly!
Smack your lips an' wink your eye—

Association of Ideas.

Youth's Companion: To remember one thing, connect it with another. That is a very good rule in mnemonics but it needs to be used with caution. An exchange reports a school room dialogue.

Pupil—Pluto.

Teacher—Wrong. Try again.

Pupil—Nero.

Teacher—Nero! How do you—

Pupil—Then it must have been Hector. I knew it was one of our dogs.

And whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by John A. Caro and Annie H. Caro, his wife, mortgagors, of St. Louis County, Minnesota, to the Union Building and Loan Association, of St. Louis County, Minnesota, mortgagee, bearing date the 14th day of October, 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 15th day of October, A. D. 1889, at 4 o'clock p. m., in Book M of mortgages on page 165;

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the dues on stock and the interest and premium on the indebtedness secured by said mortgage for more than the space of four (4) months after the same has become due;

And whereas the mortgage contains a provision that in case of default in the payment of the monthly interest or premium or dues on stock or any part thereof, for the space of four (4) months after the same shall become due, then the whole principal debt shall become due and the mortgagee shall have the authority and power to sell the mortgaged premises at public auction agreeably to the statutes in such case made and provided;

And whereas said mortgagee has elected to declare the whole debt due because of said default in the payment of said interest and premium and dues on stock;

And whereas there is claimed to be due and is due at the date of the first publication of this notice on the debt secured by said mortgage the sum of four hundred and eighty-five and 5-100 dollars, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statutes in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz.: Lots seven and eight (7 and 8), of block two (2), Hunter's Grassy Point Addition to Duluth according to the recorded plat thereof, said lands being located in St. Louis County, Minnesota, will, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, which sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, Minnesota, at the front door of the court house in the city of Duluth, county and state aforesaid, on the 7th day of November, A. WHERE WILL IT SIT?

United States District and Circuit Court to Open in Duluth Next Tuesday Morning.

Government Building Not Ready and the Marshal Hasn't Made Arrangements for Other Quarters.

Deputy Clerk Pressnell Completes the Very Short Calendar of the Various Civil Causes.

The United States court is due to open and will open a week from today, Tuesday, Oct. 9, in Duluth, but where it will hold its sessions is still a matter of conjecture. The government building is not anything near ready and is not yet out of the hands of the contractors, and Collector Olund, the only official who has moved up there is playing an animated game of "freeze out." The building is not heated yet and Mr. Olund warms his knees and dries out his whiskers with the heat of grate fire for which he furnishes the coal personally, so that under the circumstances the holding the United States circuit and district court terms there next week is very unlikely. Marshal Bede hasn't shown up yet in any attempt to get rooms, but it is supposed that the apartments in the Torrey building will be secured in time.

Deputy Clerk Pressnell has completed the civil calendar and it is not a very long one. The following is the set of the circuit court law causes:

For trial Wednesday, Oct. 10. No. 86—Abel Klawu against the Chandler Iron company. No. 131—William A. Beattie against James M. Paine, et al. No. 15—Frederick Prentice against Western Land association. No. 187—Charles E. Johnson against T. F. Oakes, Henry C. Payne and Henry C. Rouse as receivers of the Northern Pacific railroad.

For trial Thursday, Oct. 11. No. 181—Gust A. Larson against F. G. Winston, et al. No. 183—James Mulchey against Paul Sharvy, et al. No. 175—Walter E. Mack, et al, against Henry M. Bradley, et al. No. 177—Theodore Krumseig, et al, against Missouri, Kansas and Texas Trust company.

For trial Friday, Oct. 12. No. 187—Emma Norris against Missouri, Kansas and Texas Trust company. No. 170—John L. Root, et al, against same. No. 189—Lone Jack Iron company against Lake Superior Consolidated Iron mines. No. 186—Charles Mitchell against T. F. Oakes, Henry C. Payne and Henry C. Rouse as receivers of the Northern Pacific railroad.

Chancery causes—No. 141—Thomas B. Walker against B. B. Richards et al. No. 142—Same against same. No. 143—Thomas B. Walker et al, against B. B. Richards et al. No. 169—Jean B. Fontanel against Charles W. Shepherd. No. 139—John M. Williams against John McKinley et al. No. 171—Alfred and Leonidas Merritt against American Steel Barge company. No. 170—The Ainslie Land and Mining company against Fred Barrett et al. No. 162—Louis Herbert against Cyrus E. Brown et al.

In U. S. District Court.

Admiralty causes—No. 29—Crawford Steam Engine works against the Otego. No. 35—Andrew Johnson, as special administrator of the estate of Magnus Larson against Steamboat James Fiske, Jr. No. 37—Byron B. Inman against Steam Tug Lindrup. No. 38—C. C. Beardsley against same. No. 39—St. Paul and Western Coal company against same. No. 42—Ohio Coal company against same.

The criminal calendar contains quite a number of causes and will probably reach here in a day or two.

The Advance of Woman.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Yes, woman is advancing, and any old fogy who doesn't think so, proves that he didn't go to our county fair and doesn't read The Herald. Had he gone to the fair and looked upon the display of competing cakes and gingerbread, he would have seen before him proof that woman is giving herself to nobler things than bread making, else how can it be explained that three men carried off the prizes for bread? O, sisters, it was a beautiful thing to see that you had risen to nobler pursuits, and that your souls were soaring aloft, even as it were among the very rafters!

Keep soaring and next year let no ignoble woman send a biscuit even and then the world shall see that you are free indeed! Only a few short months ago and brave was the girl who dared to put on her brother's hat, but how is it now, as she walks triumphant down the street clad in hat, vest, collar and necktie, and, if mine eyes deceive me not in a man's shirt? Aye, it's a brave deed and bravely done, and trembling man is even now fearfully watching round the corner to see the woman of the future clad in her own little trousers. Away then with the "divided skirt," that cowardly compromise of faltering souls!

Read your Herald of tonight and see there what noble woman is doing for her downtrodden sex. Read how brave Miss Mosentheim has jumped into the arena and thrown her gauntlet down, and pretty much all of her clothes with it. Is man to win all the sculling matches—never while she can pull an oar. For the race, tights will replace her skirts and a decollette jersey her blouse, and in this simple garb will she row. But higher, better far than any prize in rowing, is this living proof that woman can rise above all paltry thoughts of dress.

Oh, sisters, the dawn of freedom is breaking—man is on the run—and I should think he would be. VIDI.

Duluth, Oct. 1.

The Strike Failed.

The Superior coal strike failed yesterday for want of enthusiasm on the part of the men who were expected to strike. The men say they have no intention of striking, and the order to strike was not made with their authority.

NOT VERY MUCH DONE.

A Rather Uninteresting Meeting of the Council Last Night.

The spectators who sat outside the railing at last evening's council meeting hardly got their money' worth unless it was in the absence of all war-like demonstrations between Aldermen Cox and Harwood. Those two grand old warriors did not dig up the bloody oratorical hatchet during the whole session.

The equinoctial ssason is now on deck and that always when the summer hour of meeting is changed from 8 to 7:30 o'clock. Last evening, the city fathers were all on hand except Alderm n Nelson, who did not show up at all and the procession of business started promptly at 7:30.

Mayor Lewis notified the city fathers that he had chopped off the heads of Policemen Frank Horgan, Charles Stevens, Christ Johnson, Maurice Fitzgerald and Paul Blaskey for the reason that his honor wished to reduce the force. The force has further been reduced by the the resignations of Martin Smith and Matt Johnson. W. R. McDougall has been appointed special policeman without pay in the Northern Pacific railway yards on Rice's Point.

Building Inspector Robinson made the following report for the month of September: Number of permits issued, 19; valuation of buildings, $29,615; fees collected, 75; water meters tested, 15; gas meters tested, 33; fees collected, 34. Monthly reports were received from the poundmasters and city department payrolls passed as follows:

City officers	$1,886 67
Health department	1,222 50
Board of public works	366 78
Engineering and inspection	1,385 75
Maintenance of streets, etc	3,019 20
Assessors	275 00
Police department	4,918 16
Poundmasters	200 00
Fire department	6,564 23

General bills for the past month were allowed and a petition from Charles Peterson et al, requesting the construction of a winter bridge across the ship canal, was referred to the board of public works.

The fast driving ordinance was passed and the paving of Fifth avenue east from Second to Fourth streets was ordered.

A resolution was passed rescinding the $800,000 water bond ordinance of March 12, 1894, and ordering the city clerk to return the certified check of the Duluth Trust company. The clerk was also ordered to notify the banks that on Monday next the council will receive bids from such of the money institutions as wish to become city depositories.

John Cogan, secretary of the People's party committee, informed the council that N. F. Johnson had not been appointed an election judge in the Fourth precinct of the Fourth ward and demanding that the selection of Mr. Johnson be recognized. Referred.

Government chemist, writes: I have carefully analyzed your "Royal Ruby Port Wine," bought by me in the open market and certify that I found the same absolutely pure and well aged. This wine is especially recommended for its health-restoring and building up properties; it strengthens the weak and restores lost vitality; particularly adapted for convalescents, the aged, nursing mothers and those reduced and weakened by over-work and worry. Be sure you get "Royal Ruby;" $1 per quart bottle. Sold by S. F. Boyce, druggist. 3

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat can be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50-cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by all druggists.

Miss White's Death.

A Chicago dispatch says that the verdict of the coroner's inquest on the body of Miss Belle White, a former resident of Duluth, who died in Dr. Sophia Santa's facial massage institute, was that the deceased came to her death from functional heart disease, not the electric sponge or the cocaine used in the wrinkle cure.

BROKER KNOX'S 8-POUND TROUT.

The Fish Cost Him $500, But He Thinks the Fun He Had Was Worth It.

On a big piece of birch bark, where it had been neatly sewed by an Indian guide, reposed yesterday in the call room of the Produce Exchange the skin of a monster brook trout. There was a dull grain market, as the brokers were waiting for the figures of the government crop report, to be issued late this afternoon, says the New York Evening Sun.

A group of constantly changing, but irreverent grain brokers, surrounded the piscatorial exhibit all the morning, and some of the livelier spirits on the board desired to get up an old time Indian war dance in its honor, and in honor of the man who caught it, their fellow broker, Herbert H. Knox.

A card attached to the birch bark read:

"This is a genuine brook trout lured from his native haunts, the waters of the Nipigon river, Canada, by H. H. Knox, with a 5½-ounce rod. The bait was a live minnow. Estimated pull of two whales. Actual weight eight pounds."

Mr. Knox, who is the representative in the wheat pit of Milmine, Bodman & Co., is a modest man, but a little persuasion resulted in his telling how he got the big fish while on his vacation West, which ended with his return to this city on Saturday.

His sun-browned face lit up with honest enthusiasm as he described the glories of free untrammelled life in the Northwestern wilderness.

"I am sorry in one way that you have asked me to talk," he said, "for I don't like to advertise Lake Nipigon and its river, where our party caught scores of great trout and enjoyed the magnificent scenery.

"The crowd will be rushing there, I am afraid, and all the charm, not to mention the trout will be destroyed.

"The Nipigon river is about forty miles long, and is the outlet into Lake Superior of Lake Nipigon. I went to it with three Duluth men—Col. C. H. Graves, A. W. Hartman and C. R. Haines. We went to the mouth of the river on the steam yacht Nautilus, of Duluth.

"The yacht could not go up the river, for there are heavy rapids that it couldn't pass. At the mouth of the river there is a Hudson Bay trading station, where the yacht caused no little sensation.

"It was the biggest and finest vessel seen there in several years. This station, with another one on the lake, are the only settlements, they cannot be called even villages, that exist in that region.

"We secured three birch bark canoes, and, with six Indian guides and a cook, we went up the river and to the lake. The latter is 50 by 80 miles in size, and, like the river, its scenery is of a grand character. We, altogether, were eight days in the region and were twelve days away from Duluth.

"We did not try to hunt, for there is a law, which will be in operation until Oct. 25, 1895, prohibiting the shooting of moose and caribou. There are no deer in the woods, though there are plenty of black bears—harmless, however.

"The Nipigon River is deep and very swift. Our party all caught trout weighing 4½ to 7 pounds. The 8-pounder was the biggest of all, and was caught on Aug. 22.

"It was a stiff fight and fifteen minutes' work to get him to my Indian's landing net. I feared he might get into one of the numerous swift currents, where it would have been difficult to prevent his getting away. Five minutes after he was landed I hooked another big fellow, which succeeded in escaping.

"We had a glorious time and got back to Duluth healthier and happier men in every way. By the way, while in Duluth I heard that seven bears had been killed within the city limits, where they strayed after being routed out of their haunts by the great forest fires."

"How much did the big fish cost you?" asked one of the brokers who had surrounded Mr. Knox while he was telling his story. The latter evidently misunderstood the question, thinking he had been asked how much the trip had cost him, for a smile went round when he said: "Oh, about $500."

AMUSEMENTS.

Potter and Bellew.

It is a pleasure to note the appearance of two such talented people as Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Bellew, who are announced to appear at the Temple Opera house tomorrow evening. Mrs. Potter has been receiving unstinted praise from the critics wherever she has appeared during her present American tour, and it is needless to add that Mr. Bellew, who has long since been recognized as one of the leading actors of his age, is entirely satisfactory in any part he may be seen in. The supporting company is the same that accompanied them on their last American tour, about two seasons ago, and is said to be highly satisfactory in every respect. The plays in their repertoire are all excellent and popular.

The engagement here should call out all of the best people, and their opening will no doubt be large in quantity and select in quality.

Extending the Railroads.

Railroad building is expected this winter by both the Duluth & Iron Range and Duluth, Missabe & Northern roads. Two branches, one 10 miles in length and the other 20 miles long, are to be built by the former, as well as a line 60 miles to the Western Mesaba, while the latter will connect with some mines 6 miles from its nearest point. The Duluth, Mississippi River & Northern is also getting the iron and grading for nearly 30 miles of new road, part of which is for the ore traffic.

Millions for Defence

Against the inroads of that subtle, lurking foe to human health, malaria, had been expended uselessly when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters appeared upon the scene and demonstrated its power as a preventive and curative of the dreaded scourge. When the "gold fever" raged in 1849 in California, malaria was contemporaneous with it at the "diggings," and wrought dreadful havoc among the miners. Then and subsequently on the Isthmus of Panama, and wherever in the tropics malarial disease is most virulent, the Bitters became the recognized safeguard. For the effects of exposure and fatigue, miasma-poisoned air and water, sea sickness and all disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, the Bitters affords prompt relief. Invalids of all sorts will find it fully adequate to their needs.

A PLUCKY WOMAN

And What She Was Able to Accomplish.

She and Her Daughter Have a Remarkable Experience.

She Was a Hard Working Person and This Will Interest All Workers.

All kinds of diseases and weaknesses leave their marks on the system. It is very easy for the stomach, liver, bowels, and kidneys to become deranged, and when they do, the person soon feels tired, languid, weak, low-spirited and gloomy.

The nerves become weak, and insanity or paralysis may follow. The blood gets bad, there is coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, constipation, the complexion grows sallow and life looks dark. All persons complaining of any of these troubles will read with wonder the following letter from Mrs. James Roake, a well-known lady living at 145 Washington street, Peekskill, N. Y.:

"About fifteen years ago I was taken very sick. After seven months I got over that, but have never been well since. I have suffered terribly with pains in the chest, back, kidneys and head. There was a disagreeable feeling in the eyes and I would be very sick in the morning.

"My mind was always gloomy and I felt very low-spirited. I had terrible numb spells and would have to be rubbed some time before I could get around. Some of these numb spells were so severe, my friends thought I would not recover from them.

"I tried doctors and medicines, but got no better. Finally I began the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, as my husband had been most miraculously cured by it. After using it a short time there was a most wonderful improvement.

MRS. JAMES ROAKE.

"I continued to steadily gain in every respect until I was cured of all these terrible ailings. This wonderful medicine had now cured my husband and myself of the most fearful suffering, but this was not all. I now want to tell about my little girl.

"She has never been well since she was born. No doctors have known just what ailed her. She was out of her mind most of the time and had constant pain in her side. She has had spasms continually, from six to seven a month.

"She is the smallest child for her age that can be found. All medicines could do nothing for her until I gave her Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and then she was cured in a short time. I cannot say enough in praise of this wonderful medicine, it has done so much for me and my family. I heartily advise everybody to take it."

If you have any of these complaints or for any reason don't feel just as well as you want to, take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and you will be made well and strong. It positively cures all such complaints.

All physicians recommend it, as it is the discovery and prescription of the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York city. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

BOUGHT ANOTHER MINE.

Minnesota Iron Company Secures a Valuable Mesaba Property.

The Minnesota Iron company, whose purchase of the McInnis mine on the Mesaba range was announced only a week ago, has now bought another, making six developed mines it controls on that ore body. The latest is a property in section 34-58-17, belonging to Detroit lumbermen, in the immediate neighborhood of the McInnis and of the Rouchleau and Auburn and is said to be one of the best partially developed mines on the range.

P. L. Kimberly and others bought it for $120,000 a year ago and paid $20,000 down, but lost the mine. Some $10,000 has been spent in explorations, and the ore shown to be of excellent quality, being a high grade Bessemer. The Minnesota company has paid or bargained to pay in the last ten months the sum of $855,000 for mines it has bought, and it is said to be in the market for more.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason, of Chilton, Carter county, Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa remedy. For sale by all druggists.

VERY MODEST DEMAND

Alleges He Was Damaged by a Libellous Statement in a Dispatch Two Years Ago.

Signatures of Robert Crowley and James Murphy to a Deed Alleged to Be Forgeries.

The Duluth Evening Herald is the defendant in a suit for $50,000 damages for libel, brought by Tyndale Palmer, a former Philadelphia newspaper man. The complaint is in a printed form. After reciting in the Pennsylvania style of complaint that "whereas, said Tyndale Palmer is a good true inhabitant of the city of Philadelphias commonwealth of Pennsylvania, etc.," it charges The Herald with a libellous writing published Oct. 1, 1892.

The article on which the alleged libel is based is under a Philadelphia date, and states that it had just come to light that Palmer, in company with a Rio Janeiro hotelkeeper, had stolen $440,000 from the Auer Incandescent Light company. He is said to have sold patents for the company in Rio Janeiro for $510,000 and made returns for only $80,000.

He denies that the sale was for $510,000, and alleges that he sold the patents to one Joao Francisco de Freitas for $80,000. He claims to have received no more than that, and denies all the charges of the news item. He asks for $50,000 damages.

The article in question came in in the usual manner among the press reports of the United Press and was printed as such. The United Press at that time had a considerable number of papers which received its report, and as is evident from the printed form, each or most of them are defendants in similar suits. Benton S. Rude is Palmer's attorney.

SAYS THEY ARE FORGERIES.

Two Signatures to a Deed Claimed to Have Been Forged.

Some time ago Robert and Annie Crowley, two residents of Nova Scotia, filed a suit against the C. N. Nelson Lumber company et al to set aside a deed to valuable iron property in 58-17 filed upon by Crowley in 1882. They alleged that in December, 1893, one Andrew Gowan, of Cloquet, a former resident of Nova Scotia and an old friend of the Crowleys, came to their home with the ostensible purpose of settling up his father's estate.

While visiting them, according to the complainant, he mentioned Crowley's land in St. Louis county, and said that it was valueless, the timber having been burned off. He informed Mr. Crowley that he had before that time signed a deed for the property, but his wife's signature was wanted. He then produced a paper and got the woman's signature. It is alleged that the old couple are illiterate and had no knowledge of the contents of the paper, but that they found out afterwards that it was a quit claim deed to the C. N. Nelson Lumber company. They then began suit to set aside the deed.

In its answer the lumber company alleged that the land had been deeded by Crowley to one Dan McIntosh, through whom it derived its title. In affidavits filed this morning in support of a motion for an order compelling the defendants to file the deed with the district clerk and give the plaintiffs photographic copies of it, it is alleged that the deed is fraudulent and that the signature of Robert Crowley and James Murphy, a witness, are fraudulent. Crowley and Murphy each filed affidavits to the effect that they never signed the deed and that if their signatures are attached to it they are forgeries.

The deed went through several hands after the C. N. Nelson company obtained it. It first went to A. E. Humphreys, then through the Wyoming Iron company and the Chicago and Minnesota Iron company to the Auburn Mine mpany, which now possesses the land. e plaintiffs have given notice of a tion to an order making the Auburn n company a party defendant.

BEFORE THE DISTRICT JUDGES.

Judge Ensign Takes the Driving Park Case Under Advisement.

Yesterday afternoon Judge Ensign took the Driving Park association case under advisement. As he was not feeling well, court was adjourned until this afternoon, when the divorce case of Wilhelmina Fritze, the honey woman, against William F. Fritze was taken up. This case created considerable amusement when it first came up. It will be remembered that Judge Lewis settled their troubles temporarily by using the natural division of their property by the Hermantown road as a barrier and placing one on each side of it.

Judge Lewis at noon was still hearing the case of Marcus F. Bates against the Standard Ore company. The case of R. N. Marble et al. against Margaret Lonstorf et al. still occupied Judge Moer's division, and it promises to continue for the remainder of the day at least.

HAS NOT ACCEPTED YET.

Senator Hill Still Has the Nomination Under Consideration.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Senator David B. Hill held a conference with several of the Democratic leaders at the Hotel Normandie today. Those present were George B. McClelland, E. L. Ridgeway, Gen. Wylie and Clerk DeFreest.

At the close of the conference the senator and Mr. DeFreest left the hotel together. To the reporters who clustered around Mr. Hill said: "I must decline to say anything of a political nature."

As he left the hotel, however, Mr. De Freest remarked: "Senator Hill has not yet accepted the nomination."

ANOTHER FAST AMATEUR.

Something About W. F. Sims, Who Made a World's Record at Hampden Park.

The young man who made the fastest mile in class A at the meet of the Springfield Bicycle club, W. F. Sims, appears to have the mettle of a champion in him. With comparatively limited experience he has startled old timers by leaping into the very front rank of amateurs in less than a single season. He is about 20 years old and has been racing regularly since the last intercollegiate meeting at Berkeley Oval. It was there that he first showed that he might develop into a rider of the first class. He next appeared at Hampden park and did a mile in 2:10 3-5, which still stands as the amateur record. This time has been beaten in a scratch race once only, and that at Springfield by Edward Bald of class B, who went the distance in 2:05 4-5. The latter is also a world's record.

W. F. SIMS.

While on the circuit Sims was a more frequent winner than loser, and in the class A race of the Diamond tournament he was placed on scratch. He won, as he has in most of the handicaps he has entered. Sims was born and lives in Washington, but races at present under the colors of the Pennsylvania Bicycle club of Philadelphia. He is compactly built, very strong and when in racing trim weighs 150 pounds.

There is some talk of this leaving the pure amateurs for class B, but while he does not deny the gossip his friends say that he does not intend to leave the amateur ranks.

"Peter" is the title of a new comic opera by the Messrs. Harris of Washington, which is shortly to be produced at the national capital.

America's Youngest Plunger.

Probably the smallest plunger on the tracks both physically and in age is little George Shannon. He is only 15 years of age, yet does not look it. He handles Millionaire Pulsifer's money in the ring, and he handles it well. Sometimes he gets hold of $200 or $300 of his own, which he bets with the sang froid of a veteran. When he first went into the ring, he absolutely flabbergasted the talent with his combination of extreme youth and nerve. Finally, however, they became used to him, and now George can walk around the ring with a $2,000 commission without exciting undue suspicion.

MR. AND MRS. BOWSER

Bowser Chides His Better Half for Being Hard Hearted to the Unfortunates in Distress.

But When He Gets Tapped on the Chin by One He Changes His Tune.

Of Course Mrs. Bowser Was to Blame and He Would See About a Divorce Immediately.

[Copyright, 1894, by Charles B. Lewis.]

"Aren't you feeling well, Mr. Bowser?" queried Mrs. Bowser the other evening as he came home from the office looking very sober and a trifle pale around the mouth.

He waited until he had hung up his hat and overcoat and removed his rubbers and wiped his nose and then replied:

"They were dragging for his body in the river as I came along."

"Whose body?"

"A poor and discouraged man's. He was out of work and hungry and cold. He felt that he could not live longer. As he stood on the wharf ready to take the plunge he cried out that he had even been refused a crust of bread, and he asked heaven to forgive the heartless woman."

"That was sad."

"And who was that heartless woman?" demanded Mr. Bowser as he looked down upon her with stern set face.

"Why, how do I know?"

"I believe it was you. That's just your way. If a man comes to the door and says he's hungry and discouraged and out of work, you bang the door on his toes and add to the bitterness of his woes. The moment I heard the words wailed out by that poor man I felt sure that it was you who refused him bread. Mrs. Bowser, you may be a murderess!"

"Do you suppose I'm going to feed and sympathize with every beggar who comes along?" she spiritedly replied.

"You drove that man to his death."

"I didn't do anything of the sort. It isn't likely that he came within a mile of our house. If I fed everybody who came along, we'd have to turn the house into a hotel and get extra help."

"Mrs. Bowser, when a poor and distressed man comes along you can at least pass him out a crust and say that you are sorry for him. I wouldn't have your heart of stone for all the money"——

"There's one ringing now," she interrupted. "Go to the basement door and greet him, Mr. Bowser."

"I certainly will. The poor man shall not only receive kind words, but something substantial."

When Mr. Bowser opened the basement door, he found a woebegone and hungry

"YOU MAY BE A MURDERESS."

looking man, with his thumb on the electric button. He was a fair specimen of the average caller.

"My dear man, you are out of work, hungry and discouraged?" softly observed Mr. Bowser.

"Right, you are, Jimmie!" replied the man, who was evidently laboring under a mistake. "Has the old bird got home yet?"

"Old bird?"

"Yes, the old cock-a-doodle-doo, you know. They say he's as soft as putty and can be worked for half a dollar, while his hen is sharper than a knife."

"His hen?"

"Yes, his wife, you know. Don't speak too loud or she may hear you. What time does the old bird get home?"

"Do you mean the owner of the house?"

"Cert—nice, soft old duffer, with a bald head and baggy trousers. I've got a tip that he can be worked as easy as rolling down hill."

"He's—he's home now!" stammered Mr. Bowser, who realized that his wife was standing at the head of the stairs and could hear every word.

"Then go and tell him that a hard-working, respectable man is out of work and has a sick wife and four hungry children. If he comes down with a half, I'll whack up with you. Strike a trot, my bully, for I'm dying for a nip of old rye."

"Sir! I am the nice, soft old baldheaded duffer you refer to!" exclaimed Mr. Bowser as his temper flamed up all of a sudden.

"Oh, you are! I was only joking, you know. You behold in me, sir, an unfortunate man. Two weeks ago I lost my job, and on that same day my wife"——

"You'll get nothing here, sir!" shouted Mr. Bowser.

"Alas, sir, but I haven't tasted food for nearly two days! Can you have the heart to turn a starving man away?"

"I can. If you are hungry, go and eat snow or fence posts. You are a deadbeat and a liar. The idea of you calling me an old bird and my wife a hen! You ought to be arrested, sir!"

"Not a penny. Skate out of this, or I'll call an officer."

"A loaf of bread for my starving children?"

"Not a crust."

"Then take that for my farewell!" exclaimed the tramp as he tapped Mr. Bowser on the chin and spread his wings and flew away.

"Well, were you sorry for him?" queried Mrs. Bowser as Mr. Bowser came up stairs with his eyes hanging out and his ears working.

He glared at her and felt of his chin. "If you didn't speak words of sympathy and hand him out a quarter, he may commit suicide," she continued.

"Woman," gasped Mr. Bowser as he jumped up and down, "I've been struck on the chin by a blamed old liar of a tramp!"

"Yes, I saw him hit you."

"And you—you"——

"Yes, I'm to blame for it, of course, and it's the last straw, and your lawyer will see me about the divorce."

That's what Mr. Bowser was going to say, of course, but he didn't say it. He rushed into his hat and overcoat and out of the house to find that tramp and make him die 20 different deaths. Two hours later he sauntered in and got out his old razor and began paring off a corn, and as he made no allusion to the affair Mrs. Bowser was diplomat enough to ask no questions. It was only when he was ready for bed that he cut close to the matter by remarking:

"If I were you, I'd forbid the cook feeding every loafer who calls and claims to be hungry."

"I have done so," replied Mrs. Bowser.

"Because most of them are liars or worse and deserve the workhouse. You ought to also carry a revolver when you go to the door. I'll get you one the first thing in the morning, for no one is safe even in his own house these times."

Mrs. Bowser said "Yes," and the subject was dropped, but at midnight Mr. Bowser awoke her by crying out in his sleep:

The Editor Explains How Mr. John Dakin Made His Exit.

NOT A MYSTERY.—Our esteemed contemporary came out with an article last week announcing the mysterious disappearance of Mr. John Dakin, who had been a resident of this town for about a year, and conveying the impression that he had wandered away into the hills and got lost. Our esteemed need not bother to head a searching party, as he appears willing to do. Any search in the hills for Mr. Dakin would prove fruitless. When he came to this town a year ago, he had two guns in his belt and a knife in his boot leg, and he appeared very anxious to have some one rub against him. On several occasions he had been arrested for breaches of the peace, and during the last six months we have had three or four private conversations with him. These were paternal conversations on our part and intended to make him a better man, but we are sorry to add that they fell on stony ground and did not take root. In fact, Mr. Dakin resented our interference with his domestic affairs and made threats of such a nature that we decided to withhold further advice in the matter. We realized the inevitable result, however, and were not at all surprised last Monday night when the secretary of the vigilance committee roused us out of a sound slumber and invited us to be present at a hanging.

Sunday night Mr. Dakin shot at one man and drew a knife on another, and when given official warning that he had better change climates he was very defiant. At 11 o'clock Monday night he was quietly seized and conveyed to the usual spot. Only about a dozen citizens were present. When Mr. Dakin realized that he was on his way hither, he made a speech. He spoke in English, and his effort was a vigorous one. Most of his remarks were directed at us personally. On several similar occasions we have been greatly pleased to hear the victims announce with their last breath that THE KICKER was worth five times the subscription price asked, but Mr. Dakin wasn't advertising us as he prepared for his journey. On the contrary, he declared that if the paper was to continue publication he did not care to live any longer. He died very quietly and was buried in the usual spot, and his personal effects will be sold at auction tomorrow. There is no mystery about the matter, and instead of being lost in the hills the man is now reposing in the suburbs. We do not claim that he came to his sad end because he refused to accept our advice, but had he done so he might still be enjoying his whisky straights and holding down a front chair at the regular Saturday night dog fights.

LONG FELT WANTS.—At the beginning of the common council Tuesday evening a number of ordinances were passed which will be generally hailed with satisfaction. The one regarding shooting at the front door of the city hall is especially commended. Ever since the building was erected everybody has been privileged to shoot at the door, and the door has had to be replaced by a new one about once a month. As most of the bullets passed through into the county clerk's office, and as the county clerk was always in, he has been much disturbed and hindered in his work and has been grazed seven or eight times.

The ordinance making it a misdemeanor to ride a horse or mule into any public building or place used for business purposes should have been in force long ago. If a cowboy wants to make a purchase in a store, it is of course much easier to ride in on his broncho and do it from the saddle, and it is the same in case he wants a drink, but the time has come when some of these peculiarities should be dropped. We understand that nothing of the sort has been allowed in Chicago, Denver, St. Louis or Omaha for the last three or four years. We as mayor of the town have been much annoyed in the last year by parties riding their horses up the back stairs of the city hall and down the hall into our office. The boys enjoyed it, and we didn't want to mar the harmony of the occasion, but we shall instruct the city marshal to see that the ordinance is strictly enforced.

Personally we have no objection to having a cigar shot out of our mouth or the loss of the hind buttons on our coat as we promenade down Apache avenue in the gloaming, but numbers of other citizens object to it, and strangers have been more or less surprised and annoyed. The ordinance prohibiting this species of amusement is a timely one and will please the majority. The end of our nose is still done up in a rag on account of a bullet aimed too far back from our cigar one night three or four weeks ago. While we said nothing at the time, we made up our official mind that the sport had gone far enough.

The ordinance regarding the use of firearms in saloons is a good one, but we fear it cannot be enforced. It has been the custom here for the last 200 years for a gentleman to walk into a saloon and shoot the mirror, the clock, the decanters or anything else he felt inclined to, including the bartender, and it will be hard to ring in a radical change. The shooter is supposed to pay all damage for personal property, and if he kills a bartender the coroner's jury brings in a verdict of "justifiable mistake," and the victim is decently buried. It is a good old custom, even though it has its drawbacks, and being so regarded we doubt, as we said before, if the ordinance can be enforced.

P. S.—As we write this article word comes to us that a bartender in the Bald Eagle saloon has been shot dead by Colonel Clark, who was somewhat intoxicated and took the man for one of those tall, bald headed brandy decanters used to ornament the bars in Chicago.

ENCOURAGING A FELLOW MAN.

Between Eighty and Ninety Was Just Right For a Bridal Tour.

I was waiting on the platform of the cotton compress for Colonel Green to return from the postoffice, when along came an old colored man whose wool was snow white, his back bent over like a hairpin, and his knees so stiff that he could just hobble along by the aid of a cane. When he came up, he pulled off his hat, got a brace for his legs and began:

"All right. What is it?"

"I wants yo' to look me all ober an den tell me what my aige am."

"Don't you know it?"

"Deed, sah, but dat war down yere mixed me all up, an I dun forgot my aige.

"DAT WAR DOWN YERE MIXED ME ALL UP."

I'ze axed de folkses around yere, but dey trifles wid me. Jist look me ober an be honest about it."

"Well, you are a pretty old man," I said after sizing him up.

"Yaas, I'ze gittin 'long in y'ars, I reckon."

"You have probably passed 60?"

"Yaas, I believes I has, but how fur hev I got on de odder side?"

"Some folks might call you 70."

"Reckon dey might, but what's your opinyun?"

"My judgment is that you are somewhere from 80 to 90 years old. Perhaps 85 would be about the figure."

"Am yo' honest 'bout dat?" he anxiously queried.

"I am. I'll bet five to one you are not over 85."

He dropped his cane to reach out both hands and clasp one of mine, and there were tears in his eyes as he murmured:

"Lawd bless yo', white man, Lawd bless yo'! I'll name de werry fust chile arter yo', eben if it's a gal."

"But, hold on! What's going to happen?"

"What's gwine to happen? Why, sah, I knows a woman up dis street who'll marry anybody less'n 200 y'ars ole, an befo' de sun goes down we'll be j'ined together an makin our bridal tower on a street kyar. Eberybody dun said I was ober 400 y'ars ole, but yo' has hit do mark an incouraged me, an if yo' am in dis town tomorrer I'll stuff yo' full of de biggest, richest watermillyon eber growed in de stait of Alabama an let yo' kiss de bride to boot!" M. QUAD.

A Winning Conundrum.

"Excuse me," said seedy, "but will you be kind enough to tell me what time it is?"

"It's a quarter after 1," he replied rather curiously.

The seedy one coughed.

"Do you know, sir," he said, "the difference between time and me?"

"Give it up," replied the gentleman, still more interested.

"Would you like to know, sir?"

"Yes."

"Well, sir, the time is a quarter after 1, and I am one after a quarter."

"Thanks," responded the gentleman, handing it to him, with a bow.—Detroit Free Press.

FOOTBALL GAME.

Ex-Collegiates Getting Ready to Meet Hamline's Club.

This morning the members of the ex-collegiate football eleven met in the office of Capt. Johanson to make definite plans for the game with Hamline at Woodland on Saturday. Practice was ordered for tomorrow, Thursday and Friday at noon on the high school campus at which time every man is expected to be present. Capt. Johanson, after stating to his men that every effort must be put forth to insure a good stiff game against the visitors, announced that the positions will be filled about as follows: Center, Dr. Lynam; guards, McCormack and Maloney or Gibson; tackles, Ballou and McKeon; ends, Sellwood or Seixas and Totman or Calhoun; quarterback, Johanson; halfbacks, Edson and Watreus and fullback, Thurman.

This team, as made up, is considered a strong one, lacking only in practice, which defect, it is hoped, will be corrected before Saturday. Abbott at quarter will be a loss to the team, he being unable to play. Dr. Lynam has consented to play in the center and should be a tower of strength. Capt. Johanson will go back of the line and with the halves and Thurman at fullback should gain ground if the line gets in trim. Ballou is a new comer and will add strength to the line at left tackle.

GRAIN THIEVES CAPTURED.

Two Young Boys Caught in the Act by Spkcial Agent Murphy.

Special Agent Murphy, of the St. Paul & Duluth railway, is hot on the track of the wheat thieves who have been stealing grain from the cars in the yards of his company. Some days ago, he brought in seven boys, all of whom paid fines for their offenses.

He now has arrested E. Coleman, who lives on Ninth avenue west, and E. Corey, who lives near Fifteenth avenue west. The culprits are about 12 years of age and were caught redhanded, as it were, in the act. They opened a car door and were filling up five sacks, having succeeded in getting about four bushels sacked when overhauled. The grain the boys have been stealing has been disposed of to some unknown "fence" for 45 cents a bushel.

Mr. Murphy expects to continue his work until these robberies are completely stopped.

It May Do as Much for You.

Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50 cents for large bottle. At Max Wirth's drug store.

SEARLE'S TITLE IS CLEAR.

Judge Lewis Decides the Case of McEachen vs. Alden Et Al.

Judge Lewis has filed findings in the case of Duncan McEachen against W. H. Alden and J. J. Holland. He finds that the plaintiff delivered to Defendant Alden a note for $1500 and a mortgage for him to collect. Alden foreclosed the mortgage and bought in the property at sheriff's sale for $1481.46. Alden then sold the sheriff's certificate to J. J. Holland, who sold it back to Alden again, and he then transferred it to D. B. Searle. Plaintiff began to wonder where he came in in all this hocus pocus, and he sued for the land or the proceeds of the sale.

Judge Lewis finds Searle's title clear, and determines that none of the others have any claim to it. He finds McEachen entitled to the $1481.46 minus $787 which it is adjudged Alden's services are worth. This leaves the plaintiff with $694.46, the amount of his judgement.

The case of Richard Fritz against the Duluth Gas and Water company, to recover for damages sustained from a bursted main which flooded plaintiff's house, has been dismissed.

CANNOT FIND PAULINE.

A Wisconsin Man in Duluth Searching for His Niece.

Heinrich Borbrofsky, of Butternut, Wis., is in the city searching for a niece named Pauline Wilhelmina Kreuth, aged 14 years. About a year ago, so the uncle claims, the girl left her parents to work for some friends in an adjoining town. After staying there, instead of going back to her parents she came to a cousin in Duluth. She soon left them and next was heard of at Two Harbors.

Early this summer she came back to Duluth and has worked at various places. She called herself "Pearl" here and finally settled down with a family named Roach on East First street.

Last evening Borbrofsky called at police headquarters and said that Mr. Roach refused to let him enter the house and when questioned concerning the girl, gave evasive answers. At the uncle's request, Capt. Thompson went to the Roach residence but nothing came of the visit except a dispute.

This morning, Borbrofsky had not found his niece and the supposition is that she has been concealed somewhere. No legal steps seem possible, as Borbrofsky has no authority over the girl. He said this morning that if he did not find her, he would be compelled to go home this afternoon anyway.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

English Papers Insist That the Government Shall Not Abandon Any of Great Britain's Rights.

A Special Meeting of the British Cabinet Council Has Been Hastily Summoned for Tomorrow.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—All the afternoon papers gravely discuss the hasty summoning of a cabinet council, and it is generally accepted as being connected with some serious difficulty with France. The Liberal organ, the Westminster Gazette, handles the subject very tenderly and is evidently anxious not to excite public opinion, and thereby embarrass the government. On the other hand the Conservative mouthpieces discuss the matter more fearlessly and warn France against encroaching upon British rights.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "A crisis which necessitates the convening of a cabinet council must be very sudden as the ministers were dispersed on their holidays. It is quite possible, however, that a proposition has been made to settle the various differences. But, while we gladly recognize that the incident admits of favorable interpretation, it is idle to ignore the fact that it is quite possible that the cabinet has been summoned to discuss a new and unexpected cause of friction with France."

The Pall Mall Gazette then refers to the article printed today in the Politique Coloniale of Paris, which reflects the views of the minister of the colonies, M. Delcasse, and which gives exclusive of the questions of Egypt and Madagascar, a list of eleven outstanding difficulties between France and England, connected with the frontier and similar disputes in various African colonies.

The Politique Coloniale, however, says that many of these have practically been settled and that none of them would justify a rupture, unless one country was bent upon picking a quarrel with the other, which, the paper adds, is not the case.

The Pall Mall Gazette, in spite of this, says that the article in the Politique Coloniale is unfriendly to "the verge of discourtesy," adding: "And if it reflects the spirit in which the French ministers intend to discuss the difficulties with England, we may prepare for troublesome times. We do not wish to quarrel with France; but on the other hand we are indisposed to permit trespassing upon our unquestioned rights. The bullying spirit which tells Frenchmen that they have only to brag and bluff enough to force England to surrender may easily lead to trouble."

The Pall Mall Gazette then continues: "The Daily Chronicle says that war between France and England must be regarded as inconceivable madness. It may be madness, but it is not inconceivable. France must be told courteously, but firmly, that we have not the slightest desire to attack or to provoke her, but that, if attacked, we shall defend ourselves to the last extremity."

The Globe also expresses the belief that the hurried calling of the cabinet council is due to disputes with France, adding: "We believe that there is no ground for public alarm or suspicion. But we cannot surrender any part of England's rights or shirk any part of her duties. Our strained relations with France are not a matter of a day's growth nor connected entirely with Madagascar. We have points of contact with the French throughout the world and each is possible of having fostered irritation which may easily become strife. It is certain that the lame way in which we have allowed ourselves to be outwitted in the far East during the last year and the manner in which we have stood by while France partitioned our heritage in Siam, has done much to persuade the more ignorant or hotheaded Frenchmen that England is not so very terrible after all.

"Today's news of the blockade of the island of Madagascar sets at rest all doubts as to the immediate business of tomorrow's cabinet council. The ministers have decided upon a resolute course of action, and the public will await with anxiety the news of their decision.

"We want no panic and no war fevers, but we need the assurance that our interests will be properly safeguarded and our allies protected. The French will find that we have a word to say about the Madagascar question before it is settled, and Lord Rosebery may rely upon the Unionists to support him loyally and heartily in the interests of the empire."

The above quotations from the leading afternoon papers give a fair idea of the drift of public opinion here and the gravity of the crisis which has caused the calling of a cabinet council for tomorrow.

The Paris Matin says that Madagascar can offer no possible subject for a dispute between France and Great Britain, adding: "Once our differences with the Malagasy government are settled, there will be no pretext for a Franco-British conflict. The relations between the two governments were never more tranquil."

CAUSE OF THE DISPUTE.

France Was Evidently Determined to Annex Madagascar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The dispute between France and England in regard to Madagascar, is one of long standing. Madagascar is a large island, separated from the southeastern portion of Africa by the Mozambique channel.

It is now virtually under a French protectorate, although it is claimed in England that at least one-seventh of the land is held by British capital. But the French embassy in London recently answered a communication from the Madagascar consul in London by a formal statement that officially there is no longer such person as a London Madagascar consul as, it was added, the agents of France in various countries represent the Hovas government.

Early last month the French government evidently determined upon taking decided action in regard to Madagascar, probably believing that the hands of England were tied by the complications brought about through the war between China and Japan. Consequently, M. Le Myre de Villers was sent on a special mission to Madagascar and it was understood that he was to all intents and purposes instructed to demand the abdication of the government and to annex the island to France.

The following statement was made regarding the mission of M. Le Myre de Villers, recently:

"He will first demand a revision of the treaty of 1885 and will then ask that the territory of France at Diego Suarez be extended to Passandame bay on the western side of Madagascar, and to Vohemar bay on the east side of the island, and that Majunga and Nossi Beb, on the west coast, and Fort Dauphin, Tamatave, Manaboudro and Andovoran, on the eastern shores, with their adjacent territories be ceded to France. He was instructed to demand that the French resident shall have the right to control all the actions of the government of Madagascar, including its foreign policy."

The Cocarde, of Paris, at the time of the departure of M. Le Myre de Villers, who is just about due at Madagascar, said: "He will call upon the Hova government to satisfy all our demands and to respect all the clauses of our treaties. In the case of the Hova government accepting this demand, a protocol, summarizing our rights and rendering some obscure points clear, will be drawn up. Those rights may be summarized as follows:

"The installation of a French representative, who will treat exclusively all questions of foreign policy with the powers; the recognition of the right of Europeans to possess property without any retrocession clause; the rights of treating with the natives for the hire and the hire and farming property; the registration of all deeds concerning the purchase and hire of property at the French residency; the construction of a railway which the Malagasy government has till now refused; the freedom of navigation of the rivers; the establishment of military stations where the French may think fit; the appointment of a French agent to control and secure the financial resources wasted at the present moment to the detriment of the natives; the installation of a French resident with each of the Malagasy governors with the object of securing the respect of treaties and the proper collection of the taxes—in a word, the effectual application of the protectorate regime, which has until now been nothing but nominal. If the Hova ministers do not give entire satisfaction, M. deVillers will withdraw to one of the vessels of our squadron, and the commander of that squadron will open the sealed instructions sent to him."

BAD CYCLONE IN ARKANSAS.

Business Portion of Little Rock Destroyed and Several People Killed.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 3.—This city was visited by an awful cyclone last night, and the main portion of the business section is practically in ruins. The loss will probably reach $1,000,000. Many buildings were blown down and great damage was done by a terrible rain storm which accompanied the cyclone.

The storm struck the state penitentiary, which stands on a hill in the western part of the city, with fearful force, destroying the dining room, tearing down the stable and shops, unroofing the main cell buildings and wrecking the warden's office. Several persons were injured and one convict named Griffin was killed.

At the insane asylum, all the male department and annex were razed to the ground, four floors falling in a mass of ruins. Dr. Ingate, formerly of Mobile, Ala., and two patients were killed, while four other patients were seriously and perhaps fatally injured.

The destruction in the residence portion in the vicinity of the penitentiary is very great. State Senator Leed's daughter who lives in that vicinity was injured by a falling eave. The house was destroyed. The other occupants escaped serious injuries.

The following are the casualties so far as they have been reported: Jack Boyd and baby, colored, killed in Webefreits building; Mrs. J. Janko, fatally injured; Fritz Reis, seriously injured; Joe Holloway, negro, killed in Little Rock bakery; John Fouterouwerse, fatally injured; Jim Swift, hit on head by brick; Dr. Ingate, Mobile, Ala., killed; Convict Griffin, killed; Guards Smith and Witt, seriously injured. Several were buried in the St. Charles hotel, but they have all been accounted for.

The path of the cyclone was not more than 200 yards wide and its course was of a zigzag nature. The duration of the cyclone was not over three minutes, though the rain continued to pour for an hour. The rain was followed by a brilliant electrical display, accompanied by loud peals of thunder, which was continued for over an hour.

The Jury Disagreed.

DETROIT, Oct. 3.—After six hours' deliberation in the suit by the St. Paul National bank against Stonewall J. De France the jury last evening announced a disagreement. The amount sued for is $10,000, which De France is charged with securing through forgery under various aliases.

Man and Wife Murdered.

MONTEREY, Mex., Oct. 3.—The authorities here have been informed of a double tragedy near Espinosea. Clar Frias, a well known ranchman, accompanied by his wife and three children left Espinosea on an overland journey to Parras. A laborer accompanied them. While in camp, Frias and his wife were murdered by the laborer who cut their throats from ear to ear while they slept and the robbed them of $1000.

FOREST FIRES.

The Conference in Regard to Prevention of Forest Fires Opened at St. Paul This Morning.

Papers by Gen. C. C. Andrews and State Botanist McMillan Respecting the Causes of the Fires.

Candidates for Senators and Representatives Were Named by the Ramsey County Republicans Today.

A St. Cloud Man Predicts the Sixth District Will Go Republican and Towne Be Elected.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 3.—At the conference for the prevention of forest fires held today at the Commercial club, Gen. C. C. Andrews read a paper showing from remarks in recent geological reports that forest fires had been more frequent and destructive in Northern Minnesota than generally supposed. The state owns within its limits 1,269,000 acres of timber land and the United States 5,000,000 acres. Both governments should act in harmony in protecting the forests. We should begin with a few regulations and grow into a thorough system by experience.

The watchful care such as practiced in Europe would greatly prevent such fires as had occurred. Systematic forestry management meant revenue to the owner while improving the forest. He gave a synopsis of the recent forestry laws of New York, Maine and New Hampshire. Enlightened people in the older states were looking to see what Minnesota statesmanship was capable of accomplishing in this.

Conway McMillan, state botanist, contributed some valuable statistics bearing on the subject under consideration. He found from his census reports of the year 1880 that 10,274,089 acres of forests had been burned, entailing a loss of $25,462,259. Then followed a tabulated list of the causes of fires. The four states where fires have been most destructive are Tennessee, Wyoming, Pennsylvania and Minnesota, in their order.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 3.—The Republicans of Ramsey county today nominated the following legislative ticket:

Both Legs Cut Off.

EAU CLAIRE, Oct. 3.—John Nelson, who has a wife and five children, fell from a switch engine in the Omaha yard at Altoona yesterday and had both legs cut off. He will undoubtedly did.

Gasoline Stove Exploded.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 3.—About 1 o'clock this morning the house at 417 Belvidere street was destroyed by fire. The house was occupied by Mat Murray and his family. An infant was suffering from croup and Mrs. Murray attempted to light the gasoline stove, which exploded.

Towne Will Be Elected.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 3.—"It is too much to hope that Stearns county will go anything but Democratic," said George H. Reynolds, of St. Cloud this morning, "but the Sixth district will go Republican and Towne will be elected without any trouble. Even if the railroad vote goes to Halvorsen, it will not hurt, but help Towne, as otherwise it would have been Democratic."

MABEL IS NOW AN HEIRESS.

A Stage Struck Girl Who Probably Is Ready to Leave It.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—The death of Frederick Ryan, a capitalist in the railroad accident near Yonkers, N. Y., a few days ago, has made Mabel Ryan Edwards heiress to a large fortune. Two years ago Mabel lived with her father, a capitalist at Pittsburg, Pa. She became stage struck and eloped with Clarence Edwards, a mere boy. Mabel was then only 16.

The pair went to Chicago, Mabel performing in an "illusion" and "living picture" at the World's fair. Then they came to California and Mabel worked at the Midwinter fair as a gum girl and as the aerial lady, who floats through space in an illusion. Edwards managed his wife's finances. She subsequently performed in several dance halls in this city and a few weeks ago left with her husband for Portland, Ore.

THE GLENNAN DIVORCE CASE.

Once Mrs. Glennan Began Suit, Alleging Cruelty and Infidelity.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Oct. 3.—Dr. A. H. Glennan, who is suing for a divorce from his wife in Washington, D. C., lived here for several years, having charge of the United States marine hospital. His wife, during that period, commenced divorce proceedings, alleging cruelty and infidelity. Glennan answered by accusing his wife of being insane. In the meantime she returned to her people in the East and Glennan was transferred to a Southern station.

Depositions were issued and many prominent people on Puget sound were summoned to give evidence. The case was hotly contested and it was reported she was granted a verdict in Washington last year. On several occasions here, while suffering from fits of jealousy, she attempted his life, and on one occasion she fired several shots at him in the presence of a priest.

THE RAISIN COMBINE.

Tried to Force Fruit Dealers to Buy in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—The congestion of the raisin traffic that was threatened by the disagreement by the California producers and the New York and Chicago fruit brokers has been broken and the yield of the San Joaquin valley is being rapidly shipped eastward.

The raisin combine refused to sell this year's crop except in California, intending to force the Eastern buyers to come to California to make their purchases. The Eastern dealers refused to do this and there was a deadlock. The raisins were stored at Fresno until the warehouse became overcrowded when the combine discovered it could store its product in the East as easily as in California.

Accordingly the raisins are being shipped to central points like Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Philadelphia and New York. The product will be held at these points to await a call for it. Fifty-seven car loads left for New York and many more will speedily follow. Up to Sept. 30 the shipments of California fruits to Eastern points were: Raisins, 280 car loads; dried fruits, including prunes, 1100 car loads; green fruits, 5500 car loads; canned fruits and vegetables, 1000 cars.

IS GUARDED BY POLICE.

Antonio Ezeta in Mexico and His Friends Fear Assassination.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—A special dispatch to the World from the City of Mexico says: Gen. Antonio Ezeta is at the Hotel Iturbide. He is in daily voluminous cable correspondence with New York and Europe. He is guarded by secret police, having been warned from the United States that Alca is pursuing him. Ezeta is personally courageous and makes light of the conspiracy known to exist against him in Salvador. His friends are on the watch for suspicious strangers who may seek an interview with him.

The fact is the government in Salvador is apprehensive lest Ezeta may come back, and his bitter personal enemies are determined to get him out of the way if possible.

The government here has begun to concentrate troops on the Guatemalan frontier. The Eighth infantry has been ordered from the state of Guerrero to Acupulco, where Gen. Bravo will take command. The warship Zaragosa is taking on arms and will visit Central American waters.

BEARS ARE AT WORK.

Cleveland Vessel Brokers Are Flushing the Coal Rate Down.

The agreement of Cleveland vessel brokers to take no coal cargoes to Lake Superior for less than 50 cents has been suspended until Oct. 15. At the meeting there was some talk of lowering the rate, and Capt. Thomas Wilson moved to make it 40 cents to pay off the brokers who had been most anxious to break the rate. His motion was carried, but as it was not unanimous it was not adopted, as the association wished unanimity on all such questions.

When the agreement was renewed Sept. 15 not all of the brokers signed it, and a number of charters were made below the 50-cent rate. After the meeting shippers refused to pay even 45 cents, and they will probably try to push the rate still farther down.

Local Marine Matters.

The marine situation is in about the same condition it has been since Saturday. The rates remain the same, and business is good in all lines. Wheat is firm at 2¾ cents, ore at 85 cents and lumber is strong at $2 to Tonawanda and 18 shillings to Chicago.

The threatened northwest gale passed by this section and boats will begin to move once more.

TWENTY KILLED,

The Little Village of Dagua in Cuba Almost Entirely Demolished by a Terrible Storm.

Twenty People Are Reported to Have Perished and Much Damage Was Done to Property.

Twelve Special Land Agents to Be Dismissed in November, Leaving Only Eight at Work.

Commissioner Lamoreaux Declares That With This Number He Cannot Prevent Fraud.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The Ward line steamer Saratoga from Tampico and Havana arrived in port today. Capt. Berle says that at Havana it was reported that the little village of Dagua, about 120 miles to the eastward, had been almost entirely demolished and that about twenty souls had perished. The report was very meager and no estimate of the damage done to property could be ascertained. Of the reported destruction of more than half of the town of San Domingo, Capt. Berle said he had heard nothing.

SPECIAL LAND AGENTS.

Twelve to be Dismissed in November Leaving But Eight.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The fraud division of the general land office has become a very small affair compared to its importance a few years ago. This year there is appropriated only $60,000 for the maintenance of special agents, while a few years ago the appropriations amounted to $200,000 and $300,000, and even more.

Now there are but twenty special agents in the field and twelve of them will be dismissed in November, while a year ago there were armies of them in the Western states. There was a general revulsion against the methods of special agents, owing to the troubles growing out of the rigid rules enforced by Gen. Sparks in the first administration of President Cleveland.

It made itself felt in congress, when representatives of public land states insisted that the people should be annoyed as little as possible by these special agents and cut down the appropriations for them. Then there were laws passed curing many of the errors developed by the special agents and curtailing the work they had to do. The land department still insists, however, that there is yet great necessity for those agents and Commissioner Lamoreaux says that with the force he has he cannot protect the public lands.

LOST WIFE AND WEALTH.

A San Francisco Grocer Who Has Lost All His Possessions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Charles Stelling, grocer and capitalist, is out $5000 in cash, all his deeds to property valued at $90,000 and a pretty wife, who has deserted him for a street car conductor. Bonds, papers and everything pocketable have disappeared from the Stelling residence.

Stelling is eccentric and one day confided to his wife that he had stored away in a convenient chest a big bag of gold for an emergency. This emergency came when Mrs. Stelling decided to elope with Alexander McNeil, a street car conductor. Besides owning three groceries and a coal yard, Stelling possessed much valuable business and residence property all of which he placed in his wife's name soon after marriage.

The deeds to the property, with certificates of corporation and mining stock and the bag of gold have gone East with the eloping couple. Stelling is at a loss how to recover any of his possessions.

CORBETT READY TO FIGHT.

But He Will Not Enter the Ring Until July Next.

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—An ultimatum was given out last night by William A. Brady, manager for Champion James J. Corbett, which says that the Olympic club has no right to declare Fitzsimmons champion of the world if Corbett does not meet him. Rather than give any person the satisfaction of seeing him declared ex-champion by default, Corbett wants to put himself on record. He wants to retire from pugilism, but does not intend to show the white feather. He adds:

"Now let these men who are seeking notoriety at my expense get together all the fighters in the world who have $10,000 to wager that I cannot defeat them, no weight or color barred. I will deposit $10,000 with David Blanchard, of Boston, as an evidence of good faith and I will devote one week after July 1 next to fighting one of them each night during that week."

Fitz Declared Champion.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3.—At a meeting of directors of the Olympic club last night Robert Fitzsimmons was proclaimed heavyweight champion of the world.

Convicted of Murder.

ROCKPORT, Mo., Oct. 3.—The jury in the case of James Owens, who killed his father-in-law in March last, returned a verdict late last night of murder in the first degree.

Double Murder.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 3.—Taylor Townsend, a desperate negro, murdered his brother, Harry, and another negro named Phillip Crenshaw near Wetumka, in a quarrel about some cotton weights.

REPORTS ON INDIANS.

Another Attempt to Be Made to Enact Legislation for the Better Government of Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Gen. Armstrong, acting commissioner of Indian affairs, says that the annual reports received from various Indian agencies show that on the whole the Indians were reasonably prosperous during the last fiscal year. The death rate has not been large nor does there appear to be any decrease in the number of Indians under government charge. The year was one of peace, there having been very few disturbances or troubles usually occurring among the Indians.

It is evident from the reports received that the tribal relations of the Indians are becoming less binding and the individual Indians are becoming more independent of the government and more self-supporting. The alloting agents of the government have been kept busy the past year, many Indians evincing desires to own their own lands. The Indian authorities believe that in alloting tracts of land to individuals the longest step has been made toward civilization, and that the Indians are more easily governed by the agents and the bureau when each has a personal and individual interest in his home.

The reports show that Indian education is progressing quite satisfactorily and that the Indians show greater willingness than heretofore to avail themselves of the school advantages offered by the government.

Another attempt is to be made during the coming session of congress to enact legislation for the better government of Alaska. The persons who have already gone to that territory and made investments are anxious to have laws provided which will make more secure property rights, and which will also establish closer commercial relations between the territory and the United States. It has been suggested that one of the first steps towards bringing Alaska into closer communication with the United States and making it more useful to the government, would be to organize the territory as other territories have been organized and send a delegate to congress to represent it, who could point out the needs of the people of the territory to the legislators.

This idea is combatted by those who claim that at present there are not enough white people in the territory to constitute a representative government and that the native population has not yet attained a degree of intelligence to entitle it to participate in government affairs. Because of lack of legislation the development of Alaskan mines, which are said to be very rich, is retarded. Most of these mines are of a character that they require a great deal of machinery to operate them, and considerable capital must be invested before any results can be obtained.

It is possible that in the short session of congress there will be no time for passing adequate laws for the proper government of the far Northwest territory, but the men who have been pushing west for a number of years are determined that something must be done for Alaska, and her interests will be pressed upon congress in the short session, and, even if no action is taken, it is expected that the way may be opened for something substantial in the next congress.

HOT SHOT BY PARKHURST.

The Police Justices and the Police Department Attacked.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Dr. Parkhurst attracted a large audience to Amnity hall last night. He spoke under the auspices of the City Vigilance league. The doctor was evidently suffering from the effects of the severe strain to which he is subjected as he did not speak with his accustomed ease. He hurled some hot shots at the police justices and the police department, however.

The audience was informed by Dr. Parkhurst that to witness the examination of witnesses by Mr. Goff when he fairly had to gimlet the testimony from them was far better than going to a theater for amusement. He spoke of the unreliability of the work of the policemen, saying that ex-Commissioner of Police Voorhis put himself on record by asserting that he seldom put any credence in what a policeman testified. The "character of the police court's matters touch more closely the future of the municipality," he said, "that even the police."

Dr. Parkhurst read from a letter he had received from a prominent man in which he offers to any young lawyer in the city a fee of $1000 for the successful impeachment of a police justice. This offer, the writer explained, would be binding on his heirs and he hoped some of the representatives of the bar would take it up.

JIM ROOT IN NEW YORK.

He Again Tells the Story of the Act Which Gave Him Fame.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Engineer James Root, whose heroism saved 300 men, women and children from the forest fires which wiped out Hinckley Minn., arrived in this city yesterday with his wife and son from his home near St. Paul.

To a reporter he told the following story of the act which has made him famous: "I was making my run from Duluth to St. Paul, when we ran into a smoke so dense that, although it was 3 o'clock in the afternoon, you could not see your hand before you. We went through 4 miles of this and were within 3 miles of Hinckley when we got into daylight again. About half a mile further on I saw people rushing toward me from all directions, most of them from Hinckey. I was forced to shut off steam and they shouted: 'The town is burned to cinders. For God's sake save us.'

"I could see no fire, but all of a sudden the wind came with a rush. Then I told the people to jump in, and as I was stepping up into my cab, everything seemed to be a ball of fire. It was as sudden as a flame bursting out in a lamp.

"I let go the throttle and started to back down to Skunk lake, about six miles away. We'd scarcely got moving before the train from beginning to end was a rolling ball of fire. I saw the thick panes in the cab bend with the heat, and then they burst from their frames and leaped to the top of the cab where they were smashed and the pieces gashed my head and throat.

"All I remembered then was dodging my head to avoid the flames which came hissing in at the window and I must have fainted, for I came to as the engine stopped, and saw that I had unconsciously shut off the steam.

"My hands were then so swollen with the heat that they looked as if I had boxing gloves on. The fireman came out of the water, shoveled more coal into the furnace and all I remember after that is the fireman saying: 'We're done for this time sure,' and I thought to myself, 'yes, I guess it will be over soon now.'

"When I came to, I was in the slush and mud of Skunk lake."

ALL THE BARLEY DESTROYED.

There is Not Another Cargo Left in the State of Washington.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 3.—The ship Reaper is being loaded with wheat for New York. Much speculation had been indulged in as to why this cereal is being shipped to New York where it can only be sold at a loss. The reason can be attributed to the big fires of Sept. 22, when the Pacific Coast elevator and its contents were burned.

The Reaper was chartered by the elevator company to take barley to New York and the grain with which she was to be loaded was in store at the elevator. This was destroyed and as the ship's charter would not allow her to wait until another cargo of barley is accumulated, she took a cargo of wheat. It is probable that there is not another cargo of barley in this country, as the ship Iroquois, which has a similar charter, will load wheat for the Atlantic seaboard.

Mrs. Oelrichs' Fortune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, of New York, who was Miss Thesie Fair in the days of her residence in San Francisco, has celebrated her twenty-fifth birthday and consequently the first large slice of devised property is about to be cut from the estate of the late Mrs. Therese Fair. It will amount to something like $1,500,000.

A Triple Tragedy.

DENTON, Tex., Oct. 3.—Jim and Marion Crutchfield, brothers, and Will Mitchell, all negroes, engaged in a deadly battle near Parvin postoffice 17 miles northeast of here. The trouble arose over a horse. Jim Crutchfield was killed outright but his brother before dying managed to draw his pistol and shoot Mitchell through the breast. The latter will undoubtedly die.

WILL FIGHT TO A FINISH.

Denver Ed Smith and Lawrence Farrell to Fight This Afternoon.

DENVER, Oct. 3.—Denver Ed Smith and Lawrence Farrell will fight to a finish this afternoon at an unknown spot within about fifteen miles of this city. As Smith and Farrell are both in good condition a long fight will be looked for. The betting is 5 to 4 in favor of Smith.

Farrell has a good record, having been beaten but once, and that was by his present adversary, Denver Ed. He will weigh in at 170 pounds. He has chosen for his seconds Tommy West and Bat Masterson, although it is not certain whether Masterson will act or not. Smith has decided to put in his corner his brother, Paddy Smith, Omar Anderson and Joe Mulvihill. The referee and time keepers will be chosen at the ringside.

Farrell defeated Patsy Cardiff, who had previously been beaten only by Peter Jackson, and who had fought draws with Mitchell and Corbett. He is also the man that defeated Jim Fell. He was bested by Denver Ed Smith in two and one-half rounds.

Denver Ed Smith has won sixty-three fights, besides having fought several draws and has never been defeated. He says he expects to maintain this record to the end, and will, should he be successful today, challenge at the ring, either Corbett or Fitzsimmons, he cares not which.

PLENTY OF WORK FOR HIM.

Secretary Smith Will Have His Hands Full This Fall.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—When Secretary Smith returns to the interior department he will find himself for a time immersed in the business of that department. No appointments have been made during his absence, and it is understood that a large number are awaiting his action, including a number of changes to be made in the pension office.

Then there are all the annual reports that come in during the fall, but which will not be made public until the secretary has had an opportunity to examine them. Reports from the governors of most of the territories have been received already. The bureau officers are now preparing their reports, which will be placed in the secretary's hands soon after his return.

Cases prosecuted in the courts this year, 980; disabled animals temporarily suspended from work, 3770; horses disabled past recovery humanely destroyed, 4794; disabled horses removed from streets in ambulances, 607; complaints investigated, 7599. A committee on legislation was named.

THE JAPS ADVANCING.

The Japanese Have Effected a Landing in the Rear of Lan Chun in Manchuria.

The Whole Province in a State of Consternation, But Measures for Defense Being Adopted.

Japs Have Capured Kiu Lien Cheng on the Eastern Side of the Yalu River.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A dispatch received here from Shanghai says the governor of Kirin, Manchuria, reports that the Japanese have effected a landing in the rear of Lan Chun. It is added that the whole province is in a state of consternation, but measures for its defense are being adopted. Another heavy levy has been made upon the Chinese merchants in order to meet the expenses of the war.

It is reported that the Japanese have captured Kiu Lien Cheng, on the eastern side of the Yalu river. A hundred and fifty thousand men have been gathered at Pekin for the defense of the city, but of this number only 7000 are effectively armed. Only 50,000 soldiers are available for the defense of the province of Chi Li Ku and these are raw levies.

A Japanese army has landed to the north of Yellow river in the southern part of the Gulf of Pe Chi Li, to intercept the transport of troops from the south via the grand canal to Tien Tsin. A Japanese fleet of seventeen ships is now blockading the Gulf of Pe Chi Li. French troops are massing in Tonquin.

WAR SONGS BY JAPANESE.

They Breathe Great Bitterness Against the Chinese.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Officials of the Japanese legation have received an interesting budget of news and gossip from the last mail from Japan. The spirit of the people is shown in war songs sung by the japanese troops as they push toward Pekin. The songs were officially compiled by order of Prince Arisugawa. They breathe great bitterness against China and declare that "now is the time to plant the flag of the rising sun on the walls of Pekin and to illuminate its darkness."

Each verse of the song begins and ends with "strike and chastise China." The various verses describe the Chinese as arrogant and insolent, with an "army of cowards." Of the Chinese troops, the war song says, "they are undisciplined and however fine their arms look, they are useless like fine ladies in pictures." The chant closes with an invocation to "march and fire as long as breath remains."

The Japanese minister of finance has officially made known that the war will not be allowed to interrupt the internal improvements of Japan, consequently railway construction is to proceed with the same vigor as in peaceful times. The minister has arranged that the treasury shall keep separate accounts of the war expenses and those for internal improvements, in order that the former may not overshadow the latter.

The reports just issued in Japan show that her trade with the United States is greater than that with any other country. The total trade last year was about 4,000,000 yen. The British trade, which comes second, is 3,500,000 yen.

The Japanese people and press are retorting to the Chinese emperor's proclamation, directing that the Japanese "who-jen," meaning pigmies, "should be driven to their lairs." The Chinese are being called "chau chau," the word signifying puerility. "Toupi-kau," meaning pig-tailed vagabonds, is also used. China is referred to as "mei-so-koku," meaning the country in which people cannot make up their minds.

HIS DIAGNOSIS.

Mike Assured His Patient That the Worst Fears Were Realized.

"I heard an awfully good story illustrative of the system pursued by the medical quacks while in Baltimore the other day," said E. W. Creecy to a pleasant coterie at the Arlington recently. "It was new to me, so I'll give it to you. A man named Mike Dooley had been employed for a number of years as driver by a well known physician, who fell ill and died. Miko was disconsolate over his employer's death. He was out of a job and was unfitted for any other employment save driving a doctor's buggy from patient to patient and napping during the visits. He sat around the house in a morose and mournful sort of way until his energetic wife grew weary.

"'Shure, an phwat kin Oi do?' he returned.

"'Do!' she repeated. 'Av Oi'd been wid a docther foortane years an sax munts, Oi'd know enuff to be a docther moise'f.'

"Mike brightened up. He knew nothing of course about medicine except a few grandiloquent phrases he had heard his master use in its praises. However, he hung out his sign, and next day a woman called.

"'Is the doctor in?' she asked.

"'Oi'm th' docther, mom,' responded Mike.

"'Then I wish you would tell me what is the matter with me,' she remarked in the plaintive tone of a chronic invalid.

"'Twinty dollars, mom, av you plaze,' said Mike sententiously.

The woman demurred.

"'Sicince, mom, an a knowledge av tarrespootics nir on'y acquired boi the axpinditoor av grate toil an toime an munny. So, mom, mol fay nir inwairably in advance.'

"'Lit me fale pure pools,' he continued. And she extended her hand.

"'Lit me heer the b'atin av yure hairt,' and Mike, with an air of serious study, laid his shock head against the patient's bosom. After a moment he drew it away, with a jump.

"'The woorst fears nir realoized, mom,' he exclaimed. 'Yez have a wart on yure hairt!'"—Washington Star.

HOW TO CLOTHE CHILDREN.

A PROBLEM THAT MAKES MOTHERS STUDY.

A Minister's Wife Who Dresses Her Family in Excellent Taste—How a Small Income Went a Long Way.

The puckers in many a mother's forehead are deepened as she studies how to dress her boys and girls in a respectable manner on the small amount that is available.

A minister's wife in a small town near Duluth was confronted by this discouraging situation, but her woman's wit and a few ten cent packages of diamond dyes solved the problem, and handsome clothes were soon evolved from a pile of odds and ends.

The Home, Housekeeper, Ladies' Home Companion, and other household papers have published many articles telling how to use diamond dyes in making new clothing out of old. Pretty dresses, handsome cloaks, serviceable stockings, and gay hat ribbons and feathers are obtained at but little expense, not only for the children, but for the mothers as well.

The ease with which diamond dyes are used is really surprising. They make beautiful colors that never crock and are non-fading. "While there are other package dyes, there are none so easily used, nor such fast colors," says Jean Hunt in a recent number of The Home. "I have tried other dyes, but the diamond color the most goods. Their fast stocking black is the only black dye for cotton I have ever found that makes a fast black which never turns gray when washed."

When my little girl was one month old, she had a scab form on her face. It kept spreading until she was completely covered from head to foot. Then she had boils. She had sorry on her head at one time, and more on her body. When six months old she did not weigh seven pounds, a pound and a half less than at birth. Then her skin started to dry up and got so bad she could not shut her eyes to sleep, but lay with them half open. About this time, I started using the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in one month she was completely cured. The doctor and drug bills were over one hundred dollars, the CUTICURA bill was not more than five dollars. My child is now strong, healthy, and large as any child of her age (see photo), and it is all owing to CUTICURA. Yours with a Mother's Blessing,

Work on the Le Sure Sawmill on Grassy Point is to Be Commenced Very Soon.

Contract Under Which F. McDonough, of Eau Claire, Wis., Gets the Building is Practically Closed.

Report That the Blast Furnace is to Start Up Again, the Money Having Been Raised.

Work will commence on the erection of the LeSure mill at Grassy Point in a few days. The roadways to the site selected have been repaired and piling is now being drawn in for the foundation. F. McDonough, the mill builder of Eau Claire, Wis., who has practically secured the contract for the erection of the mill will be in the city tomorrow when it is expected the papers will be signed and other preliminaries attended to. Work will then commence immediately on the foundation.

Mr. McDonough's custom is to build a mill complete from top to bottom within a limited time. This gives no opportunity for delay and ensures the completion of the structure at the date named in the contract.

It is reported that the stockholders of the Minnesota Blast Furnace company are making arrangements to start the manufactory and that the money for the purpose has already been raised. It will not be started up at once for there are certain improvements to be made. A new dock is to be built, coke ovens erected and other changes to be made which will take some time.

CAPTURES THE CROWD.

Panton & Watson's Grand Opening Brought the People Regardless of Weather.

The announcement by Panton & Watson of a big opening at the Glass Block store always draws a big crowd whether the weather is favorable or not. So it was today. The store was well filled morning and afternoon and the great store would have been jammed to the doors had it been a warm summer day. The grand fall and winter opening, which began this morning and continues until Saturday night finds this great establishment more thoroughly equipped to supply the demands of the trade than ever. Every department is running over with bargains. The display of goods is especially noticeable, the neat, convenient and showing arrangement being apparent to everyone. Everybody is welcome and should visit this great emporium.

Political Notes.

A. T. Koerner, of Litchfield, Republican candidate for state treasurer, was in the city yesterday. He is confident of Republican success in the state this year. The Populists, he claims, are losing ground. Republican clubs are being organized all over the state and he finds the outlook bright.

The Republican club will hold its regular meeting this evening in the headquarters in The Herald building. Speeches will be delivered by L. C. Harris and T. W. Hugo.

Next week Willard J. Hull, of New York, one of the leading Populist speakers of the country, will speak in Duluth.

HIGHER WHEAT MARKET.

Wheat displayed a good deal of strength today. There were a number of bullish factors in the situation and an effort was made to boom prices on the war rumors. But cables showed no improvement in the English markets with decided weakness and decline on the continent; the fact that Liverpool was not affected caused the trade to feel that there was little excuse for getting excited here. The Duluth market opened ⅛@¼c higher than yesterday and ruled very firm and active, especially for cash. There was a big volume of business in cash, reaching about 800,000 bus. Shippers were the principal buyers, but the mills took considerable. The close was strong at ⅝c higher than yesterday, for spot stuff, ⅝c higher for December and ½c higher for May, as follows:

Gossip.

The struggle in the wheat pit started with the bulls on top. There were rumors of war in Europe, but the cables did not reflect any of the uneasiness felt here. Liverpool was quoted ½d to 1d lower, continental markets unchanged. The market opened strong at 53¾c, sold down to 52⅞c, up to 53⅝c, down to 53c, closing about 53¾c. The big bears took advantage of the scare and put out a good line of short stuff. Clearances today were heavy, aggregating 503,000 bus. Northwestern receipts continue heavy and advices say they would be much larger if the roads would furnish more cars.

Corn and oats rallied in sympathy with wheat and helped somewhat by lighter receipts at primary markets. Country holdings are still large and we expect a gradually declining market until this stuff is liquidated. Provisions lower.

It Was Opening Day.

The millinery parlors of Mrs. O. S. Humes, in the Banning block, were crowded with ladies today, it being the regular fall opening day of fall millinery and it is safe to say no finer exhibition was ever given in this city. Mrs. Humes has shown her confidence in Duluth in selecting for this seasons trade a finer and more costly line of millinery than heretofore shown here. Mrs. Humes will continue the display tomorrow and no lover of the beautiful in millinery should fail to call.

FAST TIME ON TRAINS

Tragic Manner in Which an Experimental Run Between New York and Pittsburg Was Interrupted.

A Race Down the Mountain—A Northern Pacific Story That Has Some Fun In It.

"About the most dismal failure that I can recall in the way of a special train," said one of a party of railroad men, "was started from New York about 1877, I think. At that time there was considerable speculation as to how far a train could run without stopping for coal or water. The tanks holding water in the center of the tracks had proved a great success and the matter of stopping for water had been done away with. This permitted a run of 100 miles continuously, but then came the change of engine and crews. Several of the bright young men of our road, and we had a few, put their heads together in that year and determined to try and make a continuous run from New York to Pittsburg. An extra large tender was provided, and the car next to it was loaded with coal. Gum tubing was run from the floor of the cars to the axle boxes carrying oil and other little contrivances provided to lessen the chances of a stop as much as possible. The plan was to have an engineer go to the end of the division he was familiar with, drop off, and an engineer that thoroughly knew the division they were entering to take charge. Everything passed off smoothly on the New York division, and the time made was something remarkable. As we passed through Philadelphia the weather beaten engineer left us and the new man grasped the throttle for his race against time to Harrisburg, the other terminus of the division. Out near Bryn Mawr, a suburb of Philadelphia, our special was simply shattering space. Something got wrong with the oil tube running to the axle box on one of the cars, and Charley Douglas, one of the brightest young men then in the employ of our company, grasped the handle alongside the steps, and, leaning far over, endeavored to repair the break. At the moment he was deeply engrossed over this work the train dashed around a slight curve, and the next instant poor Douglas' forehead came in contact with a milk stand alongside the track. He never knew what struck him, as his death was instantaneous. As his body rolled from the steps I pulled the bellcord, and after running a quarter of a mile the train was stopped and backed up to where the body lay. The object of the special was lost, as a stop had been made, but for the rest of the run the different engineers made records that stood for several years."

"I can recall a run made by a special train about four years ago," said a member of the group, whose road leads in and out of the Lehigh coal region, "that comes into my mind without the least trouble to my thinking apparatus. The special consisted of an engine and two cars. We had been up in the mining region inspecting the road and were returning down the hill at an easy pace. As we neared a little telegraph office stuck in the side of the mountain our engineer observed the young operator running toward him like a wild man. The engineer lost no time in pulling up to meet him and was more than frightened when he called out:

"'The strikers up the hill have sent down two loaded coal cars after you. Pull out for Siddell for your life!'

"Siddell was seven miles away and was the nearest siding, and away we flew. If the worst came, we knew we could jump and save our lives, but the engineer was true blue, and I told him to try and save the engine and the cars. And he tried. He simply pulled the throttle wide open, and after we had made a tremendous start he closed her up and we drifted down the mountain like the wind. When we started for Siddell, we had about half a mile start on those two cars, and I don't believe they gained a foot on us. I was on the point of crying out a couple of times for the engineer to reverse the lever and put on the airbrake so we could jump, as at every curve I thought we would leave the rails, but as he and his fireman stuck gamely to their post without a quiver I knew it would never do for me to weaken first. Well, we reached the siding in safety, and in about 25 seconds the two cars passed us with a rush and were caught as they stalled on a heavy up grade near the base of the mountain."

"You fellows run toward the dramatic in telling your stories," chimed in a nervous looking man of about 40 years, who was hidden behind a great cloud of cigar smoke. "Why don't you tell something funny? Listen to this one, and you will have the laugh on me. It occurred about a year ago out in the wild western country. From Butte to Helena the tracks of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific roads run side by side for miles together, each taking the same curves around the base of the same mountains and jogging along in genial companionship. About half way to Helena from Butte the Great Northern plunges into an obstructing mountain and runs through a tunnel nearly a mile long. The Northern Pacific here leaves the Great Northern, and instead of passing through a tunnel, winds about, twisting and turning, reversing itself a dozen times, until one imagines, as he stands upon the rear platform, that he sees a dozen different railroads instead of one. The grade is extremely steep. From the top of the decline one can see the track five different times, each track being from 20 to 75 feet below the one above it.

"At that time official business called me form Helena to Butte, and a special train was ordered out for my accommodation. We started all right, but soon began to lose time, and of course I became hot under the collar. Glancing out of the window I suddenly espied almost directly below—about 100 feet—another track. I remembered that the Great Northern ran parallel with the road I was now using, and that the latter's train would soon be due and place me in Butte ahead of my slow special. Without a word I pulled the bellcord, clambered off the car and made an uncomfortable climb down the 100 foot cliff. I sat down on the end of a tie and waited for my train. Fully 20 minutes passed and no train. Five minutes later I heard a whistle, and a minute later a locomotive came into view.

"I whirled my hat, and the locomotive stopped. Running forward to climb on the first car, who should confront me but the conductor I had left 25 minutes before, and then it dawned upon me I had mounted my own special again. Well, I reached Butte finally, but it cost me something like $1.40 for drinks for that train crew so as to keep the story west of the Mississippi river."—Washington Star.

THE CONFERENCE SERMON.

"Narrowness and Breadth of Paul's Teaching" Was Rev. Mr. Heard's Topic.

The conference sermon was preached at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. C. M. Heard. His subject was: "The Narrowness and the Breadth of Paul's Preaching." He took his text from I Cor. ii. 2: "For I determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ and him crucified." Mr. Heard said:

"This determination is remarkable for two things—its exclusiveness and its inclusiveness. See first what is excluded from his preaching, the persuasive words of human wisdom. Strange that Paul should thus discard the very thing which was the great object of Grecian aspiration. But Paul knew that what the Greeks wanted was not what they needed. The wisdom they preferred had proven itself a failure. It had not found God nor any remedy for the world's sin.

"The traditions of Judaism were likewise put under ban by this determination. He did not go to the extreme of dispensing with all religious ordinances but saw that the new covenant needed a new and simple trial.

The speaker then showed various ways in which parties may arise in the church and Paul's method of keeping clear of all partizan spirit.

"Notice the inclusiveness of this governing determination. It included the teaching of the law and prophets as a testimony to Jesus, the Christ. This appealing to the Hebrew Scriptures established a sense of the historical continuity of Christian thought with past history.

"It included a personal knowledge of Jesus Christ and experience of His salvation. Here he could speak as a witness and testify while teaching.

"Paul did not stop with teaching the personal example of Christ, great as this was. The earthly career of Jesus had a strange ending. It must have some profound signification. It cannot be concealed, it cannot be forgotten, that Jesus was rejected by his own people and crucified. This seemed to make against the claims in his behalf, yet Paul says 'Jesus Christ and Him crucified.' Why keep Christ forever on the gibbett? What means the cross? One short sentence explains it all, God is Love, and in that truth, fully understood, and rightly applied, then is light for all our darkness, comfort for all our sorrow, salvation from all our sins."

Those in Attendance.

Conference Notes.

The entertainment committee has its desk in the church parlors. All ministers are requested to call there and register, so that their names may be checked off or any changes in the entertainment made.

Bishop Thoburn is on the program to lead devotional exercises tomorrow evening. Word has been received, however, that he will not arrive in Duluth until Friday morning.

An immense amount of minute business was turned off this morning. Presiding Bishop Foss pushed on the wheels as much as possible and one minister said that he had seen two days taken up in other conferences with no more business than was done this morning. The great question at this session will be the division of the conference and the idea is to make as much time and room for the discussion of that matter as is possible. The ever growing population of the state —the settlement of outlying districts—the large increase in the number of fields and churches and corresponding increase in the number of ministers has rendered such a change almost imperative for the sake of convenience, and economy and expediency.

During the past year, the First M. E. church, of Duluth, gave $625 to missions. That sum was not beaten except by a couple of Minneapolis churches.

COLD AND FISHY.

It Was During a Hailstorm That the Fish Were Hit.

Colonel Harry Moore of Rocky Ridge tells a story which would make Ananias blush were it not for the fact that Mrs. Moore corroborates it. "One Sunday," Harry says, "we had a very heavy hailstorm. How it did hail, though! The hailstones were larger than peas, and they came down with a clatter that was almost deafening. Well, it was soon over, like all storms in these parts, and when the sun came out I took a walk down to the lake. When I got there, I was greatly surprised to find a large number of apparently dead fish floating around on the surface—not little ones, but good big ones, from 8 to 10 inches long. When I recovered from my surprise, I gathered up a dozen or two and took them to the house."

"Yes," chimed in Mrs. Moore, "and I cut them open to see if they were good to eat, and what do you think—they were chock full of hailstones! I think that when the hailstones started to splash on the water the trout thought they were salmon eggs and jumped for them, and when they had swallowed enough they froze stiff!"

"And," Harry then went on, "when the sun had been shining on them for a short time they thawed out and swam away again. In half an hour there was not a fish to be seen. And say," he concluded reflectively, "don't you think you Whatcom fishermen had better start out right after a hailstorm?"—Bellingham Bay Express.

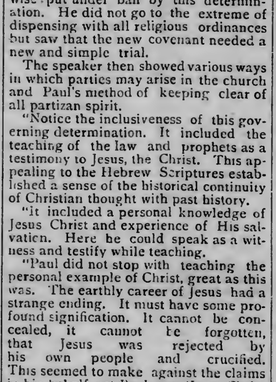

Got the Fire.

Sir Francis Johnson, chief justice of the superior court of the province of Quebec, on one of his circuits in the eastern townships during the winter, put up at a country hotel. The night was very cold, and the hotel proprietor was not extravagant in his fuel supply or in the weight of his blankets. The judge put over his bed coverings his heavy coat and other clothes. Still the wind and arctic frost became colder and colder, and sleep he found impossible. It was after midnight and no one around to make a fire. The judge arose, and, putting on his slippers and dressing gown, went into the passage and shouted with all his power, "Fire, fire, fire!" In a few seconds the whole of the hotel was aroused and each frightened one inquiring where it was. Then came the proprietor. Panting and scared, he ran for the judge and screamed out, "Where is the fire? Where is it?" The judge, with a merry twinkle in his eye, replied, "That's what I am trying to find." A good fire was at once made in the hall, and the rest of the night was passed in comfort.—San Francisco Argonaut.

How much could you save in a year if you bought the cheapest and most worthless? And how far would it go toward paying for the things ruined in a single month? You can't save anything by buying cheap washing-powders. The way to save money in washing is to use what has been proved to be absolutely safe. That is Pearline. Millions use it. 417

Story of a Libel Suit.

The Herald has been sued for libel by Tyndale Palmer, a former newspaper man of Philadelphia who wants damages to the amount of $50,000, the alleged libel consisting of a statement in a Philadelphia dispatch published two years ago which accused Palmer of robbing a Philadelphia company of over $440,000. This dispatch was received in the news report of the United Press, by which The Herald was then served with telegraphic news, and was published in good faith, as the United Press had a reputation then for trustworthiness and accuracy in the gathering of news.

The Herald had no accquaintace with Mr. Palmer, had never heard of him before, and therefore could not have been actuated by malice or any desire to misrepresent or injure him. Later The Herald received a letter from Mr. Palmer denying the charge contained in the dispatch and suggesting that suitable reparation be made by a cash settlement. The Herald declined to pay anything in settlement, but it promptly published a statement of the facts in the case, together with Mr. Palmer's denial, and asked that all readers who might have been prejudiced against him by the original publication should restore him to the place which he formerly occupied in their regard.

The Herald could do no more than this, and it is satisfied that Mr. Palmer could have suffered no pecuniary loss by the publication of the story in this paper. He has brought suits for damages against numerous papers throughout the country, and it he could collect $50,000 from each he would quickly become a millionaire. In view of all the circumstances, however, The Herald does not fear that it will be compelled to contribute towards placing Mr. Palmer in the millionaire class.

The Shadow of War.

There are indications that a rupture is imminent in the peaceable relations which have existed between France and Great Britain for many years. Already there are a few war clouds gathering in the sky, and the situation is assuming a serious aspect. There are several causes for the trouble which has arisen, but the main cause is French aggression in Madagascar. France has ordered a blockade of that island and this has precipitated a crisis which may possibly result in war.

Of course a war between Great Britain and France is not probable, but yet it is possible, as John Bull is stubborn and obstinate when he takes a stand upon any question and the French people are excitable and easily irritated. Lord Rosebery is also a greatly different man from Mr. Gladstone, so far as his foreign policy is concerned. There is something of the "jingo" spirit in his composition, and he will not be ready like Mr. Gladstone to yield any British rights merely for the sake of preserving peace. Then again, a war might be the salvation of the Rosebery ministry. A general election must soon be held and the prospects of Liberal success are not very bright. With a popular war on its hands, Lord Rosebery's government would stand a far better show of victory at the polls. Whether this fact will cut any figure in dealing with France remains to be seen.

It is claimed that at least one-seventh of the land in Madagascar is controlled by British capital, although France has been exercising since 1885 a nominal protectorate over the island. Recently the French policy has been more aggressive, and there are indications that France intends to make the island a French colony. The Hovas, as the natives are called, have never been content under Gallic rule. During the spring and summer, numerous outbreaks occurred making the position of the French insecure. This led to a demand for the inauguration of "reforms," which the queen was either powerless or unwilling to institute, and the situation finally became so intolerable by reason of new aggressions that France decided to dispatch a powerful expedition to Madagascar and assume an effectual protectorate. This is proving a difficult task. At present the actual control of the European power does not extend very far beyond Tamatave, the chief port. The island has an area of 228,000 square miles, and 3,500,000 inhabitants. It would require a large force to subdue them, as, thanks to the enterprise of traders, many natives possess firearms of the latest pattern. The difficulty of campaigning is increased by the mountainous character of the country and the absence of anything like roads.

The report that France has now declared a blockade of the island has aroused Great Britain to the necessity of instant action, and a cabinet council has been hastily summoned for tomorrow to discuss the question. The French cabinet will meet on the same day. The British government will undoubtedly protest against the annexation of the island by France. Upon the answer of France to this protest much will depend.

Better Mail Facilities.

The Superior Telegram draws attention to a subject that should receive early consideration by the commercial bodies of Duluth and Superior—the necessity of better mail facilities between the two cities. This is a matter of great importance and in view of the poor service now afforded it is strange that it has not earlier received the attention of the commercial bodies on both sides of the bay, so that pressure might be brought to bear upon the postoffice department and an improvement in the existing service secured.

The Telegram says: "It is not necessary to enumerate the deficiencies in the present arrangement; they are all well known to every business man. The lack is probably not in the local offices, but is due to the failure of the general government to provide for the frequent transportation of the mail between the several postoffices at the head of the lakes. The train service is wholly inadequate to the pressing needs of business and often results in placing hundreds of miles distance between the two cities as far as mail is concerned. The Evening Telegram would respectfully suggest that the inter—and in trabburban street car service be availed of to improve the mail service. This has been done in Minneapolis and elsewhere with good results; why not here?"

This is an excellent suggestion. The Herald believes that if it was properly presented to the postmaster-general, accompanied by the recommendation of all the Duluth and Superior commercial bodies and supported by all the influence which they could secure, the desired improvement in the service would speedily be ordered.

The Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress has been called to meet again in St. Louis on Nov. 26. In the circular issued by the secretary a list of subjects likely to be discussed is given. They include the remonetization of silver, irrigation of arid and other lands, the disposition of Indian and public lands, the Nicaragua canal, a national bankrupt law, the improvement of Western rivers and harbors, anti-option legislation, mining laws, admission of territories to statehood. There are some subjects in this list the discussion of which had better be left untouched. But what good will be accomplished by the holding of the congress and the proposed discussion?

Out of 75,000 men who constitute the British army in India 30,000 are total abstainers. A few years since scarcely a single abstainer could have been found in the great dependency. The abstainers are reported to show one-tenth of the crime and one-half the ill health of the drinkers, and the English war office is considering the feasibility of forcing total abstinence on the whole army.

The following amendment to the constitution of the state of Illinois will be submitted to the voters of the state at a general election in November: "The general assembly shall have power, and it shall be its duty to enact and provide for the enforcement of all laws that it shall deem necessary to regulate and control contracts, conditions and relations existing and arising from time to time between corporations and their employes." It is expected that upon the adoption of this amendment effective legislation can be enacted for the protection of wage workers.

The Methodist Conference,

The Minnesota conference of the Methodist Episcopal church began its annual session in Duluth this morning. There are a large number of delegates present, and the gathering will undoubtedly be of great interest. Several important questions are to be discussed, one of which is the division of the conference as at present constituted. The growth of the church in Minnesota has been very great since the conference was first organized and many are of opinion that the body is now too large and unwieldly and should be cut in two, the division line being between the cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis. The opponents of this idea are able, however, to advance strong arguments against it, and the decision of the conference is doubtful.

The people of Duluth are glad to welcome the delegates to the city and trust that they will find their stay here both pleasant and profitable. The weather today is not up to the standard here, but the indications are that tomorrow will provide sunshine and warmth.

The Portland, Ore., council has passed a license-tax ordinance which is causing a loud howl on the part of the citizens. All occupations, from physicians and architects down to scavengers and hotel runners, are taxed. Here are samples of the taxes: Daily newspapers $10 per quarter; physicians and dentists, $2.50 per quarter; undertakers, $5 per quarter; fish markets, $2.50 per quarter; laundries, $25 and $10 according to power used; veterinary surgeons, $4; real estate dealers, first class $15, and second class, $7.50.

A Duluth "fake news" originator is again repeating the old story that the Fosston-Duluth branch of the Great Northern road is to be built during the coming winter, although President Hill said a week ago that the story was "all rot." The Herald is in a position to say that the report is no more true now than it was before Mr. Hill denied it. The Fosston branch will not be built this winter.

The St. Louis Star-Sayings says that both Wisconsin and Minnesota have secretly sent commissions to ascertain if there is any truth in the charge that the lumber kings fired the forests last month. All of which is untrue. No such secret commissions are at work because no one places any credence in the absurd story that the "lumber kings" destroyed their own property.

The London Times publishes an article from which it appears that one of the prime results of the recent English navy maneuvers was to demonstrate that torpedo-boats are almost useless. As England now has 136 torpedo boats, the results of the maneuvers are decidedly serious.

Gross Carelessness.

St. Paul Globe: A special to an evening paper from Virginia, Minn., conveys the remarkable statement of fact that "thick ice was frozen last night." Well, if people are so deucedly careless as to leave their thick ice out nights at this season, they needn't go sniveling to a news-gatherer about it, trying to excite the sympathy of the world for their loss.

Will Run Independent.

St. Paul Globe: Hon. J. M. Markham, of Aitkin, has announced himself an independent candidate for the lower house of the legislature in the Fifty-third district. The Brainerd Tribune, in speaking of this, says: "The Republican legislative convention for the Fifty-third district had hardly adjourned before Jo Markham shied his beaver into the arena and declared himself an independent candidate for the house. There's going to be some fun in the Fifty-third district."

The Penalty of Heroism.

Professor Swing's Condition.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—The condition of Professor David Swing was unchanged today. The professor has not regained consciousness since Monday and his physicians have small hopes of his recovery.

From Different Points of View.

The fight it is on, you truly may say,
As you walk through our streets any hour of the day;
On every corner, in street or in alley,
Curbstone politicians now daily do rally.

The Republicans tell how wisely and well
They have ruled, for the past thirty years.
And if now we reject, or fail to elect
Them, we'll rue it, in sorrow and tears.

The G. O. P. club, you'd think 'twas the hub
Around which the whole world did revolve;
The fate of the country rests in their hands,
And the financial question they'll solve.

The Democrats all, have still got their gall,
On November the sixth they will vote Democratic.

The Populists too, make quite an ado,
And they tell how the country they'll save
From trusts and combines, and all that entwines
'Round the poor man and makes him their slave.

When they get into power, in that very same hour
Corporations will feel such a spasm;
That vainly they'll try their wealth to apply,
In hopes they may bridge o'er the chasm.

The government then, with a stroke of the pen,
Whole millions of dollars will make;
And the poor of the land, will just reach out their hand
The much needed money to take.

They tell of the ruin that's come on our land
Since Grover the helm has taken in hand;
And how Carlisle and Gresham, and Lochren and Hill,
Have helped one another their coffers to fill.

If true why what then? they have done nothing more
For many a year, yes, more than a score,
There's been millionaires made by robbing the poor.

And so will it be, for aught we can see,
Till politics are from corruption made free;
So sink party feeling, and cast in your vote,

—GLEN AVON.

Two Thousand Majority.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: The Duluth Democratic club, numbering 300 members, at a meeting Thursday night, passed resolutions condemning Maj. Baldwin and then adjourned for a year. This is only one expression of the very general dissatisfaction existing in St. Louis county against the present inefficient congressman. Mr. Towne will have not less than 2000 majority in that county over both Baldwin and Halversen.

Hamlet's Soliloquy Revised.

New York Evening Sun: To run or not to run?
That's the question.
Or hang on to what I've got.
To run, to win—perchance to lose!
Aye, there's the rub!
For in that storm of votes what gales may blow!
Maybe a fav'ring wind to vict'ry's harbor;
Perhaps an avalanche to bury one.
And if the latter, then farewell—
A long farewell to dreams of greatness.
Whereas now
There's always a chance
That I may get there
Later, if not sooner.
To run, to win—it's temptin',
But, then, to lose,
No, siree, Bob;
Not for Joe!
Guess not!
Guess,
Eh?
Nominated?
Who? Me?
Great Scott!
Gee whiz!
Will I take it?
Would a duck swim?
Where's my speech?
Gimme my hat!
Now, altogether!
Hooray!!!

A Brilliant Play.

Louisville Times: It is by no means certain that New York will hold the balance of power in 1896, or that Mr. Hill, or even Governor Hill, will at that time hold New York. But, whatever the outcome, Mr. Hill has just made the most brilliant play in his audacious game of politics.

Since he took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the Greatest Medicine on Earth. My boy had Catarrh in the Head so badly he lost his hearing, and medical treatment failed to help him. Then I was advised to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before he had taken all of one bottle, he began to break out with boils all over his back and neck. They were not very large, but they discharged freely. Slowly his hearing began to come back and by the time the third bottle had been taken, the boils had all disappeared and his skin was as clear as a baby's where as before it was dull and yellow and dark under the eyes. MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of that certain mortgage, made, executed and delivered by George W. Drake, as mortgagor, to Nelson P. Griswold, mortgagee, bearing date the 6th day of October, 1892, filed for record in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 21st day of October, 1892, at 8 o'clock a. m., and recorded therein in Book 92, of mortgages, on page 153, conveying and mortgaging the following described premises, situated in said county of St. Louis, to-wit: Lots one and two in block one in Kenwood Park Addition to Duluth, according to the plat of said addition on file and of record in said register's office, and given to secure two promissory notes of said Drake for $125 each, in said mortgage described, which said mortgage and notes were duly assigned by said Nelson P. Griswold to Abram Erb by written assignment thereof duly made, executed and delivered by said Griswold, of date November 25th, 1892, and filed for record in said register's office on the 26th day of November, 1892, and recorded therein in Book 97 of mortgages on page 331, by failure to pay one of said notes falling due October 6th, 1893, and the interest on both of said notes falling due on said 6th day of October, 1893, and on the 6th day of April, 1894; and whereas there is claimed to be due upon said mortgage indebtedness at the date of this notice the sum of one hundred forty-eight and 50-100 dollars ($148.50) of the amount owing on said notes, and because of such default, and each of them, the power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded became operative and no action at law or in equity having been instituted to recover said mortgage debt or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of said power of sale and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the mortgaged premises above described which sale will be made by the sheriff of said county of St. Louis, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Duluth, in said county, at public auction to the highest bidder for cash on Monday, the 5th day of October, 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m., to pay said indebtedness, together with the costs and disbursements of said foreclosure, as allowed by law, including an attorney's fee of twenty-five dollars as allowed by law and by said mortgage, in case of foreclosure, subject to redemption at any time within one year from date of sale as provided by law.

AMUSEMENTS.

Potter and Bellew.

Since the return of Mrs. Potter and Mr. Bellew from the Indies, they have been greeted with exceptional kindness by both the public and the critics. Mrs. Potter, in particular, has received praise without stint for the marked improvement she has shown in her acting. They arrived in this country about two months ago, and opened in San Francisco. Their business since then has been remarkably large, considering the bad condition of affairs, and goes to show that the public are accepting Mrs. Potter as one of the leading actresses of the day. Mr. Bellew has also come in for a good share of praise, which is nothing strange, owing to the fact that he has for many years been considered as one of the best actors in his line of business. The two stars are said to be accompanied by a very excellent company during their present tour, and are presenting a particularly strong repertoire of popular plays.

Tonight they will appear at the Temple in "In Society" by Dumas.

"The World."

"The World," that will be presented at Temple tomorrow evening is indisputably one of the most remarkable efforts at stage realism ever produced in this country. The drama in itself is an excellent one and the company, from the cast announced, is sure to be a strong one. Mr. Emery is well known as an artist of rare ability and the title role could not be in better hands. The wonderful scenic effects introduced are alone a feature that will make the play a favorite for years to come.

List of Grand Jurors.

The list of grand jurors summoned to appear at Duluth, Oct. 9, for the term of the United States district court is as follows:

CONFERENCE OPENING

Methodist Ministers Began Their Fortieth Annual Session at the First M. E. Church This Morning.

Conference Sermon This Afternoon by Rev. C. M. Heard—Nomination of Standing Committees.

The fortieth annual session of the Minnesota annual conference opened at the First M. E. church at 9 o'clock this morning. Last evening and early this morning the delegates came pouring into the city, so that nearly all were on the ground for their week's work when the formal opening was made.

Rev. Cyrus Foss, D.D., LL.D., presiding bishop of the conference, was early in his seat. At 8:55 o'clock Mrs. Thoburn rendered an organ voluntary. Promptly on the minute, at 9 o'clock, Bishop Foss arose and said that the conference would be opened with the singing of the hymn used since the time of the Wesleys, No. 798.

"And are we yet alive,
And see each other's face?
Glory and praise to Jesus give,
For his redeeming grace.
Preserved by power divine
To full salvation here,
Again in Jesus praise we join,
And in his sight appear."

Not far from 250 delegates and visitors, and fine looking congregation it was, joined in the hymn, after which Bishop Foss read a chapter of Isaiah. As a scripture reading from the New Testament, the closing words in the Gospel of St. Mark were presented. The bishops followed the scripture readings with a most fervent and impressive prayer. At the close all joined in repeating the Lord's prayer.

"I invite all the presiding elders present and the pastor of this church to come inside the railing and assist me in the administration of the holy sacrament," said President Foss.

The holy sacrament was then administered to the congregation according to the custom and forms of the M. E. church.

The Opening Address.

Bishop Foss then in a few brief words delivered his opening address to the conference. He spoke of the marvelous growth of the church in Minnesota. Duluth's great prosperity and standing of today was contrasted with the Indian trading post of yesterday. The strength of the local church was also touched upon.

"We certainly are in a pivotal period of civilization," said the bishop. "I hope the time has not come when liberty must be abridged in the interest of order. I very much doubt if God has raised up any power that has the influence for a pure and free ballot as the Methodist church. I believe that is true, that in our beloved church rests the power for evangelizing the masses. Universal suffrage depends on putting the Bible and the principles of Christianity into the hands and hearts of the masses."

The brethren were asked to pray in closets and at their family altars that the Holy Spirit might come down upon the conference in its deliberations.

H. C. Jennings, secretary of the conference, was called forward and the roll called.

Mr. Jennings was re-elected secretary. For his assistants, T. M. Rule, J. B. Hingely, W. S. Cochran and E. C. Clemens were chosen. R. R. Atchison was elected statistical secretary and R. N. Joscelyn conference treasurer with several assistants.

The committee on public worship reported that it had seemed best to have the conference sermon by Dr. C. M. Heard at 4 p. m. today. That was agreed to.

It was next voted to follow "minute business" until 11 o'clock a. m., each day and after that hour, open the conference to miscellaneous business. It was also agreed to have a devotional service each morning at 8:30, and to spend from 9 to 12 o'clock in the transaction of regular conference business.

T. H. Sheckler, from the North Dakota conference, who has entered the Minnesota conference, was formally presented to the brethren.

Reading of Reports.

A whole lot of time was spent in hearing reports from the different charges on missionary collections for the year. A very dry proceeding was enlivened by Rev. William Copp. He reported that his church at Jackson raised a mission collection of 32 cents. He had given that to the wornout preachers' fund.

A brother laughingly wanted to know why Brother Copp had given money to one purpose when it had been donated for another.

"I'll tell you," replied he, "if the conference will allow me."

An exception was made and Mr. Copp given the floor. He is an old gentleman with venerable locks, short reddish white beard and a vigor and activity that surprises one who beholds his form bent with age.

"I've preached for forty-three years in four conferences," said Rev. Mr. Copp, "and for the first time, my report is a blank. Three years ago, I was sent to Jackson. In that time I have received $840. I do not complain and ask no favors of this conference. I have a grandson 4 years old. When you send another man to Jackson, send him there with a fat roll of home missionary money. If the brother who has called me to account knows of a harder charge than Jackson, let him ask the bishop to send me there and I'll go. I'll go anywhere except Duluth or St. Paul. I have a bullet wound through one lung, fourteen inches long, which I received at Pittsburg landing and I cannot climb these everlasting hills, but I can do fairly well on the level."

"Now, if the brother wishes, I'm prepared to pay that 32 cents into the mission fund, and I'll pay it with a half dollar."

Mr. Copp pulled the half dollar out of his pocket and shook it under the humorously critical brothers nose, while the conference laughed its appreciation of the old veteran's remarks.

Arrangements were made for the trial of several members of the conference who have violated the discipline in several ways, counsel for defense and prosecution and select committees to act as jurors being appointed.

This Afternoon's Session.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the various committees held their meetings. At 2:30 o'clock, the Woman's Home Missionary society anniversary was held, Mrs. Helen M. Evans presiding, and addresses being made by Mrs. E. N. Wolever and Mrs. Evans.

At 4 o'clock Dr. C. M. Heard took the time originally set for devotional services and preached the conference sermon that was to have been given at 9 o'clock this morning.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock the educational anniversary will be held. Rev. George H. Bridgeman will preside and addresses will be made by Rev. S. N. McAdoo, Rev. E. P. Robertson, and Rev. H. H. French.

Tomorrow the following program may be looked for:

IT IS DENIED.

Bishop McGolrick Says There is No Truth in the Removal Story.

Bishop McGolrick denies the report from St. Paul published in last evening's Herald that he is to go to St. Paul as coadjutor to Archbishop Ireland, Father Keane, of Minneapolis, to succeed him here and Bishop Marty, of Sioux Falls, to take the St. Cloud diocese, Father Cleary taking the Sioux Falls bishopric. He classes the story as a fabrication so far as it affected himself and thought it was in respect to the others also. It is possible that Bishop Marty will take the St. Cloud diocese, he said, although he knew nothing about it.

Archbishop Ireland denied the whole story in St. Paul last night.

Charged With Bastardy.

Otto Miller, a young man 22 years of age was brought before Judge Powell this morning and confronted with a charge of bastardy. The complainant is Mary Bernhardt, 17 years of age, residing at No. 632 East Tenth street. His examination was fixed for Oct. 5 at 10 a. m. Bail in the sum of $150 was required and was furnished.

Jack Anderson and J. H. Matson for drunkenness received sentences of ten days each. Ed Erickson begged off. Albert Arnsen and William Ready accused of being disorderly also got off with suspended sentences.

One Crew Laid Off.

One of the crews sent out some time ago to survey the line of the Altamonte Water company's canal was discharged yesterday and their line was abandoned. They had run a line from Cloquet to Stony Brook on the St. Louis river, seventeen miles on the east side. They were informed yesterday that they would be no longer needed much to their surprise, as they had assurances of three months work. This does not necessarily mean the abandonment of the Altamonte's plans, as they still have a crew working on the west side of the river.

THE FRITZE DIVORCE.

Each Gets Half the Property, the Hermantown Road Being Made the Dividing Line.

Yesterday afternoon Wilhelmina Fritze's suit for divorce against William F. Fritze came up before Judge Ensign. There was no appearance on the part of William, he having decided to allow the divorce to go by default. Judge Ensign took the case under advisement and this morning filed his findings. He finds that William has undoubtedly been guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment of Mrs. Fritze, and he accorningly grants her a decree of divorce, together with the custody of the children.

The original division of their real property by the Hermantown road, made temporarily to ensure harmony, is preserved, and the other property, consisting principally of a swarm of bees, is to be equally divided.

This morning Judges Ensign and Moer were occupied with lien cases. Judge Lewis was still hearing the case of M. F. Bates against the Standard Ore company, which was nearly done.

Judgment has been rendered for the defendant in the case of N. H. Murray against James A. Ross. Judgment for plaintiffs was rendered in the case of M. M. Dye et al against N. F. Johnson et al and O. E. Everett against E. F. Nead et al.

Following is the call for the remainder of the week, including today's sitting, will not be finished.

Assigned the Judgment.

Leonidas Merritt has assigned his judgment of $12,530 against the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company to A. A. Harris & Son, his attorneys.

Fred Engle has sued John Roswell, et al, for a lien claim of $62 for labor.

MAKES AN EXPLANATION.

Morris Thomas Has Something to Say of Some Statements Against Him.

A good many politicians especially among the Populists are trying to make political capital against Morris Thomas on the ground that he once asserted in the council that "$1 a day was enough for any working man." Mr. Thomas was asked about this today and said in explanation:

"I have been grossly misrepresented regarding this affair and by people who fully understood my position. It came up at the time the council was considering the appropriation of $13,000 for rock work to give employment to those people who were unable to provide themselves with the necessities of life. The council had considered giving free meals but thought the other plan the best.

"When it had been decided upon, Alderman Cox introduced a motion fixing $1.50 for 8-hours work as the wages to be paid. I asked that it be amended making it $1 for a regular day's work. I argued that the $13,000 was a donation made to keep as many people in food as possible. I urged that if we could hire 300 men at $1 a day it would be better than 200 at $1.50 a day. Furthermore, I told them that if they made the scale $1.50, men would flock in from outside, leaving steady jobs to get the higher wages, and the result bore me out in that statement. The wages were fixed at $1.25 and four of my men left good places to come into town and work.

"I am in favor of giving the laboring man as high wages as possible, but at that time I recognized a fact which many did not seem to consider—that the $13,000 had to be made to go as far as possible. I employ 200 or 300 men all winter and always pay as high wages as any lumberman at the head of the lakes, and I pay my men when they get through, borrowing the money if I have not got it. Ask any of my men whether I do not use them well.

"Another fact I might mention to show that I had the right idea is that the mines up north were only paying from 80 cents to $1 and the county was paying men on the roads $1. If we had paid $1.50 the town would have been flooded with outside labor."

Paupers Sent Away.

The county poor superintendent has sent the following paupers away: Gust Bavala, Finland, Mrs. J. Bolne, Sweden, John Skonover, West Virginia. The latter will probably never forget his experience in Duluth. Last winter he was frozen in the woods, and was taken to St. Mary's hospital. He arrived there in time to take the smallpox, and was removed to the emergency hospital. When he recovered from the smallpox he was taken with rheumatism, which was followed by a lot of abcesses. He was released from the emergency hospital yesterday.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE WAR SCARE

Meeting of British Cabinet Was to Consider the Protection of British Residents in China.

China Has Asked England, France and Russia to Send Vessels to Protect Their Interests.

The French Cabinet Also Had a Meeting Today, But Nothing of Great Importance Done.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The English newspapers have apparently recovered from the bad scare caused some of them, by the hasty calling of a cabinet council. Yesterday the afternoon newspapers were seriously apprehensive of war with France. Now they are unanimous in expressing the opinion that there is not the slightest cause of anxiety as to a serious dispute with France, and it seems to be admitted that the cabinet council which meets today will not be called upon to decide anything more serious than the protection of British interests in China.

The cabinet council met today. Most of the ministers were present. Sir William Harcourt, chancellor of the exchequer, was absent. The meeting lasted from noon until 1:30 p. m. It is understood that a perfect agreement was reached respecting the plans submitted for the protection of British residents in China.

It is announced upon authority that the cabinet council after discussing the state of affairs in China decided to send troops to that country in order to protect British interests. It is also probable that additional ships will be sent to strengthen the fleet in Chinese waters under the command of Admiral Fremantle.

It is also said that in consequence of today's meeting of the cabinet the British legation at Pekin will shortly be guarded by British bluejackets and native Indian soldiers.

A Berlin dispatch says: The Frankfort Zeitung says that the Chinese minister in London has proposed to the British government that Russia, Great Britain and France dispatch troops to the treaty ports of China in order to protect the interests of foreigners residing there. The minister is also said to have assured the government of Great Britain that China would raise no objection to the dispatch of troops.

THE FRENCH CABINET.

The Ministers Decided to Prosecute an Offensive Newspaper.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The French cabinet met today. The ministers decided to prosecute the Parti Ouvrier, which newspaper recently published an article upon the French army maneuvers which is regarded as insulting to the French army.

President Casimir-Perier has signed the decree appointing Baron deCourcel French ambassador to London in succession to M. deCrais, who has been recalled.

The Journal Des Debats, referring to the war scare in England, says that there is no question between Great Britain and France which cannot be settled amicably.

The Soliel declares that Madagascar cannot lead to a conflict between France and Great Britain.

The Manintu says it is absurd to suppose that a dispute in regard to African affairs with France was the reason for summoning the English cabinet council.

NOT THE LUMBER KINGS.

President Littlejohn Says That His Remarks Were Misquoted.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—President W. J. Littlejohn, of the Underwriters association of the Northwest, who, in a recent speech before that organization, charged that the forest fires were started by lumber dealers to cover their stealings, said today that the insurance men of the country have decided to take active measures to prevent a recurrence of such fires.

"The insurance men," said Mr. Littlejohn, "are collecting evidence which will be submitted to the Minnesota commission now engaged in investigation of the fires. When the Minnesota legislature convenes an effort will be made to secure the enactment of stringent laws prohibiting the firing of undergrowth and stumpage. We have not yet been able to make explicit charges against any one, but enough evidence has been received to convince me that my surmises were correct.

"I have been misquoted as charging the forest fires to lumber 'kings.' What I said was that lumber 'pirates' were responsible. Many of the so-called lumber 'kings' are now interested in these investigations and are as anxious as the insurance men that the fires should be stopped. The timber pirates may have been extensive dealers in lumber and they may have been insignificant firms, but whether large or small financially they are responsible for the awful havoc that followed the fires and should be brought to justice."

Officeholders Are Assessed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The Chronicle says that all federal employes in San Francisco have received a circular letter from the Democratic campaign committee, stating that as officeholders they are presumed to desire the perpetuation of the present administration and, that the Democratic ticket may be successful, each officeholder is requested to contribute 2 per cent of his yearly salary to the funds of the party.

INVERESTING RUINS FOUND.

An Ancient and Deserted Village Discovered in Mexico.

OAXACA, Mex., Oct. 4.—Antonio Cerevas, a noted scientist, has just reached here from the state of Tabasco, where he has discovered some of the most wonderful and interesting ruins yet found in Mexico, while exploring a wild and wooded district in the valley of San Pedro river.

In that state he came upon an ancient, deserted village, which is surrounded by eighteen pyramids. These pyramids are thirty metres high and are constructed of brick and stone.

A SCARE CAUSED AT NINGPO.

Five Japanese Warships Lying Off the Chusan Islands.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—A dispatch received from Shanghai says that native vessels arriving at that place from Ningpo report that five Japanese warships are lying off the Chusan islands from Ningpo. The warships have no transports with them. The presence of the Japanese ships near Ningpo has caused a scare at the last mentioned port, as the few Chinese warships on the coast are obsolete and almost worthless.

The Japanese government has decided upon raising a foreign loan, the amount of which is not yet known.

She May Have to Wait.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Herman Oelrichs may be compelled to wait some time for the $1,500,000 legacy to receive and receipt for which she came here from New York two days ago. The delay in the payment of her share in the $4,000,000 estate left by her mother, Mrs. Theresa Fair, is due to the fight now being made in the courts by Charles I. Fair, the surviving son. He claims the legacy of his dead brother James.

Four Persons Injured.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Scotch express, en route to London, collided with a freight train near North Hallerton today. Three passenger cars were derailed and four persons slightly injured. Baron Tweedmouth, Baron Hindlip and Postmaster General Arnold Morley, who were passengers on the train, were shaken up by the collision but all were unhurt.

AID IS NEEDED

Governor Nelson Has Appointed a State Commission to Receive and the Disburse the Relief Contributions.

Dr. James Walter Heustis, of Duluth, Was Married to Miss Bertha Lincoln at Washington.

George D. Holt, of Minneapolis, Will Have Charge of the State Relief Work at Hinckley.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 4.—J. J. Furlong and John French, the committee that has been soliciting aid for the cyclone sufferers, went to Minneapolis yesterday and had a conference with C. A. Pillsbury and members of the local fire relief committee there. The great need of the people, they say, is lumber to build houses for the winter. Enough has been secured to begin the work, but a large amount additional will be required, as about 100 buildings were destroyed.

Secretary H. H. Hart, of the relief commission, was in the city yesterday attending the meeting for discussion of measures for protection against forest fires, and he said that orders were out for the construction of 150 houses at Hinckley and the work of building will progress as fast as the lumber can be received. The state relief commission's total cash receipts thus far are $49,049.10.

Governor Nelson has appointed a state commission to receive and disburse contributions for the relief of the sufferers by the recent cyclone in Mower and Fillmore counties. The members are P. H. Kelly, St. Paul; Harvey W. Brown, Minneapolis; H. W. Lamberton, Winona; John Frank, Le Roy, and C. L. West, Austin.

DECIDED BY JUDGE OTIS.

An Important Decision in a Case Involving Commercial Law.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 4.—A case relating to commercial law, and one of the greatest interest to attorneys, has just been decided in the district court by Judge Otis. The case is entitled the National German American bank of St. Paul against the Illinois Fuel company, A. G. Postlethwaite and W. J. Footner, and came before the court on a motion of the plaintiff that the answers of the defendant be stricken out, the motion being denied.

The Illinois Fuel company gave a note for $36,000 to the bank and this note was indorsed by Mr. Ives, president of the company, and the two individual defendants. It is the case of a promissory note made by a corporation, providing in terms practically as follows: "For value received we promise to pay," etc., signed by the corporation at the end thereof, and indorsed before delivery for the purpose of giving credit to it by three of the defendants.

The note is held to be the joint (and not the joint and several) promissory note of the corporation and the persons so writing their names on the back of the note. It is held that a suit brought against the corporation without making the indorsers parties thereto, and judgment entered in such case against such corporation, is a bar to an action afterwards brought against the indorsers.

A Duluthian's Marriage.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The marriage of Dr. James Walter Heustis, of Duluth, to Miss Bertha Danna P. Lincoln, daughter of Col. C. P. The church was crowded with friends of the happy couple. Miss Grace Bryan, of Chicago, was maid of honor and the best man was Walter Dugan, of Boston. After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Heustis left for their future home in Duluth.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 4.—The official circular announcing the appointment of John Scott as comptroller to the receivers of the Northern Pacific Railway company was received here yesterday. This is the first official information received in this city of the recent changes made by the receivers of that company. No mention is made of the proposed removal of the executive offices in New York city to this city, Gone to Hinckley.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 4.—George D. Holt, formerly secretary of the Associated Charities, has gone to Hinckley, where he will have charge of the relief work of the state commission. He goes at the request of C. A. Pillsbury, and it is likely his work in the burned district will continue into the winter months. He will also have charge of relief work among the refugees at Duluth.

Corwin, for three years past superintendent of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois with headquarters at Danville, has resigned to take the superintendency of the Cascade division of the Great Northern. He will be stationed at Spokane. His connection with the Eastern Illinois will cease on Friday of this week.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Gen. F. G. Winston, minister to Persia during President Cleveland's first administration and at present a park commissioner under Governor Altgeld, announces that he will not support the Democratic congressional and legislative tickets at the coming election.

Gen. Winston says: "I am opposed to the further agitation of the tariff question by congress, and I am bitterly hostile to the legislation already adopted, especially the income tax law."

It is announced today that Judge Lyman Trumbull is in sympathy with the Populist party and will deliver an address at one of its mass meetings in Central Music hall next Saturday night. Judge Trumbull has long been regarded as a staunch Democrat.

HILL IN GOOD SPIRITS.

Declines to Say Whether Judge Gaynor Will Run for Governor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Senator Hill was in good spirits when he met an Associated Press reporter in Democratic headquarters today. He predicted the success of his party at the November election and intimated that he was prepared to do his utmost to bring about that result.

"I always get in my hardest work on the home stretch," he said. Replying to a rumor that he would make way for Judge Gaynor, at the head of the state ticket, he said with a smile and a deprecatory wave of the hand: "I must be excused if I decline to say anything on that subject."

Nor would he say whether or not he had seen Mr. Gaynor or any representative of that gentleman yesterday.

To Kill the Sultan.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The Journal today publishes a dispatch from Marseilles saying that a plea was discovered early in September to assassinate the sultan of Turkey, but the affair was kept quiet.

Had Been There Before.

In police court before Judge Winje, this morning, E. C. Coleman and E. Corey, the two West End boys who were arrested for breaking into a St. Paul & Duluth grain car, were given their preliminary examination.

"Were you ever arrested before?" asked Judge Winje of Coleman.

"Yes."

"What for."

"For telling my teacher she was full of prunes."

Both boys were held to the grand jury with bail fixed at $100 each.

Mike McDonough, charged with burglarizing the Lepine residence, was held to the grand jury and placed under bonds in the sum of $300. He was committed.

Six More Captured.

Special Agent Murphy, of the St. Paul & Duluth, seems to be a dandy at catching juvenile wheat thieves. This morning he arrested six more boys for stealing wheat from St. Paul & Duluth cars. Their names were: Victor Swanson, Daniel and Gust Siegeman, Adolph Johnson, Carl Swanson and Hjalmar Blaaker. They were to be arraigned this afternoon.

THE MONEY QUESTION

The Ohio Democratic State Executive Committee Says That it is Now the Supreme Issue.

Tariff Reform Has Won and Now the Great Financial Question Remains to be Decided.

A Lengthy Address Issued, Which is Supposed to Have Been Prepared by Allan W. Thurman.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 4.—The Democratic state executive committee today, of which A. W. Thurman is president and W. A. Taylor secretary, issued an address to the voters of Ohio to the effect that tariff reform has won and that the money question is now the supreme issue before the country. The address contains about 3400 words and is understood to have been prepared by Mr. Thurman. It says among other things:

First. That money is the standard by which the exchangeable value of all labor and the products of the same are determined.

Second. That no money standard ever has been nor even can be a fixed and unvarying measure.

Third. Business men must remember that money may be appreciated in value as well as depreciated.

Fourth. That when it appreciates, prices fall. When it depreciates, prices rise.

Fifth. That the value of money itself is fixed by its exchangeable or purchasing power over other commodities, and this purchasing power of money is determined wholly and solely by the proportion that the quantity of money in circulation bears to other commodities.

Sixth. Now, what is the demand for money? It is the demand of all things upon this one thing.

Seventh. Now, what is the supply? The supply is the creation solely of the government, as nothing is money until the stamp of the government is placed upon it.

Prior to the demonetization of silver in 1873, gold and silver were the standard money. Since then it has been gold. The supply was cut in two. Could any result other than the continuous fall in prices we have experienced for twenty years follow the adoption of this policy? All business men have been looking for the cause of this continual decline.

All sorts of insufficient and contradictory causes are assigned. It is going on. It is affecting all industries in the gold standard countries. It has been going on progressively for a series of years. It does not and cannot arise from local, temporary or subordinate causes. It must have its origin and development in some principle or universal application.

In silver countries prices have remained stable. In gold countries prices have fallen from 40 to 50 per cent. Silver is the standard of value of more than half of the world. The general decline in prices has been brought about by the shrinkage in the volume of money relative to population and business. If the value of money in circulation be made to bear a direct and steady ration to population and business, prices will be maintained at a steady level and that it is of supreme importance, money will change but little in value.

Eighth. Every money commission which has been appointed by different governments, has said that beyond any doubt during the last twenty years gold has continually and steadily appreciated in value; and that this appreciation has been the real cause of the tremendous fall in prices which has taken place in all values, the great financial disturbances we have seen in all gold using countries.

Ninth. Affirms the eighth as true.

Tenth. That there has been no overproduction of silver; because, for 400 years prior to 1873, the relative production of gold and silver was not quite fifteen of silver to one of gold, and for the twenty years since 1873, it has not exceeded 16 to 1.

Eleventh. That the free coinage of silver does not mean any sudden inflation and sudden disturbance of values. This is so, because it is an utter impossibility to produce the precious metals faster than they can be absorbed for money purposes. The increase in population of the world during the last twenty-five years has been 200,000,000.

Twelfth. That this gold standard was imposed and continues to be imposed upon the people of the United States by England. In speaking of this, Senator Cameron, of Pennsylvania, said: "Yet the bankers of London have said that we must submit, and we have submitted."

Thirteenth. That there never has in the world been such a thing as international money and in all probability never will be.

Fourteenth. That there is not a single obligation of the United States government, other than gold certificates, that is not by the explicit terms of the contract, payable in either gold or silver; and we demand of the servants of the people that they administer the laws according to the terms of that contract. Who can say this is not right?

Fifteenth. That gold alone does not afford a sufficient basis upon which our paper currency can safely rest.

Sixteenth. The advocates of the single gold standard claim that only gold can make an honest dollar. According to them, then, as we have shown that gold has continually appreciated in value for twenty years, a dollar is only honest when it is increasing in purchasing power.

Seventeenth. Again, the gold advocates say, that one dollar must be as good as another, but they do not define what "goodness" means. Is not a just dollar a good dollar? Is not a dollar of unchanging value a good dollar? Has the gold dollar been unchanging in value? In 1873, before silver was demonetized, this same gold dollar was worth 3 per cent less than the silver dollar; that same silver dollar will purchase just as much of every other commodity now as it would prior to 1873.

Eighteenth. Free coinage is not an experiment, but so far as the single gold standard has gone it has been a most disastrous one.

Nineteenth. With the dollar appreciating in value as it is now doing, thereby causing a decrease in the price of all products, taxpayers are compelled to give more labor or the products of more labor to obtain these dollars, the only thing with which they can discharge all state, county and municipal taxes, all of which are fixed charges. Therefore, to decrease the price of products is to increase taxes.

Twentieth. Continued falling markets must annihilate profits, without which all industry must be paralyzed; causes money to accumulate in money centers, where it is principally used by those who gamble in securities, instead of being used in productive enterprises. "The gold supply of the world has been substantially cornered," see Baron Rothschild's speech at late monetary conference at Brussels.

Twenty-first. If business men could only be assured that prices had once touched bottom, and that even as low as they are now, they would remain steady and stable in the future, then it might be possible for them to conduct their business upon a stable footing, for after a general readjustment, matters would go along as usual. This, though, can only be done upon condition that prices have reached their lowest level and can be counted upon to remain steady in the future. If the conditions, though, remain as they are, not only ask yourselves when the decline will stop, but how, if money keeps thus appreciating in value is it possible for it to stop. If this policy is not changed, we do not for one moment hesitate to absolutely affirm that no matter whether we have high tariff, low tariff or no tariff, there can be no permanent revival in business affairs. Stocks of all kinds are now so low that we may expect some commercial improvement, but that it can last for any length of time, if the present monetary conditions are maintained, is an absolute impossibility.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50 cent bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

The Georgia Election.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 4.—In the state election yesterday the Democratic ticket was elected by a majority estimated at 30,000. Atkinson (Dem.) for governor ran behind his ticket. Many old soldiers either scratched him or voted for Hines (Pop.). Fulton county, outside of Atlanta, went for the Populist ticket. The Democratic ticket was elected as follows: Governor, William Y. Atkinson; secretary of state, Allen D. Candler; treasurer, Robert U. Hardeman; attorney general, Joseph M. Terrell; comptroller general, William A. Wright; commissioner of agriculture, Robert T. Nesbitt.

A Barkeeper Shot Dead.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 4.—A desperado walked into the Mug saloon and ordered the dozen men present to throw up their hands. Charles H. Birdell, the barkeeper, reached for his pistol, but the desperado was too quick for him and he shot him through the heart. Birdell fell dead and the desperado, still covering the crowd with his revolver, backed from the saloon and escaped. It is rumored that he is the Puyallup murderer.

SEARCHING FOR BANDITS.

The Gang that Held Up the Southern Pacific Train Numbered Five.

TUCSON, Ariz., Oct. 4.—As far as could be learned at a late hour last evening all the gang that held up the eastbound overland near Mariopa station Monday morning, excepting Frank Armour, who was shot on the day of the robbery near Phoenix, are at large yet.

It is now definitely settled there were five robbers. Three of them went in the direction of Phoenix, while two rode south toward Sonora. Southern Pacific Detective Breckinridge says at 9 a. m. Monday he started four men well provisioned on the trail leading to the south, with instructions to follow it to the line. He believes they will overtake the robbers before they reach the Mexican line.

To its standing reward of $300 Wells-Fargo has added $200 and the Southern Pacific will pay $500, making a reward of $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the bandits at large.

A SUBMARINE EARTHQUAKE.

The Terrible Experience of a California Schooner at Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The schooner Lila and Mattie which has arrived from Coquille river, reports a remarkable experience at sea. The schooner was lying off the coast becalmed. The sea was perfectly smooth, when suddenly a loud rumbling noise was heard and the schooner commenced to pitch violently.

Although there was no wind, a heavy sea sprang up almostly instantly and the schooner was thrown about in a manner that threatened the safety of her masts. After a short time the sea went down and all was as calm as before. The supposition is that the schooner experienced a submarine earthquake. The schooner Excelsior reports the same experience as the Lila and Mattie.

WEATHERED THE HURRICANE.

The Cape Hatteras Lighthouse Can be Made Perfectly Safe.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The members of the lighthouse board are much gratified to learn that the wooden frames used by the coast and geodetic survey in boring to determine the character of the foundation for the proposed new steel lighthouse on Diamond shoals, off Cape Hatteras, had weathered the late hurricane without damage.

The only evidences found of the gale which a few days before had swept along the coast was the broken flagstaff. Capt. Wilde, the secretary of the lighthouse board, today expressed the belief that if comparatively light wooden piling could successfully stand the force of last week's hurricane there would be no difficulty in making the proposed lighthouse perfectly secure under all conditions.

Bought by Vanderbilt.

QUEBEC, Oct. 4.—It is asserted on apparently good authority that the Quebec, Montmorency & Charlevoix railroad will shortly be sold to Vanderbilt who, according to rumor, is maturing the plan of a short line which would bring to New York the control of the Atlantic fast line service in the future. For that purpose the Vanderbilts would also extend the construction of the Quebec, Montmorency & Charlevoix railroad as far as the coast of Labradqr, purchase the Quebec Central railway and build a bridge over the St. Lawrence here.

Eloped a Second Time.

ARCATA, Cal., Oct. 4.—Mrs. McCurdy, wife of a wealthy farmer, has eloped with Samuel Douglas, an ex-convict. Four years ago, a girl of 14, she eloped with Douglas and married him at sea. After living in San Francisco some months she deserted her husband, secured a divorce and married Samuel McCurdy. Douglas was released from prison, where he served two years for larceny, a few weeks ago, and the second elopement followed.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Oct. 4.—The Vicksburg cotton exchange and board of trade, at a joint meeting of their committees, called an interstate convention in the interest of an anti-option bill to meet in this city Nov. 20. BERING SEA DISPUTE

The State Department is Preparing the Matter for the Printed Volume of the Proceedings.

They Are Expected to be a Valuable Contribution to International Law and Forensic Eloquence.

Berlin Plan to Reduce Expenses of Poorer Classes That Destroys the Tenement House Evils.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Ex-Secretary of State John W. Foster, who makes his home here, is back from a trip around the world. The Bering seat court of arbitration was organized while Mr. Foster was secretary of state, and he afterward became one of the American representatives at the court. Now that he has returned he is giving his attention to the printed volumes of the proceedings before the court.

The state department is preparing the matter for these volumes. They are to contain all the arguments, British as well as American, some of which were briefly summarized by cable, while Messrs. Phelps, Carter and the others were making their speeches covering many days. The books are expected to be a valuable contribution to international law and forensic eloquence, as well as an exhaustive treatment of the Bering sea question.

Mr. Foster speaks in high praise of Baron DeCourcel, who presided over the Bering sea court and is just now a conspicuous figure in French affairs as minister to Great Britain. "He is a scholar and diplomat of the highest rank," said he, "and the Americans present at the Bering sea court had the highest respect for his judgment and learning. He is a member of that organization of eminent scholars in Paris of which the Duc de Broglio is the head."

Gen. Foster was for some years before becoming secretary of state the counsel of the Chinese legation here, and since his return he is again consulted by the Chinese diplomats.

The Berliners have a plan in practice, according to a report to the state department, of reducing the expenses of the poorer classes of working people that tends to destroy the evils of tenement house system so formidable in our own great cities and encourages living in separate houses. Where the annual rent does not exceed 200 marks there is no tax levied; on rentals of from 201 to 400 marks, the rate is 2 per cent, from 401 to 600 marks 3 per cent, from 601 to 800 marks 4 per cent, from 801 to 1000 marks 5 per cent, exceeding 1000 marks, 6 2-3 per cent. The house tax itself is uniform at 2 2-9 per cent of the total receipts or use value of the property.

In a special report to the department of state, United States Consul Kemmler, at Horgen, Switzerland, calls attention to the excellent opportunity afforded American cattle growers by the high price of meat in the Swiss markets. Beef cattle sold in September at 80 to 90 francs per quintal, live weight 7 to 8 cents per pound; hogs at $1@1.50 live weight per kilo, 8½ to 9½ cents per pound; sheep dressed weight $1.40@1.50 per kilo, or 12 to 13 cents; fat calves $1 to $1.40 per kilo live weight, or 8 to 12 cents per pound. Young calves are especially in demand at present for replenishing the stock sold off at a sacrifice last year on account of the failure of the forage crops.

The consul calls attention to the offer of the Kirsch and Handelsgellshalft Zug, a reputable company of Zuerich, to accept cattle from the United States on consignment. The consul says of the crop this year that while not meeting the expectations of a rich yield held out by the favorable spring, it may still be called a satisfactory one.

Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50 cents for large bottle. NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE—

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage which was duly executed and delivered by Charles M. Gray and Ida R. Gray, his wife, mortgagors, to The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, a body politic and corporate by the laws of New Jersey, of Newark, N. J., mortgagee, bearing date the first (1st) day of January, A. D. 1890, and which was duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the eighteenth (18th) day of January, A. D. 1890, at one (1) o'clock p. m., in Book 50 of mortgages, on pages 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, and 104 thereof; and which said mortgage and the principal note thereby secured contain provisions that if any default be made in the payment of the principal sum thereby secured, or of any installment of interest thereon, then and in any such case the said mortgagee may elect, without notice, that the whole principal sum thereby secured and all accrued interest thereon, shall immediately become due and payable, and may enforce payment thereof by foreclosure, or other legal measures;

And whereas default was made in the payment of the semi-annual installment of interest upon said note and mortgage, due July 1, 1894, amounting to the sum of five hundred eighty-five ($585.00) dollars, the payment of which was secured by said mortgage, by reason whereof the said mortgagee has elected to exercise said option, to it given by the terms of said mortgage, and has heretofore duly declared, and does hereby declare, the whole principal sum secured by said note and mortgage, with all accrued interest thereon, to be now due and payable;

And whereas there is therefore claimed to be due, and there is actually due, upon said mortgage debt, at the date of this notice, the sum of eighteen thousand eight hundred seventy-two and 30-100 ($18,872.30) dollars, principal, interest and exchange, and two hundred dollars attorney's fees, stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure thereof;

And whereas said mortgage contains a power of sale in due form which has become operative by reason of the default above mentioned and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the said power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: All that tract or parcel of land in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: All of lots numbered seventy (70) and seventy-two (72), in block numbered thirty-two (32), Duluth Proper, Third (3rd) Division, according to the recorded plat thereof, on file of record in the office of the register of deeds in and for the said St. Louis County; which said premises, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest and the taxes (if any) on said premises, and two hundred dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door of the court house in the city of Duluth, in said county and state on the third (3d) day of November, A. And whereas, under the terms and conditions of said mortgage, and the power of sale therein contained: there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum of twenty dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, from the 14th day of September, 1894; and whereas, the power of sale therein contained has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise, has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Daily Sun Has Not Made Its Appearance and John G. Brown's Approval is Reported Lacking.

Editor Murphy's Lukewarmness Toward Maj. Baldwin is Said to be Responsible for This.

A meeting was held last evening in the Stewart block in the interests of Albert Swenson, independent candidate for sheriff. Mr. Swenson, it will be remembered, was turned down, ignobly he thinks, in the Populist primaries at West Duluth and says he has something to expose.

For some time there has been an effort to metamorphose the West Duluth Sun so that it might shine daily during the campaign in the interests of the Democratic party. It is stated that three men alone in West Duluth had signified a willingness to subscribe $200 each to the project which with numberless minor subscriptions would make a good working total for the support of the paper. But the paper has not started yet. The plan has not yet been sanctioned by J. G. Brown and there are grave doubts of his approval of the scheme. This is said to be due to the fact that Editor Murphy although a good Democrat and a probable supporter of Baldwin, is not boiling over or bursting with enthusiasm for the major and his lukewarm attitude is what sticks in the crop of Brown and lies in the way of the Daily Sun.

Nelse Erickson, of North Dakota, brother of John Erickson, the groceryman, is in the city looking for an opportunity to work twenty-two teams in the woods this winter. Mr. Erickson has a farm of 1200 acres and last year raised 15,000 bushels of wheat. He says that he lost money on the crop, however, and that farmers cannot afford to raise wheat at present prices.

W. A. Lawson has sold his meat market on Grand avenue to the firm of Schreck & Sachse, both formerly employes at the same place.

Mayor Lewis, the city aldermen, board of public works and other officials of the city government have been invited to assist at the reception to be given to Governor Nelson on Saturday evening.

James Connelly, ex-court officer, says he would like to have it understood that he was not the man arrested a day or two ago for drunkenness. A similarity of names has occasioned some interchange of persons.

The Knights of the Maccabees, West Duluth tent, will give a dance at Great Eastern hall on Oct. 12, and the sawmill boys will dance at the same place on Oct. 26.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat can be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50-cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by all druggists.

WHEAT A CENT HIGHER.

The Market Went Up With a Rush This Afternoon.

Wheat showed some strength in the early dealings today, opening strong at ⅛@¼c higher than yesterday, at 56¼c for December and 59⅜c @⅝c for May, and selling up about ¼c by the end of the first half hour. The early firmness was on the better tone in cables, the fact that domestic markets were generally better and the influence of yesterday's war scare. The war talk brought in a good many buying orders this morning, mostly from shorts, and in filling them prices advanced some. But the news from the other side was not near as warlike as yesterday, and it was explained that the cabinet consultations merely had reference to the protection of British residents in China and that consols had recovered nearly all yesterday's loss. The market eased off ⅜c during the next hour and ruled fairly active for futures and quite active for cash up to noon. During the afternoon session futures were very active, while cash was quieter. The market showed great strength during the last half hour and prices went up with a rush, the bull factors being the sale of 750,000 bushels at Chicago and a report that 315,000 bushels had been worked at New York for export. The close was strong at ¼c higher than yesterday for cash and ⅜c higher for futures. Following were the closing prices:

Gossip.

Wheat opened strong and higher this morning, and, with the exception of an occasional weak spot, has been strong all day. The close shows a gain of 1c over yesterday's closing prices. The war rumors were still on top and helped to keep up the excitement. Later on, when it was rumored that England would send a fleet and army to the East, wheat took a sharp advance, selling as high as 51¼c for December. Receipts are heavy. Duluth and Minneapolis received 930 cars. Clearances light, aggregating 250,650 bus.

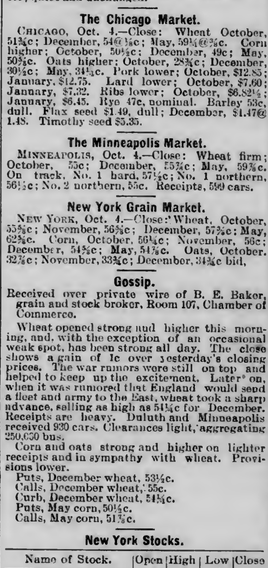

Corn and oats strong and higher on lighter receipts and in sympathy with wheat. Provisions lower.

AMUSEMENTS.

Potter and Bellew.

Mrs. Potter and Kyrle Bellew made their first appearance in Duluth at the Temple last evening before a large audience in "In Society," a comedy in three acts by Dumas. The applause was rather stinted, but one curtain call being given and it cannot but be admitted that Mrs. Potter did not make a particularly favorable impression.

The play is very Frenchy. When Eleonora Duse presented it in New York under another name that high minded and famous critic, William Winter, wrote of it: "It should have been egged and the eggs should have been in a condition identical with that of its own." It possesses nothing refined, elevating or ennobling and teaches nothing. There may be a moral in it but it would take the theater goers of gay Paris to find it. Its tone is dangerously cynical and sometimes almost immoral. It talks of "the code of morals, one law for the man and one for the woman," and presents a distorted picture of the marriage state which it would have one believe is the rule rather than the exception.

The story is simply this: A loving wife believes her husband unfaithful, in that he seeks the society of other women of uncertain reputation. She declares that once convinced of his unfaithfulness she, too, will be unfaithful and he shall be the first to know of it. She follows him to the bal de opera and her suspicions are confirmed. Arriving home she confronts him with it and declares that she too has been unfaithful to him and in a clever manner makes him believe her. Eventually it is, of course, proven that she was not and all ends happily. The man's fault was forgiven and the curtain falls with the husband and wife in each other's arms.

But it is bright. Were it not it could not hold an audience for half an hour. It is dangerously talky and requires the most delicate treatment. The lines are witty and sharp and the story is cleverly and logically worked out. There are no strong situations and no intense interest is aroused. The brightness of the lines and the ability of the players alone hold the audience.

It is difficult to see what ability Mrs. Potter possesses that should make her a star. Her manner and appearance are somewhat peculiar and striking, but there is no consummate ability displayed. She played the part of Francine, the wife, in a capable and pleasing manner, but never rose to any dramatic height. She has a little way of making herself prominent, but it is not through any artistic ability.

Mr. Bellew is the star. His Lucien was admirably natural and to act naturally is the true aim of all artists. In facial expression he is wonderfully gifted. Especially apparent was this in the second act when he was perplexed what course to pursue with his wife. He spoke not a word, but every thought and emotion was revealed in his countenance.

The support is strong. Mason Mitchell as Henri was excellent and is scarcely less capable than Mr. Bellew in facial expression. Henry Chanlrau as Stanislaus, Miss Lowell as the baroness, and Miss Hudspeth as Annette, were good.

"The World" Tonight.

"The World" will be produced at the Temple tonight and for those who admire scenic productions it will undoubtedly be a treat. Mr. Morris, under whose management the play was originally produced, says that the new edition is finer than ever before, and that the scenes of the "Harbor at Naples," "The deck of the steamer 'Fair Play,'" "The Shipwreck," "The Raft," "The Lunatic Asylum" and beautiful moonlight panorama have never been equalled on the local stage. The sinking ship with its intricate mechanical storm effects, requires the entire use of the stage from wall to wall, and is so intensely exciting and interesting as to almost make the audience imagine they are witnessing a genuine shipwreck. The company has many well known artists among whom are Harry B. Emery, L. O. Hart, George Klein, Charles A. Smiley, Miss Rose Wilder, Miss Annie Watson, and a number of others, which will insure a capital rendition of the play.

"Chris and Lena."

Pete Baker, the inimitable German comedian, appears at the Temple Saturday night in "Chris and Lena." The Pittsburg Press said of his appearance there.

"Chris and Lena," the comedy with which Mr. Baker has been identified so long, came to the Bijou last night with some new songs and plenty of fun for lovers of this class of entertainment. The comedy has been brightened up since last season, and the burnishing it has received has improved it very materially. Mr. Baker's voice was in good trim and he had to respond to numerous encores. Messrs. Baker and Farrell caught the house with their burlesque military drill in the third act, and it certainly was one of the funniest features of the play."

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all druggists.

MILLIONS FOR LIBEL.

The Palmer-Freitas Newspaper Raid. In Which The Herald is Attacked.

Minneapolis Journal, Oct. 2: Tyndale Palmer wants $6,250,000 damages for libel. Joas Francisco de Freitas wants the same.

This is the story that crops out in connection with papers filed yesterday and today in the Hennepin county district court in the libel suits of Palmer and Freitas against the St. Paul Dispatch and the Pioneer Press. Fletcher, Rockwood & Dawson are the plaintiff's attorneys.

Palmer is a Philadelphian who has handled some big deals as a promoter. Freitas is a hotel keeper at Rio Janeiro, Brazil. The $12,500,000 which the suits of these two gentlemen call for is demanded from 125 of the papers in the United States which in the fall of 1892 printed a certain dispatch from the United Press or an item to the same effect sent out in the plates of the American Press association. Each plaintiff wants $50,000 from each paper. The story was that Palmer had gone to South America as the representative of the South American Welsbach Incandescent Light company, and that while there had sold the patent rights of the company to a syndicate of Southern capitalists for $440,000 and reported to his employers that he had only received $80,000, of which he received $10,000 as commission, salary and expenses. Freitas was brought into the case as an assistant of Palmer's.

Palmer is now living in Philadelphia and is out of business except that of attending to his suits against the newspapers. He claims to be much injured by the dispatches sent out over the United Press, so much that his former business was destroyed and his credit impaired.

One hundred and twenty-five suits have already been brought and more are to follow, as Palmer is going right down the list. In Minnesota, where retractions are published, it is not likely that suits will be pushed, as the laws of this state confine the verdict under such circumstances to the actual damages, thus involving a tedious and somewhat expensive legal contest. That the plaintiffs stand to lose very little, however, is shown by the fact that their cases are taken up by lawyers on the basis of a contingent fee, or in the legal slang, "on commission." The following circular received by a Minneapolis law firm will show how the attorneys are approached on the matter:

CONFIDENTIAL.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1, 1894.—Sir: Very shortly I will be engaged to prosecute for libel all of the newspapers at your place, principally the ——. My clients are both men of some calibre and financiers, the one of this country having a collegiate education, great ability, ripe and sound judgment. Our declaration will be printed; our evidence, largely from government officials is complete. Palmer has compiled a book of the law and citations applicable to the case. Accordingly, I have agreed to handle the matter upon the basis of a contingent fee. Should I desire to engage you as my representative, are there any professional, political or other reasons, producing such an affiliation on your part to the paper or papers mentioned, as to interfere with your performance of the office for me? If so, will you kindly volunteer, in confidence, suggestions as to the means to be adopted, the name or names of attorneys who could or could not fill the bill, your reasons for the opinion, etc.? Have the kindness to answer promptly and oblige. Yours respectfully,

JOHN L. DOVE, Jr.

Similar circulars were received by a number of Duluth attorneys, but they declined to handle the case.

The Amateur Farmer.

He was tired of the city, and he thought it was a pity that people during summer in the heated town should stay, and he thought the prospect charming of a season spent in farming, where he'd grow his own corn and turnips and manufacture hay.

To a store he quickly speeded, bought the implements he needed, then a sturdy pair of horses fit to work the plow he sought; rented out his city dwelling, and his breast with high hopes swelling he started for the country and the farm that he had bought.

Just at first it was enchanting. He'd come home at eve descanting on the seeds that he had planted and the fields that he had plowed, and of "Early Rose" potatoes, "Flat Dutch" cabbage and tomatoes, snap beans, lettuces and carrots he would talk both long and loud.

Soon, alas! his dream was over, for the wiry grass and clover went astraying o'er his turnips, and no longer then they grew. Then the locusts ate his cabbage, and the worms his beans did ravage, and a cow got in the gate and ate his corn and carrots too.

Next the devil horses caught him and a lot of damage wrought him, and he saw that he could never make a decent crop that year. Said he to his young wife, "Kitty, we will go back to the city, for I'm tired and disgusted, and I can't make headway here."

To the town they soon returned, and no more his heart it yearned for a life out in the country and a home on a farm, and if you want to set him humming ask him how the crops are coming. Then you'll have to skip out quickly, for he'll surely do you harm.—New York World.

How They Could Be Used.

"Depend upon it, children," said the benignant old gentleman who was addressing the Sunday school, "we were fashioned by a wiser power than ourselves. There was no mistake made in putting us together. If our hands were placed where our feet are and our feet where our hands are, how could we get along? It would be exceedingly awkward, children, exceedingly awkward. I stretch my hand out this way. I move my fingers like this. Now, what is this an evidence of, children?"

There was no reply, and after waiting a moment the speaker answered the question himself.

"It is an evidence of design. Don't forget that, children," he continued impressively. "It is an evidence of design. Suppose, for instance, my eye, instead of having lids and lashes, had legs. Suppose my eye had legs. How could I use them?"

"You could use them in running your eye over the congregation, couldn't you?" replied a deeply interested little boy near the door.—Chicago Tribune.

The Expulsion of Bolters.

A member of the St. Louis County Republican club introduced a resolution at last night's meeting of the club which would bar any Republican who works against any of the party's candidates this year from ever again getting an office at its hand. The resolution, it is stated, was referred to the central committee for consideration, which was a very wise precaution, because such a resolution should not be adopted at least without very careful consideration.

The Herald would advise the central committee to go slow on this question. It has more than one side, and the easiest way to deal with it is to leave it severely alone. By the passage of such a resolution all independents who may have allied themselves with the Republican party, but who properly reserve to themselves the right to oppose candidates who are unfit for the offices they seek and unworthy of the party, would be practically given notice that they are not wanted in the Republican party. Can the Republican party afford to lose their aid and votes? Will the author of this resolution claim that an utterly unfit man who has secured a nomination to a county or legislative office on the Republican ticket, should be elected simply because he is a Republican, while a better qualified and really first-class man is opposing him on some other party ticket? Are the interests of the people to be made a secondary consideration to the temporary success of the Republican party in electing a candidate to an office?

There is another point worth considering. How many Republicans were present at last night's meeting who have not at some time in their life bolted a portion of the Republican ticket and refused to vote for unworthy candidates? Shall they now sit in judgment upon others who exercise the same privilege and declare that they are not Republicans? If all bolters are to be read out of the party, why start with the present campaign? Why not go back a few years and separate all the goats from the sheep? For instance, there is Senator Cushman K. Davis, whose Republicanism is not doubted. Twenty years ago he bolted and defeated Senator Ramsey, the regular nominee of his party. Gen. C. C. Andrews, of St. Paul, bolted the Republican nominee and elected the late Eugene M. Wilson, the Democratic candidate, to congress, yet Gen. Andrews was afterwards made minister to Norway and Sweden. Ex-Lieut.-Governor Rice bolted the nomination of the late Maj. Strait in 1878 and sent Hon. Henry Poehler, a Democrat, to congress from the present Third district. Mr. Rice was afterwards chosen lieutenant-governor and is now a member of the Republican state central committee.

There are many more instances which might be referred to, including some people in Duluth who had a hand in the famous Kindred-Nelson campaign. Shall all these people be classed as bolters and read out of the Republican party? If not, why should the more recent bolters be dealt with more harshly?

These are a few points that the county central committee would do well to consider before deciding to wield this two-edged sword.

Professor Swing Dead.

By the death of Professor David Swing at Chicago last night, America loses one of its greatest preachers. Professor Swing belonged to no denomination at the time of his death, having been the pastor of an independent church for the past twenty years. Previous to that time he was affiliated with the Presbyterian church, but the liberality of his views in regard to church doctrines caused him to be suspected of heretical ideas. He was then pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church in Chicago. His audiences were large and appreciative, and his sermons and essays appeared nearly every week in the public press.

But his doctrines were regarded by many as heterodox, and in 1874 Professor Francis L. Patton, who subsequently prosecuted Professor Charles A. Briggs for the same reason, preferred the charge of heresy against Professor Swing in twenty-eight specifications before the Chicago presbytery. The trial was of several weeks' duration and was a notable one. It resulted in an acquittal, but Professor Swing withdrew from the Presbyterian church and his congregation, which had stood by him loyally, became independent. In 1878, Central Music hall, the largest in the city, was built, where Professor Swing subsequently continued to preach to large audiences. He was an original and profound thinker and a speaker of great ability, and he built up a large and prosperous church. His death creates a void in Chicago that will not soon be filled.

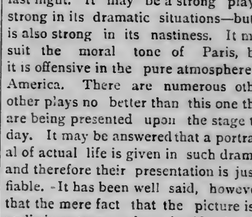

Degrading the Theater.

When it was recently stated that Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff in the notorious breach of promise suit against Col. Breckinridge, was about to go upon the stage, there was severe criticism both in and out of the ranks of the dramatic profession, and Madame Janauschek was especially indignant, declaring it a dastardly affront to the drama. This criticism was undoubtedly justified by the facts and it undoubtedly had the effect of preventing the young woman's entry upon the stage because the better class of managers in all the large cities declined to book her company.

Yet it would not have been astonishing had the managers opened the doors of their theaters to this woman since they have done so to prize-fighters and women whose only recommendations were scandalous divorce cases or intrigues that gave them notoriety. But it is gratifying to perceive that public sentiment was powerful enough to call a halt in the base uses to which the stage is being too frequently put. It is to be hoped that a similar sentiment will be aroused against the production of plays of the class of "In Society" which was presented in Duluth last night. It may be a strong play—strong in its dramatic situations—but it is also strong in its nastiness. It may suit the moral tone of Paris, but it is offensive in the pure atmosphere of America. There are numerous other other plays no better than this one that are being presented upon the stage today. It may be answered that a portrayal of actual life is given in such dramas and therefore their presentation is justifiable. It has been well said, however, that the mere fact that the picture is a realistic or true one is no justification for its presentation if the subject is coarse and repulsive, or if its influence is unwholesome or debasing. Can it be even said of the class of plays alluded to that their influence is wholesome?

In discussing Madeline Pollard's case, the Baltimore Sun recently said: "It may not be practicable to enter into the question of the moral character of actors, or to undertake to shut the door of dramatic fame to this or that aspirant because their private lives may not be such as we can entirely approve. We may wish that they possessed all the virtues and none of the vices they depict on the stage, but unfortunately, if we should insist on so rigid a standard, we would have no stage at all, and no audiences, either, if spectators were required to live up themselves to so lofty a code. But this much at least the public has a right to demand of theatrical managers, and that is that their stars shall be selected for their histrionic merits and not solely for their moral demerits." It is equally the right of theater-goers to insist that the dramas presented shall not be selected solely because they are coarse and suggestive.

Eugene Field says in the Chicago Record: "Not very many years ago John Swinton was properly esteemed one of the ablest newspaper writers in the country. Then he got a wheel in his head, an idea that at one fell swoop he could alleviate all the misery of humanity. He became a socialist, invested all his money in a socialistic daily paper, and lost it. He is now devoting himself to making public speeches in behalf of the Populist movement, and day before yesterday he created somewhat of a sensation by advocating the election of John P. Altgeld to the presidency. We regard the decline of John Swinton as one of the saddest instances of misdirected intellect and enthusiasm ever brought to our notice."

The New York Mayoralty.

The New York county Democracy has endorsed John W. Goff for mayor of New York city. Mr. Goff is the special counsel who has been representing Dr. Parkhurst and the other reformers in the investigation of the police department by the Lexow committee. He has been fearless in exposing the corruption which has permeated the department and has succeeded in forging a chain of evidence that can hardly be broken. In the great effort that is to be made to overthrow Tammany's control of the municipal government no abler or more valiant man than John W. Goff could be found to lead the hosts of anti-Tammanyites. There is no doubt that if he were elected to the mayoralty, he would quickly put an end to any corrupt practices that had crept into the management of the city's affairs.

Whether the Republicans will be ready to endorse Mr. Goff's candidacy depends to a large extent upon what Mr. Platt decides. With the endorsement of all the anti-Tammany elements Mr. Goff would probably win. If the strength of their opponents be divided and scattered, the Tammany braves will probably add another victory to their long list and retain control of the city government. It is to be feared that this will be the result. The Republicans are not unlikely to put up a candidate of their own, instead of endorsing Mr. Goff. Lemuel E. Quigg, the young newspaper man, who was elected to congress in a Tammany district last spring, is already being boomed for the Republican nomination.

Mr. Platt has been accused whether justly or injustly, The Herald will not attempt to decide—of joining hands with Tammany whenever it was advantageous to make such a deal, and he is likely to do the same thing over again this year. In which event the anti-Tammanyites will have worked in vain.

Says the Hutchinson Leader, a staunch Republican paper: "The Penny Press proclaims that because Minneapolis pays one-sixth of the taxes and has a big population, she is by rights entitled to a United States senator, and St. Paul of course sets up a similar claim. But how about the rest of the state, where exist the larger part of both population and property? At least one senator should be chosen from outside the cities. The dog which allows himself to be wagged by his tail is generally conceded to be a fool sort of a dog."

Governor Nelson was in Duluth for a few hours today on his way to Tower, where he and Hon. C. A. Towne will speak tonight. Tomorrow evening they will make addresses at Virginia, and for Saturday night the governor is billed for a speech at West Duluth. Governor Nelson has been making a vigorous campaign so far, and the indications are that he will have a very heavy plurality in November. Duluth will give him and the rest of the state ticket a large vote.

If Postmaster Hesing intends to hold the letter carriers' parade in Chicago next Sunday, it is strange that the railroads have not announced the usual excursion rates. Thousands would go to see Wash and his whiskers doing the inspection act.

The Democrats elected their state ticket in Georgia yesterday by a large majority. And yet they say this is a Republican year! It may be so, but not in Georgia.

OPINION IS DIVIDED

Question of the Division of the State Into Two Conferences Now Before the Conference.

Many Arguments are Being Made for and Against Division and Two Reports Were Presented.

Two-Thirds Vote and the Consent of the Presiding Bishop Required to Adopt Division.

At the educational anniversary held by the Methodist conference last night, G. H. Bridgeman, president of Hamline university, presided. The session was interesting, instructive and well attended.

In his opening remarks Mr. Bridgeman advocated the maintenance of religious institutions. He accredited noble work to the secular university, but said that in laying the foundation for a religious education it does not cover the field of the sectarian college.

Rev. S. N. McAdoo spoke on "Ministerial Education." The nature of a calling, he said, should determine the qualifications of those who enter it. The minister works on man's moral and spiritual nature, it would be most inconsistent to thrust into the profession men who do not have the very highest and most thorough training.

"I know that a scholastic training gives a man a great advantage in ministerial as in all other lines of work," he said. "It has been estimated that to graduate from any of the advanced institutes of learning increases a man's chances of occupying a seat in the American congress by 34, and I have not a doubt that it increases his chances of success in the ministry in as great a degree. No man who is to enter the ministry can receive too complete a scholastic trainir ."

"In order, however, to place the ministerial candidate in a position to attain the highest degree of success there must be some branches to which he must pay particular attention, in which he must be in some degree a master. He must be so in those relating directly to his profession. It is absolutely essential that a minister be well versed in these subjects for he must be prepared to meet new criticisms upon the Bible and upon religious doctrine which will demand new answers. We must be masters on our grounds, and other things connect so closely with religion that we must be well versed in them as well.

"The successful minister must know something of the natural sciences. They have been regarded by too many as the enemy of religion, but they should be regarded rather as an allied army. I regard them as the oldest testament of God, written by the finger of the Almighty himself and full of truths to be used in argument and debate. The universe itself I regard as divine activity under the conditions of time and space. Heaven and earth are but the robe which God has woven to hide the brightness which no man can look upon and live, and when we learn to look upon the natural sciences as but the records of this handiwork of God we shall cease to regard them with contempt. We should know and love nature, and the natural sciences are the study of nature.

Cannot Ignore Sociology.

"Sociology is also too closely allied to the pulpit work for any minister to ignore it with safety. Until all human institutions, social, political and industrial are Christian, the kingdom of the world will never be the kingdom of God.

"The more knowledge a man has, the more power will he possess. A brook fed by one spring runs dry in a season of drouth, but the river fed from a thousand sources flows on, strong and majestic, through all seasons. So it is with the pastor who draws his knowledge from all sources."

Rev. E. P. Robertson, presiding elder of the Winona district, spoke on Christian education, comparing the new theory of education with the old. Samuel L. Beiler, vice chancellor of the American university at Washington, D. C., outlined the objects of education.

Women's Missionary Meeting.

Mrs. Helen M. Evans presided at the Women's Home missionary meeting yesterday afternoon. She and Mrs. E. M. Wolver delivered addresses. Mrs. Thompson presented the corresponding secretary's report. All the work planned at the beginning of the past year has not been accomplished. Monthly meetings of the conference board have been well attended and much has been accomplished through the board in sending out mission supplies. The work of organizing new auxiliaries has progressed slowly. A regular organizer is badly needed.

The society has sixteen auxiliaries with a total membership of 450. The work is confined mostly to the St. Paul and Minneapolis districts. Supplies amounting to $1549.38 and $580.11 in dues were received during the year. Twelve hundred eight dollars were expended in the Minnesota conference district and $341 in Montana. A portion of the dues has been sent to the national treasurer and the balance on hand is $70.54.

This Morning's Session.

The conference met for devotional services at 8:30 o'clock this morning, Rev. George Hair, of North M. E. church, Minneapolis, leading. At 9 o'clock Bishop Foss called the conference to order. The minutes were read and then the roll of absentees was called.

Bishop Foss then arose and said: "This hour, I suppose, is to be devoted to the discussion of the division of the conference. The discipline says that a question of this kind to pass must receive a two-third vote of the conference itself and the concurrence of the presiding bishop. That puts me in the position of a governmental official who has a veto power. I therefore have the utmost need of light. I have no bias in the matter. The division, if made, undoubtedly will be for all time, hence should represent your convictions. Whatever is done, will suit me."

The bishop also advised that it would be better to vote on the matter after the heat and influence of debate had somewhat cooled off.

In accordance with that idea, Rev. Mr. Morgan moved that the vote be taken at the first session following the close of the discussion. The motion prevailed.

A motion to apply the general conference rules of order, except as to the limitation of time, to the debate, was carried by a vote of 66 to 48.

The Division Recommended.

Dr. E. R. Lathrop, of Hastings, chairman of the committee on the division of the conference reported as follows:

First. That the conference be now divided.

Second. That the divisior. be upon the following line, to-wit:

Beginning at the eastern boundary of the state at the northeast corner of Washington county, thence running west to the northwest corner of said county, thence south to the northeast corner of Ramsey county, thence following the line of Ramsey county to where it strikes the east line of Hennepin county; thence following the lines of Hennepin county to the point were the Hastings & Dakota railroad crosses the line of said county; thence following the said Hastings & Dakota railroad to Granite Falls; thence west on a town line to the western boundary of the state—all towns on the Hastings & Dakota railroad to be in the Northern conference.

Rev. Fred Hart, of Sauk Center, presented the following minority report as follows:

We, the undersigned members of the committee on division of the conference, believe that the financial, the educational, the social and the spiritual interests of Minnesota Methodism will be best subserved by this conference remaining one and undivided.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
C. F. SHARPE,
H. G. VANFASSEN,
FRED W. HART.

The reading of the minority report was received with a vigorous clapping of hands.

Argument for Division.

Dr. Lathrop then arose and moved that the majority report be adopted and in support of it said:

"It is only a matter of time until the conference be divided. The immense territory cannot always remain under one jurisdiction." He then proceeded to show the rapid growth and development of the state during the past ten years. Then the state had 700,000 people. Today it has 1,500,000. The question now is has the time come for that division."

The speaker said that he believed the time had come when division was almost imperative and, unfolding a map, showed the conference just what the division meant. The Southern conference will take one-quarter of the state and the Northern conference three-quarters of the state.

The population in the Southern conference would be about 800,000; in the Northern conference about 700,000. The village population in the Southern conference would be 380,000; in the Northern conference 320,000. In the South there would be 115 charges; in the North, 106. Providence seems to indicate that this is the time to divide. This division would give each conference about the same number of effective men.

The Northern conference would have 11,500 members, the Southern conference 13,000. The Northern conference would have 136 churches and the Southern 170. The valuation of church property in the Southern would be over $640,000; in the Northern over $800,000.

Dr. Lathrop said that the entertainment of the conference is becoming a burden. It used to be a blessing. He also felt that the division would improve the esprit du corps of the conference. The division would put the districts into better shape.

"I don't care a copper where I go, North or South. What are we here for? To seek soft snaps? No. Why, Duluth here, in a few years, will have 150,000 people. Divine providence seems to indicate that now is the time to make the division.

Dr. Lathrop took his seat and a loud round of applause followed.

An Amendment Presented.

Dr. E. S. Pilling, of Minneapolis, presented an amendment providing for the following boundary line: Township line 113 to the west side of the Minnesota river, thence to the north line of Nicollet county, thence to the Minnesota river and up the river to line 113, thence west to the state boundary.

Dr. Pilling supported his amendment in a vigorous and able speech that fairly bristled with facts and figures.

Dr. Forbes thought that it would simplify matters if the conference would decide if it really wanted to divide; then let the lines be decided later if division was desired.

Rev. Mr. Hingley, of Foss church, Minneapolis, to carry out Dr. Forbes' idea, moved to substitute the minority report.

Bishop Foss ruled that the substitute motion opened up the subject for a full and free discussion of the question of division.

Dr. Marshall, of Trinity church, Minneapolis, spoke against division. Touching upon the question of entertainment, he thought that the time was near at hand when the conference could take care of itself. He thought the members of conference ought to begin paying their own way. If poor, let their congregations assist them. He thought that, on the whole, division would not reduce traveling expenses. He also found that there was a tendency to multiply churches and weaken them. He said that even now the secretaries find trouble in getting around to all the conferences. The benefit to the younger men in meeting the older, abler men was presented as an important point.

Rev. J. L. Farber, of Bellingham, thought the matter of entertainment was serious and important. He said that it was a great hardship to a minister drawing $300 or $400 a year to go several hundred miles to conference, especially when possessed of families to support.

Dr. Wilcox, of the First M. E. church, of St. Paul, said that his people had told him, if it seemed best, he might invite the next conference to their church.

Dr. Brooks Opposed.

The venerable Dr. Cyrus Brooks, of St. Paul, who entered his first conference sixty-one years ago, said he did not expect to attend many more conferences and said that he felt that he could not vote for a division upon the line proposed that would separate St. Paul and Minneapolis and was not quite clear as to the other line of division proposed, but rather believed that he could not support that. Upon the whole he felt compelled to vote against division.

Dr. Chaffee, of Minneapolis, said that the natural line of division seemed to be the one in the majority report. He thought the time to divide had come and that division must result. The question of entertainment was considered of the highest importance. Many towns could entertain if there was a division. The entertainment of a conference was considered a benediction to a place and the claim made that it stirred up a town more than anything, unless it was a circus, and Dr. Chaffee thought perhaps a conference beat even a circus. Division would improve the membership. The personality would be improved in a smaller conference.

Rev. Frank Doran, of Central Park, St. Paul, said that the laity of St. Paul were opposed to division. He thought that when the time for division came, the line should fall north of the Twin Cities. That time has not yet come and will not for five or ten years.

William McKinley, presiding elder of the St. Paul district, said that if the providential time for division had arrived, he believed that all would know and feel it. He then proceeded to give a most powerful and logical speech against division.

Rev. David Morgan, of St. Paul, said that the natural line of division was north of the Twin Cities. In a lengthy speech he vigorously opposed division.

Adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock, at which time the conference met for an afternoon session to continue the discussion.

EXPRESS THEIR THANKS.

The following letter has been addressed by Smith, Farwell & Steele, whose establishment caught fire a month ago, to Chief Jackson, of the fire department:

"Dear sir: Permit us, through the medium of a letter, to thank you and the fire department for the very careful and efficient manner in which the fire was handled at our store on the evening of Sept 1. Had less care and skill been used, there is no doubt whatever but that our loss would have been double what it was or our stock might have been totally destroyed. Very truly yours,

SMITH, FARWELL & STEELE,
G. C. STEELE, Manager."

The Health Report.

Fifteen were children under 1 year.

There were 115 births, 66 male and 49 female.

Came for His Wife.

W. B. Pearson, of Helena, Mont., arrived in Duluth this morning. He is the husband of the woman who died on the South Shore train Sunday morning, and he will leave tonight for the Sault, where he will take charge of his wife's remains.

Millions for Defence

Against the inroads of that subtle, lurking foe to human health, malaria, had been expended uselessly when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters appeared upon the scene and demonstrated its power as a preventive and curative of the dreaded scourge. When the "gold fever" raged in 1849 in California, malaria was contemporaneous with it at the "diggings," and wrought dreadful havoc among the miners. Then and subsequently on the Isthmus of Panama, and wherever in the tropics malarial disease is most virulent, the Bitters became the recognized safeguard. For the effects of exposure and fatigue, miasma-poisoned air and water, sea sickness and all disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, the Bitters affords prompt relief. Invalids of all sorts will find it fully adequate to their needs.

LIKE A DREAM.

She Could Hardly Believe It at First.

But Now it is a Very Pleasant and Lasting Reality.

A Popular Person Gives Some Interesting Information.

No dream could be more pleasant than the experience which Ellen C. A. Mitchell, of 297 Mineral Spring avenue, Pawtucket, R. I., has had. She has been a fearful sufferer and had abandoned hope, but suddenly her sorrows all left her and she was a well woman. She writes the following most fascinating account:

"Four years ago I was taken sick with typhoid fever which left me entirely undone. My nerves were completely unstrung and I could not bear the least noise. The slightest sound would make me start and tremble all over. When these trembling spells came on my only relief was to lie down and try to obtain rest.

"Almost every day I was attacked with severe nervous headache. If I attempted to walk across the floor the pain would be frightful, as if my head would split open. The palpitation of my heart was something dreadful. I could not go up or down stairs without these terrible spells.

"The least excitement caused a continual fluttering which was horrible in its suffocating sensations. In fact, life was unbearable. A lady friend who had been greatly benefited by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, advised me to try it.

"The relief which I obtained can only be understoood by other sufferers, who, after many years of suffering, have at last found health. My headaches, which had made my life so full of torture, as well as all my other troubles have been entirely cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"Now I can go through life free from all suffering. I can honestly say that I have a new life before me. I urge all sufferers to use this great medicine if they wish to be well."

No sufferer can possibly hesitate after reading of so wonderful a cure, to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is a certain cure for disease. It is purely vegetable and harmless, and is the discovery of Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York city, who has for many years used it in his practice. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and can be consulted by all free of charge, personally or by letter.

WANTS THEM BARRED.

Dr. Maxwell Introduces a Resolution Directed at Independent Candidates.

The Republican meeting at headquarters was well attended last night and some excellent speaking was heard. T. W. Hugo spoke first and he had something to say of each of the opponents of his party. "The Populists," he said, "are visionary experimentalists, but the country cannot afford the expense of their experiments." The Democrats he characterized as a success as an opposition, but as a failure for the responsibility of managing the government.

The Republicans, however, according to Mr. Hugo, are amply qualified to carry on the affairs of the people with success. "The Republican party," he said, "is managed for and by the people, while the Democratic party is managed by a machine."

C. W. Dorsey made a short speech, telling why the Afro-Americans are allied with the Republican party.

Dr. Maxwell spoke of the independent candidates and favored a movement barring any Republican who works against his party from ever again getting an office at its hands. He proposed a resolution to that effect, which was referred to the central committee for consideration.

D. 1891, at two (2) o'clock p. m., in Book one hundred one [101] of mortgages, on page two [2] thereof; which mortgage, with the debt thereby secured, was thereafter duly assigned, for a valuable consideration, by said William E. Lucas to Hannah F. Pease, of Syracuse, N. Y., by an instrument of assignment dated November 6th, 1891, and which was duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for said St. Louis County, in Book seventy-four [74] of mortgages, on page six hundred fourteen [614] thereof, on November 9th, 1891, at two [2] o'clock p. m., which mortgage and the principal note thereby secured contain provisions that if any default be made in the payment of any installment of interest thereon, or of any part thereof, on the day whereon the same is made payable, and if such default shall continue for a period of ten days, then and in any such case the said mortgagee, or his assigns, may elect, without notice, that the whole principal sum thereby secured, and all accrued interest thereon, and all sums paid in accordance with the provisions of said mortgage, shall immediately become due and payable, and may enforce payment thereof by foreclosure, or other legal measures;

And, whereas, default was made in the payment of the semi-annual installment of interest upon said note and mortgage, due July 1, 1894, amounting to the sum of sixty dollars, the payment of which was secured by said mortgage, and such default has continued for a period of more than ten days after the same became payable, by reason whereof the undersigned legal holder of said note and mortgage has elected to exercise said option, and has heretofore duly declared, and does hereby declare, the whole principal sum secured by said note and mortgage, with all accrued interest thereon, and all sums paid in accordance with the provisions of said mortgage, to be now due and payable;

And, whereas, said mortgage contains a power of sale in due form, which has become operative by reason of the default above mentioned, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof;

And whereas, the undersigned has heretofore been duly appointed, and has qualified as executrix of the last will and testament of said Hannah F. Pease, deceased, and has caused a duly certified copy of her appointment to be recorded in the office of the register of deeds for St. Louis County, Minnesota;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the said power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in St. Louis County, Minnesota, described as follows to-wit:

IT IS UNTRUE.

Eastern Minnesota Will Not Remove Its Yards to Sandstone.

There is no truth whatever in the report sent out by a "string fiend" that the Eastern Minnesota yards would be removed from Hinckley to Sandstone. The old buildings at Hinckley are being rebuilt, and also at Sandstone, where another track to accommodate increased business is being put in. The story was published in a Duluth paper and in a Superior paper, and was sent out to the St. Paul Dispatch.

HAS BEEN LEASED.

Little American Mine Is in the Hands of a New Company.

The Little American gold mine at Rainy Lake has been leased to George A. St. Clair and Michigan associates for a period of ten years. The deal was closed yesterday afternoon. The lease includes the property and the stamp mill. Jeff Hildreth retains an interest in the new concern. The other stockholders have relinquished the right of operation for royalties.

Further particulars are not to be given out until the Little American Mining and Milling company meets. Improvements are to be made and in fact are already under way. The stockholders of the original company will get 15 or 20 per cent on the stock, it is said.

POLITICAL MATTERS

Governor Nelson and C. A. Towne Went to the Range on a Campaigning Trip Today.

They Speak at Tower Tonight, Virginia Tomorrow Night and Probably at Ely Tomorrow Forenoon.

Governor William McKinley, of Ohio, Will Speak at the Temple on Next Monday Afternoon.

Governor Nelson arrived in the city this morning. He was suffering somewhat from a bad cold and illness and retired to his room at the Spalding where he denied himself to reporters and met only a few people. This afternoon he left on the Iron Range railway for Tower, accompanied by C. A. Towne and several local Republicans. Governor Nelson and Mr. Towne will speak tonight at Tower and tomorrow night at Virginia. Arrangements will probably be made for a visit to Ely tomorrow morning.

On Saturday evening Governor Nelson will speak at West Duluth. He will not speak in Duluth on this trip but will visit here later.

C. A. Towne will speak at West Duluth on Monday evening.

Governor McKinley's Coming.

Governor McKinley, the famous Ohio protectionist and most prominently mentioned Republican candidate for the presidency in 1896, will be in Duluth on Monday afternoon and will speak here at 2 o'clock. After considerable trouble the Temple Opera house has been secured. The City band will play, the Marching club will be out and the reception given Governor McKinley will be a royal one.

Excursions will be run from the range towns and there is promise of a large attendance from the outside.

Political Notes.

The Republican marching club will meet tonight to arrange for the receptions to be given Governor Nelson and Governor McKinley when they speak here.

Rev. Peter Bergstrom will speak tomorrow evening at Hendrickson hall on Garfield avenue, under the auspices of the Republican county committee.

RATES UNCHANGED.

Wheat and Ore Bring the Same Prices as Last Week.

Rates remain unchanged at the figures which have been quoted since Saturday. Wheat is strong at 2¾ cents and there is no lack of charters at that rate. Ore is also strong at 85 cents. Wheat at 2¾ cents is just a trifle better than $1 ore, and if the present rate on wheat continues, as it undoubtedly will, the ore rate is not unlikely to take an upward turn within a week.

Lumber is also firm at $2 to Tonawanda and $2.25 to Chicago, and these figures show no indications of weakness or of a dropping tendency. One agent reports that in Chicago two charters have been made for lumber from Duluth for $2.50, but other agents have heard nothing of it and fail to see the necessity for that rate while there is no lack of boats at $2.25.

Have Been in Shelter.

Boats are beginning to come in once more after lying in shelter for the expected gale, and a large fleet is expected in tonight. The City of Duluth, which arrived in port this morning, counted eighteen boats lying under Whitefish Point.

THE FOOTBALL GAME.

Ex-Collegians and Hamline University to Play on Saturday.

Final arrangements were made this morning for the championship football game which is scheduled for Saturday between the ex-collegians and the Hamline university team. The game promises to be a close one and the local kickers are determined to make their visitors fight hard for a victory. Capt. Johanson put his team through the signals yesterday and wired Hamline the final acceptance. The veterans have some first rate material for a team and with the final practice today should have nothing to fear.

The makeup of the team has undergone several changes. Grochau, of Ann Arbor, will probably play at quarter, while Vincent, a sturdy lad of 190 pounds, will hold down one of the Hamline guards. Ballou, of Woonsocket, is slated for one end, Dr. Lynam for center, and with Johanson and McKeon tackles the line is exceptionally solid. The game will be called Saturday at 3 o'clock.

WANT THEM CANCELLED.

A National Bank Asks That Alfred Merritt's Transfers Be Set Aside.

The First National bank, of Chattanooga, Tenn., has filed complaint in a suit against Alfred Merritt and others to enforce the cancellation of a number of transfers of property by Alfred Merritt to the other defendants. It is alleged that last July a judgment was rendered in favor of plaintiff against Alfred Merritt for $3039.70. An execution was issued and returned unsatisfied.

It is further alleged that in February, after the cause of action for which judgment was made, Alfred Merritt transferred all his property to Defendants M. M. Clark, Sandilands, A. J. Taltonard, Thomas A. Merritt, making twelve conveyances in all. It is alleged that each of these conveyances was made "without any consideration and for fraudulent purposes, and as a part of an entire fraudulent scheme to prevent his creditors from collecting their dues." All these transfers, it is claimed, were made with the intent that they should be held in trust for the benefit of Alfred Merritt.

It is claimed that Mr. Merritt is insolvent and that at the time he made the transfers he was indebted to various persons to the amount of $65,000. The court is asked to declare the transfers fraudulent and void, and that they may be set aside, and plaintiff's judgment made an enforceable lien on the lands.

TOWER ABLAZE.

An Eloquent Speech Was Delivered By the Coming Congressman From the Great Sixth District.

Governor Nelson Made a Strong and Forcible Address Covering All the Issues of the Day.

He Dissected the Policy and Claims of the Populists and Effectually Disposed of Them.

TOWER, Minn., Oct. 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—A steady drizzling rain last night made it slightly uncomfortable, but it did not dampen the spirits of the enthusiastic Republicans of Tower, who turned out to hear Governor Nelson and Hon. C. A. Towne in large numbers and packed the opera house to suffocation. There were fully 1000 people in the hall, and the speakers were greeted with loud and enthusiastic applause.

As the party entered the hall they were met by a burst of applause from the people who were already assembled, which was renewed when they took their places on the stage. Among those occupying seats on the stage were Governor Nelson, C. A. Towne, Neil McInnis, Dr. Barrett, Thomas Owens and a number of prominent citizens of Tower. The Ely City band, which met the train at the depot and escorted the party to the hall, furnished good music for the rally.

Dr. Barrett made a neat opening speech in his usual happy, witty style. "Two years ago," he said, "occurred an event unparalleled in history. Although the country was on the flood tide of prosperity, a feeling of unrest became prevalent and the people demanded a change. We got the change and the result is familiar, sadly familiar, to us all. One party now wants us to try another experiment. We can't afford it, nor can we afford to continue that of two years ago, as another party asks."

Mr. Towne's Speech.

He spoke eulogizingly of the Republican candidates and the mention of Mr. Towne produced enthusiastic applause. He closed his talk by introducing C. A. Towne, who was met by a storm of applause.

"I see on every hand indications that this is a Republican audience," said he. "I see in the audience a number of ladies of the community, who represent the American home, which it is the prime object of the Republican party to protect. Above the stage I see the glorious banner of the republic, which would have been suffered to trail in the dust had it not been for the Republican party.

"I see on the platform a saw log and a piece of iron ore, two staples under the care of the Republican party together the wages of the men who handle them. I see a large audience with a grim determination to register their votes against the destroying policy of the Democratic party, and in favor of the Republican party, under which the country has climbed to an eminence where it is the envy of all.

"As Dr. Barrett has suggested, there may have been flaws in the party's conduct during its history, but at present I find them hard to designate.

"A traveler in a desert, weary and footsore, finds it hard to look back and think of the green fertile mountain he left in the morning and believe there are flaws on that mountain. So it is hard for us to look back on the prosperity which has resulted from Republican rule and find flaws in the conduct of that magnificent party."

He spoke of Governor Nelson as a man whose name shall be historic in the annals of the state and told of his excellent record. He prophecied that he would be sent back to the governor's chair by a majority of 40,000, basing his prophecy on his experiences in looking over the state.

A Few Figures.

He then retrospectively reviewed the history of the parties for a few administrations. He said that for the ten years preceding the presidential election of two years ago the wealth of the country increased from $44,000,000,000 to $65,000,000,000. Wages increased 33 per cent. At the end of that time no man, that desired it, needed to go without work at wages that would give him a competence. Then the Republican party put in operation the McKinley bill, the results of which became immediately visible. Within six months there was invested in new industries $40,500,000.

"In the same length of time 345 new manufacturing establishments were started, and a number of old ones improved and renovated. Employment was given to 37,000 more men. Then in a spirit of change the voters of the country put in a party that had pledged itself flatly against the principles that had brought these things about.

"They have revised the tariff without regard to wages and the interests of invested capital," he said, "and you have all seen the results, and many of you may have experienced them.

"No man can ever accuse me of treating my opponents otherwise than as gentlemen. Of their personal characters I have no ill words to say. But their records, so far as they are concerned with the prosperity of the country, are subject to criticism. The views and principles of Maj. Baldwin are not such as should entitle him to the support of the people. As a member of congress he has participated in legislation which is adverse to the interests of the country, for all of which he is jointly responsible. The movement to put ore and lumber on the free list was supported by him."

He gave a history of the legislation of the Democratic administration from the special session which repealed the purchasing clause of the Sherman law up to the time when the Wilson bill, after alterations which left it almost entirely changed, was passed and approved by the president. He said that the bill discriminates in many ways, notably in favor of the Southern planter against the Northern farmer, and in favor of England against the United States, quoting English papers to show the joy with which it was received there.

In closing he spoke again of Maj. Baldwin, and said that he did not arraign him because he was dishonest, because he had ignored the request of 10,000 of his constituency in the matter of a tariff on iron ore, but because of his belief that such measures are wholesome. His speech was eloquent and logical, as usual, and bristled with facts which supported his promises. The men who most of all have suffered from the "hungry belly" policy thundered out their approval of the speaker and his doctrines, and the salient points were punctuated by applause from the appreciative audience.

Governor Nelson.

Dr. Barrett then introduced Hon. Knute Nelson, governor of Minnesota, who spoke at some length in a plain, honest style which carried conviction.

"I am exceedingly glad," he said, "to see such a large audience, indicating a desire to be informed as to the most important duty which devolves upon the American citizen—that of casting his ballot. I came here tonight not so much because I wish to make a speech or because I feel qualified to interest you, but because I wished to see the opening you have made in a country which was a wilderness but a few years ago.

KNUTE NELSON.

"I am surprised to see such a fine, intelligent audience, and such a fine country with its magnificent resources and its pretty little cities. There is one thing about this community that is especially worthy of note. You have gathered here from all over, some from other states and some from other countries, and I am sure there is no other country and no other state where the advantages are so good for building up your homes and fortunes.

"The reason this is such a good government is because the people have administered it and made it themselves." He spoke of the necessity of good citizens belonging to a political party, and said that the only way in which a man can be of effect in politics is to affiliate with a party. He spoke of the effect on business prosperity of the change in government of 1892, and said that while with a Republican senate and a surplus of $100,000,000 in the treasury Grover wobbled through his first term in a way, the last eighteen months he had been compelled to get along with Democratic help only, and now there is a deficit in the treasury and we have had to borrow.

They Got a Change.

"Two years ago the people wanted a change," he said. "We were having good times, but the people wanted to try to get still better times, and the fluctuating vote of the country flopped over and put the Democratic party in power. You know how it lowered wages and threw men out of employment, both with what it did and what it threatened to do.

"The Democratic party is made up chiefly of the 'solid South' and they send up a majority to congress. Aside from their past record of slavery, their situation, education and surroundings unfit them to legislate for us of the North. The Democrats from the North are drowned by the horde of Southern Democrats, and as they can do no good for their constituents they should come home to the Republican party, and this fall is as good a time as any.

"There is another party that has wafted in upon us from the Southwest for the alleged purpose of establishing a new policy and a new creed in the state. They are led by men whose usefulness in the old parties has been exhausted. They tell you farmers and laboring men that you are being down-trodden and depressed and that what you want to do is to segregate yourselves and fight against the rest of the world. You never knew what a terrible time you were having until these people told you about it.

"Four years ago they sent a number of men to the state legislature. There was no majority for any party, but there was a preponderance of Populists. So in order to gain control of the legislature they fused with the Democrats. Now what did the party of promises do in the way of reforming the laws of the state? Not a thing. Their session was the most expensive ever held in the state. Its cost was $21,000 in excess of that of the Republican session two years later. Then they levied the highest rate of taxes ever levied in the state before or since. It made a difference of $368,000 in taxes, and was reduced by the Republican legislature two years later.

"As to reforms —— except the Australian ballot law, which was proposed by a Republican there was not one. The most of the time was taken up with wrangling over which baking powder had the most alum in it, and then they didn't settle it. The reformers appropriated all the funds received from the sale of school lands in the treasury and all that would be in it in the next ten years, and they took all the money for

THE INDIAN SCHOOLS.

Gen. Armstrong Says Contract Schools Do Not Necessarily Mean Contracts With Religious Organizations.

Favors Contracts With Normal Schools and Agricultural Colleges of the States Where Indians Live.

Fish Commission's Work This Season Was Large and Will Compare Favorably With Previous Years.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Gen. Armstrong, assistant commissioner of Indian affairs, is very much interested in the Indian school question, and commenting upon the desire exhibited in certain sections for more public and less contract schools, he said: "No one opposes public schools for Indians here; they are as efficient and comparatively as economical as contract schools. Under the latter system we know where the money is and how many Indians are getting the benefit of it. Contract schools do not necessarily mean that contracts are made with religious organizations.

"There are some who believe when the contract system is discussed that it means Catholic schools entirely, while as a matter of fact contracts are entered into with other religious denominations and with private non-religious institutions. I am in favor of a system of contracts with the normal schools and agricultural colleges of the state where Indians live and are to be educated. Instead of expending a large amount in building and maintaining a school on a reservation where the Indians are often loath to attend, I believe in establishing a boarding house under the supervision of a matron in towns where there are normal schools, agricultural colleges or high schools, and sending the Indians to these institutions.

"The contact of the Indian lad with the white scholars would be a part of their education. It is possible that Indians will not all acquire book learning but they are learning civilization through the mixed schools and that is one of the most important lessons they have to acquire. As to there being any trouble about class or aversion of the white children to the children, that could scarcely arise. A man who takes his wife and family into an Indian country and settles among them, knowing that he will be compelled to live among them, cannot complain of the association of his children in the same schools with the Indians. All of us have gone to public schools with children that were anything but agreeable and with whom we never associated."

Commissioner McDonald of the fish commission says that despite the difficulties experienced in the work of propagating and rearing fish owing to drought and excessive heat, the work of the season has been large and will compare favorably with the records of previous years. Over 600,000,000 fish of various kinds have been hatched and loosed under the auspices of the commission. There has been batched about 100,000,000 shad; 1,000,000 whitefish; 3,000,000 perch, besides a smaller number of a great many other species.

The commission believes as a result of its work that the benefits of hatching and planting fish would be immeasurably increased by holding the fry until they become fingerlings, as the ravages of rapacious fish in the waters where the fry are loosed are responsible for the loss of millions annually. This year about 2,000,000 shad were held in the fish ponds of this city and will be loaded in the Potomac as soon as the cold weather arrives.

There has been a noticeable falling off in the whitefish in the great lakes, despite the fact that some 200,000,000 are hatched by the United States and state hatcheries annually. Were it not for the artificial hatching, the commissioner believes that whitefish in the great lakes would disappear. This falling off is attributed to the increase in the effectiveness of the fish as a good fish. The fry loosed are pounced upon by the pike and pickerel and it is probable that rearing places will be established on the lakes to minimize this evil. Some 3,500,000 salmon eggs have already been taken at the Pacific coast batcheries this season.

The most remarkable increase of work done under the auspices of the commission this season has been at Woodshull, Mass., where over 9,000,000 lobsters have been bred and loosed—an increase of about 1000 per cent over former years. In a few days the commission will send to Willapa bay, Wash., a carload of Eastern oysters with a view to experimenting on the Pacific coast in their production. Efforts to propagate oysters in San Francisco bay have hitherto proven to be a failure.

OPPOSITION TO TAMMANY.

New York Women Organize in Opposition to Tammany Hall.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—A meeting of the women of New York to organize in opposition to Tammany, was held last night. The meeting was in pursuance of a special notice issued last Tuesday by Col. John J. Gifford, chairman of the Twenty-third district anti-Tammany organization. Supplementary to Col. Gifford's notice was one from Mrs. Mark M. (Brick) Pomeroy, inviting such women as wished to take part in the movement to call at her house, No. 50 West Ninety-sixth street, Thursday evening for the purpose of going together to the hall which is only a block away.

Col. Gifford called the meeting to order and Mrs. Pomeroy, who is a strikingly handsome woman, and who was at her very best in the light-colored gown she wore, was unanimously asked to preside. As she walked down the aisle to the chair, she was greeted with applause. When she spoke she said that New York was like a house that was reeking with filth and it was eminently proper that the women of the city should organize to assist in the house cleaning.

Miss Ella Rowls was then chosen secretary and treasurer and Mrs. Pomeroy made a speech in which she said that a large percentage of the poverty and misery in the city was due to Tammany, because Tammany built private palaces with the money its leaders stole from funds generally contributed to relieve suffering. Mrs. Stimson Smith and Varica, an Indian princess, also spoke.

IMPLICATED HER FATHER.

Confession of a Man Accused of Killing His Niece.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 5.—George Mills, who has been on trial for his life during the last three days for the seduction and murder of his niece, confessed the crime last evening. He implicates Jack Wimberly, the father of the murdered girl.

He says Wimberly told him to take "Lena away and never bring her back alive." He had induced her to accompany him to an old unoccupied house and told her to take the contents of a bottle and it would produce an abortion, the girl having been pregnant, and she drank it. The drug was laudanum.

Wimberly was jailed last evening. He was the principal witness against Mills. Now Mills will be the principal witness.

LESS THAN TWO MINUTES.

Flying Jib, the Swift Pacer, Has Broken the World's Record.

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, Oct. 5.—Ten thousand people yesterday saw Flying Jib go against the pacing record of 2:01¼. Flying Jib and his pacemaker went at a terrific clip and made the mile in 1:58¼, breaking the record.

Another world's record was broken by Onohua, the game little Iowa trotter. She trotted under the wire in the first heat of the 3-year-old trot in 2-11¾, taking the world's 3-year-old trotting record. Still another world's record was broken by Sidmont, who smashed the 3-year-old stallion pacing record, making the mile in 2:10½.

KILLED BY A SMUGGLER.

The Murderer of Constable Jeffreys Near Tacoma Escaped.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 5.—The murderer of Constable Jeffreys is believed by customs officers and deputy sheriffs to be Brooks, the smuggler, who escaped from McNeil's island last Thursday. Officers have discovered at Puyallup a valise left by the murderer which contained clothes worn by Brooks in the county jail. Officers claim to possess other evidence that establish the criminal's identity as Brooks.

Sheriff Matthews believes the murderer has escaped outside the country. The sheriff believed he had the murderer trapped in an Indian's cabin, but a search revealed that the Indian giving the information simply lied, and it is now believed the Indian harbored the fugitive and had been paid by him to send officers on a wild goose chase while he was escaping.

Convicted of Forgery.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Thomas P. Wentworth, who has been on trial on the charge of making false entries in the books of the Hotel Victoria whereby a stealing of over $50,000 was consummated was convicted last night. He was remanded until next Friday for sentence. The maximum penalty for the crime of which he was convicted, forgery in the third degree, is five years imprisonment.

Love Made Her Insane.

ST. CLOUD, Minn., Oct. 5.—Katie Seiden-Schwang, a young German girl who is thought to have relatives in Minneapolis, was picked up at St. Cloud yesterday for strange conduct. She was examined and found insane. She is heartbroken over a lover who, she claims, had promised to marry her and had married another girl. She was taken to Fergus Falls.

TO BE TRIED BY COURTMARTIAL.

Maj. Wham to be Tried for Failing to Satisfy a Judgment.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Oct. 5.—The general courtmartial called to try Maj. J. W. Wham, paymaster U. S. A., is made up of the following officers: Brig. Gen. Otis, president; Col. T. Manderson, Fourteenth infantry; Lieut. Col. Theaker, Fourteenth infantry; Lieut. Col. Wolverton, deputy surgeon; Lieut. Col. Bacon, First cavalry; Maj. Post, corps engineer; Maj. Tully McCrea, Fifth artillery; Maj. W. R. Nash, commissary of subsistence; Maj. Marshal, quartermaster; Maj. J. W. French, Fourteenth infantry; Maj. G. S. Wilson, assistant adjutant general; Maj. C. A. H. McCauley, quartermaster, with Capt. C. McClure, acting judge advocate, judge of the court, ex-United States Attorney General Williams appearing for the defendant.

The charge against Maj. Wham is conduct unbecoming an officer in not satisfying a judgment. The evidence adduced by the judge advocate on the part of the prosecution consisted entirely of correspondence between the attorney of D. C. Holcomb, of Kansas City, complainant in the case and various officials of the war department at Washington, and between the department and Maj. Wham, and the major and his attorneys and the officers of the supreme court of New York concerning the judgment alleged by Holcomb to have been obtained by them in the supreme court of New York in June, 1890, amounting to $2216.

From the correspondence it is learned that the debt on which the alleged judgment was obtained was incurred while Maj. Wham was president and Holcomb general manager of the North Park and Vandalia Mining company of Colorado. They gave a joint note to the Laramie National bank, of Laramie, Wyo., for $1046, both agreeing the money was for the company and not for private use. The note became due with interest, which Holcomb claims he had to pay. Holcomb brought suit and obtained judgment.

Maj. Wham claims he knew nothing of the rendering of the judgment against him until eight months after, and he made repeated efforts pending the trial of the case and subsequently to obtain a copy of the original complaint. Holcomb claims in the original complaint to have signed the note merely as an endorser and as an accommodation to Maj. Wham.

The amended complaint was prepared and filed in the case by Holcomb, in which certain allegations were made concerning the appropriation of the money obtained, which differed from the statements in the original complaint, the amended complaint alleging in substance that the money was obtained for the accused. Maj. Wham claims that the judgment was obtained by false swearing and fraud, as shown by the amended and original complaint.

In a letter to the adjutant general of the army Maj. Wham said: "As I understand it, there is no difference between my misfortunes and those of the late Gen. Kelton, in which the war department, it seems, assumed no jurisdiction, except that my debts were caused by a great public calamity which desolated villages and valleys alike."

TO SET ASIDE A WILL.

Sensational Suit Begun to Annul the Will of a Spiritualist.

QUINCY, Ill., Oct. 5.—One of the most sensational suits instituted in the circuit court here was that brought yesterday by Amelia T. Colfield and Eliza A. Solomon, who live in Chicago and Denver respectively. It is a suit to set aside the will of Minerva Myrick Orchardson, who was a spiritualist of national reputation, a woman of wealth, refinement and intelligence, and who in April 1893, when over 80 years of age, was married to Professor Charles Orchardson.

The defendant is Professor Orchardson, who came to Quincy with Vera Ava or Diss de Bar. Shortly after their arrival here an officer came down from Elgin, Ill., and arrested both, taking them back to Elgin, where Vera Ava was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years for stealing $800.

The complainants represent in their voluminous bill of complaint that Minerva Merrick (not Myrick) Orchardson was of unsound mind at the time of making her will.

TWENTY HOUSES DESTROYED.

A Blaze in a Virginia Town That Is Supposed to Be Incendiary.

BUCHANNON, Va., Oct. 5.—Just after midnight fire broke out in the Kiddy furniture building on Main street. The fire spread rapidly and raged fiercely and by 2 o'clock the Kiddy furniture building, White Carver Bros.' hardware store and building and half frame dwellings along Main street were in ruins. In half an hour more Pifer's drug store and two big 3-story blocks opposite were in flames.

Help from Weston was called for and arrived at 2:30 and by 3 o'clock the fire was under control. Twenty houses, including all on both sides of Main street from C. Farnsworth's building to Dr. J. W. Brown's block, were burned out. The loss will amount to $80,000; insured for less than half that amount. While the fire was in progress Frank Welley was shot by some one in an alley and seriously wounded.

Shot Himself and Wife.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 5.—George Moore, who with his wife lived at 125 Shelby street, got into a quarrel with her about midnight. They had been married less than a year. The quarrel began in the saloon over some domestic trouble and she threatened to leave him. He finally grabbed her, threw her on the bed and shot her in the head. He then hurried to his son's house, where he shot himself, dying instantly, and his wife is dying.

ON FOREST RESERVES

The Department of Interior Does Not Know What to Do With the Forest Reserves.

They Were Set Apart Under Act of Congress But No Provision For Maintaining Them.

No Means of Preventing Depredations or Preventing Forest Fires or Other Methods of Destruction.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—What to do with the forest reserves has become a serious question in the department of the interior. Congress passed a law providing for setting apart tracts of lands as forest reserves, and when so set apart they could not be entered upon for any purpose whatever. Acting under this law the president has from time to time set apart tracts which are known as forest reservations and which are now on the government's hands. In all there are 17,000,000 thus reserved in the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Utah and Arizona territories.

No provision whatever has been made for taking care of these reservations. Under law they are reserved to the government and no person can make use of them, yet there is nothing to prevent persons from going upon them or in any other way defeating the object of the legislation and the reservation proclamation. Persons might be prosecuted afterwards; but there is no means of preventing depredations.

Neither is there any way to prevent forest fires or other methods of destruction. The persons interested in forest preservation were instrumental in having the reservation law passed and the reservations made. They have also tried to secure laws for the protection of forests, but so far without success.

One of the most enthusiastic forestry men in the present administration is Assistant Commissioner Bowers, of the general land office. He has been doing a good deal toward having reservations made and has also been urging legislation for their preservation and protection. Commissioner Lamoreaux is a practical lumberman, and, referring to the value of the timber on these forest reservations, says that no timber is valuable unless it is within a marketable distance of streams or railroads, and at present none of these reservations could be sold. He does not believe that their timber will be demanded for half a century.

A part of the scheme for the preservation of the forests includes the sale of timber from them to pay for their protection. If there is no demand for the timber, this plan will fail and it will be necessary for the government to appropriate money for this purpose. Already there have been plans presented for making national parks of these reservations, and if the first plan fails, then an effort will be made to turn them over to the several states for state parks.

KILLED BY ELECTRICITY.

A Man Electrocuted on an Electric Light Wire in Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—A horrible case of electrocution was witnessed on Congress street by hundreds of people yesterday. Charles E. Day, a lamp trimmer, in the employ of the Boston Electric Light company, was cleaning a lamp and had hitched himself to the top of the pole when attention was called to him by a faint cry.

Day was then seen to be helpless and unconscious. In a few seconds he was limp and a blue flame was emitting from his eyes, nose, mouth and ears. Several of the onlookers tried to get up the pole, and one young man succeeded in touching the body when he dropped to the ground, receiving painful injuries.

A. J. Humes started up the pole and reached Day's body when he received a shock, fell 30 feet to the ground, striking on his head and fracturing his skull. He died shortly after. It was more than half an hour before Day's body, now terribly burned, was lowered to the ground and taken to the morgue.

CAPTURE OF A MURDERER.

A Detective and a Murderer Have a Life and Death Struggle.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 5.—The murderer of Charles H. Birdsell was captured in a log house by Detective Cudahee and Officer Corbett after a desperate encounter in which Cudahee came near losing his life. The murderer said his name was Robert Blanck, afterwards admitting that it was assumed.

When the police were informed of Blanck's hiding place Cudahee and Corbett went to the house, the former entering first. He found Blanck and tried to engage him in conversation. Blanck pointed a revolver at Cudahee and said: "Throw up your hands."

Quick as a flash Cudahee threw his arm over his head and dived headlong at his antagonist. The desperado pulled the trigger and the bullet grazed Cudahee's neck. Cudahee seized him by the waist and threw him on the bed, where a life and death struggle ensued. Just then Corbett rushed in and beat the desperado over the head.

At the police headquarters the man said robbery was his business and that he shot Birdsell in self desense.

WHEAT SLIGHTLY LOWER.

The Market Sold Up and Then Down According to Conflicting News.

Wheat wobbled a little today, having sold at one time ½c below the close yesterday, making a good rally and going up ⅝c, but failing to hold the advance. Cables were a shade higher, domestic markets firm and the brisk inquiry for cash wheat reported yesterday had a strengthening influence. Northwestern deliveries were lighter and there was renewed talk of extensive feeding, which, it is thought, must have an important bull influence. So prices were higher during the first hour. But the news from abroad was pacific and British consols were higher and there was heavy selling for a time at Chicago, which weakened prices. Then came a rumor that the czar of Russia was dead and trade got a little nervous. The opening here was unchanged from yesterday. The market eased off ¼c during the first half hour and advanced to ⅝c above the opening during the next hour. In the afternoon the market eased off with fair trading for both cash and futures and closed weak at ⅜c lower than yesterday for spot stuff and ⅝c lower for futures. The shippers bought large lots of cash stuff, and the mills took some but paid no premium. Following were the closing prices

No. 1 hard, cash, 58⅝; October, 58⅝c. No. 1 northern, cash, 57c; October, 57c; December, 56½c; May, 60c. No. 2 northern cash, 54c; No. 3, 51½c; rejected, 48c. To arrive—No. 1 northern, 57¾c; rye, 45c; flax, $1.45½; No. 2 oats, 32c; No. 3 oats, 31½c; barley, 45@51c.

Car inspection today—Wheat 299, barley 43, flax 41, oats 10, rye 2. Receipts—Wheat 178,561 bus, oats 1105 bus, rye 816 bus, barley 45,046 bus, flax 24,403 bus. Shipments—Wheat, 146,226 bus; oats, 1003 bus.

New York Money.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Money on call easy at 1 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 3@5 per cent. Sterling exchange strong with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86¾@4.87 for demand and $4 85¾@4.86 for sixty days; posted rates, $4.86½@4.87 and $4.87½@4.88; commercial bills, $4.84½@4¾. Gossip.

The wheat market traveled over considerable ground today and at times the fluctuations were wild. December opened at 54¾c, sold down to 53¾c; up to 54¾c, down to 53¾c, up to 54⅛c and closed at 53½c. The war scare petered out and in order to keep up the excitement the news mongers killed the czar a couple of times. Receipts show no signs of letting up, while the advance during the past three days has killed the demand from abroad. Only 8000 bus was taken for export yesterday and not a bushel so far today. Clearances were light aggregating 200,000 bus.

Corn and oats, strong and higher on a good demand from the country. Cash corn shows a gain of ½c over yesterday's prices. A prominent commission sold one lot of 100,000 bus, to be shipped to Peoria early next week. Provisions lower.

Heart Almost Broken.

"Madam, your husband was killed, I believe," said a man, addressing a woman who lives on the border of the Indian Territory.

"Yes," she replied, with a sigh, "and I could have borne the misfortune much better had not the circumstances of his death been so distressing."

"What were the circumstances?"

"Well, you see, he was killed by a man who had no experience whatever in that line. It is sad, of course, to be killed by a professional, but to be shot down by a mere amateur is awful beyond description. My husband was a man of much experience, and to think that he was taken off by a scrub from St. Louis almost breaks my heart."—Arkansaw Traveler.

Opposed to Tariff Agitation.

A new party, or more properly speaking a new faction of the Democratic party, is springing up all over the country. The members of it call themselves Hill Democrats. They are opposed to further agitation of the tariff question and they stand with Senator Hill in his opposition to the income tax law. It is significant that they are mainly business men. On this account the movement cannot fail to attain great importance. The business men, when they enter politics, always exert a mighty influence. They have done so in past years and they can repeat it in the future. The politician generally finds it convenient to yield when the business men unite and demand that they and their views be considered.

The business community has had an experience with the agitation of the tariff question that will be sufficient to last for many years. The uncertainty of tariff legislation had a tremendous effect in retarding the recovery of the country from the depression into which it had been plunged by the financial scare. No one knows better than the business man how the country suffered on this account. He can tell from the condition of his business and his bank account, and the plausible talk of the politician has no effect upon him. He knows what he knows from practical experience. He has bought his knowledge, and paid for it handsomely. He does not propose to pay for it a second time.

This is why the business men everywhere are opposed to the tariff agitation. The Gorman tariff bill may not be perfect. Neither was the McKinley bill. But the tariff law as it now stands suits the business world well enough to justify the abandonment of any movement to amend it. Give the new law an opportunity to demonstrate what its effect will be. The business men know that further agitation of the question and any further movement in congress in the direction of "reforming the tariff" towards a free trade basis, or increasing the duties so as to make it more highly protective, will be simply disastrous to business interests. Another period of uncertainty would cause instant paralysis of trade, and the gain made since the country started once more on the road towards prosperity would be entirely lost.

Hence it is not astonishing to find such a prominent Democrat as Gen. F. G. Winston, of Chicago, bolting the legislative and congressional nominees of his party, with this statement: "I am opposed to the further agitation of the tariff question by congress, and I am bitterly hostile to the legislation already adopted, especially the income tax law." A Chicago dispatch adds: "Gen. Winston says he is a 'Hill' Democrat." The politicians, both Republican and Democratic, who run to extremes on the tariff question, and who favor further tampering with the tariff law, will find that there are thousands of business men throughout the country who agree with Gen. Winston that agitation of the tariff question should cease.

Hill Wants Harmony,

Senator Hill has not indicated as yet whether he will accept the Democratic nomination for governor. Meantime there are numerous rumors in circulation, and one of the most persistently circulated reports is that Mr. Hill has induced Judge Gaynor to take his place at the head of the ticket. The statement that Judge Gaynor has declined the nomination for judge of the court of appeals is untrue. But he has not accepted as yet. He is evidently waiting until Mr. Hill makes his decision known.

According to a New York dispatch Mr. Hill is trying to secure harmony in the party before he makes a statement as to his intentions, and it is said that he is determined to have Democratic harmony, if he has to enforce it upon the discordant factions of New York city with a club. A dispatch says: "He took Tammany Hall by the throat yesterday and demanded of its leaders a series of concessions which wouldn't be considered by them for a moment if they like Hill himself, were not in the direst straits. His principal demand was that they agree to an alliance of some sort with the New York state Democracy of Grace and Fairchild, even to the extent of indorsing the municipal ticket which the State Democracy may put up. Concessions of a similar nature are required from the reorganized 'regulars' of Brooklyn in the hope of pacifying the Shepard faction, which is the hotbed of the independent Democratic state ticket movement."

It is said that Mr. Hill threatened if his terms were not acceded to on both sides of the river, to throw his nomination to the dogs and take the next steamer for Europe. The Cleveland wing of the party will be compelled to show its hand and Cleveland may yet be forced to swallow the Hill dish of crow. If Mr. Hill finds that harmony can not be procured in this way, he will probably decline the nomination.

The Case of Judge Willis.

It was rumored in St. Paul yesterday that John W. Willis would appear before the Democratic state central committee, which meets today, and inquire why the campaign orators sent out by the committee advise the Democracy of the state to vote against him for justice of the supreme court. This refers to a recent speech made by Judge Flandrau at Winona, in which he criticized Judge Willis' candidacy in the following words:

"Of course we expect this year that every true Democrat will vote the whole Democratic ticket, or at least almost all of it. We have one name on our state ticket, our nominee for associate justice of the supreme court, who is also nominated by the Populists. It is clear that he will not, because of his duplicate nomination, be allowed to vote both tickets. Now is it not fair, before any one, Democrat or Populist, votes for him, that he should ask this 'various' nominee which ticket he proposes to vote? Should he declare for the Democratic ticket there would not be very much reason why the Democrats should vote for him, and every reason why Populists should not. Should he, on the other hand, declare for the Populist ticket, common reason and self defense absolves every Democrat from voting for him. So, gentlemen, does it not seem fair that this candidate should show his hand. I call upon him thus publicly to do so, as unless he does he may fall between two stools and not get any vote at all."

This speech has naturally set the Democrats to talking all over the state and the matter is attracting a great deal of attention. Since the Democratic state convention there has been a growing feeling that Judge Willis, having accepted the Populist nomination, is not entitled to the Democratic endorsement. It was a condition precedent that all candidates for office on the Populist ticket should subscribe to the party platform. The St. Paul Globe asked Judge Willis how he stood in regard to the matter, but it is not known that he ever made a reply. Certainly none was ever published in that paper. Mr. Willis did say that he was in sympathy with the teachings of Owen, and Donnelly and Kittel Halvorsen, and Jefferson and Jackson, and he accepted the Populist nomination. If the speeches of Judge Flandrau and other prominent Democrats will have the effect of preventing the election of Willis to the supreme court bench it will be a good thing for the state, because his course as district judge in Ramsey county has indicated that he does not possess the qualities that make a good judge.

The enthusiastic reception which was given to Governor Nelson and Hon. C. A. Towne at Tower last night indicates the way the Vermilion range people will vote in November. There will be few Democratic or Populist votes cast on the Vermilion range for either state or congressional candidates. Maj. Baldwin will poll but a small fraction of the votes he received there two years ago. St. Louis county will give Nelson and Towne a big majority.

It was the Republican program, says the Louisville Times, if the Democrats should nominate Breckinridge, to put up a candidate who would be a shining illustration of all the virtues and a stout champion of the highest standards of morality. But as the Democrats wisely left undone what the enemy desired and conspired to have them do, "the God and morality party" put up one of Sam Jones' typical politicians, right-about-faced and is now addressing its appeals to that faction of the Democracy that was regarded as standing out in the recent family fracas as exponents of the world, the flesh and the devil.

Dr. T. J. Happell, ex-president of the Tennessee Medical society, has published a pamphlet proving that almost all children born of morphine eating mothers die at from three to five days of age. They are morphine eaters before being born, and on the supply being cut off at birth they die for want of the drug. Paregoric or other opiates might save them, but only to preserve them to grow up wrecks for the very few years of childhood through which only it could be hoped or feared that they might live.

The St. Paul Dispatch says that the canvass which is being conducted by Governor Nelson "irresistibly recalls the days of Sherman and Garfield, Thurman and Allen in Ohio, of Morton and Hendricks in Indiana, of Seward and Seymour in New York. It is a canvass in which intellect and statesmanship are the prime influences appealed to, and for the result of which we may safely count on the patriotism and judgment of the people."

In this week's Representative, Ignatius Donnelly opens his senatorial campaign by a 5-column report on the charges of bribery made against Senator Washburn in 1878, when his seat in congress was contested by Mr. Donnelly. This is a dead and buried issue, and Mr. Donnelly can hardly create a sensation or make much political capital by reviving it at this late date.

The production of gold in 1893 equaled that of the best year of the Australian and California mines, but will be exceeded in 1894 by one-sixth. But wait until next year when the Rainy Lake mines are running in full force and then see the production jump.

Theosophists in New York promise that "the sixth race of man" will materialize in America. The individual is to be thirty-three feet high and have three eyes, but his weight is to be very small in proportion, much grossness having been removed from his matter.

Corbett's offer to fight all his challengers, one each night in a week next July in New Orleans, sounds like the talk of a man who has been drinking too much champagne. A fight in New Orleans in July would be a red-hot event.

The price of wheat in England last week, 21s 7d per quarter, was the lowest in 200 years.

The Reason Why.

Do you know the reason why
Every merry maiden's eye
Is delighted with the sight of a mustache?
Why the soft and silken curl,
Fascinates a fellow's girl
More than all his store of learning or his cash?

Yet the reason's plain to see,
And I'm sure you will agree
That it's given in this poem at the foot—
The appendage 'neath the nose,
Of the dearest of the beaux:
Is so pleasing for the reason 'tis hirsute!

—Truth.

Close to the People.

Princeton Union: Governor Nelson is making a magnificent canvass of the state this year. He is greeted with immense audiences everywhere he speaks, and is making many converts. Plain, bluff Knute Nelson is close to the people.

A Compromise Probable.

Milwaukee Sentinel: There is now promise that the Superior relief committee will compromise with the rest of the world and admit that the work of relief does not necessarily insure to every sufferer from forest fires a town lot in Old Superior or a building site in New Superior.

General Congratulations.

Chicago Mail: It is seldom that both old parties can congratulate each other, but the news that Governor Pennoyer, of Oregon, has declared against both offers a common ground of congratulation.

Agricultural.

Little grains of sand,
Mixed in many a grain field,
Make a fertile land.

—Exchange.

Threw Up the Sponge.

Minneapolis Tribune: We judge from an article in The Duluth Evening Herald, an independent paper, that Maj. Baldwin is in some danger even in the house of his friends. The Young Men's Democratic club, of Duluth, has adopted resolutions repudiating the Democratic bosses and scoring Maj. Baldwin for listening to their dictates instead of consulting the desires and wishes of the rank and file of his party. The club then adjourned for one year, which is equivalent to throwing up the sponge and acknowledging Republican success.

Who Pays the Tax?

Dubuque Herald: One and two years ago the country rang with the Republican claims that the foreigner pays the tariff tax. Today every Republican paper and every Republican stumper is bewailing the fact that the wicked Democrats increased the tax on one item (sugar), and thereby increased the burdens of the people.

The Advance of Woman.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I would like, with your permission, to answer Vidi's article on "The Advance of Woman." I believe in the advancement of woman, providing that advancement be in an unassuming way. I also read The Herald with pleasure. I don't see why woman cannot make bread without having to put on pants; the disagreeable apparel will not help them a particle in making bread or doing anything else that is useful. Indeed, does Vidi really think that pants are becoming to woman under any and all circumstances.

I have formed an opinion that a very loose wrapper is becoming sometimes, and may be that our souls can soar so high that we cannot do good to ourselves nor to others. Sure if I were away up among the rafters what earthly use would I be? I would rather be down where I am and try to help civilize humanity.

Certainly, I believe in women voting, and I think it's their due right to vote. But voting will never make me any the less refined by doing so. But sisters, if we are going to run down the poor mortal man and not even make his bread for him, I will tell you a plain fact, that we shall neither have a vote nor the good men's respect in that way for we are going the wrong way to reach our goal. By all means let us keep our brothers' esteem while we have it; and our suffrage will be sure to follow.

God in his politeness has given us women finer nature and finer instinct than that of man; then let us try to respect that gift that he so kindly lavishes upon us, for the refinement of the world is in our hands.

Woman, thou fairest of creatures,
The most beautiful work of God's nature.
To thee be thanks for all mankind
In past, present and future;
Woman's heart is full of love;
She has sympathy for all humanity
The weak, the aged and the erring one
She will guide them to eternity.

Think you that the brother of the so called brave girl, thinks her the fairest of all creatures, because she dons his hat, shirt and collars. No, for it would be against his nature to see her in that suit. Men like to see womanly women, and have their sympathy which is due them.

Woman's heart is full of love, or is supposed to be. Can a man find a lovely and sympathetic heart under a bold stiff shirt or derby hat? I say no, for kind and lovely hearts would not wear them; they prefer fine soft laces and ribbons. Brave deeds I call for a good wife and mother to help her husband in all his troubles that come with each day, and he in return will call her blessed, and that is worth more than all the pants, votes and tights in the world.

West Duluth, Oct. 5. A. J.

Editor Murphy Explains.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Though I am proud to be regarded as a "good Democrat," your usually reliable West Duluth reporter does me an injustice in referring to my "lukewarm attitude" towards Maj. Baldwin's candidacy for re-election, and he is wrong in presuming that upon that score there is any issue between any Democrat and myself. There is no foundation in fact, therefore, for the statement that in consequence thereof the establishment of the Daily Sun awaits the approval of John G. Brown. I challenge any one to point to a single act or word of mine that would indicate lukewarmness towards Maj. Baldwin's candidacy. On the contrary, I have always been free to say that having proven faithful to his party he was entitled to a re-nomination; and it necessarily follows, from a Democratic stand point, that he deserves to be re-elected.

But I do not consider that it was a breach of party principle (though may be of discipline) for those Democrats who so preferred, to favor the nomination of some other man; and for that reason I favored such treatment of the anti-Baldwin faction as would be conducive to harmony and the advancement of the best interests of the party. I know that certain uncompromising ones were pleased to regard this as evidence of lukewarmness. To place myself right and to correct such false rumors as the article in last evening's Herald would tend to corroborate, I go to this length in explaining.

Anti-convention differences are easily forgotten by good Democrats, and they all are now working for the same end—the success of the party at the polls.

S. C. MURPHY.

BANANAS WILL BE SCARCE.

All the Cuban Plantations Destroyed or Badly Damaged.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—According to reports made by Capt. Holttum, of the British steamship Briganza, which has just arrived from Baracoa, Cuba, bananas will be a scarce commodity at this port for some time to come.

While the Briganza was in Cuba, on Sept. 22 and 23, the northeast end of Cuba was visited by one of the most terrific hurricanes that has swept that locality for twenty years. All the banana plantations were either totally destroyed or badly damaged. Houses were blown away, trees uprooted and other great damage was wrought.

The cocoanut oil factory run by American capitalists was badly damaged. Great damage was done up the mountains in the locality of Mata and Yumuria and the Briganza returned with only a part cargo of fruit.

50c Underwear=

This is a garment that you will not find offered by other houses for less than 75 cents to $1. We bought a large line of underwear this season which is the reason we can sell you wool underwear at 50 cents.

$3 Trousers=

That is what we are asking for a fine all wool stylish pattern. If you think there is any mistake about this just come in and see if you do not agree with us that they ought to bring $4 or $5.

$5 Suits=

Five dollars for full size men's suit looks like a small price when compared with what you have been paying. Yet we have them on our tables at that price. Good suits—perhaps not as fine as the better ones, but will wear just as long.

$7.50 Overcoats=

When you see these you will not say that you cannot afford to get a new one this fall. Of course you had expected to buy the $12 or $15 kind. Now you find you can get the same coat for $7.50. Don't you think the old one will be laid aside?

Pine City is Grateful.

The Pine City relief committee, in adopting resolutions thanking the people of the state and elsewhere who had aided fire sufferers, has this to say of Duluth:

"We also fraternally recognize the full measure of nobleness and humanity that inspired the good people of Duluth to fly to the rescue of our unfortunate neighbors with a train loaded with men to assist in caring for the dead and with physicians, medicine, food and clothing to care for the living and for their magnificent donations of money, supplies and lumber and for their princely hospitality for the fire refugees, while the latter were their guests. We are indeed grateful."

The relief committee will soon turn over its work to the state commission, it having reached the point where it can best be taken care of by the latter.

THE CITY SHOULD BUY.

Hon. J. A. Willard Believes in Purchasing the Water and Gas Plant.

In conversation with a Herald reporter the other day on the question of the city buying the gas and water company's plant, Hon. J. A. Willard said:

"I think unquestionably it is best for the city to buy, and to do it now. I think now and always have thought that this city, and every other one, should own and control its water supply for obvious reasons. Intelligent people nowadays do not differ on this question. What I suppose they may differ upon here is whether it is best to buy the existing plant, or build a new one. The price asked I deem a large one, and larger, I think, than it could have been bought for some three years ago, and yet I would now favor the purchase, while at that time I was opposed to it and favored the construction of a new plant. Since then I have given the subject much thought and am now most firmly of the belief that the city had better pay even a much bigger price for the present plant than, under conditions existing in Duluth, undertake the construction of a new plant.

"The building of a new plant here is a far more serious matter on several accounts, than one would first suppose. The digging up of the streets and paralleling of pipes of the old plant, even if the people can put up with the great inconvenience and risk the detriment to health involved in it for two years—a great undertaking in such a rock-ribbed city as this. Besides, if the present company put no legal obstructions in the way, it would be a long time before the city would derive any income to speak of to pay interest on the bonds that would have to be issued to pay for the work, while in buying the present plant revenue would begin at once and I think be enough to pay the interest on the bonds. The revenue would increase rapidly as the city settled up, giving eight consumers where in many places there are only two or three now."

"You have only spoken of the water question; do you think the gas plant an objection?"

"No, not in this case. While it is not so imperative, a city should own its gas as well as its water plant; yet I must say I think the gas should have as good or better earning capacity. It will pay from the start, and, looking to the future of a city like this is to be, no one can estimate the value of the city's owning its gas plant. From every point of view, the city should buy, and buy now. If it waits it will pay a higher price."

Compare the Records.

"Compare that record with that of the Republican legislature of 1893. They passed a great many laws of great importance to farmers and laborers, relating to the handling of wheat, free text books, etc. Most of you belong to labor organizations. Many corporations objected to having their employes belong to unions and they required employes to sign agreements not to join them. A bill was passed fixing a penalty for making such a requirement. The same bill had been proposed to the Populist legislature in 1891, and it was defeated!

"Then the legislature of 1893 passed a law requiring factories to provide proper machines and facilities for their employes, a switch inspection law, a legal holiday was given the laboring classes, a law setting apart a portion of the money received from fines for educational and library uses was passed, together with a library law and many other laws for the benefit of the laboring man.

"I call your attention to the vast difference in the work of the two legislatures to show you that the true friend of the laboring man is the Republican party. If you want good, honest results elect good, honest Republicans such as you have on your ticket, and put them where they can work out the principles of their party.

"Four years ago the Populists wanted to segregate the farmers, and now they want to segregate the laboring men also. Men, can you not see that the whole thing is un-American? They have their classes in Europe, their nobles, gentry and the common people. Do you want to bring this result about here? That is what this means. The Populist party promises to take the money away from capitalists and give it to you. You can't pass such laws. Capitalists have rights as well as you, and you have rights as well as they. The Republican party will protect the laboring man in all his just rights, but it cannot oppress others. All must enjoy equal rights.

"When these people come in and want to build up hate between classes they are worse enemies than tariff reducers or grasshoppers. You want such protection that when you attend to your work and proceed with your business you will prosper, and that is what the Republican party proposes to give you.

"The state hopes for your success. We are already a great agricultural and lumber state, and with your help we expect to be a great mineral and mining state.

Effects of Populist Rule.

"Look at Populist rule all over. Oregon, with Pennoyer. North Dakota, formerly a prosperous state, got grasshoppers and chintz bugs, and then she got Populists and now she is bankrupt. South Carolina, Colorado, with militia, police, turmoil and bloodshed. Colorado's Populist attorney general has been tarred and feathered, and her Populist governor has been arrested for opening a letter.

"Kansas was formerly a prosperous state. Four years ago she suffered a severe drouth. Two years later she got Populists, and now poor Kansas is bleeding again. If you could go out and view the results of Populist government, when you got back home you would pray, 'Good, Lord, of all things deliver us from Populism.'

"Look at all these things and you will see that the Republican party is your only refuge. Come back, and nothing will be said about the past, and the fatted calf will be killed. Come back and help us to rebuild our nation's prosperity."

The governor's speech was greeted with hearty applause all through. At Ely this noon a similar scene was enacted. At 12 o'clock a large and enthusiastic crowd assembled and Nelson and Towne both made rattling speeches, which were greeted as enthusiastically as those at Tower. The mines were closed down early to allow the attendance of the men, and Ely's full Republican population turned out and partook of Republican doctrine.

At the meeting here it was announced that a round trip rate of $2 65 would be made for the McKinley demonstration at Duluth, Monday, the train to leave in the evening, and a large number will embrace the opportunity of hearing Ohio's gifted son.

Tower was brilliantly illuminated with lanterns and electric lights in honor of the speakers, and at Two Harbors a large crowd met the train and an informal reception was given the governor and Mr. Towne.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The World."

Some people may want the earth but not one who was at the Temple last night would want "The World." In the advance notices great emphasis was given to the fact that it would be a magnificent scenic production. It, however, did not possess even this merit. It was simple a very rocky show. The actors were very bad and there was not a redeeming feature in the whole play. The audience was small.

"Chris and Lena."

Tomorrow evening Pete Baker, the German comedian appears at the Temple in "Chris and Lena." The Daily Hotel Reporter of Chicago says:

"Pete Baker, the well-known German dialect comedian, began a week's engagement at the Haymarket theatre last night presenting his old-time comedy success, 'Chris and Lena.' This favorite play has met with a most enviable success, but since last seen in Chicago has undergone many changes for the better, while the company carried by Mr. Baker this season is by far the best he has ever had. Prominent among the supporting company this season is Miss Dudie Douglas, the well known German soubrette. She has a splendid clear, soprano voice and will appear in the comedy in the role of Lena. Pete Baker is as popular as ever. His new songs have made a big hit, and his dancing combined with his original wit and humor which he intersperses throughout the piece have strengthened his popularity."

"The Creation."

Next Wednesday evening at the Temple "The Creation" will be produced. One of the features will be the singing of J. Armour Galloway, basso. The Louisville Courier-Journal said of him:

"J. Armour Galloway, the basso, made his debut before the Louisville audience last evening in the "Prayer" from Lohengrin and was compelled to respond to an encore. He possesses a grand voice which he uses very artistically. Altogether he is the most satisfactory artist in his line that we have ever heard in this city."

The cast will include many local singers of prominence.

FROM ACROSS THE BAY.

Agricultural Society Made Money at the Recent Fair.

The Ward brothers, Edward and William, of Oneota, and Otto Watske and W. J. McNamara, of Superior, are taking active steps to develop their gold mining property in the Rainy Lake country. Their mine is situated on an island near the Little American mine and experts say they have some fine looking rock. The Ward brothers left yesterday for their property and machinery will arrive there from Chicago during the next few days.

The Douglas County Agricultural society held a meeting at the office of James H. Agen yesterday afternoon. Secretary James S. Bishop submitted a statement showing the proceeds of the fair. Enough was taken in to nearly pay for the fair building.

Diphtheria has appeared at the steel plant and the inhabitants are badly scared, especially those who have children at school.

The Northwestern Coal Railway company has made a good record since its new dock was ready for receiving coal a month ago. It is expected that from 150,000 to 185,000 tons will be ready before the close of navigation.

The Republican committee meets tomorrow night to consider the changing of the date for the county convention.

Will Stay Where It Is.

The library will remain in the Masonic Temple building, so says the board. A lease has been closed for the whole second floor at $1800 a year. The rooms will be rearranged at once and placed in shape for occupancy by November. The board has been paying $1400 per year but had only about half the room it will now get.

WILL TURN OUT STRONG.

Republican Marching Club Will Greet McKinley—Another Meeting Tomorrow.

The Republican marching club discussed the McKinley reception and the St. Cloud excursion last evening but took no action, postponing it until this evening when a special meeting is to be held. President Johanson having called one. All clubs and committees will be represented tonight including the Colored Republican club, St. Louis county Republican club, the county committee and ward and precinct committees.

The marching club will turn out strong on Monday afternoon when Governor McKinley speaks. For the excursion to St. Cloud a rate of $3 50 for the round trip has been secured and about 200 are expected to go over. A brass band and a glee club will be taken along and a grand parade will be given before the speech by Mr. Towne.

"Bob" Dunn is Happy.

Robert C. Dunn, or as he is better known "Bob" Dunn, Republican candidate for state auditor was in the city today having arrived here last evening. He is well pleased over the outlook in the state and says the whole ticket will be elected by 30,000 plurality. He thinks Judge Willis cannot defeat Judge Collins even though he has two nominations. He also says C. A. Towne is strong and gaining everywhere he appears. His speeches are winning many admirers for him.

Young Democrats Are Shy.

The organization of a Young Men's Democratic club is not going to be such an easy matter. At last night's meeting less than twenty were on hand although the meeting was called under the direction of the Democratic committee. But the effort will not be given up, those interested believing that the bad weather interfered last evening. A meeting is to be held next Thursday for the same purpose.

Political Notes.

A Republican ward meeting was held at Turner hall last evening and was well attended. Speeches were made by A. M. Wickwire, H. R. Spencer and John H. Boyle. Short talks were given by a few others.

The Duluth & Winnipeg has granted a special rate of one fare for the round trip for the McKinley meeting. A number of Grand Rapids people are expected.

Rev. Peter Bergstrom will speak at a Republican meeting at headquarters hall on Garfield avenue tonight.

Capt. Smallwood and Mr. Wesenberg will speak tomorrow night to the Populists at West Duluth. They will hardly draw very heavy with Governor Nelson as an opposition attraction.

W. D. Gordon, L. U. C. Titus and Z. H. Austin will speak tonight at a Populist meeting at Third street and Eighth avenue east.

THE CONTRACT LET.

David Hood Will Erect the A. Booth Company's Plant.

W. V. Booth, of Chicago, general manager of all the A. Booth Packing company plants, was in the city yesterday accompanied by C. W. Turner, the St. Paul manager. The contract for the new plant, a description of which was published in The Herald several weeks ago, was let to David Hood yesterday afternoon. The figure was close to $80,000. It will be 104 by 80 feet in size and will have a fine freezing plant.

The building of a large storage house is still in contemplation and will undoubtedly be built. Mr. Turner will consider this matter in a few days.

A large building is also to be erected at Ashland, 125 by 25 feet in size and two stories high. Duluth contractors may get the job.

Local Commission Firms May Have to Pay for Shipping Partridges.

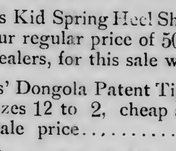

Sam Fullerton, deputy game warden, is going to make it pretty hot for some commission firms. He has suspected that partridges were being shipped outside the state which is against the law. The shippers are liable to a fine of $20 for each bird. Last night he made a raid on a Northern Pacific car and captured a barrel containing 102 partridges. It was shipped by the Northern Pacific Express company. The shipper gave a Swedish name to the express company. Down in the barrel tied to a bird's neck was found a shipping tag bearing the name of a local commission firm. There is liable to be a prosecution and the fine if found guilty would be not less than $20 40.

Not only is the shipper of the birds liable under the law but the carrier as well, hence the express company is open to prosecution. The fine imposed in this case is not less than $50 nor more than $100. Under the law the intent to ship is made sufficient to establish the misdemeanor.

VOTED FOR DIVISION

Methodist Conference By a Large Majority Voted to Divide the State Into Two Conferences.

Majority Committee Report Was Adopted and All Amendments and Substitutes Were Voted Down.

Bishop Foss Will Undoubtedly Give His Approval—Other Business of Yesterday and This Morning.

There was a large attendance at the conference this morning. At 8:30 o'clock the regular devotional service was held. At 9 o'clock minute business was taken up and attended to until 10:15, when Bishop Foss delivered an address to the class of eleven younger ministers up for admission to full connection with the church.

"The model minister must be a model man," he said, "with the highest attributes of humanity in full bloom. He must be a converted man, a holy man.

"A man must be divinely called, and should not begin the work until he is fully assured that God has called him.

"Your pulpit should by your throne of power. You should speak so as to be heard and so as to be listened to. You should make out a case and speak so as to save souls. A model minister must be a Christian believer and holding to the doctrines of his church. The model minister must be a devotee of the written word. The Bible is the great primer of the human spirit. Use your Bible as trustfully as did your Lord.

"A model minister must be a man of the present age—not of 300 years ago. You must adapt your preaching to the needs of the present time as well as to the needs of all time. The needs, forms of belief, temptations, sociological conditions of every age differ. You are to preach now, to men today.

"The model minister has that insatiable hunger for the salvation of souls. The leaven gets into the meal little by little. The salt gets into the meat particle by particle. Go often to individuals. Lead them to Jesus. Enjoin in these young ministers the individual hunger for the salvation of souls."

At the close of the bishop's remarks, the class arose and answered the formal questions of candidates for admission into the conference. Other formalities were gone through with and the candidates formally admitted to the conference.

Dr. Hamilton made a plea for the freedmen's educational work in some brief but interesting and impressive remarks. Then came the question of division of the conference.

Voted For Division.

The vote was first taken on Dr. Pilling's amendment to change the line of division. The amendment was lost.

The substitute motion to accept the minority report, the one against division was put and lost.

Then came the tug-of-war. The vote on the main question, the acceptance of the report of the committee favoring division was taken by roll call.

The vote stood: Ayes, 123; Noes, 40; total, 163.

That gave the necessary two-thirds majority and the conference will be divided.

The regular vote gave division a majority of only one but fourteen of the ministers, before the vote was announced, changed from no to aye.

From remarks made by Bishop Foss after the vote it may be taken as assured that he will give his approval.

Yesterday Afternoon's Session.

All yesterday afternoon was taken up by the conference in the discussion of division, the question taken up at the morning session.

Rev. Robert Forbes, of Duluth, and W. J. Robinson, of the Winona district, made strong pleas for division. Dr. McCleary took the opposite view, as also did Rev. Peter Clare, of Minneapolis. The session ended with the closing of the debate by Dr. Lathrop, who opened the discussion in the morning.

At the Freedman's anniversary last night, Rev. George R. Geer presided. Rev. J. F. Stout presented an eloquent address on educational and religious work in behalf of the freedmen.

Dr. Hamilton, corresponding secretary of the Freedmen's Aid and Educational society, delivered an eloquent and weighty address.

"You thought you settled the slavery question at Gettysburg," said he, "but Gettysburg settled nothing. Gettysburg and Appomatox simply transferred the arena upon which the great question was to be settled to Washington, and thence to the mind and heart of every citizen of this great country. There is only one appeal to the final settlement of all difficulties—the appeal to right consciousness and truth."

"Slavery was a curse, both upon the black and upon the white, but the curse upon the white was, I am assured, a greater curse than that upon the black. This is one of the things we have been thirty years in changing and which will last thirty years more, or until we get rid of little men in high offices of state. Another is the curse on commerce in all the southern portions of our country.

"Still another condition that time has not changed. Slavery left the people unclean. At the close of the slave-holding period the condition of the people was absolutely and lamentably unclean and slovenly, and to this day they have not even learned to use tobacco in a decent and civilized manner.

Illiterates Increasing.

"Slavery begot no thirst for knowledge and in spite of the efforts to educate the inhabitants of the South the number of illiterates actually increased 50,000 between the years of 1880 and 1890.

"Slavery begot no love of man for the sake of man. We find no Southern church which does not build its religious fame upon the spirit that the negro is not as good as the white. Under these conditions and environments the condition of the black is infinitely worse than when he was a slave.

"One thing more—the valued Southern chivalry was never genuine. That chivalry which will allow a man to stand in a banquet hall and openly cast a slur upon all womankind, to rob her of her brightest jewel that her soul possesses—that chivalry I say is but a mockery. The care of the slave never partook of chivalry. Under the system of slavery there was no such thing as black womanhood, and until black womankind of the South is lifted up and placed in homes where she can care for her kind in motherly, womanly manner there can be no such thing as a great pure nation for these black people of the South.

"There is only one solution whereby these wrongs can be righted. We must teach them the gospel of love—not of war—place the Christian school and the Christian church side by side, teach one God, one nation, one humanity."

FOOTBALL TOMORROW.

Ex-Collegiates and Hamline To Meet on the Gridiron.

Tomorrow afternoon the ex-collegians will meet the football men from Hamline university on the whitewashed gridiron at Woodland and lovers of the game are looking forward to the struggle with much interest.

The Hamline men have thus far this season a record of no defeats, so that it will be an extra incentive to the veterans to gain a victory over them. The local men put in their final practice this morning when the strongest eleven ever gotten together in Duluth lined up for the signals. The men who will face each other are as follows:

EX-COLLEGIATES.		HAMLINE.

S. C. MURPHY MAY RUN.

West Duluth Editor Likely to Be Put on the Legislative Ticket.

S. C. Murphy, of the West Duluth Sun, will probably be placed on the Democratic legislative ticket. Charles Little, the West Duluth contractor, was nominated but immediately declined the honor. He was believed to be a strong candidate and it was desired to keep him on the ticket. Considerable pressure was brought to bear and it was believed that he would accept but he has finally declined absolutely.

S. C. Murphy is not extremely anxious to enter the race but is being urged to do so and will probably accept.

Those Spiritualist Lectures.

The Sunday lectures being given at the I. O. O. F. hall by Mrs. Richings, are well attended, and to judge from the audiences greatly appreciated. She presents her subjects in a clear and logical manner, at once interesting and instructive. Unlike many speakers on spiritualism, she says nothing to offend those who differ with her. The lady is an elocutionist of exceptional ability and the readings with which she prefaces her lectures are fine.

Populist Speaker Coming.

Next week Willard J. Hull, of New York, one of the foremost Populist speakers in this country, will deliver five speeches in St. Louis county. The first one will be presented at United States hall at the West End next Tuesday evening. Two of the speeches will be made on the range, one at Tower and one in Virginia.

Secretary McConaughy Resigns.

S. G. McConaughy, secretary of the Duluth Y. M. C. A. has resigned his position here to accept the secretaryship of the Kensington branch at Philadelphia. He will leave Duluth Monday, Oct. 15, for his new field of labor. Mr. McConaughy's successor here has not been selected.

FOR HOTEL STOCK.

Messrs. Hartmann and Mallett Being Sued on a Note.

The Spalding Hotel company's suit against Emil Hartmann and R. D. Mallett was on trial in the district court before Judge Lewis today. The suit is to recover on a promissory note given in payment for $2500 of the stock of the hotel company. The note was burned in the Fargusson block fire. The stock was never delivered to them and that therefore they are not liable for it. The plaintiffs admit this but claim that the delivery was not necessary to establish their liability. The case was still on trial at noon.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Mary McGillis and John McGillis, her husband, on the 1st of May, 1891, mortgaged to Harlan W. Page lot No. one hundred and seventy-two of block No. forty-two, Duluth Proper, Third Division, in St. Louis County, Minnesota, according to the plat of said division of record in the office of the register of deeds of said county, to secure the payment of three hundred and fifty dollars, with interest at eight per cent. This mortgage was filed for record in the office of the register of deeds of said county of St. Louis on the second day of May, 1891, and was duly recorded in Book 61 of mortgages, on page 113.

This mortgage was assigned to Carleton College by said Harlan W. Page on the 13th of October, 1891, and the assignment was filed for record in the office of the register of deeds of said county of St. Louis on the 4th day of October, 1894, and was duly recorded in Book 108 of mortgages, on page 122.

By the terms of said mortgage the mortgagors agreed that until said mortgage should be fully paid or released they would pay all taxes or assessments that should be payable on said premises before the time when any portion of the same could be sold for said taxes or assessments, and that in case of failure to pay the same as thus agreed the mortgagee or his assigns might pay such taxes or assessments, and the sums paid therefor should be secured by said mortgage and bear interest at the same rate as the principal sum secured.

There is now due on the debt secured by said mortgage for principal and interest the sum of three hundred and sixty-one dollars and ninety-eight cents, and the further sum of one hundred and forty-four dollars and ninety-one cents, this day paid by the undersigned for taxes and assessments, in accordance with the provision therefor in the mortgage, no action at law has been brought for the recovery of any part of the sum due from the mortgagors, and default has been made in the payment of the same.

A BAD FIRE IN DETROIT.

Front Wall of the Building Tumbled Into Woodward Avenue, Burying Several Firemen Beneath It.

Four Men Were Taken Out of the Ruins Dead and Others Have Probably Perished.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 5.—Fire was discovered in the shipping room in the basement at the the back of the furniture store of Keenan & Jahn, at 7:30 o'clock this morning. An alarm was turned in, but by the time the engines arrived the fire had gained considerable headway, having run up the elevator shaft, and the entire upper floor was a mass of flame and smoke when the first stream was thrown.

There were sixty employes in the building and most of them had great difficulty in escaping. The building, an old 5-story structure, was soon gutted and the stock ruined. At 9 o'clock the front wall of the building tumbled into Woodward avenue. It came in the shape of a collapse and the mass of debris did not spread beyond the curb.

The firemen working in front of the building were warned and retreated as rapidly as possible. Some got out from under, but a dozen or more unfortunate fellows were unable to do so on account of the piles of brick, glass and burnt timber at the front of the store.

A yell of horror went up simultaneously from the throats of the thousands who were in the street, and then there was a crash like an earthquake. The air was filled with dust aad sheets of flame and smoke. Then some of the falling wall broke the heavy electric wires in front of the street, besides the trolley wire. A flash of sputtering electric fluid lightened up the scene, and people crowded and surged to get into the stores and down the side streets to escape being shocked.

A number of men, women and children were trampled under the feet of the frightened spectators, but none were seriously hurt.

The first man taken out from under the debris was Lieut. Michael H. Donoghue, of Chemical No. 1. He was dead.

The next body found was that of Richard Dely, pipeman of Engine No. 9. It was lying under two iron columns, and the head and back were frightfully crushed. The next dead man to be taken out was Pipeman John Pagel of No. 9. He was crushed by the crumbling walls.

Frederick A. Bussey, a spectator, was taken to Grace hospital and died. Mike Gray was also taken to Grace hospital, where he was found to be so badly injured about the head that he may die. Mike Ball, pipeman of No. 9, is still in the ruins and certainly dead. Julius Cummings, Company No. 2, is still in the ruins.

These are injured: Lieut. O'Rourke, of Engine No. 8; Pipeman F. Stock, No. 8; Pipeman C. Cronin, No. 8; John B. Newell, Truck No. 2, injured about head; Thomas Garry, substitute, badly bruised; Leslie McNamara, No. 2; Henry Kimberly, No. 2; Henry Herig, leg broken.

The aggregate loss on building and stock is estimated at $80,000; fully insured.

Suspected of Being Connected With His Uncle's Murder.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 5.—William D. Trombley is locked up at the police headquarters on suspicion of being connected with the murder of Charles B. Chauvin, his uncle.

Trombley is the missing heir to the Chauvin estate, for whom the police have been searching in New York, and who sold his interest in the Chauvin estate to John H. Seitz.

Trombley and Seitz came to Detroit from New York last night and spent the night at Seitz's home on Woodward avenue, and they came down town this morning and went to the office of C. E. Lothrop, Seitz's lawyer, where the arrest was made.

FIRE AT NASHVILLE.

The Young Men's Christian Association Building Burned Today.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 5.—The Young Men's Christian association building was destroyed by fire today. The flames originated in the basement and spread with remarkable rapidity. The editorial rooms of the Banner in the same building were burned, and the Banner building adjoining was damaged to some extent by water. The paper will be issued as usual.

The Associated Press room in the Y. M. C. A. building was destroyed. The fire is supposed to have originated in the Y. M. C. A. boiler room. The loss of the Y. M. C. A. is $60,000; insurance $25,000.

Pig Lead for Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—A portion of the freight on the steamship Rio Janeiro, which sailed for Yokohama and Hong Kong, was 200 tons of pig lead, consigned to Japan. It is supposed that this lead is to be used in the manufacture of cartridges. It is the largest shipment of lead ever made to the Orient from this port. The steamer also carried a big cargo of flour for Japan and China and 200 tons of wheat for China. This is the first whole wheat ever shipped to China, as it usually goes in the shape of flour.

Won by New York.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 5.—New York won the first of the series of games for the Temple cup. It was witnessed by 9000 people. The game was scientific and fast. Rusie's terrific speed was the feature. The score was: Baltimore, 1; New York, 4.

Pardoned by Grover.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The president has pardoned A. M. Otis, sentenced in Wisconsin to five years' imprisonment for embezzling letters. The pardon is granted because the prisoner is in an advanced stage of a fatal disease.

ONE BANK ROBBER CAUGHT.

An Indiana Sheriff With the Aid of Blood Hounds Makes a Capture.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 5.—A bloody fight took place last night in Greene county between a posse of 100 armed men and a trio of bank robbers who robbed the safe of the Bloomfield bank, blowing the vault to atoms with a heavy charge of dynamite and wrecking the bank office.

The men secured $4500 in cash and fled to the hill country west of Bloomfield, where they were overtaken by Sheriff Johnson's posse, guided by blood hounds. A desperate fight was kept up, with the robbers retreating. One of the trio was so badly wounded that he fell behind and attempted to hide in the brush. The blood hounds nosed him out and his capture was easily affected.

He was taken back to Switz City, four miles from Bloomfield and three miles from where the fighting took place in the woods. The wounded robber gave his name as Charles Rivers, of Indianapolis, and still had $1100, his share of the Bloomfield bank plunder. He is badly wounded.

The sheriff, with the greater part of the posse, assisted by the blood hounds, continued the pursuit towards the western edge of the county, and it is believed the other two will soon be overtaken and shot to pieces.

RELIEF FOR FIRE SUFFERERS.

Commissioner Lamoreaux Suggests Measures of Relief by Congress.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—S. W. Lamoreaux, commissioner of the general land office, in his annual report to the secretary of the interior, makes several suggestions for the benefit of the sufferers by forest fires in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. He says:

"The timber affected by these fires on public lands has been left in such a condition that if not cut and disposed of in a short time it will become worm-eaten and worthless, thus depriving the land of the great portion of its value to the settler seeking title thereto. Numerous applications have been made by the sufferers by these fires for permission to cut the timber at once and sell it."

He therefore recommends that congress be asked to give the permission necessary to allow the cutting of this timber and thus prevent the total loss of millions of feet. He also suggests that congress take other necessary steps for the relief of the fire sufferers, following the precedent set in similar cases.

HARMONY IN NEW YORK.

The Cleveland Faction Will Support the Hill Ticket.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Chairman Hinckley, of the Democratic state committee, said to a reporter today:

"As the situation now stands I can most emphatically state that the regular Democratic state ticket will receive the full support of the Cleveland faction. As to whether Secretary Lamont came over with orders from the administration to restore harmony, both in the city and state I am not at liberty to say, but I can tell you that I am positively assured that the administration men in Washington desire most earnestly the success of the regular Democratic ticket, headed by Senator Hill. I can also state to you that Judge W. J. Gaynor will, without doubt, appear on the state ticket as the nominee for the court of appeals.

"The administration at large and all its supporters realize that the honor of the Democracy is now at stake and for that purpose they are willing to make every concession in the interest of securing Democratic success this fall. It is no longer a question with the administration men of personality, but of Democracy."

AN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIR.

The Great Powers Decide to Take a Hand in the Eastern War.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The St. James Gazette says that the interest of England, France and Russia are closely involved in the possible breaking up of the Chinese empire, and that it is believed that Russia has signified that she cannot any longer regard the progress of events in the far East with indifference.

The Manchester Guardian is informed that Russia and Great Britain have definitely decided that the settlement of the war must be an international and not a Japanese affair. Germany and France are said to have acquiesced to this decision, while the policy of the United States is still regarded as uncertain.

Russia, according to the Manchester Guardian, has already warned the powers that the future of Corea concerns the Russian government. Japan, in her present mood, will pay no heed to any representations made by the powers unless they shall be accompanied by tangible evidence of the intention to back them up. It was to authorize this, according to the Guardian, that the ministerial council of yesterday was summoned.

The paper further states that after a showing of force, Japan would be told that England desired that an armistice be established and on behalf of Europe would immediately call an international conference.

"Queen of the Anarchists."

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—The police arrested a woman today who was found at the Union depot with a bundle of anarchist literature. In her possession were found several circulars signed "Lizzie Loftus, queen of the anarchists," and ordering the destruction of Chicago, "on or about Oct. 6." The woman, who was plainly dressed and of middle age, refused to give an account of herself and was locked up, pending an investigation.

Burned at Sea.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The steamer Oronoco from Bermuda, Oct. 2, reached this port today having on board as passengers Capt. Forbes and Mate Joseph Connor and nine seamen from the American bark Albemarle from Baltimore for St. John, Porto Rico, via Navassa, coal laden, which was burned at sea Sept. 18.

Ex-Governor Curtin Dying.

YET ANOTHER TICKET

The Independent Democrats of Ramsey County Will put up Another County and Legislative Ticket.

Will Be a Piece of Patchwork Including Some of the Democratic and Republican Nominees.

A St. Anthony Park Man Was Suddenly Bereft of the Use of Every Voluntary Muscle.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 15.—There is to be another county and legislative ticket in the field in Ramsey county. The Independent Democrats have announced their intention to have one that suits their own ideas. It will be a piece of patchwork, as some of the Democratic, as well as some of the Republican nominees, will be indorsed and the other places filled by candidates from the Independents. No Populists need apply, as it is announced in advance that the nominees of that party will be given neither aid nor comfort.

The leaders of the faction are Townley, Haese et al. the Sixth ward Democrats who made such a fight in the convention where the delegates to the state convention were selected. A. N. Nelson, the present county treasurer, who was turned down for a renomination, has announced himself as an Independent candidate and his name will doubtless be placed on the Independent Democratic ticket.

The leaders claim to be able to control about 1000 votes and say they will make it interesting for some of the regular nominees if they don't succeed in electing any of their own candidates. A meeting will be held shortly to arrange for the calling of a convention to make the nominations.

VERY PECULIAR MALADY.

A Man Suddenly Bereft of Use of Every Voluntary Muscle.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 5.—Frederick W. Reeves, of St. Anthony Park, a student of civil engineering and an inventor of delicate and complicated machinery, became the victim yesterday of a peculiar malady, the nature of which his physicians are unable to determine. While walking along Eighth street in the afternoon he was suddenly bereft of the use of every voluntary muscle in his body, and stood like a statue fully thirty minutes until a policeman came along and took care of him.

Close application to his work, his physicians think, caused that portion of his brain controlling the voluntary muscles to temporarily suspend business for a while, causing his illness.

He was taken to his brother's home, where for an hour he sat in an armchair, perfectly helpless. Then all at once he jumped to his feet in perfect possession his faculties and almost perfect use of his muscles. He was weak, however, and physicians recommend perfect rest for a time, when it is thought he will be all right.

EPISCOPAL YOUNG MEN.

The Church Work to Be Centralized in a State Union.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 5.—About sixty delegates from all over the state met last evening in St. Mark's Episcopal church to perfect an organization known as the diocesan assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, of Minnesota. The object is to centralize the work of young men in the church into a state union.

Hector Baxter, a member of the national council, presided and T. Bouchier acted as secretary. Rev. H. P. Nichols presented the report of the committee appointed last May on constitution and by-laws. It was based upon that of the diocesan assembly of New York and was adopted with some changes regarding the number of officers and their duties.

The chairman brought to the attention of the delegates the international convention of the order to be held at Washington, Oct. 10 to 13. He stated that Minnesota would send representatives from the Indian chapter, St. Cornelia, at Birch Coulie, two full blooded redmen, by name Charles Good Thunder and Napoleon Wabasha. Seventy-five dollars toward their expense had been already raised and the collection added nearly the amount which would be needed.

The committee appointed to nominate officers brought in the following list, which were made the officers of the assembly: President, Bishop Gilbert, St. Paul; first vice president, Dr. T. E. Weeks, Minneapolis; second vice president, J. M. Smith, St. Peter; secretary and treasurer, T. Bouchier, Minneapolis; executive committee, C. E. Purdy, St. Paul: E. W. Hawley, Minneapolis; H. M. Temple, St. Paul.

The next step in the organization will be to submit the articles to the different chapters of the state for adoption, and then the place and time of the next meeting will be determined. The meeting closed with papers on the brotherhood work which called forth some discussion and suggestions for reaching young men.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CHINESE SCARED

A Japanese Fleet of Seventy Warships and Transports Has Arrived in the Gulf of Pe Che Li.

Their Presence at That Point Has Caused the Greatest Excitement at Shanghai and Elsewhere.

The Chinese Are Hurriedly Adding to the Fortifications of New Chwang, Anticipating an Attack.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—A dispatch from Shanghai today says that the masters of several Chinese junks which arrived at Chee Foo yesterday, report having sighted a large fleet of Japanese transports escorted by warships, on Tuesday night. This Japanese fleet was then entering the gulf of Pe Chi Li, and after steaming westward for some distance the course of the warships and transports was altered to about northeast. In all the Japanese fleet, warships and transports included, numbered seventy ships. Their presence in the gulf of Pe Chi Li has caused the greatest excitement at Shanghai and elsewhere.

In London it is believed that the Japanese fleet referred to as having been sighted is the expeditionary force consisting of 30,000 men, which left Horishima, the Japanese headquarters, on Sept. 26, under sealed orders and under command of Field Marshal Count Oyama, who was Japanese minister of war. Upon taking command of the expedition, he temporarily handed over that portfolio to the minister of marine, Count Saigo. This force composed the second Japanese army corps and was escorted by the second Japanese squadron.

A dispatch received at New Chwang, Gulf of Lao Ton, says that the Chinese are in full retreat from Moukden, which is threatened by the advance of the Japanese troops from Corea and the Japanese force said to have been landed near Possiel bay, and not far from the Russian territory bordering on Corea and the Chinese province of Manchuria.

Another report which reaches London from Shanghai says that it is believed at the latter city that the Chinese forces which have been defending Moukden have been hastily summoned from that place, in order to oppose the projected Japanese landing either in the gulf of Pe Chi Li or in the gulf of Lao Ton. The Chinese are hurriedly adding to the fortifications of New Chwang in anticipation of a Japanese attack upon that port or a landing in its neighborhood.

WAS TIRED OF LIVING.

An Unsuccessful Land Speculator Suicided in 'Frisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The body of James H. Crossman, a well-known mining man and speculator, was found in his room at the Baldwin hotel last night and on a table by his side was a deadly compound of ammonia and a glass half full of the same drug. Several letters addressed to his wife were found.

Poor success in land speculation is supposed to be the cause of the deed. Crossman was at one time owner of some valuable property. He was owner of the Temescal tin mines which are to be opened shortly by an English syndicate.

HE HAS BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Senator Gorman Compelled to Abstain From Active Politics.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A World special from Baltimore says: Senator Gorman's friends here say he is suffering with Bright's disease and has accepted the advice of his physician, Dr. Lincoln, of Washington, to abstain from active political work. This accounts, they say, for the indifference the senator has manifested as to the anti-Gorman resolutions passed by so many Democratic conventions.

Twenty-Three Young Men Arrested for Holding a Charivari.

OMAHA, Oct. 6.—A special to the Bee from West Point, Neb., says: George B. Boyer, 80 years old, was married on Monday. Twenty-three young men of the city concluded to indulge in a charivari.

The aged bridegroom became indignant and had them all arrested and spent several hundred dollars in convicting them of disturbing his repose. Decided By Carlisle.

RESULT OF SIN

A North Dakota Farmer Killed a Married Woman, With Whom He Eloped, and Suicided.

Bodies of Three More Victims of the Hinckley Fire Found Near Tamarac River Today.

State Board of Equalization Increased the Valuation of Land About Twenty-five Per Cent.

Several Heavy Suits against a Mankato Brewery for Using a Creek for Sewerage Purposes.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 6.—A Forman, N. D., special to the Dispatch says: Peter Carlson, a farmer near Cayuga, this county, fatally stabbed Mrs. Helma Strom, a woman with whom he had been living, and then committed suicide by stabbing himself through the heart. Carlson, who had a wife in Sweden, eloped with a neighbor's wife seven years ago and came to this country. The woman's husband recently settled in Otter Tail county, Minn., and learning her whereabouts sent his son Ole after her, and her decision to return with him so infuriated Carlson that he attacked her with the above result.

WANT HEAVY DAMAGES.

Suits Against a Brewery for Using a Creek for Sewerage Purposes.

MANKATO, Minn., Oct. 6.—Suits to the amount of $11,000 have been begun in the district court against the William Bierbauer estate, Louisa Bierbauer and Albert Bierbauer, executors, for damages sustained by the plaintiffs from the use of a run, known as the Guenther creek, for sewer purposes by the Bierbauer brewery.

Wilhemina Frauksen sues the estate for $5000 and the executors for $1000. Mary Hidde sues the estate for $4000 and the executors for $1000. One claim extends over a period of six years, the other over five years.

This run or creek extends from the top of Guenther hill, a distance of 1¼ miles. Between Sixth street and the Minnesota river it runs through a thickly settled district, and if every person affected should decide to begin suits, and these should win, it would involve large expense for the brewery.

THE STATE VALUATION.

Reductions and Increases Made by the Board of Equalization.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 6.—The statement of the state board of equalization has been printed and is now being sent out by the state auditor to the county auditors throughout the state. The figures show a reduction of from 10 to 40 per cent in the valuation of horses of all ages in almost every county, and a general reduction in sheep in about half the counties.

There is a general increase in the valuation of hogs, averaging probably 40 per cent, and an advance in cattle in about two-thirds of the counties. The valuation of land was also increased in nearly every county, the average advance being something like 25 per cent.

The greatest increases were in watches, clocks and dogs, the advance on the latter running as high as 400 per cent in some counties. Stocks of saloons also came in for an increase in about half the counties.

Opera House Burned.

WANTS A SEPARATION.

A Hinckley Woman Asks a Divorce From a Worthless Husband.

Two Hinckley fire sufferers are parties to a divorce suit filed in district court this morning. Carrie Mortinson files the complaint, and her story of the wrongs she claims to have received from her husband, Nels, forms a pathetic but too common story. The parties were married at Hinckley in July, 1885, and have four children, the oldest being 13 years of age. She charges habitual drunkenness and failure to support the family.

At the time of the Hinckley fire, when the village was destroyed, plaintiff lost everything she had, but "unaided by defendant, who did not leave the saloon to come to his children when fire was sweeping down on the town, plaintiff saved three of the children and the fourth escaped in some manner unknown, but without any assistance from his father."

Since the fire she has had nothing except what she has earned and what the people of Duluth gave her. She asks for divorce, care of the children, payment of money for their care, and temporary alimony.

LARGER HALL SECURED.

Governor McKinley Will Speak at the West End Car Barn.

The great interest aroused over Governor McKinley's coming has convinced the Republican committee that the Temple Opera house will not begin to be large enough to accommodate all who want to hear him. Arrangements were therefore closed this afternoon for securing the big West End street car barn. It is 150 by 300 feet in size. The cars will all be moved out and the pits will be covered over and seats sufficient for 20,000 people provided. Of this number 2000 will be reserved for ladies. Extra street cars, sufficient to accommodate the entire population of the city, will be put on.

Governor McKinley will arrive in Duluth on Monday morning on the St. Paul & Duluth road. Tonight he speaks at St. Paul. A committee consisting of J. R. Carey, Mayor Lewis and F. B. Daugherty will leave tomorrow morning to meet him and escort him to the city. At the depot he will be met by Judge Ensign, C. E. Lovett and Thomas Wood and will be escorted to the Spalding.

The attendance from the range will be large. The Iron Range road has made a rate of $2.60 for the round trip from all points on its line. The Missabe road has also given a good rate and the Duluth & Winnipeg gives a one fare rate.

At 6:30 o'clock a reception and banquet will be given Governor McKinley at West Superior. He will speak at the Grand Opera house there at 8 o'clock.

THE MAJOR'S FAREWELL TOUR.

Positively His Last Appearance--No Extra Charge for Reserved Seats.

Maj. Baldwin spoke at Melrose, Stearns county, on Thursday. Yesterday he visited other Stearns county towns, among them Albany, Avon and Collegeville. In the afternoon he went to Clearwater and will arrive home tomorrow or Monday. Next week Maj. Baldwin and W. H. Tripp will speak on Tuesday at Grand Rapids, on Wednesday at Cloquet, on Thursday at Carlton and on Friday in West Duluth. In the week week following Maj. Baldwin and J. C. Hollembaek will speak on Oct. 15 at Aitkin, Oct. 16 at Brainerd, Oct 17 at Staples, Oct. 18 at Park Rapids, Oct. 19 at Wadena and Oct. 20 at Little Falls.

A big meeting is to be held on Nov. 2 at the Temple, with Gen. Becker and Maj. Baldwin as speakers.

RICE'S POINT RALLY.

Rev. Peter Bergstrom's Address at Hendrickson Hall Last Night.

At Hendrickson's hall on Garfield avenue last night over 250 workingmen were addressed by Rev. Bergstrom, of Litchfield. He made a powerful speech and was well received. "The Democrats," he said, "came to us in our prosperity and promised us still better times if they could be allowed to destroy the protective tariff. We listened to their oily nonsense and put them in power. But they didn't destroy our tariff—they didn't dare to. They gave us instead the Wilson bill, which Cleveland has designated as an act born of party perfidy and dishonor.

"They repealed the federal election law to please the solid South, and revoked 14,000 pensions without cause. Besides the Democrats we have the Populists, followers of Donnelly and a lot of other sore-heads. They wish to increase the circulating currency and say that it has suffered a decrease per capita. The trouble is our money doesn't circulate under the present condition of affairs."

Mr. Stevens also spoke, and a number of the candidates were introduced to the audience.

THE MARCHING CLUB.

Commillees Appointed to Sell Tickets to the St. Cloud Rally.

On Wednesday next C. A. Towne will visit St. Cloud. A special train will run over and at least 250 Duluthians will go over. The Republican Marching club will make the trip and will parade the streets of St. Cloud and let the Democratic politicians of that city and Stearns county see what enthusiasm pervades the ranks of the Towne supporters in Duluth. The rate for the round trip is only $3.50. Less than one fare.

At the meeting of the Marching club last evening the following committee was appointed to look after the sale of tickets:

O. H. Rask, E. P. Towne, C. W. Dorsey, S. S. Williamson, D. E. Baldwin, H. C. Braden, C. A. Young, Adam Weir, Thomas Clark, Fredcrick Lee Seixas, W. R. Twomey, A. M. Wickwire, R. M. Sellwood, H. C. Richardson, A. L. Agatin, O. J. Bunting, H. V. Eva, Louis Christensen, Mr. Waggoner and George Vincent.

IN TERSE STYLE

The Principles of the Republicans of Massachusetts Are Stated in a Very Concise Manner.

Congressman Cogswell Was Unable to be Chairman of the State Convention Owing to Illness.

Governor Greenhalge Unanimously Nominated for a Second Term and Lieut. Governor Wolcott Named Again.

W. M. Oty Named for Secretary, H. M. Phillips for Treasurer and Gen. John W. Kimball for Auditor.

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—The Massachusetts Republican state convention assembled in Music hall today, Samuel J. Winslow acting as temporary president. Upon reporting a permanent organization the committee stated through Senator Hoar that Congressman Cogswell, who had been selected for the president's place, had sent a telegram stating that his physicians would not permit him to attend, therefore Temporary President Winslow was continued in the chair as permanent president. Curtis Guild, Jr., was appointed to read Congressman Cogswell's speech, which he had written.

Senator Hoar, as chairman of the committee on resolutions, submitted the following report:

The principles of the Republicans of Massachusetts are as well known as the commonwealth itself; well known as the republic; well known as liberty; well known as justice. Chief among them are: An equal share in government for every citizen; best possible wages for every workman; the American market for American labor; every dollar paid by the government, both the gold and silver dollars of the constitution, and their paper representatives—honest and unchanging in value and equal to every other; better immigration laws; better naturalization laws; no tramp, anarchist, criminal or pauper labor to be let in, so that citizenship shall not be stained or polluted; sympathy with liberty and republican government at home and abroad; Americanism everywhere; the flag never lowered or dishonored; no surrender in Samoa; no barbarous queen beheading men in Hawaii; no lynching; no punishment without trial; faith kept with the pensioners; no deserving old soldier in the poor house; suppression of dram drinking and dram selling; a school at the public charge open to all the children, and free from partisan or sectarian control; no distinction of birth or religious creed in the rights of American citizenship; clean politics; pure administration; no lobbyists; reform of old abuses; leadership along loftier paths; minds ever open to the sunlight in the morning, ever open to new truth and new duty as the new years bring their lessons.

Senator Lodge, after some routine business, moved the renomination by acclamation of Governor F. T. Greenhalge. The motion was adopted and similar action was taken as to Lieutenant Governor Roger Wolcott. William M. Oty was nominated by acclamation for secretary of the commonwealth and Henry M. Phillips for treasurer and receiver general, Gen. John W. Kimball for auditor and H. M. Knowlton for attorney general. Governor Greenhalge was introduced and addressed the convention.

ALLEGES IRRESPONSIBILITY.

Mrs. Robinson Applies For a Guardian For Her Brother Thomas V. Martin.

This morning in the probate court Judge Ayer was hearing a petition for the appointment of a guardian for Thomas V. Martin, son of Judge E. P. Martin, who died at his home on the Pike Lake road some time ago. The petitioner is Mrs. Laura G. Robinson, a sister of the man for whom she wishes a guardian appointed.

In her petition she alleges that her brother is a resident of St. Louis county and is 38 years of age. He is possessed of a considerable quantity of real and personal property, in the safety of which the petitioner is concerned for the following reasons: She alleges that he is and has been for some time a habitual drunkard and an idler, and "by reason of such drunkenness and idleness he so spends, wastes and lessens his estate" as to be likely to expose himself to want and suffering when he runs through his money.

She further alleges that he is a constant associate of his brother E. F. Martin, who exerts an evil influence over him and causes him to drink more than he otherwise would. She says that E. F. Martin has declared that he would defraud Thomas of what property he had left, and the petitioner asserts as her solemn belief that unless a guardian be appointed for Thomas he will carry out his threat.

The morning was taken up with hearing testimony as to whether the statements of the petition about Thomas and E. F. Martin were true or not. The hearing was continued till this afternoon.

Winning Friends Everywhere.

Elk River Star-News: The newspapers of Duluth are predicting that Towne will carry that city by the largest majority ever known. Mr. Towne's speeches from the stump are being talked of all over the country, and the old political war horses will have to look to their laurels. He is winning friends wherever he goes by the able and judicious manner in which he handles the questions of the day. Political speeches, as a general thing, are prosy and dry, but not so Mr. Towne's; they bristle with points and are full of meat.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

"Rush City," a Fine Farce Comedy, by Gus Heege, at the Temple on Monday.

Rose Coghlan in "Diplomacy" to be Here Soon—"Shaft No. 2" Coming to the Lyceum.

Tonight Pete Baker, the well known German comedian will appear at the Temple in his great success "Chris and Lena." The German immigrant will always be a favorite upon our stage apparently, and of those who portray his happy innocence and good-natured foolishness today there is no one who comes closer to nature than Pete Baker. That is what makes Mr. Baker's Chris a lovable as well as an amusing creation—his naturalness is even subtle and minute.

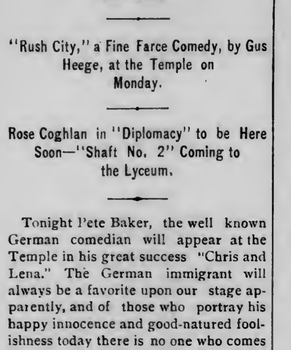

Pete Baker's name is inseparably connected with "Chris and Lena," and he made no mistake when he decided to revive it this season. The story of the play is well known. The great feature is, of course, the singing of Mr. Baker and other members of the company. Mr. Baker's voice does not change very much although he has been using it on the stage these many years.

The Chicago Mail says: "Peter Baker, one of the foremost German dialect comedians of this country, began a week's engagement last evening at the Haymarket theater, presenting his well known play, 'Chris and Lena.' An immense house was present and the hearty applause of the audience bespoke volumes for the mirth contained in the piece. A capable supporting company accompanies Mr. Baker and the scenic surroundings were all the eyes could ask."

ROSE COGHLAN.

She Will Present Sardou's "Diplomacy" at the Temple Soon.

One week from Monday Rose Coghlan will be at the Temple presenting Sardou's "Diplomacy." This will be one of the most notable engagements of this season. The Scranton, Pa., Republican says of her: "While, perhaps, in no other character is this charming actress so perfect as Stephanie in 'Forget Me Not,' yet her great artistic ability rises to supreme heights as the Countess Zicka in 'Diplomacy.' The success she has won in this strong play of Sardou's is not to be questioned as again and again the power of her art in her difficult role thrills the audience. Suffering from a cold as she was last evening her ringing accents and her magnetic personality were never more potent in their influence."

The company is an exceptionally powerful one and includes John T. Sullivan, Frederic de Belleville, Cecil Yorke, J. W. Shannon, Miss Hattie Russell, Miss Maxine Elliott and Miss Blanche Burton.

Miss Coghlan's gowns will delight the ladies. The first gown in which she appears is a black satin, ablaze with gold embroideries and spangles. The exquisitely fitting bodice is exceedingly decollete. In the second act she wears a beautiful costume of mauve satin thickly embroidered with pearls and footed with priceless lace. In the last act Miss Coghlan is clad in deep maroon velvet, the bodice of maroon crepe, the back a Zouave jacket of oriental embroidery. Her jewels are gorgeous.

"RUSH CITY."

New Play by Gus Heege to Be Produced at the Temple Monday.

Gus Heege, the author of "Yon Yonson," has written another farce comedy which will be presented at the Temple Monday. It is entitled "Rush City," and its success in the large cities of the East seems to have been most emphatic. The production is made by Thomas H. Davis and W. T. Keogh who are also identified with several other important theatrical enterprises. Exchanges speak in flattering terms of the comedy which has for its theme the sudden uprising of a city in the Oklahoma district superinduced by the promises made by a man named Rush who runs the town to suit himself and assumes all the political offices. Its compete destruction by a cyclone produces not only clever mechanical effect but a very ludicrous situation.

The list of artists engaged in the presentation is particularly strong individually and collectively and embraces such well known entertainers as Matthews and Bulger, Joseph Coyne, John Gilroy, M. J. Gallagher, Frank O'Brien, T. Edward Hall, Adelaide Randall, Merri Osbourne, Gussie Hall and the Claflin sisters. A complete scenic outfit is carried by the company.

Frank Bixby's Play Coming to the Lyceum in the Near Future.

"Shaft No. 2" will be produced at the Lyceum on Monday and Tuesday evenings, Oct. 15 and 16. The play is by Frank Bixby, formerly manager of the Bijou theater in Minneapolis. The Minneapolis Times said upon its appearance there:

"If anybody had a doubt about Frank Bixby's "Shaft No. 2" he should have seen the reception given the play and its author last night at the Grand. It was simply one great big round of applause, and at the close of the third act the audience would not be quiet until Frank Losee had led Mr. Bixby before the curtain. Then came an ovation to the author and a beautiful floral piece was handed over the footlights. In response to repeated calls for a speech Mr. Bixby made a few happy remarks that won for him more applause.

"But of the play. It is a five act drama; perhaps melo-drama would be its more fitting title. The first act shows the office and workshop of the mine, and, the perfection of the massive machinery is wonderful in its detail. The first scene of the second act is a pretty little home interior and the song 'In the Gloaming,' seemed to fit it perfectly. The third scene of the second act shows the interior of a mine and its every detail is perfect from the little mule to the miners with their lamps in their caps. The great scenic display is in the third act. A beautiful autumn picture, and the effects in this act are marvelous, nothing of the kind ever having been seen on our local stage. The fourth act shows the governor's office and the electrocution chamber of the prison and there is no denying the fact that there were tears in abundance and they were not all from the ladies either. The last act, which, by the way, is a very pretty little scene, is bright and cheerful and enlivened by some singing by the comedian. Of the company nothing should be written, but praise.

THE LONDON THEATERS.

Three Novelties of the First Interest Presented This Week.

(Copyrighted, 1894, by the Associated Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Three theatrical novelties of the first interest have signalized the past week here in addition to others of secondary dramatic value, and excellent business has been done at the theaters having real attractions. The latter, however, do not include the Princess, where Mrs. Anna Rupert has been presenting Clement Scott's version of "Odette," or Toole's theater, where Tripp Edgar has been giving Hoyt's "A Trip to Chinatown."

On Monday last the Amanites, a company of natives from Cochin China, who have just finished an engagement at the Antwerp exposition, produced at the Aquarium a bizarre, gorgeous piece, in which are scenes supposed to represent events which have happened during the war between China and Japan over in Corea.

The Criteron theater opened on Wednesday last with Arthur Jones' new play, "The Case of Rebellious Susan," in which Charles Wyndham and Mary Moore made their reappearance. The audience and critics present rendered a unanimous verdict that the play is brilliant, but one of action and not of character. It is a distinct example of the present tendency of British dramatic art. "The New Woman" is incidentally discussed and wholly scorned. The honors were with Wyndham, who was the backbone of every scene of interest. As already cabled the rebellious young lady of the plot is without aspirations to independence, but she finds herself out of harmony with her surroundings.

At the Royalty theater on Tuesday last there was another wretched premiere. James Ortimer and Charles Klein's poor farce, "Truthful James," was preceded by Mortimer's curtain raiser, "A Pious Fraud."

At the Princess theater, Manchester, last Thursday, Carl Rosa produced Tosca's 2-act opera "Santa Lucia," a strong compact work modelled on "Cavalleria Rusticana," etc. Lillian Russell in "The Queen of Brilliants," is to finish her season at the Lyceum theater on Thursday next.

Emile Zola has contracted to write a 4-act, 5-scene libretto for the management of the Grand Opera, Paris.

German newspapers state that the future will probably not see another opera from Rubenstein's pen. The failure of "Kinder der Haide" recently given at Dresden, in which the German critics failed to discover any merit, and which the audience regarded with aversion reduced to hisses, following upon the exceedingly cold reception given to "The Demon" at the Royal Italian opera—even though Madame Albani appeared as the heroine—has so disgusted the great Russian that in his present mood he is responsible for his resolution to "write no more opera for an ungrateful world." Certainly his less ambitious compositions have always been more popular and more comprehended by the people, and his own interpretations of the compositions of others have been more popular still. Just at present he has several minor subjects in hand, one of which is a ballet music for an opera, though for the opera Rubenstein does not intend to compose more than incidental morceau.

Paris is all agog over the coming legal battle between the Comedie Francaise and Coquelin, the elder, which has long been determined on should Coquelin actually accept the engagement at any other Paris playhouse than that of Moliere. The positive announcement of last week that Coquelin had agreed to appear with Sarah Bernhardt at the Renaissance fluttered "tout Paris" and since then the air has been full of reported coming legal motions. The great comedian has had disputes with the Comedie before now, which have been adjusted without the intervention of courts; but this time, says M. Jules Claretie, there can be no such adjustment.

Preliminary pantomine announcements are beginning to impress upon the public that another boxing night will soon be within measurable distance. Sir Augustus Harris announces the engagement of Ada Blanche, Lily Harold, Pattie Brown, the Griffiths brothers, Dan Leno and Herbert Campbell as the principles in "Dick Whittington."

Wilson Barrett writes the Associated Press that in his new play which is to deal with the question of "The New Woman," he expects to be set upon by a 1000 tongues.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Conflict in Recitations Has Been Overcome—Senior Class Meeting.

The schedule of recitations adopted by the faculty during the summer, caused some unavoidable conflicts during the first month, and hence the whereabouts of certain pupils could not always be ascertained. By this time the faculty has had ample time to remedy such conflicts, and will be able to locate each student, or the place where he should be, at any time during the session.

The senior class held its regular meeting last Wednesday. In order to find out the whereabouts and whether, in their opinion, "life is worth living" outside of the grand building, the class members elected Phœbe Zimmerman to correspond with such members of the class as were obliged to leave during the past three years. It was also decided to have a class social on Hallowe'en night, at the home of one of the members.

The name of the high school annual, which will be permanent hereafter, is to be chosen by the joint committee next Friday. The juniors and sophomores elected their committees last week. The seniors chose Clara Bull, Phœbe Zimmerman and Walter Scott to represent them and the freshmen selected Hilda Willoughby, Juniata Williams and Harvard Billson as their representatives.

Professor Hutchinson has been confined to his home during the past week on account of ill health. However, it is encouraging to learn that he expects to meet his classes next Monday.

It is expected that in the near future each class will appoint a committee to visit such members of their class as are absent on account of ill health.

The Adelphic society gave its first program for the year on last Monday. It was rendered in the following order:

Whistling solo.....Gertrude Hamilton
Inaugural address.....President Thwing
Recitation.....Maude Clark

The program committees of the two literary societies met in the early part of this week. Programs which will be printed, were arranged for the entire semester. A joint program was also agreed upon for the end of the semester.

The Athletic association will hold a meeting in Room 206 next Monday. Professor Alletzhauser will be present to aid the boys in making arrangements for systematic training in the gymnasium.

A friendly rivalry has sprung up between the different rooms as to which shall be the "banner room" in regard to the number of pupils tardy or absent for the year.

Piano solo.....Ruth Scott
Critic's report.....Phoebe Zimmorman
Essay.....Ada Lautenschlager
Vocal solo.....Florence Williams
Debate—"Resolved That Japan Was Justified in Declaring War Against China." Affirmative, Elsie Congdon, Budd Lee; negative, Agnes Dole, Courtland Holiday.

Professor Ennis, of Hamline university, visited the school on Friday.

GRACE MEN OBJECTED

Col. Strong's Nomination for Mayor of New York by Republicans and Committee of Seventy.

Grace or State Democracy Refused to Endorse a Republican for Head of the Ticket.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Col. W. I. Strong, president of the Central National bank, formerly a merchant at Piqua, Ohio, and John W. Goff, who has acquired a national fame as chief counsel of the Lexow investigation committee, were yesterday selected by the committee of seventy and also by the Republican convention to head the municipal ticket this fall. Col. Strong being nominated for mayor and Mr. Goff for recorder.

The committee of seventy held a lively session late yesterday afternoon at the United Charities building. Hon. H. C. Beeman acted as chairman and made a brief address placing in nomination Col. Strong for mayor, John W. Goff for recorder, John Jeroloman for president of the board of aldermen, Henry R. Beeman for judge of the superior court, Otto Kempner for sheriff, and Dr. William O'Meagher and Dr. Emil W. Hoeber for coroners. A letter was read from Col. Strong pledging himself to run on a non-partisan basis. Mr. Beeman said the ticket would please Goff, Dr. Parkhurst and everybody.

A letter was also read from Mr. Goff declining to permit the use of his name in connection with the mayoralty. Francis M. Scott, of the Grace Democracy, raised a storm by stating that he was opposed to the nomination of Col. Strong, because a Republican should not be selected as the candidate for mayor. He did not think a Republican could win in this city, even if endorsed by all the anti-Tammany organizations.

Several delegates from the reform unions and anti-Tammany organizations did not agree with Mr. Scott. In spite of the protests of the Grace Democrat, the ticket was endorsed by the committee of seventy. Mr. Grace and his friends left the conference, and it is understood that the expected had happened and the State Democracy had bolted the nomination for Strong, a Republican, for mayor.

There were several other speeches before Col. George Bliss could get the floor and call the attention of the chair to the fact that the Republican committee would leave the conference to attend the county convention, the time for which had already arrived. The conference then adjourned, subject to the call of the chair.

The Republican convention met shortly before 9 o'clock, just after the conference of the anti-Tammany organizations had adjourned, and nominated Col. William I. Strong for mayor, and John W. Goff for recorder. The remainder of the ticket presented by the committee of seventy was not nominated because several of the men proposed are members of the Grace or State Democracy and it is reported there was no hope of the Grace men acting with the other organizations on a union ticket. The nomination of Strong and Goff was by acclamation.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 7. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Two extreme views are often held upon the subject of churchgoing. Some people overestimate it. They make their religion to consist simply in the attendance upon the public services on the Sabbath day. The other view is the opposite of that. It underrates the importance and value of the social worship of God. Many take the position that if the heart is right with God the attendance upon the public services in God's houses is a small matter. Both views are extreme. Both are wrong. Mere churchgoing is not religion. No personal perfection of heart and mind can compensate for the neglect of public duties. Let us notice:

1. The duty of churchgoing (Heb. x, 25). "Not forsaking the assembling of yourselves together." There may be in these words no direct command, and yet it is practically a command. Churchgoing is a duty, then: (1) Because God demands it of us. God always demanded of his people of old that they pay strict attention to the public services in the temple. When Christ was upon earth, he allowed neither pleasure nor business to interfere with His attendance upon the great feast of the passover during the years of His public ministry. Paul exhorts us not to forsake this important duty. It is a duty, then, because demanded of God. It is a duty (2) because man needs social worship. We are so constituted that we not only need worship, but social worship. We are social beings, and our nature demands the social worship. It is a duty for us to do what our natures demand.

2. The rewards of churchgoing. These are perhaps many and varied—different in different cases. Some of the general rewards are as follows: 1. A clear conscience. Churchgoing is a duty. The performance of any duty makes us at peace with God concerning this particular thing, and this, then, is our blessing or reward of churchgoing. 2. Spiritual blessings derived by the presence of Christ. Christ has promised to be in the assemblies of His people. Is it not a great blessing to have Him with us? 3. Spiritual blessings derived from the service. Those who habitually absent themselves from God's house never realize what they miss by it. The weak are helped, the timid are encouraged, the fallen are unlifted, the saints are comforted and built up, and all are spiritually blessed, all are brought nearer to God by worshiping Him in His holy temple.

Freedom to Do Right.

The C. E. society is a voluntary organization, and it secures liberty to all of its members. Rather it should be said that all the members retain the freedom that they enjoyed before they became Endeavorers. But Christian liberty, whether in a C. E. society or out of it, is simply the freedom of doing right. No Christian is free to do wrong. In a sense we are at liberty to use our money or our influence to sustain an undenominational enterprise or the work of another denomination. But this is not a Christian nor a consistent use of our liberty. In becoming a member of any denomination we pledge ourselves to its support. Practically we bind ourselves to work for Christ through that instrumentality. If our profession has any significance, this is what it means. If it does not mean this, it was an idle ceremony, a profane trifling with sacred things. But we are bound to this by our C. E. pledge. No one can doubt that Christ would have him sustain his own branch of the church. If he thinks it unworthy of his support, he has no right to be a member of it. If it is worthy of his support, there can be no doubt of his obligation to render it.—National Presbyterian.

Work of Reformed Endeavorers.

Reformed Christian Endeavorers have during the past year sustained a Christian Endeavor missionary at Chittoor, India, and built Christian Endeavor churches Nos. 1 and 2 at Edgerton, Minn., and Wakonda, S. D. During the coming year it is proposed that these societies continue to sustain the Chittoor station, build Christian Endeavor church No. 3, which will be located at Johnstown, N. Y., and furnish funds for the erection of Christian Endeavor church No. 4.—Golden Rule.

Education of the Colored People.

Congregationalists have given $12,000,000 toward the education of the colored people of the south. Methodists have given $6,000,000, Baptists $3,000,000 and Presbyterians $1,250,000.

To a Far Country.

With fluttering pulses and trembling feet,
And wait and listen as through the dusk
The muffled rhythm of swift oars beat,
For over the sea so lonely and wide,
Whose waves on the shores of life beat chill,
A ferryman crosses back and forth

And if he sail in the morning hours,
At noon or twilight or midnight dim
His shallop is always laden full,
For all must voyage with him.
The aged ones and the strong and fair,
The children pure as the angels be—
All, all must answer the boatman's call
And sail on the unknown sea.

And so some time he will hail us where
We shall straightway turn from our dearest ones
And journey with them no more.
But outward borne by the strong, swift oars,
We shall sink to sleep and drift away
With the going out of tide. —Selected.

Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50 cents for large bottle. WHEAT WAS STRONG TODAY.

All the Option Business Was in May and Prices Were Higher.

Wheat ruled quiet today, but the feeling was strong, although the market was without animation. There was little of importance in the way of news, but nothing that was especially bearish. English cables were steady, but the Berlin market was again stronger and the contracts of winter wheat, the liberal exports for the week and the prospect of large movement increase in the visible supply—only about 359,000 bus against 2,709,000 bus a year ago—had a strengthening effect. Duluth stocks will increase about 285,000 bus this week. The possibility of political complications in Europe, the extensive feeding of wheat in this country, coupled with the already unprecedented low prices, seemed to impress upon shorts the wisdom of covering and also stimulated some investment buying. So while there was nothing like activity or animation, there was a healthy trade and prices averaged higher.

All the trading in futures on the Duluth board was confined to May, and it was of fair volume. There was a good business in cash, the shippers being good buyers. Mills bought a little on track at 1c premium. The close was strong at 1c higher than yesterday for cash, 3c higher for December and ¾c higher for May. As compared with last Saturday, today's close is 1¾c higher for cash, 1¼c higher for December and 1c higher for May. Following were the closing prices:

No. 1 hard cash 59c, October, 59c. No. 1 northern cash, 57½c; October, 57½c; December, 57¾c; May, 60½c. No. 2 northern cash, 54½c; No. 3, 52c. Rejected, 48½c. To arrive—No. 2 1 northern, 57¾c. Rye, 45c. Flax, $1.41½; No. 2 oats, 32c. No. 3 oats, 31½c. Barley, 45@51c.

ACCEPTED AN INDIAN

Names for the Two Conferences Not Chosen This Morning as Expected—Other Business Transacted.

The conference opened with the usual devotional service at 8:30 o'clock this morning, Rev. J. W. Mower acting as leader. The business session opened at 9 o'clock and the report of the board of examiners was continued.

Among the cases passed upon, John Clark, a native Chippewa Indian, who has charge of the missionary work among the Chippewa Indians, in Northern Minnesota, was taken on trial and was given full deacon's and elder's orders. Mr. Clark lives at the head of Lake Vermilion, at old Chief Wake-em-up's camp. He was formally presented to the conference.

The trustees of Hamline university, whose terms have expired, were re-elected, with the addition of C. H. Griswold, in place of Dr. J. H. Murphy, deceased. Those re-elected were: Bishop Fowler, M. G. Norton, A. W. Bradley, William McKinley.

The conference by a vote of 86 to 23 voted down the proposal to increase the representation of the laity in the general conference.

It was expected that the two conferences into which it has been voted to divide the state would be named this morning but the other matters occupied the time until the noon hour. Bishop Foss too, did not announce his decision on the division but it was generally understood that he would concur.

At noon the conference decided to adjourn until 2:30 and to continue the business session at that hour.

Last Evening's Session.

The conference session last evening was occupied by the Epworth league anniversary exercises. Rev. A. W. Force presided and addresses were delivered by Dr. Jennings, of Red Wing, Bishop Thoburn and E. A. Schell, of Chicago.

Dr. Jennings called attention to a plan of junior league work found most successful at Red Wing. It embraces a regular course of religious work, with examinations and graduating exercises, taking the juniors into the senior league membership. He also outlined and recommended a course of religious reading in connection with his plan.

Bishop Thoburn spoke very briefly of the beginning and growth, success and possibilities of the Epworth league work in India. In closing, he congratulated the league on its tendency to assist in missionary work.

Dr. Schell, in his address, outlined the religious victories of the past and then presented a series of future campaigns. He said the first thing was to convert the Hebrews. The Chinese must be converted next.

"When you have gotten through with the Jew and Chinaman," he continued, "just try your hand on this infernal saloon business. If you can reach and convert these men who are now licensed to sell damnation to your own sons and daughters, you can do more than any other nation has ever been able to do in the line of conversion."

Dr. Schell next advocated converting the great body of American labor. "I believe this labor question needs something it has never had before, and that something must begin in the church. Let us take care that we do not get too eminently respectable above our calling, and thus through our feeling of superiority shut out the man of the people from the church of God."

Next Dr. Schell had on the list the millionaires, only 2 per cent of whom had done their part in church work. The other 98 per cent needed someone to remind them that there are no pockets in a shroud. In closing he said:

"When all these have been converted let us try our hands at converting American Methodism. We must do this in two ways. Fifty years ago this great Methodist church parted in anger and went swinging off on two orbits. It should be our duty to see that the sins of the fathers are in some measure corrected by the children and that this double Methodism is again united in one harmonious whole."

Women's Foreign Missionary.

Mrs. C. S. Winchell presided at the anniversary exercises of the Women's Foreign Missionary society yesterday afternoon. Dr. J. M. Thoburn, bishop of India, delivered an address that was the feature of the occasion. He dwelt in particular on the work done by the woman's department in his India field.

This society organized the first medical work among the inhabitants of India and established the first college for women. He also highly praised the results being accomplished by these institutions.

Mrs. E. N. Wolever, corresponding secretary of the society, submitted her report for the year. The conference now includes 120 auxiliaries with an aggregate membership of over 2000. During the past year, between $500 and $600 were received and expended for foreign missionary purposes.

The devotional exercises at 4 o'clock were led by Bishop Thoburn and after the rushing business of the day, were greatly enjoyed and heartily participated in by the ministers.

on the one hand—ruined garments on the other. That will be the result of your trying to save money by using poor, cheap washing-powders, instead of Pearline. Just consider. How much could you save in a year if you bought the cheapest and most worthless? And how far would it go toward paying for the things ruined in a single month? You can't save anything by buying cheap washing-powders. The way to save money in washing is to use what has been proved to be absolutely safe. That is Pearline. Millions use it. 417

A COMING MARKSMAN.

Will Crosby, the Man Who Came Near Defeating the Veteran Dr. Carver.

On the 28th day of April of this year Dr. Carver, the world famous marksman, issued a sweeping challenge, offering to shoot against any man in the world a match of 100 pigeons a side, Hurlingham rules to govern the contest. J. A. R. Elliott of Kansas City was the first to respond to the challenge. The match was shot off last July, and Carver won by besting Elliott in two out of three contests. They met again on Sept. 18, when Elliott reversed matters and at the same time astonished every one by defeating his late conqueror in three straight contests.

WILL CROSBY.

Since then Will Crosby, the champion of southern Illinois, has had a match with Dr. Carver. The affair took place at Compton Avenue park, St. Louis. The conditions of the match were 100 live birds, 30 yards rise, Hurlingham rules to govern, except as to boundary, which was 50 yards. Crosby won the first, but was defeated in the two following contests. Crosby's defeat of Carver in the first event was regarded as a remarkable achievement for a marksman who was not nationally known. Crosby is a young man, being only 28 years of age. He has, however, a brilliant record, having won 17 individual matches since he began shooting in contests at 14 years of age.

He holds medals entitling him to the championship of southern Illinois, the Rocky Mountain association and the New York state championship.

The match with Carver was the first one in which Crosby had shot a boundary contest. Crosby has been matched twice against Elliott and was defeated 35 to 49 and 93 to 98.

The results of the three contests between Crosby and Carver were as follows: Crosby, 95, 88, 92; Carver, 93, 95, 95.

It must be said to Crosby's credit that he did some marvelous shooting and proved himself worthy of meeting the champion, as is evidenced by his record of 72 straight kills in the first contest. Carver's best run was 45, made on the third day.

In all his recent exhibitions Crosby has delighted his friends by the great nerve and staying qualities he has displayed, and in consequence great things are expected of him in the future.

His Song Took Precedence.

Lottie Gilson, who is in "A Milk White Flag," has been something of a concert hall craze in New York. When the well known song, "I'll Be There, Love, at Half Past Nine," came out, Miss Gilson was one of the many who presented it, with a slow death effect. Soon after it became popular a young man brought another song to Miss Gilson, called "Ten Past Eight."

"Why," exclaimed Lottie, "this song is stolen. It's the same as that 'Half Past Nine' song."

"No, it isn't," insisted the owner. "Mine comes first. It's ahead of that a long way."

GREENROOM GOSSIP.

Mervyn Dallas and Arthur Wallack have written a play entitled "King Gaunt," a story of 1863, which deals with a historical incident of the war, with a star part for a man.

James A. Herne is writing a play on southern life.

The new stock company of the Arch Street theater, Philadelphia, is made up of two separate companies, one playing every afternoon and the other evenings. These companies alternate. The one playing evenings appears in the following week in the afternoons.

The mythological ballet is out of fashion in France and has been so for the past 50 years, but it seems to flourish still in Russia. They are preparing now for the immediate production in St. Petersburg of a new ballet entitled "The Awakening of Flora."

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Oct. 6.—A storm of considerable energy has advanced southeast to Wyoming, where the barometer has fallen five-tenths of an inch since yesterday morning. The barometer has risen seven-tenths of an inch in Alberta.

Rain or snow is reported in Montana and the Canadian Northwest provinces, and showers in the lake regions, the Upper Ohio and Lower Missouri valleys. Elsewhere the weather has continued generally fair.

It is generally cooler in the lake regions and Ohio valley and warmer west of the Mississippi, except in the Northern Rocky Mountain region, where the temperature has fallen decidedly.

Killing frosts are reported in Wisconsin and Northern Illinois, and light frosts in Indiana and Ohio.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 44 degrees; maximum yesterday, 49 degrees; minimum yesterday, 42 degrees; rainfall during past twenty-four hours ending at 7 a. m. today, trace.

DULUTH, Oct. 6.—Local forecast till 8 p. m. tomorrow: For Duluth and vicinity: Cloudy with occasional showers; cool easterly winds, becoming brisk.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 6.—Depth of water at St. Mary's Falls canal at 7 a. m., 14 ft 11 in. Forecast for next thirty-six hours, falling.

JAMES KENEALY,
Local Forecast Official.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Forecast till 8 p. m. tomorrow: For Minnesota: Tonight, local rains, warmer; Sunday, local rains, colder by afternoon; brisk southeast winds shifting to northwest late Sunday. For Wisconsin: Tonight fair, warmer; Sunday probably local rains; warmer; fresh southeast winds for thirty-six hours.

The New York Campaign.

Judge Gaynor has declined the nomination of the New York Democrats for judge of the court of appeals. This is rather surprising, in view of the recent positive statement by the chairman of the Democratic committee that the judge would accept. It was well known, however, that Judge Gaynor was disinclined to be a candidate for any office this year, having been but recently elected by a large majority as judge of the supreme court for a long term. He ran then as an independent candidate, and felt that he owed it as a duty to those who supported him to serve out his term. It was this reason above all others that impelled him to decline to be a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, which he undoubtedly could have had, if he had allowed his name to be presented to the convention. Strong pressure was brought to bear upon him to accept the judicial nomination unanimously given him, and still greater pressure was brought to bear by anti-Hill and anti-Tammany Democrats to prevent him accepting. The result is that he has declined, and the state committee must look for another candidate.

With the situation so greatly complicated by this circumstance, the question of Senator Hill accepting the nomination for governor becomes more doubtful. The probabilities, however, are in favor of his acceptance, and that he will wage a hot battle with the Republican candidate. There are signs of more harmony among the Democratic factions. The prospect of an Independent Democratic ticket is now faint. The Cleveland Democrats are gradually falling into line, and it is said that word has come to them from Buzzard's bay to support Hill and ensure Democratic success. The New York World, which showed signs at first of opposing Hill, is rapidly getting into line to support him. With a united party back of him, Mr. Hill will be elected. Without a united party, his chances will be much less favorable.

Judge Flandrau's Bolt.

The attack of Judge Flandrau upon the Demo-Pop candidacy of John W. Willis for justice of the supreme court continues to agitate the Democracy. Judge Flandrau has refused to do anything more for the Democratic state ticket if Willis stays on it, while the state central committee has notified Flandrau that if he speaks under its management he must support the whole ticket. Of course this will result in Flandrau withdrawing from the campaign, and the feeling which the incident has caused will undoubtedly lose thousands of Democratic votes for Willis, who is really more of a Populist than he is a Democrat, and more of a demagogue than he is either.

Judge Flandrau is one of the ablest Democrats in the state. He is a Democrat from principle, and consequently cannot endorse any fusion with another political party that supports different principles. He is also a distinguished member of the Minnesota bar, and at one time was himself upon the supreme court bench, having been one of the original judges of that court. It is not unlikely that his opposition to Judge Willis as a candidate for the highest court in the state is prompted by his desire to see the reputation of that court for legal ability and fairness sustained just as much as by his abhorrence of fusion. The Republican candidate, Justice Collins, will undoubtedly receive the support of Judge Flandrau and thousands of other Democrats.

Governor McKinley had a rather queer experience at Neola, Ia., yesterday. Several hundred people stood around his car giving him an entirely respectful attention. When the train started, however, instead of giving the usual parting cheer, the whole crowd, with few exceptions, began to shout "hurrah for Weaver," the Populist candidate for congress in the Council Bluffs district. Neola is a very strong center of Populism.

Public Land Surveys.

Commissioner Lamoreaux, of the general land office, in his annual report has recommended an innovation in regard to surveys. Instead of the contract system under which public lands are now surveyed, he says the government should make the surveys. Commissioner Lamoreaux thinks the surveys should be made by the geological survey and points out that it is capable to go over the same ground as has been gone over by the contract surveys. The geological survey and the topographical survey can be made at the same time and with much less expense. He also recommends that the surveys be made as fast as possible.

The disposal of land for the year ending June so, 1894, was: Sold for cash, 613,826 acres; miscellaneous entries, 9,793,398 acres; Indian lands, 28,876 acres; total decrease comaared with last year, 1,485,043 acres. The total cash receipts of the office were $2,767,824, a decrease of $1,711,909; total agricultural patents issued, 35,255, a decrease of 8429; mineral patents, 1363; railroad land grants patented, 865,556 acres; approved to states under public grants, 819,993 acres; Indian and miscellaneous patents, 305,592 acres; total number of acres patented, 2,533,735. Surveys amounting to 6,923,187 acres have been approved during the year.

The commissioner recommends that an appropriation be made for at least six attorneys to supervise and direct the proceedings of the special agents operating in the districts to be designated by the commissioner, the attorneys to have charge of the prosecution of cases discovered by the special agents. He renews his recommendation of last year that the law authorizing permits to cut timber on public land be revoked.

A War Governor Dying.

The war governors are going fast. But few of them now remain on earth. Andrew Gregg Curtin, "the great war governor of Pennsylvania" from 1861 to 1866, now lies upon his death bed at Bellefonte in that state. Governor Curtin was born in Bellefonte, where his father had settled on his emigration from Ireland in 1793. There he began the study of law, completing his studies at Dickinson college at Carlisle, and being admitted to the bar in 1839, when 22 years of age. An eloquent and able speaker, he early became an advocate of Whig principles and supported Gen. Harrison and Henry Clay, exciting great enthusiasm by his speeches.

In the troubled times of 1860, Mr. Curtin was elected governor of Pennsylvania as a Republican by a majority of 32,000 over a Democrat. When he assumed the office he was confronted with the gravest problems ever offered to American statesmanship. The geographical situation of Pennsylvania made it extremely important. He called a special session of the legislature in April, 1861, to provide for the public defense, and when President Lincoln called for 75,000 troops, Pennsylvania organized twice her quota of 14,000, five companies of whom were the first to reach Washington. Governor Curtin also organized the famous Pennsylvania Reserve corps. During the war Pennsylvania furnished the Union 387,284 men.

Gen. Grant, soon after his inauguration, appointed ex-Governor Curtin minister to Russia. He returned in 1872 and supported Horace Greeley for the presidency. From 1881 to 1887 he was a member of congress, in which he had a distinguished career.

Conditions Are Improving.

Dun's commercial review this week finds a more satisfactory condition in industrial circles. There is a larger demand for iron products than a month ago, though the increase in output has more than kept pace, and as iron is "the barometer of trade" there is much encouragement in this feature of the report. The boot and shoe trade is in a really prosperous condition, as more products are being delivered than in any

Of course, and why not? The old fellow has been sent flying by the prompt administration of the right remedies. Medicines should be as timely as a clock. previous year and more works have orders for one and two months ahead. A decrease in the week's failures as compared with last year is another noteworthy feature of the trade situation.

Bradstreet's finds that there is a continued progress toward improvement everywhere. Railway business in the Southwest is better, and various cities in the West and South, Duluth among the number, report a larger volume of trade, especially in wholesale lines. The gratifying statement is also made that in both the East and the West the demand for money has improved and collections have grown better. Altogether the situation is much brighter.

The fame of Duluth's high school continues to spread. The Detroit Journal of last Wednesday contained a 3-column description and an excellent picture of the school. Editorially the Journal says: "This school, in construction and equipment, is conceded to be one of the finest and most modern in the country.

"Duluth," says Bradstreet's report this week, "finds business improved and jobbers feel encouraged." There is no city that has recovered more rapidly from the general depression than has Duluth. But probably this is because Duluth was never so depressed as the others.

Duluth's bank clearings for the past week were 39.8 per cent greater than for the corresponding period last year. But one other city in the country showed so large an increase.

The cause of freedom makes steady progress. A dispatch today says the Hungarian diet has passed a bill granting liberty of worship to people of all religious beliefs.

Maj. Baldwin has started out on his farewell tour of the Sixth district. After the winter session of congress, he will have plenty of time to attend to his private business.

The division of the Minnesota Methodist conference is due to the great increase in the state's population and of the growth of Methodism with the population.

Will Be Elected.

Aitkin Republican: Charles A. Towne, the Republican candidate for congress from this district, is emphatically a man—a self-made man—who has come up by hard work, hard study, indomitable industry and untiring mental and physical activity. We predict that Mr. Towne will be elected, and that he will make one of the most reliable and brilliant members of congress ever sent from Minnesota.

"Fate."

Two shall be born the whole wide world apart
And speak in different tongues and have no thought
Each of the other's being, and no heed.
And, all unconsciously, shape every act
And bend each wandering step to this one end—
That one day out of darkness they shall meet
And read life's meaning in each other's eyes.

And two shall walk some narrow way in life
So nearly side by side that, should one turn
Ever so little space to right or left,
They needs must stand acknowledged face to face.
And yet, with wistful eyes that never meet,
With groping hands that never clasp and lips
Calling in vain to ears that never hear,
They seek each other all their weary days
And die unsatisfied, and that is fate!

—Susan Marr Spalding.

Cannot Swallow Him.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: Maj. Baldwin is "sugar-coated" from head to foot, but the voters of the Sixth district cannot be induced to swallow him.

Same in Minnesota.

Sioux City Tribune: An Iowa newspaper this fall which has not a libel or other suit against it seems hopelessly out of style.

Better for the County.

Cook County Herald: The Barnum Advocate has come out Independent Republican. It will be independent in regard to county candidates and Republican the rest of the way up. There are a good many other papers taking the same position now-a-days. It isn't so good for party, but is more conducive to the selection of satisfactory public officials than is the blind obedience to bossism and the dictates of party machinery.

The Late County Fair.

The Mesaba Range: The St. Louis county fair, held in Duluth last week, was quite a success in every way. There is no good reason why this should not become an agricultural county.

Roped Him.

Silently into the ground they laid
That Western "cattle king"—
His funeral dirge had already been play'd
On a harp of a single string.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Winter Club, on the Plan of Those in Other Cities, Organized by Duluth Society Men.

Club House Will be Secured and the Opening Will Take Place Late in October.

Delightful Assembly Dancing Party at the Spalding on Thursday Evening—Social and Personal Gossip.

For several weeks past three of Duluth's society men have been engaged in working up the details necessary to forming a Winter club in Duluth somewhat similar to the Nushka club of St. Paul. On Monday evening last a meeting of twelve or fifteen prominent society men was called and, after discussing the matter, the club was organized. W. B. Silvey, D. G. Cutler, W. B. Chapin, Morris O. Brooks, W. C. Farrington and C. J. Kershaw were appointed members of the executive committee for the season of 1894-5 with power to elect officers, secure a club house and arrange all plans for the winter, also to select other members for the executive committee should they deem it advisable to enlarge the same.

The club is to be on the plan of town and county clubs in other cities. The entertainments given by these are always delightful.

About seventy-five more members have joined the club and society is looking forward with much pleasure to the opening, which will take place the latter part of this month. The name of the club is not yet selected.

THE ASSEMBLY PARTY.

One of the Most Delightful Dances Ever Given at the Spalding.

The Assembly party of Thursday evening at the Spalding was one of the most pleasing ever given. There was a dash and gaiety about which made it thoroughly delightful and the entire affair was bright and vivacious. The ladies were never more handsomely gowned and many exquisite new costumes were displayed. Hoare outdid himself in the music, the floor was never smoother, the refreshments were delicious and every feature served to increase the general happiness and delight.

The guests were received by Mrs. J. H. Upham and Mrs. Thomas Dowse. Among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Dowse, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Upham, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huntress, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. William Barton Chapin, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. French, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Cutler, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Kingsbury, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Chase, of West Superior; Mrs. M. J. Forbes, Mrs. Thomas Dowse.

BUSINESS.

I will sell the brick house, No. 116 East Third street, just vacated by the Rev. Mr. Noyes. Price and terms to suit.

Or, if preferred, I will rent the premises for a longer or shorter term.

Chicago Society Witticism.

"Let me spread my coat for you, a la Sir Walter Raleigh," said the jocular Chicago young man as they came to the muddy crossing. "To spare your pedal extremities, you know."

"But," interposed the facetious young woman, seriously, "would not that be a base act?"

"But I do not shoes to accept it," she answered, haughtily, and then they did quarrel.

County Commissioners Double the State Reward for Austin's Capture.

The board of county commissioners, in response to a petition signed by a large number of citizens, at its meeting yesterday afternoon voted a reward of $250 for the apprehension of A. A. Austin, who is supposed to have murdered Lena Olson. This, with the state's reward of $250, makes $500 that the sleuth who overtakes Austin will receive.

The following officers were appointed for Oneota: Board of supervisors, C. T. Chapman, chairman, R. J. Harper, J. Whilas; justices of the peace, O. Connory and H. Esteleman; constables, M. P. Doyle and Thomas Sharvin; road commissioner, Rice Harper; town clerk, H. L. Myers; treasurer, B. Magoffin, Jr.; assessor, George Thompson.

In response to a petition from forty-two citizens of Proctorknott the board ordered an election for Nov. 6, when they will vote on the question of village organization. A petition presented some time ago was objected to by the Missabe road, which owns land in the center of the town, and the proposition was voted down. This time the railroad property is left out entirely, and the village encircles the company's land.

The contract for furnishing coal for the court house and jail was awarded to the Duluth Fuel company at the following prices: Buckwheat coal, 185 tons or more, $3.50; buckwheat pea, $4; cargo pea, $4.50; stove coal, fifteen tons or more, $5.75. The board adjourned until Tuesday morning.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

A Recent Speech By Congressman McCleary is Criticized.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In 1853, congress passed an act providing for the unlimited coinage and unlimited tender of gold, with the unlimited coinage but limited tender of subsidiary silver. A man could have all the silver coined that he desired, but he could pass it out only in quantities not exceeding $5 in one payment unless the payee was willing to take more. The consequence was that it didn't pay the silver producer to coin more silver than was needed for change in business circles. The trouble of getting rid of his coin was too much for the profit there was in it. This was found successful for eight years before the war, it had proved successful in other countries, and was therefore re-enacted in the act of 1873.

"In 1878, a new method of securing real bimetallism was tried, for the first time in history so far as I know. Congress in that year passed an act providing for the purchase by the government of 2,000,000 ounces of silver per month, and its coinage into standard silver dollars which should have full legal tender quality. That is, we tried the experiment of limiting the coinage instead of limiting the tender, as in 1833 and 1873. Though many able men feared the result, we have found that for a time this method can be successfully operated. It will work just as long as we can preserve the parity of the dollars; that is just as long as we have gold enough in the treasury to render people confident in the opinion that each kind of dollar can be converted on demand into the other kind. But just as soon as the visible supply of gold on hand begins to make it doubtful that this exchange can be made, just at that moment, I say, the experiment becomes a dangerous one."

The purpose of the law of 1853 affecting silver coinage was to protect in circulation a supply of silver coinage, of which there was a dearth owing to the market value of silver being in excess of the mint value. To obviate the difficulty, dimes, quarters and halves were made correspondingly lighter than the full legal tender dollar piece, the light coins being made a limited legal tender only and coined upon government account, and the mints supplying them as required at their face value. The government has thus supplied a demand for some seventy odd millions of "small change" in the course of forty years.

The inference of a statement made in another part of Representative McCleary's speech, to the effect that the act of 1853 was more significant in its omission of a reference to the silver dollar piece than in its "provisions," is equally mistaken with the assumption that under them the "silver producer," or anyone else, could make it "pay" to exchange silver for light weight silver money coined on "government account." The true inference is that it was a purpose of the modified law, as was its effect, to maintain the standard silver money of the United States with the retention of the full weight, full legal tender, "free coinage" silver "dollar of our daddies." Before the war, we are informed, this law was successful and it was "re-enacted in 1873." Under the Republican congressman's theory of the law, that being the case, there should certainly be "something in it" to silver owners at the present price of silver, notwithstanding the legal tender restriction.

In regard to the law of 1873, further, and also in regard to the law of 1878—the former suspending right of coinage to the standard silver dollar maintained with the law of 1853, and the latter "restoring" it to limited coinage on goverrment account—a comprehensive statement of issues involved appears in The Herald of July 7, 1894, over the signature of a Minnesota jurist and statesman addressing himself "as a Republican to a Republican." To the logic of the answer, under the facts, there is and can be no reply. It is a significant fact that with the Populists in the senate and standing upon the silver plank of the People's party platform of 1892 were united the senators representing every state west of the Missouri along with the representatives of the Democratic South, solid for silver money.

The effects of causes operating against the general welfare in consequence of the measure of "repeal" are as real as those wrought in communities of the region west of the Missouri whose vehement protest against its policy has been registered. With the passage of the law unconditionally repealing the purchasing clause of the Sherman act of 1890, the interests of the silver and silver money of the United States were abandoned absolutely, so far as the advocates of that measure are concerned. Reference to an international congress to include European nations was an ignis fatuus. The verdict against American silver had already been rendered.

The argument which prevailed with the majority in both branches of the national legislature, apparently, was the pressure brought to bear by representatives of a moneyed class largely included within the area of states east of the Missouri river and north of Mason and Dixon's line. To the congressional mind, especially, the business community of the nation appears to have been represented by an influential minority within the area denoted clamoring for unconditional repeal. The record of the contest in the senate indicates a question between classes of the people as distinct as are the geographical lines which marked its division in the vote upon the question.

The purpose and conclusion of the argument for unconditional repeal was the maintenance of a single gold standard for money with an increase of the gold reserve to sustain paper and silver "currency." That is the recognized attitude of the national Republican party in the present campaign. The doctrine is incorporated in the platform of the National Republican league and in the state platform of that party in this, and other states. Its assumption rests upon no principle of right, save that "principle" that might makes right, and the legislation and constructions of law which have given its policy the degree of force which it has acquired under the administration of the "party" of repeal has wrested the constitution and the law, at the final expense, not only of the silver states, but of the financial welfare of the whole nation.

There is and can be no valid reason for the refusal of the demand of the people of the nation for the restoration of a right finally repudiated in their behalf by two of the great political parties now contending for continuance and power to shape the financial destiny of the nation. The deliverance will be wrought. It perhaps remains a question whether it will be the work of a third party. If wrought within the old, it will yet be the work of a new party which shall be the people's party. It may be safely predicted that from its ranks those having the "mark of the beast" will be excluded and from its leadership those who have set at naught the motto stamped upon the silver dollar of the United States of America—"In God We Trust."

Millions for Defence

Against the inroads of that subtle, lurking foe to human health, malaria, had been expended uselessly when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters appeared upon the scene and demonstrated its power as a preventive and curative of the dreaded scourge. When the "gold fever" raged in 1849 in California, malaria was contemporaneous with it at the "diggings," and wrought dreadful havoc among the miners. Then and subsequently on the Isthmus of Panama, and wherever in the tropics malarial disease is most virulent, the Bitters became the recognized safeguard. For the effects of exposure and fatigue, miasma-poisoned air and water, sea sickness and all disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, the Bitters affords prompt relief. Invalids of all sorts will find it fully adequate to their needs.

STARTLING G. A. R. STORY.

Capt. Geo. H. Davenport, the Popular and Well-Known G. A. R. Veteran, Relates an Experience—A Leader and Power in Grand Army Circles.

CAPT. G. H. DAVENPORT.

Capt. George H. Davenport, of Bernardston, Mass., is a most popular and widely known man, especially in Grand Army circles. He is pension agent and everybody knows him. He is best known to the whole country through his discovery of "Davenport's Silver Pomade," probably the best article of its kind in the world.

Capt. Davenport is a most entertaining speaker, and his relation of the following incident will be interesting to everybody.

"I had been troubled severely for years with heart disease, and the effects of malarial poison contracted in the army. I was so nervous and weak that I was unable to do any hard work for years.

"I consulted many doctors, but have found no good results from them. I finally used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and can say that it has done great things for me.

"I have been helped in the heart trouble more than from any and all other I ever used. I find that for weakness and nervous excitement it is a great help. For instance, on Memorial day I addressed the G. A. R. at Northfield, and on the following day at Whateley, I gave an address before their G. A. R., without any apparent fatigue, which I could not have done before I used Dr. Greene's Nervura.

"I have often recommended this wonderful cure for disease to my friends, and shall be happy to answer any further inquiries from anyone."

The experience of the gallant captain is the experience of everybody. All who use this great curer of disease, this restorer of health and strength, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, report that it invariably makes them well.

The weak, nervous and ailing should try it on the strength of what everybody who has used it says of its wonderful curative powers. It will cure you.

Why waste time in trying uncertain and untried remedies, when here is a physician's prescription, a discovery made by the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York city. If you take this medicine you can consider yourself under Dr. Greene's direct professional care, and you can consult him or write to him about your case, freely and without charge. This is a guarantee that this remedy will cure, possessed by no other medicine in the world.

THE WORLD OF LABOR

The Federated Trades Assembly Did Not Meet This Week and Local Labor News is Scarce.

Local Politics Are Engrossing the Attention of Most of the Labor Men This Fall.

Effort is to be Made to Reorganize the Clerks' Union, Including the Grocery Clerks.

As is usual when the Federated Trades assembly does no meet, this has been a dull week, so far as happenings are concerned in the ranks of organized labor. Next Friday evening the assembly will hold its regular session, at which time the boys will come together and have an opportunity of letting one another know what is new in their ranks.

One thing that makes organized labor matters dull is the interest taken by the boys in local politics this fall. Several of their members and friends are up for office and their fellow members are standing by them in good shape. When anything for the "good of the order" is proposed, the answer invariably is "Wait until election." Yesterday a quartet was organized among the printers to sing campaign songs and the prospects are that others will be organized in that and other unions. Joseph Harmon, of the Tinners' union, has organized a fife and drum corps with which he expects to do much in the way of attracting indifferent laboring men and others to political meetings.

The approach of winter heralds the prospect of some good lectures. The assembly's lecture committee is already at work and expects to soon have a fine course of lectures arranged. Nothing will be done towards starting them, however, until after the election.

An effort is to be made to reorganize the Clerks' union, including the grocery clerks in all ranks all over the city. The project has been spoken of several times and is greatly favored by the older heads in the assembly.

The waiters are determined to have one of the best and most effective unions in the city. Steps have been taken to have contracts, mutually beneficial to employes and employers drawn up with all restaurants.

The assembly, at its last meeting, appointed a committee to assist the Waiters' union in that matter. It is anticipated that all efforts in that line will be crowned with success.

The Typographical union meets tomorrow and the Plumbers' union Monday.

The Electrical Workers' union now has about fifty members.

There are not less than fifteen unions in the city, many of them exceedingly strong ones, that are not affiliated with the Federated Trades assembly.

Trade is good with some of the unions, while with others it is rather poor. As a whole, it seems to be in only an average condition.

The Hardest Blow of All Dealt Freedom's Foundations.

I have received several inquiries concerning one of the resolutions adopted by the People's Party of the Sixth congressional district of New Jersey, which, in convention, on Sept. 13, nominated me for congress. As the matter referred to in that resolution is of vital interest to every freeman and patriot, and especially to those in the humbler walks of life in this country, I decided to answer the inquiries in this correspondence, which, I am pleased to state, falls under the eyes of a million or more readers. Here is the resolution:

Whereas, There is threatened destruction of one of the dearest rights of freemen in the growing tendency to deprive citizens of the right of trial by jury, as evidenced by the action of the federal courts in Illinois under sanction of Attorney General Olney, through the means of the process of injunction and the autocratic application of the un-American proceeding known as "contempt of court;" therefore be it

Resolved, That we condemn such flagrant violation of the third paragraph of section 2, article 3 of the constitution of the United States, which declares that "the trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury."

As stated in the resolution, the use of the process of injunction, supplemented by proceedings in "contempt of court," is fast becoming a means employed by the powers that be to deprive American citizens of a right guaranteed by the constitution. That is the right of trial by jury in any case (excepting impeachment) where a crime is charged. The injunction and "contempt" proceeding as employed in the cases referred to in the resolution is a product of recent years. In fact, in its present radical form, I do not think it is more than two years old. It has been the custom for more than a decade to hold as contempt of court trespass upon the property of a railway corporation in the hands of a receiver, but in the Chicago cases the "contempt" consisted of alleged violations of an injunction granted upon application of the railway companies through their managers. There is a difference, and it is cited not as an indorsement of the older custom, but to show the stealthy steps by which corporations are invading the constitutional rights of the people.

The injunction proceeding is useful and salutary when applied to civil affairs, and the provisions which hedge about its application are guarantees that only justice will be done. But it was never intended for such use as was made of it by Judges Wood and Grosscup at Chicago. Eugene Debs and his associates are charged with acts which are punishable under the criminal law, and yet, by the legerdemain performances of the railway managers, assisted by Attorney General Olney and the federal courts, they were deprived of their constitutional right of trial by jury. The defendants were brought to trial before the judge whose orders had been treated with "contempt," and who claimed the right to pass upon the evidence presented as to the acts of said defendant and to assess a penalty, and whose decision should be final. Be it remembered there is no appeal from the decision of one of these "contempted" judges, and in this case only the president of the United States can save Debs or any of his fellow defendants or all of them from lifelong imprisonment if the judge desires to fix upon them that penalty. Under the criminal law, which provides for trial by jury, a defendant has the right of appeal to higher courts, and he is in other ways protected against prejudice, ignorance and some other things which are said to influence judgment.

It will be remembered that one of the Chicago judges said the injunction then just issued was "a gatling gun on paper." He meant that it swept the whole field and prohibited any kind of action on the part of the A. R. U. men which would contribute to the embarrassment of the railway companies engaged in the pending struggle. He was certainly right in his characterization of the injunction, for it went so far as to enjoin the exercise of the right of one man to lay his case, in the mildest manner possible, before a fellow workman with the object of enlisting his sympathy and negative support by "persuasion." If by "persuasion" the A. R. U. men kept any man from going to work for any of the railroad companies engaged in the contest then on, such A. R. U. men were guilty of "contempt of court," and under the specifications of the injunction charged with the crime of interfering with interstate commerce, a crime for which they could be tried, judged and sentenced without the safeguard of "a jury of their peers."

The injunction issued by Judges Wood and Grosscup was "a gatling gun" in another sense. It scattered over a broad expanse of country as well as over almost numberless mild actions. Some of its death dealing missiles reached New York city. Under the precedent established by such "high authority" a New York city judge, not waiting for a final decision in the Chicago cases, enjoined the president and 600 members of the Tailors' union from "loitering or assembling in front or in the immediate vicinity of" the stores of certain boss tailors against whom the union was on strike. The injunction also prohibited the members of the Tailors' union from "establishing or maintaining a system of patrol, picketing or espionage by stationing or keeping one or more persons in front of or in the immediate vicinity of" these places of business. Members of the union are also enjoined from any interference "by means of printed notices or publications," or by enticing any one from the firms' employment, or by hindering any one from entering such employment "by signs, words or other devices."

To carry out this programme of intimidation against organized labor "spotters" employed by the boss tailors were instructed to complain to the police and have arrested any member of the union seen in the vicinity of one of the stores. This has been done in many cases, and men have been dragged off to the station house for walking along Fifth avenue, where most of the stores in question are located. Their future liberty is in the hands of a "contempted" judge. There is no "interstate commerce" subterfuge about this New York case. It is a bold assault upon the right of a citizen to occupy the public highways and to hold converse with his fellow citizen. The two precedents have been established—one in the federal court, the other in the state court. Precedents are more powerful than legislative enactments in our courts. If the actions of the Chicago and New York judges are allowed to stand, goodby to the last vestige of freedom in the United States.

The Populists of the Sixth district of New Jersey see the danger that threatens, and that is the explanation of the resolution they adopted. This country and all its institutions are fast passing under the control of plutocracy. It already absolutely controls the industries upon which the people depend for subsistence, and they are almost slaves in all but name. Swiftly though stealthily it is depriving them of their political rights, and if a change does not come soon nothing will be left of the heritage bequeathed us by our Revolutionary sires. Call this the ranting of a crank if you like, but face the facts and deny my assertions if you dare. Put yourself in the place of an A. R. U. man or a New York tailor—and you may be there tomorrow—and you will have your wits sharpened so that you can understand what you only vaguely know now and do not more than half believe. In heaven's name, what could be my object in writing what I have if I didn't believe it was true? And do you enjoy a better opportunity for studying the situation than I have? I am afraid you are not studying it at all.

The whole subject just simmers down to this: The affairs of this country will be conducted in the interest of that element most potent in its influence, and if the great mass of the people leave the control to the few of the plutocratic class we will continue along the road we are at present traveling until we reach the worst form of despotism—a government by the rich, the few. If we are to avoid such a condition, the people must, while they yet have the power, rescue the nation from the grasp of greedy Mammon. The editor of your daily paper will probably tell you that this is only the ranting of a demagogue, and, if you are not satisfied that that editor has been pulling the wool over your eyes in the service of his master long enough, you will continue a stumbling block in the pathway of progress and an enemy to yourself and posterity. If you have begun to do your own thinking, you should have no difficulty in seeing clearly the path of your duty, and in that case all I have to advise is that you act promptly at the first opportunity. Delay is dangerous.

Help For the Unemployed.

Mr. Horace G. Wadlin of the Massachusetts bureau of labor statistics has recently made an interesting report on the unemployed of that state. He thinks the indiscriminate relief given to the unemployed in Massachusetts has not accomplished its object. He cites in illustration the use of a large sum of money in Boston which was given to relieve the distress of those who had been thrown out of work by the unusual depression, and which, according to Mr. Wadlin, reached very few of those for whom it was intended. He is satisfied that the men who got the money belonged mostly to a class out of employment nearly all the time. The habitually idle and the unskilled, and not those who could be relied on to find work for themselves except during periods of exceptional depression, were the principal beneficiaries.

Coming to remedies proposed for the relief of the unemployed, the report mentions farm colonies, municipal workshops, industrial communities or colonies, public works begun for the sake of providing work, labor bureaus modeled upon intelligence offices and training schools for unskilled labor. Mr. Wadlin forcibly urges the imperative necessity in any relief plan of separating the genuine workers from the idle and gives these rules:

"First—It should not be inharmonious with the present industrial organization.

"Second—It should aim to fit the unemployed to enter the industrial body and should contemplate their absorption therein at the earliest possible opportunity.

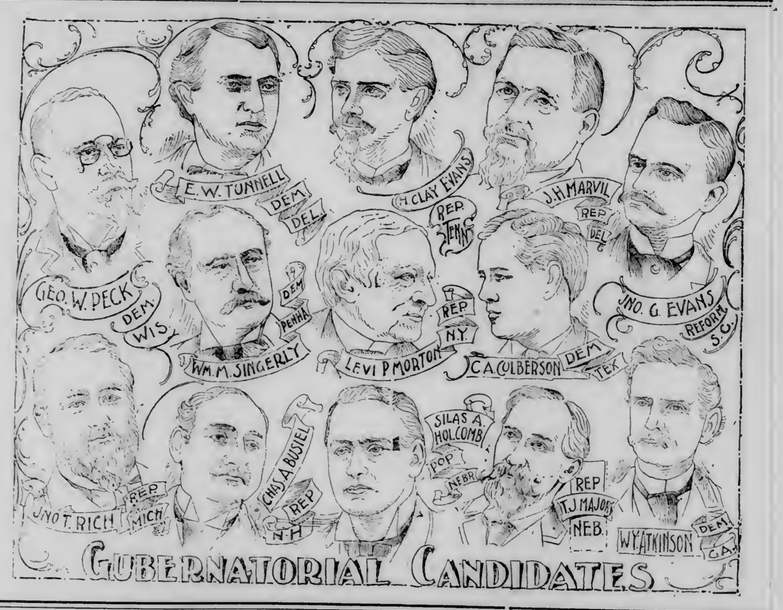

"Third—It should aim to render production more uniform, preventing so far as possible seasonal depressions, and it should also aim to carry production further than at present."

The report is valuable as a contribution toward the ultimate solution of a great problem, although it does not encourage a belief that its solution is near at hand.—Washington Post.

Cleveland Beat the Strikers.

Speaking of the Pullman strike and the attitude of Grand Master Sargent in that contest, Debs said the help of any of the brotherhoods or all of them would not have changed the result. "Cleveland, in alliance with Olney and the federal and state authorities," he said, "made it impossible to continue the conflict. We had won the strike and were in possession of the field when the federal courts captured all the leaders and broke our lines, until that time intact. Never were more formidable forces arrayed against a labor organization."

A musicale will be given by the Bohemian club on Thursday evening next at the club rooms in the Woodbridge building.

SPORT FOR HUNTERS

Bright Prospects for Good Duck and Good Shooting During the Whole of the Season.

Some Changes in the Game Laws Will Probably be Asked from the Coming Legislature.

Quite Plentiful in the Districts Near the Lake Which Escaped the Forest Fires.

The hunters are having great sport these days and the prospects are bright for good duck and goose shooting right along to the end of the season. The largest bags are made on the prairies but good shooting is found on all the lakes and rivers. The deer season is now on in Wisconsin but few Duluth hunters seem to care about going over into our neighbor's preserves and run the risk of being unable to get their venison home.

Several parties will leave the coming week for the Dakotas for ducks and geese. Joe Dodge's party expect to go Tuesday. A party headed by A. W. Shaver, of West Superior, are booked for Stump lake.

* * *

John Greene got only two Sunday ducks, but what they were two of the biggest mallards ever shot on the river.

* * *

Ed Patterson has returned from his trip to the coast and has a new lot of hunting stories and all true. He could not pass the Dakota hunting grounds when on his way home and got off at Devil's lake and got a couple hundred ducks and chickens.

* * *

The St. Louis County Game and Fish Protective association may attempt to have some changes made in the game laws this winter. Local hunters say that the five years' close season on moose and caribou has been no benefit to them. It keeps decent, law-abiding sportsmen away from the haunts of the moose and ensures him a new lease of life when a big moose bull is met, but the pot-hunter has the whole field to himself and of course makes the most of his opportunity. Probably next year the moose and caribou will be lawful game for a short period.

* * *

Phil Pastoret, Capt. Jacobson, Capt. Rattray, Peter Finney, George Dingman and Eph Moore chartered the tug Lida Sunday and chased ducks from West Duluth to Fond du Lac. The exact number slain could not be discovered, but it was less than 150.

* * *

C. R. Heneage and W. Collins, of the Pennsylvania and Ohio Coal company, had great luck up the river. They got 150 ducks, among their pile being mallards, red-heads and canvasbacks.

* * *

City Attorney Benham, Sam Fullerton, T. H. White and Theodore Hollister returned Monday from their hunt at Bowstring lake. They reported a tough time and got only about sixty-five ducks.

* * *

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pearson returned the first of the week from their outing up the Duluth & Winnipeg. They were bothered greatly by the smoke and had to let the ducks go.

* * *

Fatal accidents resulting from the careless handling of guns are as numerous as usual. For originality the following, reported by the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin, takes the cake: Sever Sheen, an employe of the Northwestern Lumber company at Stanley, met his death while hunting. While going through the brush he was smoking a pipe. Attempting to light it, he put the gun on the ground, the muzzle leaning against his breast. In this position he struck a match across his leg, raising his foot as he did so. As his foot descended it struck the trigger of the gun and the discharge of the loaded piece followed. He was instantly killed.

* * *

The deer season in Wisconsin opened Oct. 1 and continues until Nov. 1, when the open season opens in Minnesota and continues twenty days. Deer are reported quite plentiful in the districts near the lake which escaped the forest fires.

* * *

Col. Greatsinger returned Thursday from Dawson, N. D., and reported that his party was having great sport. On Tuesday President Bacon, of the Minnesota Iron company, and Dr. Harwood shot 110 red heads and canvas backs between 9 a. m. and 2 p. m.

* * *

Upon information sent from Duluth W. P. Andrews, of the state game and fish commission, captured at St. Paul a couple of barrels of game birds shipped from Duluth to Chicago by a local commission firm. The law does not permit game to be shipped out of the state and the commission threatens to push the matter, in which case a fine of $4020 with costs is liable to be plastered onto the produce company who thought the game laws were not enforced this year because they have not been in the past. Thursday evening Deputy Game Warden Fullerton captured another shipment of 102 partridges on a train consigned to Chicago parties and forwarded in care of the Northern Pacific Express company by a local commission house. Both cases will be pushed and as the minimum fine is $20 for each bird the total may be only $2040.

LITTLE IKE.

Pleases Because It is Free.

When a thing is free and at the same time contains great value, being just what everybody wants, it is eagerly sought by all. Every weak, delicate or sickly person will be pleased with the great and generous offer of Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York city, the noted and successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He has established a system of free letter correspondence, whereby all may write him about their complaint and receive in return a complete description of their ailments, explaining thoroughly the meaning of each symptom, and telling just what to do to be cured. The doctor makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, giving most careful and explicit attention to every letter, and explains your case so minutely you understand exactly what your trouble is. All this costs nothing. All those who cannot afford the time or expense of visiting the city can now have the most skillful consultation and advice free of charge, and without leaving their homes. The method is successful. Thousands are being cured by it. Try it. Write the doctor and it will undoubtedly be the means of your getting well.

ONE TRIP WAS ENOUGH

Voyage to New Zealand Was Sufficient to Cure a Young Man's Infatuation For the Sea.

He Was Flogged to Begin With and the Operation Was Repeated Upon Slight Provocation.

Terrible Storms Encountered in Rounding Cape Horn and the Wrecking of a Schooner Witnessed.

"It was in the autumn of 1856," said a Duluth real estate man to a Herald reporter the other evening, "that I shipped before the mast on the ship Annie Arthur, bound for New Zealand. It was my first trip, and I may say it was my last, for as soon as I could get my name off the ship's books I did so, and I never shipped for a second cruise.

"I shipped for the same reason that many another lad has—because I was foolishly infatuated with the sailor's life, which in books and so far as I had actually seen looked very pleasant and romantic. I had that all knocked out of me before I had begun the homeward journey, from New Zealand, or indeed, before I had got much more than half way there.

"The boat was a full rigged double topsail ship, one of the first ships that floated with a double topsail instead of the old whole topsail. It was about 1200 tons burden, rather a large boat for those times, and it was loaded with some kind of American merchandise, what it was I have quite forgotten, from Boston for Auckland, New Zealand.

"I slipped out of my window one November night, and walking all night with my personal effects tied up in a handkerchief, I arrived in Boston early in the morning. I saw the ship loading at the dock, and pleased with its appearance I offered myself to its master.

"After the captain, a large, heavy, cruel-eyed tar, had asked a few questions in a manner that gave me some misgivings, I was accepted, much to my surprise, for I had not expected to realize my ambition at once. I found afterwards that they were short of hands, and as I was large and strong I was just what they had been looking for.

"I was sent aboard, when my name was put in the ship's books and I was given quarters. Sailors weren't treated as well then as they are now, and my heart sank when I saw my bunk in a dark corner of the dark forecastle. It was dirty, ill-smelling, and undoubtedly full of vermin.

"I was not going to let a little thing like that interfere with my ambition of a life on the rolling wave, and besides I had signed for the voyage and couldn't back out if I had wanted to. I tossed my bundle on the bunk and followed the captain back to the upper deck, where I was told to lend a hand with them boxes, now, and step lively, or I'll show ye something.' I lent a hand, and pursued by the curses of the second mate, I also stepped lively. It was hard work and no mistake, and notwithstanding the fact that it was a cold day, the sweat rolled off my face in streams.

"At 6 o'clock the boat was loaded and the crew came aboard. Most of them were drunk, and two had to be carried by shipmates scarcely less intoxicated than they. These men were tossed into their bunks to sleep off their loads, and the remainder turned out to get up sail.

"Drunk as they were, they had sail set in a marvelously short time, and weighing anchor we passed out of the harbor and dropped down the bay. We had not gone far before I was treated to a taste of what I was to endure during the voyage.

"'You boy, come here,' said the captain, whose name was John Henderson. I saw that he meant me, and I came.

"'What is your name,' he asked. I told him. He then called the second mate, a low-browed, short, villainous looking wretch whom I afterwards found to be as bad as he looked.

"'Mr. Miller, this is a boy who will be under your charge during the voyage. Take him and give him a good flogging by way of welcome on board.

"The mate obeyed the command to the letter, and I was given a taste of the rope's end administered with enthusiasm by the fiend of a second mate who seemed to enjoy it.

"I was then given a supper of salt horse and ship's biscuits, which still further knocked the romance out of me. I could eat but little, and when I turned in late that night I was as hungry as a bear.

"That is a sample of the treatment I received during the voyage. From captain and second mate down to the seamen nearly every man seemed to have a personal grudge against me on the start. I soon found that the men were not nearly so bad as they appeared, however, and after a week had passed most of them were as good-natured as men of their roughness could be.

"The captain and second mate, however, never relaxed their cruelty a moment, nor was I the only sufferer. How the men stood it without mutinizing I never could understand. I suppose, however, that they were used to it, and that discipline had too strong a hold on them.

"The first mate was an angel, compared to the other officers. He was a quiet, gentlemanly young fellow and a relative of the owner of the ship. He saved me from many a blow, and though the captain and second mate hated him they feared him on account of his 'pull' with the owner.

"Aside from these amenities, the voyage was uneventful except the rounding of Cape Horn which brought with it more wind and waves than I ever before experienced. And the first storm brought seasickness for me, so I passed a miserable time. I had to work just the same, notwithstanding the intercession of the first mate. The first storm was followed by a second of frightful force, and during this storm I saw a sight that will remain with me during the whole of my life.

"The gale first struck us about 7 o'clock in the evening. It came with its full force, carrying away the main and mizzen skysails and the fore topgallant sail, under which we were running with a mass of yards and rigging, all of which went flying through the air a hundred feet. After some time the old ship keeled over until the deck was almost perpendicular. In a moment she righted and obeyed the rudder and away we went at a tremendous pace before the gale.

"Ye gods, how it did blow! The wind shrieked and howled through the air as though the mouth of hell had opened and let out a host of noisy demons. The yards rattled and the ship groaned and creaked, and all the time the noise was so loud that we could scarcely hear the mate's orders through the speaking trumpet. There wasn't much to do, as everything except the sails which had been carried away was clewed up tightly.

"When everything possible had been done to make the ship safe the only further thing to do was to let her drive before the gale and bide the end. Drive we did, and at a gait that was terrific. When I had gotten over my fear a little I watched the storm, and a grander sight I never saw. The night was black as Egypt. Above we could see a tangled mass of driving cloud, whirling and turning in an awful manner. The waves were tremendous, and each time we went down into the trough of the sea it seemed to me that we should never rise again.

"Then as we rose to the top of a gigantic wave, dead ahead on our track we saw the wreck of a small schooner with one mast entirely gone and the other hanging over the starboard bulwarks, held by a tangled piece of rigging. She was so close that we could see her quite plainly. She had just turned broadside to the gale, and each moment seemed likely to be her last. Her crew were on deck running about in despair.

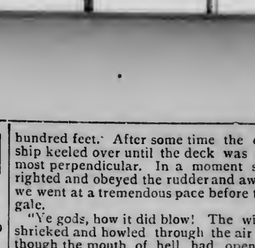

"The next moment she went out of sight and we thought she had sunk, but when we again rose to the crest of a wave we saw her again. Then she rolled over nearly to the water's edge, and pitched suddenly to the bottom. No sooner had she sunk than we passed over the spot where she had gone down. Half a dozen men were at the surface of the water with their despairing faces upturned to us.

"To attempt to save them was impossible. It was madness to launch a boat in that sea. So we sped onward, and we soon left them behind. Their shrieks of terror pursued us, and even now I can sometimes hear those horrible cries which rose above the din of the elements.

"The gale soon wore itself out and by that time we were well clear of the troublous waters of the Horn. The remainder of the journey and the return trip were comparatively uneventful, and as I have said, I left the sea immediately on my return."

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat can be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50-cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by all druggists.

THE LITERARY ARENA.

"The Real Edwin Booth" Is Shown in a Series of Letters Published in the Century.

The Recent Decision of Monsignor Satolli Affecting Liquor Dealers is Discussed by Archbishop Ireland.

A paper in the October Century of wide interest to American readers is "The Real Edwin Booth," consisting of familiar letters of this tragedian to his family and friends, with an introduction by his daughter, Mrs. Edwina Booth Grossmann. The letters cover a very wide range, and show the character and personality of Edwin Booth as never before revealed in print. Accompanying the paper are portraits of Mrs. Mary Devlin Booth, of Edwin Booth and his father, and of Booth as Macbeth, together with a number of stage properties employed by him in the different plays, such as the dagger worn in "Hamlet," the bauble used in the "Fool's Revenge," swords, crown, cane, etc., most of these articles being from the archives of the Players' club, which was founded by Mr. Booth. The frontispiece of the number is a strikingly faithful portrait of Edmund Clarence Stedman engraved by T. Johnson after a photograph by Cox, and Mr. Stedman is the subject of an appreciative article by Royal Cortissoz, which sets forth the "personal equation" of this American poet and critic, and particularly his strong influence upon the literature of his time.

Harper's Weekly for Sept. 29 contains a fine double-page picture of the United States senate in session, drawn by G. W. Breck, with forty-six portraits of leading members and officers. The new Boston public library is the subject of a page illustration, and the annual "high jinks" of the celebrated Bohemian club of San Francisco is picturesquely described and strikingly illustrated by Charles R. Graham. Another interesting page of illustrations is made up of the principal prize winners in the New York state fair at Syracuse, recent destructive floods in Texas and the new United States infantry rifle—the Krag-Jorgensen—are fully treated in picture and text. Professor F. W. Taussig contributes a carefui analysis of the new tariff law, and "Amateur Sport" treats of the coming international cricket matches, and shows two excellent views of the New York Athletic club at Travers Island.

The September number of the Canadian Magazine is well illustrated and filled with a rich variety of matter. Several of the articles rank with the best in current magazine literature, while the fiction is bright and most entertaining. "The Gate of Lake Michigan" (Mackinaw) by Capt. I. A. Currie, "The Monastery of La Trappe," at Oka, by Clifford Smith, and "The Pagan Iroquois" of the Grand River Reserve, by A. H. U. Heming, are the illustrated articles, and they are full of interest. Thomas Hodgins, M.A., Q.C., contributes a political study in his "Early Parliamentary Franchise of England," reviewing the change from manhood suffrage, and even woman suffrage, to the restricted suffrage of later times. An exceedingly valuable study in comparative politics is Edward Meek's "The Canadian Constitution; Its Fictions and Realities" a paper likely to attract the worldwide attention of political thinkers. Amongst the poetic contribution is a very powerful poem by William Wilfred Campbell. The Canadian Magazine is published by the Ontario Publishing company, (Ltd,) Toronto, $2.50 per annum.

The recent decision of the apostolic delegate, Monsignor Satolli, affecting liquor dealers has caused so much comment that an article on the subject which appears in the October number of the North American Review, entitled "The Catholic Church and the Saloon," is certain to attract wide attention, especially as it is written by Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, who has taken a more prominent part in the temperance movement than any other member of the Catholic hierarchy in the United States.

The October number of Paving and Municipal Engineering, the enterprising American magazine devoted to public improvements, contains a variety of articles on municipal subjects, exceptionally valuable to all who are interested in such matters. Capt. Dolphus Torrey further discusses the Philadelphia asphalt tests; J. A. Hall, C. E., writes about tests of paving brick and specifications for brick street pavements; F. A. W. Davis tells about a municipal contract for street sprinkling which demonstrated a method of doing this kind of work very economically and effectively; August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati board of administration, explains a municipal purchasing agency which has been established in his city, and has been the means of saving a large sum of money. Municipal Engineering company, Indianapolis.

Macmillan & Co. announce for immediate publication Browning's "Asolando," which forms the seventeenth and concluding volume in their Library edition. It will contain historical and biographical notes and will be published in uniform style with the other sixteen volumes, so that subscribers may have a chance to complete their sets. The same publishers announce also a new edition of the works of Browning in nine volumes, crown octavo. This edition, which will be absolutely complete, will be as perfect in every detail of workmanship as it is possible to make it.

Among the notable features of the Argonaut for Oct. 1, 1894, are "The White Lady's Gondolier;" a letter from Paris on the "Ladies of the Legion of Honor;" a letter from New York on an amusing theatrical war there, and an article based on the correspondence of Gen. W. T. Sherman and his brother, Senator John Sherman.

That popular New York clergyman, the Rev. Dr. Rainsford, contributes a most interesting article to the October issue of the Ladies' Home Journal, in which he defines the position of "The Clergyman in Society." Not less interesting is the eminently practical view which Mrs. Burton Harrison, in her contribution to the series "Before He is Twenty," takes of "A Boy's Evenings and Amusements"—how the first should be spent, and of what the second should consist. Mr. Howell's literary biography, which he has so aptly named "My Literary Passions," continues to grow in interest and charm. Much solid wisdom may be found in Eurdette's inimitable "Through Two Ends of a Telescope." Mrs. Mallon contributes some charming suggestions for "Dainty House Gowns" and for "Little Girls' Gowns," and Miss Hooper speaks some wise words on "Dressing on a Small Income." Altogether this October issue, with its attractive cover, specially designed by A. B. Wenzell, is an ideal magazine and worth ten times its price of 10 cents. The Ladies' Home Journal, with a circulation of 700,000 copies, is published by the Curtis Publishing company, of Philadelphia, for 10 cents per number and $1 per year.

* * *

Outing for October is an exceedingly attractive and beautifully illustrated number. Many breezy and seasonable sketches of sport, travel and recreation, and two complete stories, afford a variety of reading matter calculated to suit all tastes. The editorial and record departments are strong and contain much useful information about amateur sports.

* * *

The vigor with which Mrs. Deland brings her novel "Philip and his Wife" to an end gives unusual importance to the October Atlantic. "The Retrospect of an Octogenarian," by the Rev. Dr. George E. Ellis, stands second in the number, and will command the earnest attention of the many listeners Dr. Ellis won for himself long ago, not only as a clergyman, but as an antiquarian. A paper of rare historical value is the Hon. Henry L. Dawes' "Recollections of Stanton Under Johnson." It presents an intimate inside view of a period of government life at Washington which, of course, was quite without parallel, and can never lose its interest and significance. The short stories of the number are "His Honor," by Miss Ellen Mackubin, a vivid picture of events in a Western army post, and "Heartsease," a bit of true New England life, by Miss Alice Brown. Henry J. Fletcher, whose article on "American Railways and Cities," a few months ago, attracted no little attention, contributes a suggestive consideration of "The Railway War" in a tone not wholly inimical to Mr. Debs and his followers. There is abundant strength in the rest of the number.

* * *

Although means of travel have been greatly cheapened and improved in recent years, many persons still prefer to have their travelling done for them as they sit about the home fireside with a copy of Harper's Magazine. This year readers have enjoyed, or will enjoy, Richard Harding Davis' descriptions of English and Paris life; Alfred Parsons' pictures of Japan; Edwin Lord Weeks' papers on "India;" and Poultney Bigelow's "Experiences in Russia and Germany." All these articles have been lavishly illustrated. The publishers announce for early numbers of the magazine "Descriptions of Travel in Northern Africa," by Poultney Bigelow, with pictures by Frederic Remington; more illustrated papers on "Modern India," by Edwin Lord Weeks; and, by no means least, a series of illustrated stories of "Chinese Life," to be written by Julian Ralph, who has undertaken a special journey for the purpose.

* * *

The fashion features in Harper's Bazar for Sept. 22 are a beautiful demi-season outdoor gown from Worth, drawn by Sandoz; also several elegant reception toilettes, including a charming model in black silk. There is in the same number a delightful home story, entitled "Two Ways," written by Frances Bacon Paine.

* * *

The complete novel in the October number of Lippincott's is "A Question of Courage," by Francis Lynde. It deals with a feud in the mountains of Tennessee, and the question of the Northern hero's courage, after sundry doubts and adventures, is settled to the hero's own satisfaction and that of the heroine. Mr. Lynde is a recently "discovered" author, but he knows how to tell a story. "Coals of Fire" is a military tale by LeRoy Amstrong, who here shows himself no unworthy follower of Capt. King. "At the Little Red House," by Kate Jordan, has a railway subject. Margaret Langdon writes "A Tragedy of Trade." "An Hour Before Death" is a brief yet extremely strong and pathetic sketch by Elizabeth Knowlton Carter, a new writer of whom great things may be hoped. Gertrude Atherton, in "Famous Rivalries of Women," recalls many moving tales of the past. George J. Varney traces the progress of "Telegraphy up to Date," and David Graham Adee identifies "The Ballad of the Drum," which Alexander Hamilton sang at the banquet of the Cincinnati, shortly before his death. Saburo Arai speaks with authority of "Japanese and Chinese Porcelains and their Imitations."

The frontispiece of McClure's Magazine for October shows Charles A. Dana, the all-prevading guiding spirit of the New York Sun, at work in his editorial office. And the opening article is a very comprehensive study of Mr. Dana's career, from the time when he began life as a grocer's clerk, catching up a bit of schooling as he went along, down through his connection with Brook farm, his long service on the New York Tribune under Greeley, his important service during the war as assistant secretary of war under Lincoln and Stanton, and his more than twenty years' editorship of the Sun. The article is written by Mr. Dana's chief editorial associate on the Sun, Edward P. Mitchell. Views of his country home on Long Island and an interesting series of portraits accompany it. One never fails to find in McClure's Magazine short stories of marked spirit and originality, by the most eminent writers. This number provides stories from Bret Hart, Conan Doyle and Robert Barr. S. S. McClure, limited, No. 30 Lafayette Place, New York.

An Unsavory Divorce Case Given a Hearing This Morning.

In special term this morning the divorce case of James A. Dalgleish against Annie D. Dalgleish came up in an application by the defendant for temporary alimony. Dalgleish sued for divorce on grounds of desertion, and his wife has filed a counter bill on the ground of cruelty which she says has given her nervous prostration. She asks for $2000 alimony and temporary alimony. In an affidavit Dalgleish says that her nervous troubles are caused by improper relations with one F. A. McCord, a traveling salesman. Judge Moer granted an order for temporary alimony to be paid within twenty days. The plaintiff is a St. Paul & Duluth locomotive engineer.

W. E. Richardson, assignee of the Duluth Tribune company, complained that there wasn't any assets nor had there ever been any, and he wished to be excused from further service. R. C. Mitchell made affidavit that there are no assets of the company. The matter was continued.

AND PRESIDENT COOK!

E. H. Cook, A. M., Ph. D., ex-head master of the Rutgers' college preparatory school, New Brunswick, N. J., and president of the National Educational association, graduated at Bowdoin in 1866. He organized the West Chester, Penn., state normal school, and was the first principal; was principal of the Columbus, Ohio, high school. From 1884 to 1889 he was principal of the normal school at Potsdam, N. Y., spending $80,000 in the erection of new buildings and renovation of old.

Says the Journal of Education: Mr. Cook is widely known and highly appreciated for the genuine boom that every institution with which he has been connected has enjoyed, and from the prominence given him by the state associations of Ohio, New York and New Jersey. He has the tact to take advantage of circumstances, the ability to decide promptly, and the energy to execute. He has accomplished enough to satisfy any man's professional ambition, and yet the best work and highest honors ought to be ahead of him.

Dr. Cook has been sick.

Paine's Celery compound has made him well!

As it has made thousands of others well.

"Last winter I had a severe attack of the grip, which was followed by complete nervous prostration. I lost forty pounds of flesh in as many days. After trying change of climate and various remedies without any apparent benefit, at the suggestion of a friend I began to take Paine's Celery compound. Its effect was very marvelous. My appetite returned, my digestion was improved, and I began to sleep regularly, which I had not done for weeks. I am still taking the compound, but regard myself as a well man. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and they are all loud in its praise."

Abandon Pugilism.

It is stated in sporting circles that both Shadow Maber and Charlie Gleason have given up pugilism, and that they will never be seen in the ring again. Maber has not met a man in the ring for many months, his last fight being with Curtis, in Duluth, and since his defeat by Dick Moore, who is at best a second-rate fighter, Maber has shown no love for the prize ring. At present he is clerking in a drug store at St. Paul. Gleason has not fought for a number of months, and shows no desire to get on a match. He also is in St. Paul, doing nothing at present.
